Cletis Hoisingtons Will Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary Sunday, September 5th

By Millie Corkill

"This business of getting along together for 50 years just takes a good bit of give and take and consideration for the other fellow. I don't think it comes automatic, it is something you have to work at and naturally there are times when things don't go too smoothly, but then if you want to work it out and forget the uncomfortable times you can usually do it."

men, which included a driver, two sack sewers, a machine man and a "header puncher," instead of the 20 as on the old machines. Wheat was yielding from 40 to 50 bushels per acre on summer-fallow, and brought 22c a bushel. Since there were only five men, the housewife did the cooking and the cook house went into "moth balls."

Their courtship began when she was teaching at the Stonypoint school near his home on the lower end of Potlatch ridge. As she was walking home one day from school to her boarding house, which was some two miles away through very muddy roads, a young man rode up beside her on horseback, offering her the horse for the completion of the trip.

Cletis still continues his interest in cattle and cares for their farm home and its spacious yard, which usually takes most of his spare time.

Following their marriage, November 8, 1921, at her home in Michigan, they settled on the family farm near Stonypoint and have lived there continuously since that time.

Cletis still continues his interest in cattle and cares for their farm home and its spacious yard, which usually takes most of his spare time.

The winter months often posed a problem in the early years, as heavy snow falls often blocked the roads. Snow plows were not in use then and traffic was mostly at a standstill until spring.

Through the years nine children joined the family circle, which accounted for the consumption of hundreds of quarts of canned fruits, vegetables, jams and pickles prepared each year.

In the late 1920's and early '30's we modernized harvesting, purchasing our first horse-drawn and motor powered combine, using a 16-horse team which required a very skilled driver.

Vandals Cause Heavy Destruction At Fey Bros.; Brocke and Sons During Weekend

Vandals struck at two Kendrick business firms over the week-end, inflicting heavy property damage and stealing some tools and equipment. Fey Bros. Repair and Brocke & Sons, Inc., warehouse at the west end of Kendrick (fertilizer plant location) were both victims of the break-in which apparently occurred late Saturday night or early Sunday morning.

The vandals also ransacked the office, destroyed a calculator and stole a micrometer.

Genesee School Enrollment Increases

GENESEE—The enrollment of the Genesee schools have increased by 37 students over last year when school was dismissed. The biggest gain was at the elementary level with 202 students in grades one to six as compared to 168 last year. The Jr. High enrollment is also up from last year. This year we have 70 enrolled as compared to 54 last year. The high school enrollment decreased this year as have 108 enrolled and last year there were 121 enrolled.

Seed Bags Slashed The vandals also broke into the Brocke & Sons warehouse just east of Fey Bros., where they slashed open some 900 bags of peas and timothy grass seed, causing the sacked and palletted seed to collapse into the aisle.

Alumni Downs KHS Tigers 14-0

Alumni from Kendrick High School had too much strength and punch for the 1971 KHS Tigers as they defeated the younger team 14-0 in a hard scrimmage Friday night on the Kendrick gridiron.

Coach Wayne Dust and his squad was still hampered by lack of team members who hadn't turned out for the season and who hadn't had enough practice session yet.

Steve Howerton and Alan Kimbley scored the points for the Alumni with Gary Craig and Loren Hoffman handling the quarterbacking chores.

The Tigers took advantage of an alumni fumble and drove down inside the alumni 10-yard line before the alumni forward wall stiffened and held.

The couple ask that there be no gifts, please!

The Tigers open the regular season this Friday night in a home game against the Nezperce Indians. Game time is 7:30.

Jim Scharnhorst Tells Of European Tour

Genesee—Jim Scharnhorst, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Scharnhorst, Genesee, returned home Wednesday, August 25th, after a ten-week tour of thirteen European countries. Jim, a student at the University of Idaho, traveled with an International Student Identity card, sponsored by the Council on International Educational Exchange. He traveled in The Netherlands, Belgium, France, Spain, Italy, Greece, Switzerland, Austria, Germany, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, and England. He had a Senior Youth Pass, of American Hostels, Inc., which enabled him to stay in Youth Hostels throughout Europe. He had a Eurail student railpass with which he traveled by train and ship or boat. The trains were quite comfortable, even second class and many Americans as well as European students traveled by train. Jim carried his belongings by backpack, which also was a very common practice by young people he saw throughout Europe.

Jim was taken to Seattle June 18th by his parents. The charter flight, a joint venture of the U. of I. and W. S. U. left Sea-Tac International Airport June 14 and flew non-stop to Amsterdam, The Netherlands. Mr. Emil Erickson, a frequent Genesee visitor was aboard the flight, also. About 170 persons were aboard. Jim was met at the airport by Ken Hawley, a fraternity brother and by Andrew Wilson, a University of Idaho law student. He spent several days walking and sight-seeing in the city, which is very beautiful. He toured the Heineken Brewery, the Royal Palace, Dam-Square, and several museums. On June 20th, Jim traveled to Paris, spent one night, and went on to Barcelona, Spain. The French countryside was lovely. In Barcelona, Jim accompanied two students from Purdue University to the bullfights. The students found them cruel and bloody and did not share the Spaniards' enthusiasm for this sport. From Barcelona, the boys traveled to Arenys de Mar, a small town on the Mediterranean coast. They enjoyed the Spanish people, who were friendly and happy. An interesting note here was a dish Jim served made of rice, baby squid and octopus. He said it was delicious if you forgot what it was. After several days there, Jim went to Rome, Italy, by train.

Rome was the most impressive city Jim visited. He felt that the religious shrines, and architecture, the art, fountains, and monuments were incredible. He walked through much of Rome, visiting the Coliseum, Capitoline Museum, Palace of the Conservatori, the Forum, the Monument of Victor Emmanuel II, and the Trevi Fountain. A bus was taken to the Vatican, and Jim walked to the top of the Dome. Rome was having record high temperatures and horses were dropping from the heat. The train came in under the Aqueducts near the famous Appian Way. From Rome, Jim went to Brindisi where he boarded an ocean liner type ferry for Patros, Greece. He went to Athens, where he saw the Parthenon, the Acropolis and much of the Greek art and architecture. He swam at the Olympic pool before going on to the island of Mykonos off the eastern coast of Greece. The island was very windy and the landscape dotted with windmills. The only cars were taxicabs, and donkeys were in abundance for work and travel. There were many small churches on the island. Jim notes that the food was rich and greasy. The tourists were catered to, especially in the cities. He felt Greek culture was the most different from American culture than any country he saw. Jim returned across the Adriatic Sea on the huge ferry, Egnatia. These ferries carry hundreds of people and cars. The crossing was very turbulent.

Traveling on up the coastline, Jim's next stop was Venice. Alighting on the dock, the passengers walked to the main street and found the "Great Canal." Jim took a "trolley," which of course, was a large boat and went to the city center. Venice was interesting, with famous St. Mark's Cathedral and tempting shops and sidewalk restaurants. The canals were badly polluted, however. Jim went on to Lerano to visit Bridgett Recici, of Clarkston, who was spending a few weeks with her brother, a G. I.

From Lerano, Jim traveled to Zermatt, Switzerland, located at the base of the famous Matterhorn. He found Zermatt and the Swiss countryside very beautiful. He ascended 1600 meters on foot at the mountain's base and this took 4½ hours. He accompanied another student to the glacier, 3400 meters up, where they spent the day skiing. The tip of the Matterhorn is 4777 meters high. The scenery was breathtaking in the Swiss Alps. Jim noted that because of the many lakes and streams, hay grew in abundance and many crops were taken from the same lands each summer. There was always hay being cut, hay drying, and hay being shocked and hauled.

Going on to Lucerne, Jim found this city the cleanest and most cared for. He took a steamboat down Lake Lucerne to Brunnen, then a train to the tip of Lake Zurich. The trip was made during a flash thunder storm and the rough water reminded the American traveler of Lake Pend Oreille during a bad storm. Jim stayed in a hostel in Zurich. The inhabitants of this city are among the world's wealthiest and Jim contrasted a Spanish girl doing the family wash in a polluted stream to a rich Zurich citizen alighting from her chauffeur-driven Mercedes.

Going on by train, the next stop was Innsbruck, Austria. There Jim stayed at the Hostel John F. Kennedy. There were many American students there and in the evenings, the young people played guitars and sang American songs. The hostels were very nice and the students staying there abided by certain rules. A hostel card cost only $2. The purpose of the American Youth Hostels, Inc. is to help all, especially young people gain a greater understanding of the world and its people through outdoor activities, educational and recreational travel, to develop fit, self-reliant, well-informed citizens and to provide simple overnight accommodations in scenic, historic, and cultural areas, with supervising houseparents and local sponsorship. The fee per night is usually about $2 American money.

Jim spent some time in Berchtesgaden, the U. S. Army Recreational Area. He visited several Idaho students there,

Anderson-Harris Wedding Vows Exchanged

Cherry Ann Anderson and Jade LeRoy Harris exchanged wedding vows Sunday, August 15 at St. John's Lutheran church in Genesee in a setting of garden flowers and candelabra. Pastor Don Parsons, Port Orford, Oregon, brother-in-law of the bride, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Cherry is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Engle Anderson, Moscow, Idaho, and Jade, the son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Harris, of Genesee.

Mrs. Robert Leighty of Spokane was her sister's matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Beth Gilstrap and Karol Lindsay, Moscow and Jill Oatman, Santa Ana, Calif., cousin of the bride.

Chandra Zenner, niece of the groom, was flower girl; Jeff Reams, nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer; and Penny Reams and Helje Leighty, nieces of the bride, handed out scrolls.

Douglas Kinyon of Genesee was best man, and ushers were Sheldon Russell, Moscow; Russell Zenner, brother-in-law of the groom; Spencer Hampton, Genesee; Jim Reams, Redmond, Wash.; and Robert Leighty, Spokane, brothers-in-law of the bride.

Vocalist was Mrs. Jim Reams, Redmond, the bride's sister. She was accompanied by Mrs. Ruby Ames.

A reception followed at the church. Assisting were Mrs. Ernest Lee, Moscow; Mrs. Roger Larson, Pullman; Mrs. Bob Harris, Spokane, and Mrs. Robert Erickson, sons of the groom; Mrs. Don Parsons, Port Orford, Oregon, sister of the bride; Mrs. Russell Zenner, Genesee, sister of the groom; and Janet Wolf, Margi Larson, and Tari Kimble.

Following a short honeymoon on Coeur d'Alene Lake, the newlyweds are at home at 1106 S. Main, Moscow, Idaho.

also a "People's Fest" in a nearby village. Jim's grandmother, Mrs. Louis Scharnhorst, is a daughter of Joseph Sprenger. All of her brothers and sisters but one are still living in the northwest. They are Mrs. Richard Stout and Mrs. Glenn Alior, Lewiston; Mrs. Ben Johann, Moscow; Mrs. Albert Bruggeman, Lind, Wa.; Mrs. Cecile Johnson, Spokane, Wa., and Frank and Joe Sprenger, Sr., Genesee. Jim found that since he spoke little German and the Madfeld Sprengers spoke little English, he became very proficient with sign language. However, one day, they had an interpreter. Visiting these relatives was a highlight of Jim's trip. They were interested in him and in the American Sprengers, and other relatives.

Traveling on from Madfeld, Jim went to Copenhagen, Denmark, a fabulous magic city. He went through Tivoli, an amusement park with 18 orchestras, 20 restaurants, 87,000 colored lights, and many other attractions.

He especially enjoyed the Danish pastry shops with the wonderful baked goods. Ice cream was sold almost everywhere in Europe and the most delicious was probably in Denmark, because of the rich cream from the Jersey dairy cows. From Copenhagen, Jim went by train to Stockholm, Uppsala, Smidsvall, Ostersund and on to a city named Hell, Norway. He traveled, then, to Oslo, enjoying the scenic beauty of the Scandinavian countries very much. He came back to Denmark, going from Göteborg, Sweden across the Kattegat Channel to Frederikshavn and south through the Danish countryside.

Back to Amsterdam, Jim crossed to England and went to London. He saw Westminster Abbey, the changing of the guard at Buckingham Palace, and other famous English attractions. He returned to Amsterdam to prepare for the flight home.

During the trip through Italy on July 18th, Jim noticed that the wheat harvest was at its peak. Wheat is grown between the rows of vineyards and fruit trees in this part of Italy. The combines are self-propelled, although many are smaller than we have in the Genesee area. Much of the land is flat. He commented that one does not see the "wide open spaces" of the western United States in the western Mediterranean and low countries of Europe. He saw no dry packaged cereal in Europe and found that breakfast consisted of a roll and beverage. Meat was seldom served. He liked the German sausages and breads and cheeses, but admitted that many a time a double-meat cheese burger from Stubb's would have really hit the spot! He learned very soon that one does not drink the water on the continent.

He found most of the people friendly and helpful. The language barrier and the money exchange did not bother the Genesee traveler. When the American dollar was devalued, Jim found that American Express Co. protected its clients worldwide. He was able to receive mail from home through the American Express Co., also.

Jim enjoyed witnessing the culture and lifestyles of people in the various European countries. He learned much

There once was a farmer (I don't believe he lived in Genesee—probably Kendrick) that bought a cow and kept her 14 years waiting patiently for a calf. One day he was explaining to a friend how long he had waited for a calf and his friend replied, "You need a bull." So our farmer sold the cow and bought a bull and as far as we know he is still waiting for a calf.

HOW TO BRING A NEW DOCTOR TO A RURAL COMMUNITY

Chicago—Here's a tip for the rural community that doesn't have a physician and wants one: "Look for an MD who grew up in a small community, perhaps even in the same part of the country," suggests the current AMA UPDATE of (July/August).

Some 132 rural counties in 26 states are presently without a non-federal physician. "Paradoxically, most MD's who live and practice in rural areas enjoy their work," says Dr. Bond L. Bible, secretary of AMA's Council on Rural Health. "Once he has established his practice there, a doctor isn't likely to leave."

Nearly half the physicians polled in a Council survey who were practicing in towns smaller than 2500 said they were brought up in a small town, Dr. Bible

Mrs. Albert Lawrence and children were Lewiston visitors Friday.

Agatha Perkins returned home last Monday from a two-week visit to Montana and Canada, with her sister, Mrs. Richard Starling. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Carpenter of Ellensburg visited with Mrs. Perkins from Friday to Tuesday.

Agatha Perkins attended a birthday dinner Friday in Lewiston in honor of her son Marvin and Mildred Brown. Her granddaughter, Jennie, spent the past week here with her, and on Sunday all of the Marvin family were here.

Agatha Perkins was in Orofino last Monday to judge District Grange Needlework; and in Cottonwood on Wednesday to judge at the Idaho County Fair.

says. AMA is helping small communities solve their medical problems in several ways. The Association's Physicians' Placement Service helps communities find a doctor, and vice versa.

Particularly in sparsely-populated areas, "we urge groups of communities to establish a centrally-located medical center with a group practice, together with mobile health units or satellite health stations," Dr. Bible says. Thanks to today's automobiles and roadways, a doctor may be 15 or 20 miles away in distance, but only minutes away in time.

In one 4000-square mile area of Washington state, with a population of five persons per square mile, AMA is supporting a pilot project to extend the capable of medical services in such areas. "It's a team approach, basically, in which the area's eight doctors coordinate their own efforts and those of physician's assistants (called Medex)

Fisheries Centennial Year
President Richard Nixon has signed a proclamation designating the year 1971 as Fisheries Centennial Year. A hundred years ago last February, the President appointed the first commissioner of Fish and Fisheries. From that start the effort has grown tremendously and present efforts to conserve and improve our fisheries are vitally important to America. Nixon urges all Americans to support the work of managers and scientists in protecting and enhancing the fisheries of our nation.

Union Pacific helps keep Idaho products in the market

Union Pacific's fast, efficient service and low freight rates help keep Idaho's basic products competitive in expanded market places.

In face of spiraling wage and equipment costs, which have increased 75 percent over the past fifteen years, it is surprising that Union Pacific rates in some instances are actually lower in 1971 than five or even ten years ago.

This is more remarkable considering the shrinking value of the dollar which today is worth only 72 cents of what it was ten years back.

Despite these zooming costs and inflation, some U.P. rates have dropped.

For instance, fresh potatoes, a backbone product in Idaho's economy, can now be shipped to Chicago from Idaho Falls for $1.38 per cwt. compared to $1.43 in 1958. Potatoes from Idaho Falls to St.

Louis cost $1.21 per cwt. in 1961 and just $1.15 per cwt. in 1971.

Dry fertilizer to Des Moines today costs just $14.66 per ton compared to $16.10 in 1962.

Intra-state phosphate rock shipments from Gay to Don cost .64 per ton today compared to .71 in 1963.

Other Idaho rail rates on the Union Pacific are only slightly higher today than they were five and ten years ago.

The reductions have been made possible by bigger cars, more power, increased volume, computerized operations, and other factors. They do not represent general overall freight reductions. They do show, however, how Union Pacific strives continually to provide lowest possible freight rates to keep basic Idaho products competitively strong in as many market places as possible.

Helping to build a strong industrial Idaho.

High Lakes Are Best Now

Idaho fishermen have had a good mountain lakes fishing season so far, but interest in the high waters to lag just when the fishing gets best. In late August temperatures are dropping and fish are actively feeding and easily caught. The mountain trout are in top shape at this time and fishermen are missing a good bet if they forego mountain lake fishing in late summer and early fall.

Unless familiar with the area they are going to, fishermen should check on trails and locations of lakes as many a rough trip could be avoided if questions are asked beforehand.

THEODORA SMITH—

IN MEMORIAM
Life's happy mile that I walked with you
Where the sweet red roses came;
Enriched my life with a memory sweet;
More than I'll ever name.

So let me think of you that way,
Of the seeds of love you've sown;
How the world has been brighter
Because you lived, and my soul has stronger grown. —Bert Gamble

AFTER THE HARVEST THE GRAIN
After the summer is over
And the toilers say farewell;
When the quail steal away to the clover
And the mellow moon shines in the dell.

Will the love that we knew in the springtime,
Find a way to live on and remain?
Will you still love me then?
Will you come back again?
AFTER THE HARVEST THE GRAIN?

Harvest Progressing Area combines are still going "in circles." Yields seem to be high in all areas. Fred Funke reports he hopes to finish by mid-week. Others have a ways to go.

School for the area opened Monday morning with the usual number of nine enrolled. Some of the older boys will be staying out a day or two to help finish the harvest.

Fruit Harvest Area apples seem to be scarce this year, with plums and prunes being visited by so many yellowjackets and other unfriendly types, including bears, that few will be harvested.
