

Kendrick, Juliaetta Enter Into Agreement With County For Full-time Deputy In Area

Members of the Kendrick and the Juliaetta City Councils this week entered into an agreement with the Latah County Sheriff's office which will result in a full-time Deputy Sheriff being assigned to this area.

The program, which has been in the planning stage for a number of months, is called a "resident deputy" program by Sheriff Ed Pierson, who talked to the Gazette staff Tuesday evening, explaining the details of the program.

The exact wording of the agreement explains what is now going to take place:

"The objectives of this agreement are to provide Latah County, and more specifically, the Cities of Kendrick and Juliaetta with more law enforcement and to join the City of Kendrick, and the City of Juliaetta with Latah County and the Sheriff of Latah County in providing a sheriff's automobile and a law enforcement officer to patrol the Kendrick-Juliaetta area.

"Latah County agrees to furnish through the Latah County Sheriff to the cities of Kendrick and Juliaetta, a sheriff's automobile which is to be equipped for law enforcement duties and maintained by the Sheriff of Latah County, and to furnish a Deputy Sheriff for duty in the Kendrick-Juliaetta area. The City of Juliaetta is to loan the Sheriff of Latah County a 400 radio and said radio is to be maintained by Latah County. The City of Juliaetta is to pay Latah County the sum of $250.00 per month each month during the duration of this agreement with the first payment to be made January 15, 1972.

The City of Kendrick is to pay to Latah County the sum of $250.00 per month each month during the duration of this agreement.

"This agreement shall be for one year, from the second Monday of January."

Karen Foreman Injured In Fall Last Wednesday

Karen Foreman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Foreman of Juliaetta, fell and was knocked unconscious on ice while walking near her home on Wednesday, Dec. 29. She was taken to the Troy Clinic by a neighbor, Mrs. Marilyn Cuddy and Carolyn Foreman, her sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Foreman were in Spokane at the time of the accident and they were "flagged" down in Troy by their daughter Carolyn.

Dr. Drury then had Karen transferred by ambulance to the Gritman Hospital in Moscow. X-rays showed concussion but no serious damage. Karen was allowed to return home Friday afternoon.

The Foremans want to thank Mrs. Cuddy for helping the girls and talking Karen to the Troy Clinic and remaining there until the parents arrived in town.

Carolyn and Mrs. Cuddy took turns standing outside the Clinic watching for the Foremans so they could be "flagged" down—they did this for nearly two hours. The family said they can never thank Mrs. Cuddy enough for her help.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday from Merchant Funeral Home with the Rev. Joseph C. W. Lee of the Clarkston United Methodist Church officiating. Burial followed at Normal Hill Cemetery.

The family suggests that memorials may be given to the charity of the donor's choice.

News Items From Juliaetta Schools

New Classes Added

There has been a change in class schedules at the Elementary School with the addition of two extra classes.

Mrs. Gehl will now have a supplemental reading group in reading and Mr. Jones will have a supplemental group in 6th grade math. Mr. Manfull has taken 5th grade English and 6th Grade Math classes in order for these changes to be made. We are very hopeful that these changes will improve our program.

Preparations for parent-teacher conferences are being made and may be used at the end of the 3rd quarter. There still has to be a lot of planning done before the school board can rule on the acceptability of the conferences.

We are all looking forward to the start of the 3rd quarter when Mrs. Parker will begin Speech Therapy once again. She will spend every day with us for one full quarter. We feel that her work is most beneficial and an integral part of our program.

Newly Created South Latah Highway District Is Now a Functioning Unit

Following an organization meeting December 17, at which time officers were elected, the newly appointed Board of Commissioners of the South Latah Highway District began functioning. The South Latah Highway District is the newly created taxing unit which resulted from the consolidation of the Genesee Rimrock Highway District, Kendrick Highway District and Good Road District No. 1.

At the December meeting, the Board of Commissioners, who had been appointed by the Governor, met and elected a president and vice-president. Adrian Nelson, Genesee, was elected president; Jack Parsley, Kendrick, vice-president; and Geo. F. Denner, Juliaetta, will be the third man of the board. Don Springer, Genesee, was chosen by the board as secretary-treasurer. Springer was the treasurer of the old Genesee Rimrock District.

The newly-appointed members drew straws to see the length of their terms with Nelson and Denner drawing four year terms and Parsley a two-year term.

Drug Store Sold To Dave Clayton

In a joint announcement, Cecil Choate, owner of the Red Cross Pharmacy in Kendrick for the past 21 years, and his pharmacist, Dave Clayton, who has managed the business for an almost similar length of time, revealed that Clayton has purchased the drug store from Choate, effective January 1 of this year.

The Red Cross Pharmacy was purchased by Cecil Choate from Tom Keene in 1950. Clayton was working in the store as a druggist at that time. Clayton left Kendrick and went to Alaska for one year and then returned to again manage the business, which he has done until this time.

Choate said he and his wife are sincerely appreciative of the patronage extended him by the community for the past twenty year and he said he feels confident that Mr. Clayton, who is trusted and respected by the community, will continue to receive support.

Mr. Choate said he is now in the process of retiring from both farming and his other business interests.

Big District

The consolidation of the three old units into one district makes the new district over fifty miles long—stretching from the Clearwater County line over to the Washington State boundary. There are approximately 280 miles of road in the district. Nelson is Commissioner from Sub-District No. 1, which is mostly the old Genesee Rimrock Highway District; Geo. F. Denner is Commissioner from Sub-District No. 2, which covers Juliaetta area, Fir Ridge and on over to within a mile of the Genesee City limits; Jack Parsley is Commissioner from Sub-District No. 3, which takes in most of the old Kendrick Highway District and Good Roads District, plus an additional part of Bear Ridge which was not previously in any of the three districts.

Tell Your District

Nelson said the board is now in the process of having a new map drawn up outlining the boundaries and sub-districts of the unit and when available the map will be published in the Gazette-News.

It is important when applying for new vehicle license plates, Nelson said, to let the assessor's office know that you are within the South Latah Highway District. State and County Funds are allocated to the various districts on the amount of vehicles registered. To make certain our district receives all the funds available to it each person should check to see that proper credit is given when getting their license.

Nelson said the district will be working on an anticipated budget of $155,000.00.

Hilda B. Evans Passes December 31

Mrs. Hilda B. Evans, widow of retired Genesee rancher, Roy H. Evans, died Friday morning, December 31 at 9:50 a. m. at Gritman Memorial Hospital in Moscow. She had been ill for two weeks.

The Evanses had farmed south of Genesee until they retired in 1952. She had lived at Genesee from the time she was 17, and besides a year at Pasco in 1913-14, she had lived previously in Oregon. Mrs. Evans was born February 2, 1897 at Burns, Oregon, to Joseph and Viola Powers Tucker.

She married Evans at Genesee January 21, 1920. He was a World War I veteran. She was a member of Biel-erberg-Schooler American Legion Auxiliary.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Lawrence R. (Emma Lou) Harris, Genesee, and Mrs. David L. (Mary Ann) Lange, Spokane. A grandson, Samuel Roy Lange of Spokane, and a sister, Mrs. Thelma Horman, Genesee, also survive.

The funeral service was conducted Tuesday morning at 10 a. m. at Malcolm's Brower-Wann Memorial Chapel with the Rev. J. Stanley Lyman of Lewiston officiating.

Mrs. Elvon Hampton organist, accompanied Mrs. Martin Stout who sang "Sweet Hour of Prayer," and "The Old Rugged Cross."

Palbearers were Howard Blume, Martin Stout, Marion Holben, Wayne Schweene, Orrin Kamitsch, all of Genesee, and Leonard Strong, Spokane.

Burial in Genesee City cemetery.

LANDLORDS ADVISED TO AWAIT RENT GUIDELINES
 The Internal Revenue Service asked Friday that landlords refrain from increasing rents on residential properties until the Price Commission's rent guide lines can be more fully spelled out which is expected shortly.
 IRS director Calvin E. Wright also cautioned landlords that the new regulations require that tenants must receive written notification of rent increase 30 days prior to their effective date. The rule places the burden of proof of notification on the landlord.
 Wright said that written notification must include the rental amounts both before and after the increase, the computations involved in the increase, the origin of the computations, the date of the increase goes into effect, and other information necessary for checking the computation.
 Under the new regulations, tenants questioning increases have the right to see the landlord's documentation supporting the rent increase.

WILDLIFE VIEWPOINT
 by Dee Hibbert
 Idaho Fish and Game Department personnel have been monitoring the deer fatalities within the Dworshak Reservoir this past week. C-PTPA pilot Joe Monaghan flew Senator Al White of Orofino and department members over the problem area, which lies between the Dent Bridge and Big Island. Above that point the river is still mostly free-flowing and no problem exists at the present.
 Whitetailed deer are coming down to the reservoir and attempting to cross. Ice cover on the reservoir is unstable and at least 100 deer have already been lost. Deer are not coming down to the reservoir to utilize the cedars and other conifers for the pool clearing; nor are they being chased down on the reservoir by predators. They are apparently coming down only to cross the reservoir—crossing in as direct a route for the other side as possible.
 In narrow, confined canyon areas, the ice is more solid and many deer trails cross the reservoir at these points without any losses.
 Monitoring will continue on this problem, however, there doesn't appear to be any practical solutions for stopping the losses.
US DEPT. OF JUSTICE IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION SERVICE
 Mr. Hoffeller, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, advised today that the annual alien address report program is again under way.
 According to Mr. Hoffeller 9209 aliens reported their addresses last year in Montana and Idaho. The number this year is expected to be slightly larger.
 The immigration official pointed out that the address reports are required by law and willful failure to comply with these requirements may lead to serious consequences.
 Forms with which to make the reports are available at all post offices and immigration and naturalization offices. It is an easy matter to fill out one of the cards and return it in person to the same office or by mail to the nearest office of the immigration and naturalization service.
 Mr. Hoffeller added that trained personnel will be on hand in all offices of the immigration and naturalization service to answer any questions the reporting alien may have regarding immigration and naturalization matters. Sufficient trained personnel are not available to furnish this assistance in all post offices.

It must be true that eating carrots is good for your eyes. You almost never see a rabbit wearing glasses.
 There is a new book out. It's the heart reading story of a girl who doesn't have any boy friends because she is only 16—where she should be 38.

A man who worked in a factory bought a lottery ticket. As the time for the drawing approached he said to his wife "If official good news arrives, come over the factory and ask for me, don't wait for me to get home."
 The following Friday he was told that his wife was waiting outside. Going over to the foreman he hit him a clip on the chin and used a term which had long laid unuttered on his tongue. When he passed the manager's office, he added a few more phrases. On his way out he told the time-keeper his opinion of him.
 His wife was waiting patiently.
 "Well, Agnes, what did we draw?" he asked.
 "Draw?" she answered. "I just brought your lunch—you left it on the kitchen table this morning."

US DEPT. OF JUSTICE IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION SERVICE
 Mr. Hoffeller, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, advised today that the annual alien address report program is again under way.
 According to Mr. Hoffeller 9209 aliens reported their addresses last year in Montana and Idaho. The number this year is expected to be slightly larger.
 The immigration official pointed out that the address reports are required by law and willful failure to comply with these requirements may lead to serious consequences.
 Forms with which to make the reports are available at all post offices and immigration and naturalization offices. It is an easy matter to fill out one of the cards and return it in person to the same office or by mail to the nearest office of the immigration and naturalization service.
 Mr. Hoffeller added that trained personnel will be on hand in all offices of the immigration and naturalization service to answer any questions the reporting alien may have regarding immigration and naturalization matters. Sufficient trained personnel are not available to furnish this assistance in all post offices.

New Hunting, Fishing Licenses Are Now Needed

Did you ever think of buying a hunting and fishing license as a New Year's present for your sportsman? If you have trouble finding an appropriate gift you might consider this approach, because New Year's day everyone who wishes to hunt or fish must have a 1972 hunting and fishing license. If the angler also wishes to fish for steelhead or salmon, he must also have a 1972 steelhead or salmon permit.

The fees for these licenses are the same as last year—A resident hunting license is $3.00, a resident fishing license is $4.00, a combination hunting and fishing license is $6.00. The steelhead and salmon permits are $1.00 each.

The 1972 non-resident fees for licenses are also the same as 1971, and there is still a restriction on the number of non-resident combination licenses and deer only license which will be sold. The fees for these are: non-resident fish and game $135.00; non-resident season fish, $15.00; non-resident 7-day fish $5.00; resident and non-resident 1-day fish $2.00; non-resident bird $35.00; non-resident bear, $25.00; non-resident deer $75.00.

There are several seasons for hunting that extend over into 1972. One of these is for waterfowl. While a new 1972 hunting license is required for hunting waterfowl after December 31, 1971 the Federal Duck stamp is valid until June 30, 1972. Therefore, hunters who have attached their 1971-72 waterfowl stamp to their 1971 Idaho hunting license should not throw it away as it will be needed for hunting waterfowl until the season closes in January of 1972. The waterfowl season here in the Clearwater Region closes for geese on January 10, 1972, and for ducks on January 23, 1972.

Hunting for Hungarian and chukar partridge, bobwhite, valley mountain and gambel quail remain open in a portion of the Salmon and Snake River drainages until January 23, 1972. The rest of the state will close on December 31, 1971. Cottontail and pigmy rabbit season will remain open through February 29, 1972.

The last of the deer season with rifles closed in Idaho on December 19, 1971 and the archery season closed on December 26, 1971. I wish to remind all sportsmen who purchased deer and elk tags that they should send in the report card portion of their big game tag. These should be completed with the proper information and mailed in as soon as hunting is over or a kill is made. If you did not kill, or even hunt, you should complete this card and mail it in. The postage is paid and all that is needed is a few minutes of your time. Another report that is asked for is the steelhead and salmon permit. So after New Year's, please send in this report for all who purchased a steelhead or salmon permit.

The 1971 legislature changed the conditions under which Senior Citizens could receive permits. Beginning January 1, 1972 residents who have lived continuously in Idaho for the past decade or more and are at least 65 years old can buy a combination hunting-fishing license for $1.00, instead of the usual $6.00. If they are 70 years old and have lived in the state continuously for 10 years, they can get a five-year courtesy hunting-fishing combination permit free.

This is the same permit that has been issued to 70-plus year olds, with six months residency. Some current holders of this permit may not have the ten-year residence requirement at the time of expiration of their permit. In this case, such persons may buy licenses at the going fee. Applications for this permit may be obtained from license vendors and conservation officers. These must be filled out and returned to the local conservation officer.

The new five-year senior hunting-fishing combination permits will be valid for five years from the date of issue. They are sealed in a weather-proof plastic covering and will be imprinted with the prefix of 32-. This prefix must be included as part of the permit number when applying for any controlled hunt.

Senior resident licenses may be obtained by resident sportsmen in the age class 65 to 70 license vendors or at the department's headquarters office for $1.00. When a present senior resident permit expires, the hunter must fill out a new application for senior resident fishing-hunting permit, affirming that he is over 70 years of age and has been a continuous resident for at least ten years.

NEW CARS WORTH $120 MILLION LOANED BY DEALERS FOR DRIVER EDUCATION

A record number of cars and trucks were loaned by U. S. new car dealers to high schools for use in driver education programs in 1971 according to a survey just completed by the Auto Dealers Traffic Safety Council and reported by F. A. Portfors, Orofino, President of the Idaho Automobile Dealers Association.

Some 35,000 vehicles, an increase of nearly 5,000 over 1970, were provided to schools all of this last year. This, the Council notes, represents a total retail value of approximately $120 million.

The national total of training vehicles reported was 37,003 including cars, trucks and other commercial vehicles. Of this grand total, 35,527 were new, late model cars provided by dealers, at no cost to schools, parents, or taxpayers.

OUR COMPETITION RECOMMENDS BRONATE®

Our competitors think so highly of Bronate as a broad-leaf weed killer in wheat and other grain crops that they want you to tank mix their products with Bronate.

While we appreciate the compliment, we don't necessarily go along with the recommendation.

Because while the addition of less effective herbicides to Bronate may help the other herbicides, it doesn't help Bronate. Matter of fact, it can hurt Bronate.

Unlike many other herbicides, Bronate kills your weeds without damaging your wheat. And tank-mixing reduces Bronate's high degree of selectivity.

Also, unlike other herbicides, Bronate isn't restricted to any particular soil type or condition. And tank-mixing limits Bronate's wide range of application.

Use Bronate alone if your weed problems include Tarweed, Gromwell, Henbit, Dogfennell, Crowfoot, Purple Mustard, and the rest of the Mustard family. Or any of the 23 other kinds of weeds listed on the Bronate label.

Our experience has shown that Bronate used alone has increased productivity for Northwest wheat farmers by as much as 20 bushels per acre.

Is it any wonder our competitors recommend Bronate?

For more information on how Bronate can help you, see your supplier or write Mr. R. P. Rich, Rhodia/Chipman Division, 120 Jersey Avenue, New Brunswick, N.J. 08903.

Fish and Game Crews Plan Winter Wildlife Projects

By E. Kless Brown
Idaho Fish-Game Department

Winter conditions over the vast range lands and rugged mountains of Idaho continue to be the great leveler of wild life, and presently the biggest problem to fish and game officials, commissioners, directors, game managers and conservation officers alike. It is always so, but when a winter starts out early like this year, the intensity of the matter becomes so much more evident. It is obvious that a long, hard winter can, and usually does, take a greater toll of practically every wildlife species.

The Fish and Game Commission lays no claim to being experts in the field of weather predictions, but they did settle on a somewhat new program in the matter of planning for aiding wild life in the winter. The Commission adopted a wintering game policy this year setting the guidelines for the fish and game department to develop the plans for its implementation. The new policy of the Commission, reaffirmed when hunting seasons were set last spring states that big game populations should be maintained under natural conditions and by natural available forage. The policy goes on to point out that winter food is the limiting factor which determines the size of the game population, and that big game numbers must be controlled through proper harvest.

Nielson pointed out that conditions last winter were quite severe in several areas and it became necessary to distribute supplemental feed to game in four different areas in the state: the South Fork of the Payette River drainage, an area on Warm Springs Creek and adjacent spots near Sun Valley, a section of Leslie Butte near Mackay and another spot near Ashton.

In discussing plans for this year, Nielson listed the contacts made with feed mills, showing the availability of materials when and if critical situations develop. He pointed out that the department is using the feed formula developed by the state of Washington, which is made in pellet form for feeding deer. He said that department men and equipment will be ready to act whenever the conditions demand, and that regional game manager and field officers will be monitoring all game herds very closely all winter, or until wintering conditions are relaxed. To keep the director advised weekly reports of wintering conditions will be made and sent to Boise so that the entire program can be coordinated.

As a part of their report on winter game plans, the game division managers also gave a run down on last fall's big game hunting seasons, as follows:

He reported that the hunters' report cards on deer and elk were running behind last year, although it was too early to state accurately percentage-wise. Nielson said that weather or a lack of it had a dampening effect on hunter success. September was dry, making hunting conditions very difficult, and storms right at the beginning of some seasons also kept hunters from getting game.

The cutback in non-resident hunters also resulted in less big game harvest, especially in some back country areas, and there was a general drop in both deer and elk tag sales of about 5 percent. Considering the fact that 1970 had a record bill of deer, it was only logical that a drop for 1971 was to be expected. Supervisor Nielson added that even though a decline was evident from the card returns, the overall harvest of deer and elk was within the ballpark and wouldn't be the lowest of the past 10 or 15 years. He said that in spite of the slow start at the beginning of the season, many units came along much better than last year.

Planned reductions in game herds made possible by increasing hunting pressure in the past, can be appreciated now as we are going into what could be a harder winter than usual. The benefits of such management accrue to the hunter and, even more lasting, the winter range itself. At any rate, it is evident that the real period of stress in winter wildlife conditions approaches, concerned eyes and ready hands are being extended towards Idaho's deer and elk in an organized effort to protect and maintain one of the state's most precious heritages.

Strike Renewal Threat Halts Wheat Exports

Sales of U. S. wheat to Japan have been virtually halted by the threat of a West Coast dock strike resumption, according to the administrator of the Idaho Wheat Commission.

Harold West, Boise, said the Japanese Food Agency has stopped buying American wheat until there is some development to indicate that ports will stay open after the Taft-Hartley injunction expires on December 25.

"Our share of the Japanese wheat market is now less than 42 per cent," West said. "Last year at this time we were at nearly 60 per cent."

West explained that sales of wheat to Japan dropped sharply in November because purchases made during that period would be scheduled for delivery during the time when West Coast longshoremen may again be on strike.

IT'S A FACT: The medical insurance part of Medicare pays eighty percent of the approved amount of medical expenses after a deductible of $50 a year. If a person receives state old age assistance, Medicaid pays the $50 deductible and the 20 percent not paid by Medicare.

IT'S A FACT: Social security accounts for 34 percent of the total income for all Americans over 65.

Worried About Proving Your Age?

Worried about proving your age? D. Gene Shaw, social security manager for Lewiston, said the people at your social security office may be able to help when you make your claim. There are some things you can do ahead of time. If you were born in a state that kept birth records when you were born, write for your birth certificate. If the state where you were born, wasn't keeping birth records at the time, the next best thing is a baptismal record.

If you were baptized before age 5, you'll be asked to find out if there is a record. If there is, it is all the proof of your age you'll need.

If you have no birth or baptismal record, the people working in the social security office will be happy to suggest some other possibilities. Some examples are an old family Bible, school records and federal census records.

You may not recall now, but when you bought your marriage license you gave your age. You may also have some old insurance policies about the house. The list of proofs to try is quite long.

When you file your claim, it helps if you have already found the oldest thing you can that shows your age. It will help the people at the social security office pay you your benefits sooner if you think ahead on your age.

Many times a telephone call before you visit the social security office will help. You may even be able to file your claim by phone. The number is 746-2333.

Impact Of Social Security To Increase

(Editor's Note: Social Security affects the lives of more people than any governmental program. To bring this mammoth federal agency closer to home, this newspaper presents the first of a series of columns designed for our reader by John S. Jennings, Field Representative.

With the exception of the Defense Department, Social Security is the largest single program operated by the federal government. Without question, it will become much larger—perhaps twice as large in its operation and its impact on the economy and the lives of the American people.

On the national level, statistics on Social Security are so huge that they almost lose meaning. Almost 94½ million people work in jobs covered by the program and pay Social Security taxes. Over 28 million people receive benefits of $2.5 billion each month. In 1970, $7 billion was paid in health insurance benefits.

An influx of retirees to the area and proposed changes in the program promise to increase this impact. Legislation involving Welfare Reform and National Health Insurance as well as major changes in the basic program itself appear to be just around the corner. These changes will have a profound effect on the way in which the program is administered and upon the attitudes of the taxpayer who pay for the program.

It will be our goal, therefore, to acquaint readers with what Social Security is all about. What is it? What does it cost? Who benefits from it and to what extent? When paying for some thing as big as Social Security, we ought to know what we are getting for our money.

Advice For SS Beneficiaries

Social security beneficiaries should understand the significance of keeping social security advised of their current address and of other events affecting their eligibility to monthly benefits such as changes in work plans, changes in school attendance for student beneficiaries, marriage, divorce, death, etc., said D. Gene Shaw, manager of the Lewiston Social Security Office. Mr. Shaw emphasized that, through a new public service feature called "Teleservice," many of these reports may be made by telephone. It is important that the social security office be notified of these events as soon as possible to avoid an overpayment or interruption in social security checks. By using the telephone a personal visit to the office may not be necessary. Mr. Shaw suggested telephoning social security before a planned visit. The telephone number is 746-2333. It is possible that the problem can be cared for by telephone. If a visit will be necessary, social security can discuss the required documents that should be brought to expedite processing of social security matters.

Most claims for social security benefits may also be completed by telephone. Teleservice can be a time saver, said Mr. Shaw, "The social security office is as close as your telephone."

IT'S A FACT: The amount of social security disability benefits paid to a disabled worker and his family is the same as retirement benefits paid at age 65. Disability payments start after a worker has been disabled six full months.

A THANK YOU

I wish to thank all the good people for their support toward the Red Cross Pharmacy during the past twenty-plus years I have owned the business.

I have sold the business to David Clayton, whom you all know and who is an excellent pharmacist. So please bring your prescriptions back home to Dave. If these have been filled elsewhere, be sure to get a copy and bring it in to him.

Let's all try to keep a Drug Store in town.

Thanks to all of you again,
