KHS Tigers, Alumni Scrimmage Aug. 27

Valley football fans will be able to get a sneak preview of the 1971 KHS Tigers as Coach Wayne Dust sends his team into a hard scrimmage against the KHS Alumni in a benefit game sponsored by the Tiger Boosters this Friday night at 7:30 on the Kendrick field.
Coach Dust reported that about twenty former KHS gridiron men have been working out and getting ready for the Friday game. A few of the alumni include Dale Silfow, Gary Craig, Loren Hoffman, Ron Tweit, Roger Witt, Steve Howerton, Don Parks, Alan Kimbley, Denny Deobald, Gary Draper, Bob Allen, Dave Kimbley, Dave Bateman and Don and Ron Salter, plus others.
Dust said he figured that Gary Craig and Loren Hoffman would be handling the quarterback chores for the old timers.
A donation of one dollar will be requested.
Coach Dust can count of eleven returning lettermen for this season, but he faces the problem of a young, inexperienced backfield for the most part.
Back this year are lettermen Dale Taylor, Dave Hutchison, Kim Trout, John Deobald, Dave Wilken, Dennis Lukehart, Mike Price, Scott May, Steve Hoogland, Roger Candler and Mike Souder.
The harvest work has cut into the early practice time of the Tigers and Dust said he expects a turnout of thirty or more players when school begins, but so far some of the sessions have seen only 22 turn out.

Harvest Moving Animals and Birds

Combines and trucks in the fields and the tempting grain spilled along the highways are moving deer out and around and bringing many game birds to the roads, as the wild animals are being seen more now than they usually are at any other time of the year.
The activity along the canyon tops and near the draws are flushing the deer out their usual feeding and resting places and are frightening them into seeking new places. People traveling a regular route in the country are almost sure to see game in the mornings and evenings at this time of year.
Many pheasant, quail, and partridge, along with doves and lesser species of birds are being killed on the roadways as they seek to feed on grain dropped from passing trucks.
The Fish and Game Department has also been releasing pheasants in the area prior to the opening of hunting season. These pen-reared birds are usually just released on the roads and they tend to be content to remain near the place of their release. They feed along the road and will fall victim to either vehicles or, if they survive, change being picked off by hunters who take advantage of the early dove season to shoot whatever they can find.
The Sept. 1 dove season is thoroughly disliked by many hunters and farmers who know that it is too often used by unscrupulous persons to kill out-of-season game birds and otherwise cause havoc. This abuse by so-called "dove hunters" is many times the reason for the No Hunting signs which are becoming more and more frequent as farmers and other property owners just grow sick of hosting an army of ungrateful and careless individuals each fall.

River Tragedy Claims Youth

A Spokane youth drowned in the Salmon River 11 miles east of Riggin Monday afternoon when a rock pinned him in shallow water.

Authorities said the youth removed a rock for under a larger rock. When he climbed on the larger rock, it rolled over, pinning him in about 1½ feet of water, at about noon. A wrecker was used to remove the rock from the youth's body.

Rain Cools Weather; Temps Down In 40's

Temperatures spanned a range of fifty-six degrees these past seven days as the heat wave broke and the first hint of fall weather was felt across the region. A high of 98 degrees was registered, unofficially in Kendrick last Thursday afternoon, and the low, also unofficial, was recorded in Geneese Tuesday morning at 42 degrees.
After the cool air from the coast broke up the most prolonged heat wave in many years, the temperatures have settled down to just good summer weather with the mercury climbing into the 90's during the day and slipping back into the fifties and sixties at night — just about what most folks think summer weather should be. Farmers were able to continue harvest without interruption and with a great deal more comfort.
Sunday the skies clouded up and the first real rain in almost a month drenched the area in a generally widespread rainfall. The rain began shortly before noon and fell intermittently throughout the afternoon, ranging from a sprinkling rain-fall to a hard, pouring rain. Dick Benacoter, who maintains a rain gauge on American Ridge, reported 47 inches in his area.
The skies cleared by Monday and the weather has been warm and sunny.
The highs and lows in the Kendrick area the past seven days were:
Day High Low
Tuesday ..... 92 53
Wednesday ..... 93 53
Thursday ..... 98 64
Friday ..... 90 55
Saturday ..... 90 60
Sunday ..... 72 47
Monday ..... 76 48

Foreman Girls Return From Calif. Vacation

Pam Foreman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Foreman, left for Sacramento, California the week after school was out. While in Sacramento she stayed with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Moore and her uncle, Charles E. Moore, who raises Appaloosa horses and belongs to the Placer Horseman Association.
Pam accompanied her uncle on overnight trail rides each weekend, usually riding from 15 to 20 miles.
On July 17th the horse club asked Pam to ride with the club in the parade which is held each year at Roseville, Calif., and marks the opening of the Placer County Fair—the club placed third.
The week of the 4th of July, Karen joined Pam in Sacramento and on the 4th of Aug. Carolyn arrived in Sacramento. All three girls went on an overnight trail ride with members of the riding club.
While in Sacramento the girls spent their time with many of the relatives, seeing for the first time their new little nephew, Gergory Spurgeon, who also has a brother, Michael, 3½.
Lorraine Frankini traveled to Sacramento with Carolyn and is presently enrolled in a business school. Lorraine is staying with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Spurgeon.

Fire Threat Eases After Hectic Week

Rain and cooler weather, which moved into the area over the past week-end eased the threat of fire which had prevailed for the past weeks and provided a welcome "breathing spell" for fire fighters of the area who fought five fires over the last seven days.
Last Tuesday a two-acre fire was finally contained by employees of the Kendrick Fire Protection District on Flat Creek, three miles south of Harvard along the railroad right-of-way. Some timber, scrub brush and grass was burned from the fire, which apparently originated by the trains.
Wednesday the crews also had to return to Crane Creek northeast of Potlatch to extinguish a hold-over lightning-set fire which came to life again after smoldering for three weeks. It was listed as a "spot fire."
Power Outage Results
The Kendrick-Juliaetta area was left without power for 90 minutes shortly after noon Wednesday when loggers working on the Nelsa Homsey farm back of Joel felled a tree across a power line, knocking it down. The hot line set the tinder-dry grass on fire and four acres of timber and grass burned before the fire was brought under control by three fire trucks from Moscow; one from Geneese's Rural Fire Protection District and two pumps from the Kendrick district.
Thursday evening a fire, set by a passing train, burned four acres in the Bear Creek canyon south of Troy.
There was also a fire, apparently set by a cigarette flipped from a passing car, on the top of Bear Ridge grade (SE3) which was put out by farmers in the area. District Fire Warden Dick Benjamin had high praise and appreciation for the farmers and volunteers who fought this fire. He said all of his equipment was tied up in the Bear Creek Canyon fire and without the quick and efficient help from the farmers on Bear Ridge that fire could easily have burned out of control.
Saturday afternoon in Geneese Clint Hermann, who lost a truck and some grain the previous week, suffered another loss as fire burned several acres of grain and stubble before being brought under control by men from the Geneese Rural Fire Protection District.

Threat Is Eased

Fire Warden Benjamin said Monday morning that unless another prolonged dry, hot spell settles over the area, the major fire threat of the season is gone, although he still urges extreme caution by farmers, loggers and campers. He said the change in the weather is also bringing dew in the evenings and early mornings, which is also a help in holding down fire danger.
Benjamin said he was happy that the area under his protection escaped the recent hot spell with as few fires as did occur. "We were really lucky in holding down fires," he stated. He added that the protective district is sincerely grateful for the extra care and precaution everyone took in minimizing the fire danger.

Sunday Rain Halts Area Harvest Operations

Rain, exceeding one-half inch in some areas, stopped the 1971 small grain harvest Sunday and as a result of the wet fields and moisture-laden kernels, the threshing has not yet resumed (Tuesday mid-day).
Elevators in both Kendrick and Geneese voiced the opinion that they would probably be accepting wheat and barley again by Wednesday, or at the latest, Thursday.
Sunday's rain offered a rest to Ben Westendahl and his workers at Kendrick and Juliaetta's Lewiston Grain Grower elevators, after a Saturday of activity that saw them handle 4½ million pounds of grain through their facilities. Part of this tremendous poundage was taken in and part was shipped out by rail and truck to other storage facilities. "When we handle 1½ million pounds in a day, ordinarily we think we've done a good job," Westendahl said.
Ben estimated Tuesday morning that approximately 80 percent of the crop was in when the rain stopped the harvest. He said that some farmers had brought in samples to test for moisture on Monday, but the moisture was running 16 to 17 percent which is too high for the warehouse to accept. Regulations prohibit storage of grain whose moisture content is over 12 percent.
The harvest isn't quite that far along in the Geneese area, as Bill Wood, manager of Geneese Union Warehouse Co., estimated about 60 percent of the grain was in the bins at this time.
Almost all of the peas are in, but he places the 60 percent figure on both wheat and barley. A few lots of oats have been taken in, but he said not too much oats was out this year.
Wood said that some of the wheat taken in was not grading out too good, with frost damage dropping the quality down to No. 2 and No. 3 grade wheat.

Mrs. Louis Mayer, Mary Return From Germany

Mrs. Louis Mayer and Mary recently returned after spending six weeks in Europe sightseeing and visiting relatives and friends.

We left from Spokane International Airport via Seattle and Vancouver, B. C., to connect with a charter flight to London over the North Pole. Two days were spent in London seeing such points of interest as Parliament, Big Ben, Buckingham Palace, and Westminster Abbey. We took a ship, the St. George, from Harwich Harbor near London, and crossed over to Hook Von Holland, stayed overnight in Rotterdam and then went on by train through Holland. One of our first stops was in Bielefeld, Germany, and a visit with Anneliese Freese, who has been in the states several times. We also visited with Theodore Wessel's relatives in Ahlen, Westfalen. We went on through Germany stopping at Kohn to see the great Dome, and also a beautiful trip up the Rhine River. One weekend was spent in Stuttgart visiting Bernd Neugebauer and his family. We met Bernd when he was a boy scout attending the International Jamboree at Farragut.

One weekend was also spent with Li and Mrs. Don Schuster, formerly of Moscow, who is now stationed in Germany.

Most of our time was spent in Trossingen, which is about 120 miles from Munich and just about 50 miles from the Austrian border. It's a beautiful town nestled in the Alps where all of our relatives are. We had a most enjoyable time there visiting with everyone and making small trips to several of the surrounding lakes and into Austria.

One of the highlights of our trip was going to Italy by way of Innsbruck, Brenner Pass, Bozen, Verona, Bologna, and Terontola, arriving in Rome on the evening of St. Peter and Paul, the 29th of June, a big holy day in Italy.

Our time in Rome was spent seeing the Olympic Stadium, Tivoli by night, touring the St. Peter's Basilica, Christianity's greatest shrine, and seeing and hearing Pope Paul speak in four languages as he dedicated a new auditorium for his audiences.

Leaving Rome on our way back to Germany, we traveled through Pisa, Genova, Milano, Lugano, and on through Switzerland towards Munich. It's difficult to say which route to Italy is prettier, over the Brenner Pass in Tirol or through Switzerland.

The German trains, (Deutsch, Bundes-Bahn), cannot be beat as one can almost set your watch by them. People over 65 can travel half fare by train. They are very rarely crowded.

The crops looked real good all over. We passed through Kohn on the 10th of July and some of the grain had already been harvested.

All too soon our six weeks were over and we were on a train heading back through Germany for Holland and our night crossing of the English Channel by ship to London. We spent another day in London, taking tours and then left for Gatwick Airport which was a 45-minute train ride from the heart of London, to board our return flight to Vancouver, B. C.

Both going over and return flights were excellent. Most of the time while we were in Europe the weather was quite nice even though we had several days of rain. The saying "Sunny Italy" held true.

We met American tourists everywhere on board ship, in trains, and in our hotel in Rome where we met a man and his family whose job requires that he spend much time in Lewiston. Nearly all of the Americans, including ourselves, who do much traveling in Europe by train, have Eurail Passes.

All in all, we had a most enjoyable time.—Mary Mayer.

MANY ACRES NOW IN WILDERNESS AREAS

Portland, Ore. — Legally designated wilderness areas in the west now total more than 9.1 million acres, according to a survey by the Western Wood Products Ass'n.

All forms of mechanized or developed recreation are prohibited within such land classification by provisions of the Wilderness Act of 1964. It defines wilderness as "an area of undeveloped federal land retaining its primeval character and influence, without permanent improvements or human habitation."

As a consequence, wilderness is primarily used by backpackers, mountaineers, fishermen, hunters and others who enjoy such activities.

In the 12 western states where most wilderness country is located, an additional 9 million acres have been set aside in national parks, recreation, scenic, primitive and similar areas. Another 18.4 million acres in the west is under active consideration for wilderness and special use designation. About one-third of all such acreage is productive forest land.

Nationally, more than 10 million acres are in wilderness classification; 44 million more are scheduled for study and another 6 million acres not now in primitive or other reserved status have been proposed for wilderness. The total of 60 million acres is equal to the land area of New York and Pennsylvania.

Land classified as wilderness in the west alone contains enough wood to construct 3 million homes, according to the Western Wood Products Ass'n.

THIRTY-FOUR FIND LATAH COUNTY JOBS IN WEEK

Moscow — Thirty-four Latah county workers were placed on jobs during the past week by the Moscow office of the Idaho Department of Employment. Frank J. Hartstein, Moscow office manager, reported that this is more than double the number placed during the previous week and compares favorably with the 29 workers given job finding help during the same week a year ago.

Jobs for farm workers, laborers, truck drivers, housekeepers, an auto mechanic, painters, warehousemen, cooks and kitchen helpers were filled during the week. There were, at the end of the week, a total of 35 jobs still open. Nearly all were for permanent workers except some farm jobs that will last through the harvest and fall work. Among those still open for opportunities are secretaries, general office clerks, a tank truck driver, warehousemen, cooks, waitresses, bartender, bookkeeper and salesmen. Students are still available for short term employment for the next few weeks.

The number of persons filing claims for unemployment insurance remained virtually unchanged. Only 16 persons filed new claims for benefits, compared with 23 filing last week. The total was reduced from 212 a week ago to the current total of 206 throughout the county. A year ago there were 141 persons seeking jobless pay.

4-H HORSE FAIR AUG. 26

The fourth year and over, second and third, and first year members will show in this order in each event. There will be a bareback section, a western equitation on an new English equitation. The bareback and English sections are new this year to conform to the District Horse Show, to be held in Lewiston on September 26th.

A two-part judging contest will be held for members. One class will be quality, and one on horsemanship.

Regular Fair premiums will be paid on fitting and showing. Ribbons and gift certificates will be awarded in the age groups and trophies in the three age brackets. All 4-H members enrolled in Latah County horse projects will take part.

Home Cookin' . .

The recipes this week were sent in unsigned, but they are very welcome and we'd like to thank our "anonymous cook."

Meat loaf has been a long time favorite of most families, and served with a casserole of macaroni and cheese and a dessert of apricot upside-down cake you'll have a delicious meal.

Our cook reminds us these recipes are both simple and good.

MEAT LOAF
Soften 15 soda crackers in 2/3 cup of cold water

Add:
1/2 cup dry milk
1/4 cup catsup
1 small, finely diced onion
Mix Well. Add
1/3 lb. pork sausage
2/3 to 1 lb. hamburger
1 1/2 tsp. hamburger seasoning
1/3 tsp. Lawry's seasoned salt
1/3 tsp. plain salt
Dash of pepper

Blend well, and bake at 375d. for 35 or 40 minutes in 9"x9" pan.
(Some folks like a little more salt and pepper seasoning.)

APRICOT UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE
Use a 9"x9" or a 13"x13" pan with margarine.

Spread on a heaping cup of brown sugar.

Place on this unpeeled, halved apricots very close together or oven overlapping.

Mix up a boxed Jiffy white cake mix according to directions on box, and pour over apricots. Bake at 350d for 40 min.

(This is the small size cake mix and makes only half as much dough as the ordinary cake mix.)

This recipe may be used with any kind of raw fruit.

Serve warm. Top with half-and-half, whipped cream, or ice cream.

Danger in Reducing Fats

The case for a reducing diet that is unusually low in carbohydrate is not convincing, according to the Medical Association.

During the past 10 years it has been well-demonstrated that carbohydrates, which includes starches, and sugars, are essential to the diet. The average adult accustomed to a normal diet probably requires at least 100 grams of carbohydrate a day in order to avoid undesirable metabolic changes associated with carbohydrate deficiency.

Scientists have learned that diets adequate in calories but without carbohydrates can produce results which mimic many aspects of starvation. Both produce losses of nitrogen, sodium, and fluid, increased blood levels of cholesterol and other types of fats, extreme fatigue, postural hypotension (lowered blood pressure caused by a change in posture), and rapid weight loss.

While the weight loss may appear desirable, the accompanying changes are certainly undesirable and potentially hazardous. Also, the initial rapid weight loss is largely due to water loss and does not represent an increased breakdown in body fat.

Carbohydrates are important in themselves and the foods which supply them supply other nutrients as well. This also holds true for fats and protein.

Claims made for the benefits of any unbalanced reducing diet lack support and tend to divert attention from the need to reduce total caloric intake while maintaining and promoting good health.

Headaches and Causes

The discomfort of headaches is usually only temporary and of little medical importance, observes the Idaho Medical Association.

Headaches are not uncommon, and millions of people have them occasionally. A headache can be a warning signal of more serious trouble, however. If a headache persists, consult your physician.

High blood pressure, allergy and various kinds of infections all can cause headaches.

A headache can be a symptom of scarlet fever, influenza, pneumonia, or even of a brain tumor or kidney infection.

Prolonged self-medication with headache remedies is unwise. This may only cover up the real cause of the headache.

Most headaches are only temporary, and are not a sign of serious trouble, but if a headache continues, see your physician.

KIDS BACK TO SCHOOL; CUE FOR MOTORISTS

Kids go back to school this month, and that occasion, says Fred C. Becker, President of Inland Automobile Association is an important one to motorists.

They, too, are probably ready for a do-it-yourself refresher course that might be labeled "child-centered defensive driving."

The auto club official points out that each summer its easy for motorists to be lulled into relative laxness in this area as children vanish from school zones and school buses leave the traffic lanes.

Now, drivers must again be on guard for thousands of youngsters on their way to and from the nation's classrooms, especially those tots who are on their own for the first time.

Above all drivers should keep in mind that many children know next to nothing about pedestrian safety rules. And even those who do hardly will remember them when in pursuit of a rolling ball or a runaway pet.

Mr. Becker advises motorists to make note of four additional factors

1. When in a school zone, watch for reduced speed limit signs that are installed in many communities when the summer months end.

2. Remember the law about stopping when you see a halted school bus, and at the same time, keep in mind that this rule may condition children to dart in front of a public bus.

3. Be on the lookout for youngsters riding bicycles that may appear suddenly from a blind spot near your car.

4. If you're a parent, help your child by mapping out his safest walking route to school. If he takes a school bus, let him walk to the stop—traffic hazards near schools increase when children are dropped off and picked up by family cars.

"Children," says Becker, "are our most precious pedestrians—let's protect them!"

DISCRETION AND CARE URGED ON DOVE HUNTERS

September is fast approaching and to many Idaho bird hunters this means the first of the major hunting seasons will be upon us. Dove season opens a half hour before sunrise the first of September, which comes on Wednesday this year. Despite the mid-week opening, it is expected there will be a high rate of interest and participation by hunters, according to game bird supervisor Dick Norell of the Idaho Fish and Game Department.

"Most hunters are by nature very careful when in the field, but we feel it is advisable to remind one and all to avoid shooting at doves perched on telephone or power lines or poles," Norell stated. He also cited the need for consideration of private property, including field crops and livestock, adding that with dry weather prevailing, hunters

Shaving Troubles

Boise — One of the most frequent complaints about shaving, next to its frequency, is the ingrown hair, notes the Idaho Medical Ass'n.

There are several theories about the cause. In persons with coarse, curly hair, the closely cut-off ends of whiskers may curl back and re-enter the skin.

The smoothness or roughness of the cut edge of the hair may affect the production of ingrown hair. The rougher the edges are, the more likely hair is to be caught by the skin and grow inward. A dull blade in wet shaving probably complicates the matter because of pressure and the angle of the cut.

Men bothered with ingrown hairs should experiment to find which shaving method gives them the least trouble. They should not shave too closely, nor against the grain, especially in the neck region.

If the problem is severe and persists, it is advisable to discuss the possibility of permanent removal of ingrowing hairs.

Another alternative is to stop shaving and grow a beard. Letting the beard grow during a vacation may be sufficient to solve the problem, allowing irritation and secondary infection to clear up. Shaving may then be resumed.

should be most careful to prevent forest fires.

Norell commented that the dove population throughout most of the state is good this year and prospects are considered bright. Dove hunters are usually apprehensive about stormy weather just prior to or shortly after the season opening, because even a light frost can send some of the doves winging southward. Here again, prospects appear bright, according to Norell, who checked into available weather forecasts and found favorable weather indicated.

Dove season ends September 19, and shooting hours are from on-half hour before sunrise to sunset. Shooting hours listings will be available in limited numbers at license vendors and at all regional offices of the Fish and Game Department.

Norell also reminded hunters to avoid shooting at kingfishers, cormorants and pelicans, all of which were added to the protected list by the State Legislature.

OLD APPLE ORCHARD

Years have rolled away but not the memory. Of the APPLE ORCHARD, where the breeze; Toss't the apple trees in stormy billows Lingered while the clover rocked the bees.

Dear old apple trees, again I see them Sheltering that humble rural home; Through the boughs there comes the clingle clangle Of the cowbells in the greenwood gloam.

Dreamwinds won't you take me back to childhood? Where the trail of memory ever beams? Leave me in that dear old APPLE ORCHARD;

Leave me where I DREAMED MY DREAM OF DREAMS.

Kendrick Gazette, Aug. 28, 1941

Thursday afternoon of last week, about 5:30 o'clock, a hail storm hit the Potlatch country, cutting a swath approximately a quarter mile wide.

Farmers hit were the Lyle Harrisons, Fred Newmans, Walter Koepps and August F. Wegners, all in the Cameron-Leland area. It then struck in the canyon and followed a northerly direction, pelting Kendrick with rain and hail and "raised hob" with gardens, flowers and trees, with the streets being littered with debris and the accompanying rain. It then turned and moved northwesterly, striking the Nora Callison, Harry Bencotter and E. P. Roberts farms on American Ridge.
