Faculty and Students Say Thanks To All. The faculty and students in the elementary school would like to thank those of you in the community who helped make our magazine sale a tremendous success. In the past our share of this money combined with the auction money has enabled us to purchase TV sets, playground equipment, build a playground and backstop, Christmas decorations for the rooms, games for all the rooms, stage curtains, risers, tumbling mats, and pay part of the cost for students skating and bowling parties. We realize many people buy magazines from us that they might not otherwise purchase. We appreciate this very much. The school realizes about 33 1/2% of the cost of the magazines, so at least you know one-third of the money is staying in your own community. Please, if there are any questions or difficulties which arise over a magazine, please get in touch with Mrs. Donna Cope or Mr. Darrell Manfull. All sales are guaranteed satisfactory or your money back. It takes from 8 to 12 weeks for processing, so it will be a while before you receive your first issue. Werner Brammer Announces Candidacy For District 7 Seat In Legislature

Werner A. Brammer, Kendrick, announced Monday he will be a candidate in the Democratic primary election in August for election to the Idaho House of Representatives from Legislative District 7. Brammer, 55, is a Kendrick insurance man and former farmer, who has long been an advocate of state tax reform. He said yesterday he will campaign to replace the property tax with an income tax at the county level. "I would like to change the present tax program, which I feel is discriminating against the average working man," he said and replace it with an equitable system which will tax all the wealth. "Ninety percent of our problems are money at the county and state level," he stated. "I am not trying to tax the rich," Brammer went on to say, "I am trying to get all taxpayers to pay the same proportionate share of their income."

Brammer has charged in the past that at present Idaho is taxing less than 50 per cent of the wealth at the county level because of what he feels is an antiquated tax base. "A new tax program must be based on taxable generated wealth," he said.

Brammer said he spent several weeks at the current session of the Idaho Legislature and found "many legislators" in favor of his idea. "But they do not have the political will to speak out—someone has to do it for them," he said.

Brammer said he has received grass-roots support for his tax reform idea from "hundreds of people." Between now and the Aug. 8 primary, Brammer plans to carry his campaign to the people. "Any group or organization who feels taxes are too high or are unfair, I would be very happy to meet with them and explain the program to them," he said.

Brammer is a lifelong resident of the Kendrick area, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brammer, pioneer farmers who last year observed their 60th wedding anniversary. Until three years ago, Brammer farmed at both Kendrick and Southwick. He leased the farms when he entered the insurance business in Kendrick.

Brammer is married to the former Joyce Wathal of Lewiston. They have two daughters, Rhonda, who is attending the University of Massachusetts and Denise, a senior at Kendrick High School.

House Kills School Reorganization Bill

The defeat of House Bill 631 on a re-consideration vote by a 37-32 margin claimed top interest for residents in this area. Rep. Geo. F. Brocke reported the defeat of the bill by telephone to the Gazette late Monday morning, just after the balloting had taken place.

"Be sure to tell all the folks at home I appreciated all their calls, letters, telegrams and visits. We've just been so busy that I haven't had time to acknowledge them," said the Kendrick legislator. "All this public interest and support from back home helped defeat the bill," he added.

Touching briefly on other bills, Rep. Brocke said help will probably be forthcoming for State Hospital North with additional funding of $200,000.

The new Farm Labor Bill is out of Committee now and will start through the Senate. The tax situation for this session looks like a lot of "patch and scratch" measures, Brocke said. There will probably be a small income tax increase and the 1 1/2 cent increase on gasoline has passed the House and it appears likely to remain.

HB 450, concerning occupation and safety passed the house and was defeated in the Senate by a 13-22 vote. Brocke said that unless something new develops, adjournment should come this week.

SPRING
by Theresta Monroe
In the Spring I like to hear the birds
sing,
I like to see the dogs run in a ring,
I like to hear the children laugh,
In my spare time, to sit and write a paragraph.

I like to see the flowers bloom,
I like to see the birds go zoom,
But one thing seems to me a dud,
Did God also make that mud?

BIRD HUNTING QUIZZES GO TO NIMROD SAMPLE

A random sampling of about 13,000 license bird hunters for 1971 seasons both resident and nonresident, have been mailed questionnaires, the Idaho Fish and Game Department reported today.

This means that questionnaires were mailed to about five percent resident and ten percent nonresident hunters in the random sample. The purpose is to collect important information to be used in the management of migratory waterfowl, upland game birds and small game animals such as rabbits.

Dick Norell, game bird supervisor, says that individual action by all persons who received the questionnaire is important. "We know of no other practical method by which statewide game information can be obtained." He urged recipients to take an active part in the management of game resources by filling out and mailing the questionnaire promptly.

OUTDOOR WAY OF LIFE REQUIRES PROTECTION

By Jim Humbird
Idaho Fish and Game Dept.
It takes a department store of outdoor recreation areas to satisfy the one day, weekend and vacation needs of Idahoans and nonresident visitors. The matching of the supply of areas with the large, varied demand is enormous and complicated. The main problem is to acquire and develop public access areas to open space that are reasonably accessible to urban populations, for their enjoyment and benefit.

Proper care of the outdoor heritage is inseparable from the central concern of most Idahoans—to make available that quantity and quality of land and water they want and need for recreation, which includes an array of activities vital to their way of life.

OUR COMPETITION RECOMMENDS BRONATE®

Our competitors think so highly of Bronate as a broad-leaf weed killer in wheat and other grain crops that they want you to tank mix their products with Bronate.

While we appreciate the compliment, we don't necessarily go along with the recommendation.

Because while the addition of less effective herbicides to Bronate may help the other herbicides, it doesn't help Bronate. Matter of fact, it can hurt Bronate.

Unlike many other herbicides, Bronate kills your weeds without damaging your wheat. And tank-mixing reduces Bronate's high degree of selectivity.

Also, unlike other herbicides, Bronate isn't restricted to any particular soil type or condition. And tank-mixing limits Bronate's wide range of application.

Use Bronate alone if your weed problems include Tarweed, Gromwell, Henbit, Dogfennell, Crowfoot, Purple Mustard, and the rest of the Mustard family. Or any of the 23 other kinds of weeds listed on the Bronate label.

Our experience has shown that Bronate used alone has increased productivity for Northwest wheat farmers by as much as 20 bushels per acre.

Is it any wonder our competitors recommend Bronate?

For more information on how Bronate can help you, see your supplier or write Mr. R. P. Rich, Rhodia/Chipman Division, 120 Jersey Avenue, New Brunswick, N.J. 08903.

BRONATE® DOESN'T NEED ANY HELP.

News Items From Genesee Schools

This Friday ends the third nine weeks for the school year 1971-72. Parent-Teachers conferences are scheduled for Thursday, March 23 for grades 1-6. There will be no school for grades 1-6 that day, grades 7-12 will have school. Spring vacation will start March 27 and last until April 3rd.

At its regular board meeting March 13, 1972, the Genesee school board accepted the resignation from the following teachers, Wayne Borgen, vocational ag teacher, who resigned to enter private business in the agricultural field. Mrs. Davis, English teacher, who is leaving the area, and Miss Woodhouse Home Ec teacher, who is also leaving the area.

The high school curriculum was discussed for the coming year and the seven semester rules were also discussed. No ruling was made on the seven semester rule until more information can be obtained as to what some of the other schools in the area are doing. Legislative educational bills were discussed by the board and during the meeting Representative Brocke called and said the re-organization bill went down to defeat in the House again 32-27.

A tentative look at the budget was taken by the board and it seems as things now stand the district will have to ask for the 3 mills above the 30 again next year. This is no increase over the previous two years. A final budget and decision will be made as soon as we know what the state figure for ADA will be.

The parent council for Title I was discussed and Supt. Diehl said that the council would be appointed by the next board meeting. This council has to be in operation by July 1st if the district is to receive any Title I funds for the coming year. The February bills were paid and being no further business the board adjourned.

Their squeals of joy could be heard as they toured the Horror House threw darts at balloons, won cakes from the Cake Walk, participated in the Bean Bag Throw and received free (candy) kisses. Non-Resident Hunting License Sales Brisk Nonresident big game hunters who are planning to take elk, deer and bear in Idaho general hunts this fall, or moose, antelope, bighorn sheep and mountain goat in controlled hunts, are rounded today by the Idaho Fish and Game Department that license sales are proceeding about like last year.

Nonresident licenses were placed on sale Christmas week, 1971, and 2,000 combination hunting-fishing licenses have been sold at $135 in the past three months. A quota of 9,552 of these nonresident fish and game licenses are available this year (the same as the 1971 quota) and approximately 7,500 remain unsold, according to A. Kay Belnap, chief of Business Administration.

Of the $75 nonresident deer only licenses, approximately 175 have been sold from a quota of 3,821, leaving a total of about 3,650 available at this time. This license entitles the purchaser to hunt in any general deer unit that is open in the state.

Nonresident hunters may obtain Idaho licenses by mailing their requests to the headquarters office of the Idaho Fish and Game Department (600 South Walnut Street, Boise, Idaho, 83707) with a certified check or money order for the exact amount of the license class desired—$135 for the nonresident fish and game license, or $75 for the nonresident deer license only. The license request should obtain a physical description of the applicant—age, height, weight, sex, etc. These licenses are also available at vendors statewide.

MARCH

I love you MAD-GLAD MARCH, you do not mock at woe; But with a tender sympathizing touch you bring; A loveliness akin to melting snow; To bless me and to teach my heart to sing.

I could not bear the sunlight's laughing glee; My grief's too new; God sent you MAD-GLAD MARCH to comfort me; Because HE knew. —Bert Gamble

Wintering Big Game

In another couple of weeks, most big game animals should have it made for another year, but that statement is far from the mark at this time. Severe wintering conditions for both elk and deer are found on some critical ranges. These include some parts of the Boise and Payette river drainages, Swan Valley, Ashton, Victor, Soda Springs, and Caribou and Bear Lake counties particularly Red Mountain near Montpelier.

Park News

Road Slides!

The focus of attention for Park area residents has been if—and how—to get to town, if necessary, Monday night, Feb. 28, about 80 feet of a large fill in the Park road slid out. A large pond had developed in the draw above the fill when the old wooden culvert plugged, years ago. With much snow this winter, followed by warm temperatures and rain, the weight of the water proved too much for the fill, which had stood since 1936. A snow pack a bout 3 1/2-foot deep in the draw behind the slide made going around the slide very difficult. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Funke, who were on the North side and had to walk around to get home, spent about an hour on the comparatively short walk, to be met on the South side by their sons, with another vehicle to get home in.

School students enjoyed a one-day enforced vacation while road crews worked to get new steel culverts in place and a walkable crossing. By Wednesday the youngsters could walk across, so bussing was accomplished with two vehicles, one on each end. The bus driver carried the mail, so communication wasn't completely cut. A two-way radio at Smith's also helped.

A one-lane roadway—of sorts—was achieved by Thursday, but no loaded trucks are allowed across the fill. It will be some time before traffic will be back to normal. Entertaining the flu seems to be the "in" thing this month. On the sick list were Charles Stratton, Chas. Jelleberg, Jody Smith, Barbara Smith and Carlen Funke. All are either well or on their way to it.

Latah County Employment

Thirteen Latah County workers were assisted in finding jobs through the Moscow office of the Idaho Department of Employment during the past week. Frank J. Hartstein, Moscow office manager said that this figure compares with 10 workers given job finding help during the previous week, and is the same as the number finding work through his office during the same week a year ago. Twenty-one new jobs were listed with the office during the week, and at the end of the week there were twenty-five vacancies listed. Among the workers currently needed in Moscow are for tractor operators for spring work, an auto mechanic, cafe workers and domestic workers. Hartstein's report indicated that the number of persons continuing to claim unemployment insurance benefits remained relatively stable. He said that throughout the county there were a total of 428 jobless pay recipients compared with 438 a week ago. A year ago the total was only 359. Twenty-four persons filed new claims during the week, a decline from the 43 who became unemployed during the previous week. The increase from last year is equally dispersed throughout the entire county, as the immediate Moscow area shows a total of 216 claimants as compared to 179 last year. At Potlatch the total is now 71, last year it was 58. In the Troy-Deary-Bovill area there are now 112 persons seeking benefits compared with 90 last year. At Genesee there are 13 persons seeking jobless pay, the same as a year ago; at Kendrick 12; compared with 11, and at Elk River 4, compared with 8 last year. Hartstein predicted that the number of persons filing claims would remain steady until the annual "spring-break-up" when many of the area's loggers would be idled as a result of impossible working conditions in the woods. Construction workers, however, have been returning to work during the past few weeks.

WHY NOT DO AWAY WITH EARNINGS LIMITATIONS

by John Jennings
Field Representative

"I've worked and paid into the Social Security program for 30 years. I'm 62 and entitled to benefits—I should get them whether I'm working or not." I hear this kind of comment almost daily. The limitation of earnings impose upon people receiving benefits is a part of the program which comes under critics attack constantly—and understandably. Many retirement plans—federal and state civil service union pensions and private insurance retirement policies—are treated as annuities, payable at retirement from a particular field of work without regard to earnings received from other part-time or full-time work. A federal civil service worker can for example, retire from work with the government, go to work full-time elsewhere and still receive his civil service annuity.

From a purely administrative point of view, the elimination of earnings limitation would be welcomed by the Social Security Administration. We spend a great deal of time explaining and controlling this part of the program. Annual reports of earnings must be filed and processed. Checks have to be stopped and started. Overpayments are created and must be investigated. Worst of all, a large percentage of Social Security fraud cases arise out of violations of the earnings restrictions.

So why not do away with the restrictions? Well, let's consider it. The first question that comes to mind is—what will it cost? Proposed legislation now in Congress calls for raising the limitation from $1,680 to $2,000 per year. Allowing retired workers to earn just $20 more each year is expected to cost the program $500 million per year. Removing the restriction completely would cost an estimated $3 billion per year—an amount approximating 10 percent of all benefits now being paid.

What we must decide—those of us who are retired—is how our investment in the program is best spent. Are we willing to spend $3 billion yearly with no increase in existing benefits? If enough of us are, we can be certain that Congress will change the law.

Driver licenses expire on birthdays every three years, reminds the Idaho Department of Law Enforcement. Checked your's lately?

St. Patrick's Day

Hark to the lilting Irish Songs so gay,
And the green costumes of St. Patrick's Day;
The lively jigs and reels with twinkling toes,
And sweet ballads like "My Wild Irish Rose".

Don't forget the Blarney Stone's special gift,
And shamrocks bright to give your heart a lift.
There's magic in a broad Killarney smile—
This is the season—Be Irish awhile!

WHEN MARCH WINDS BLOW

When March winds blow they guide me
To boyhood's fair domain;
Through clouds that fail to hide me
From bluebird days again.

And like a fairy story
I fly my kites once more;
Down wind-swept hills of glory
Gone on so long before.

Memories that nought can sever
Stand out in afterglow;
And kites fly on forever
In dreams WHEN MARCH WINDS BLOW.
