

Joe Kalafus To Retire As Genesee School Maintenance Man After 33 Years

Genesee—Joe Kalafus, an institution within an institution, ends a thirty-three year career as head maintenance man at the Genesee public school May 31. A friend of student, teacher and patron of the district, Joe has become as much a part of the school as the walls themselves and he is respected by all who have come into contact with him.

Joe started his association with the Genesee schools in 1939 as an assistant to the late Joe Tupker. At that time Kenneth Dan, now deceased, was superintendent. Other superintendents during Kalafus' career included Kenneth Primus, Warren Downing, Paul Dempsey, Jordan Kantkeberg and Lester Diehl. Joe estimates that about nine hundred students have graduated from the high school during this time; many being the parents as well as their children with some third generations now attending school.

Joe has that "special way" with children and despite his busy schedule he always found time to stop his work to help some child with his trouble; mend a broken play thing or just offer a word of sympathy, encouragement or understanding. And, to today's young student, or their parent, he is thought of as "Joe, my friend."

He has received much praise and credit for the excellent care and cleanliness of the building and grounds by the local patrons of the school and the state inspectors who have consistently rated Genesee school as one of the best-kept in the state. Joe is also proud of his record of only having one sick leave during the entire thirty-three years.

When asked what he planned to do after his retirement he stated he wanted to spend much more time with his wife Verna, do more fishing and hunting (his second love) and from there his plans are indefinite.

The community joins in wishing this good and faithful friend much health, happiness and good fortune. For many years he has cared for others, now it is time for him to find content and pleasure for himself and all hope he finds this pleasure and contentment in great abundance.

IFYE Speaker Talks To Grange

Kendrick Grange No. 413 met April 18, at the Fraternal Temple with a 6:30 potluck supper served by Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Heimgartner, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Heimgartner and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Ingle.

The meeting opened at 8 with a speaker who is an International Farm Youth Exchange Student, Frede Peterson of Denmark. This young man is nineteen years of age and is living with a family in Clarkston and attending Clarkston High School as a senior.

He told the group many interesting facts about his home country and of his stay in America.

He stated his father owns and runs a men's clothing store with the help of his sons in Denmark. Denmark is a small country but highly industrialized. His talk was most informative and interesting and was thoroughly enjoyed by all. He is very well informed regarding his country and made many interesting comparisons between our country and his native land. The Grange presented him a bolo tie of which the stone was a Montana agate, as a souvenir of the northwestern United States.

He was accompanied by Jim Florie and Don Mathison from the Lewiston-Clarkston valley.

Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Paris of Cullasac, who are State Grange officers. Mrs. Paris is State Flora and Wayne Paris is the State Treasurer. He is also Master of Nezperce County Pomona Grange. While here, he issued an invitation to Kendrick Grange members to visit Nezperce County Pomona Grange at Lapwai Grange Hall on the evening of June tenth.

A fire drill was held as part of the program. It was learned where many of our problems lie to accomplish this safety measure successfully. Discussion was held and there will be more practice sessions.

The next meeting will be held May 2 at 8 p.m. at the Fraternal Temple. Werner Brammer will speak on tax structure.

Former Kendrick Area Resident Dies In Calif.

Mrs. Jack (Lizzie) Maynard, 63, died of a heart attack Wednesday, April 19, 1972 at Hartland Hospital at El Cajon, California.

She was born April 24, 1908, at New Plymouth, Idaho, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Jones. The family moved to Big Bear Ridge when she was a child and she attended schools there.

Some Spring Farm Work Being Done

In between rain, sleet, snow and wind storm some farmers have found a few fields dry enough to get fertilizer rigs into and spring work has finally gotten off to a slow, shakely start across the region.

Temperatures have varied from into the balmy sixties and then down to the freezing level, as this will surely go into the records books as one of the most unusual winter and springs in history. Eddie Deobald pointed out this week that the first snow of the season fell in mid-October and the area is still having scattered snow squalls—all of which means that snow has fallen in various degrees for six months now!

Rain has been prevalent for the past two months. Dick Benscoter recorded 3.72 inches of rain during the month of March up on American Ridge and Chas. Bowers, over on Big Bear Ridge, reported a March rain fall of 3.65 inches.

A few farmers have been able to get some peas into the ground but most are still worrying and waiting for the fields to dry more.

Mistress of ceremonies was Louise Meyer. Senior response was given by Sandra Soudrs followed by addresses from Superintendent Don Blakeley and Chairman of the Board Luther Parks.

Deb Dammarell, Nori Fry, Denise Brammer and Kim Trout read the senior prophecy and will. Special vocal selections were performed by soloists Lisa Lyons and Cindi Fry.

Mrs. George Haynes, a former English instructor at KHS, was the featured speaker at the banquet. Approximately 130 junior and senior students, teachers and their spouses, and trustees and their wives enjoyed the program and ham dinner prepared by mothers of junior class members under the direction of Mrs. Rudy Meyer.

Area Gems To Be Displayed In Smithsonian Institute

The Flintstone Rock Club is helping the American Federation of Mineralogical Societies celebrate its 25th year.

The AFMS was started in 1947 by two men and has grown into six regional Federations and some 60,000 dues paying members. The Flintstone Rock Club members, belong to the Northwest Federation.

The Silver Anniversary celebration of the AFMS will be emphasizing on history and accomplishments, the growth of the mineral, fossil and gem cutting hobby during the last half century and achievements of the individuals and education of members and public in the earth sciences.

The AFMS asked all clubs and members to send to them cabochons made from any gem material from their area. Then the gem will be used as decoration on a cake which will be on display in the Smithsonian Hall of Gems in Washington, D.C. May 5th through 7th. The cake will be 5 feet tall and weighing 250 lbs. Cabochons are being sent in from all over the United States by hundreds of individuals and clubs. After the cake is gone and the frosting is washed from all of the gems. The cabochons will be on permanent display with the name of the club or individual and location of where the material was found, in the Hall of Gems in the Smithsonian Museum.

The Flintstone Rock Club sent in 10 gem cabochons from this area. They were all sent in in the club's name. They were:

2—green siltanite, Clearwater River; 1—gray petrified wood, Juliaetta; 1—honey opal, Juliaetta; 1—green opalite, Lower Granite Dam; 1—yellow opal, Juliaetta; 1—yellow petrified agate, Juliaetta; 1—white opal, St. Maries; 1—black fryite, Snake River; 1—black, yellow and white siltanite—Floodwood.

This is a great event for all rock hounds.

The Northwest Federation is now in second place for sending in the most gem cabochons.

First Camper Outing Was Well Attended

The K. C. K. are a hardy bunch of people. They will brave all kinds of weather to enjoy a weekend together. There were ten campers journeying to Little Boulder Creek Campground over the weekend. Most of them going Friday night and staying until Sunday.

There were nine members and two guests who visited the group sometime over the weekend—making a total of 34 being out.

While on this "first of the year" campout the group celebrated the birthday anniversary of Elmo Eldridge.

In spite of all the bad weather going in on Friday, Saturday turned out to be a rather nice day but on the cool side. Sunday was nice and clear and warmer. All enjoyed the pot luck dinner and barbecue chicken and hamburgers outdoors before returning home.

The group saw many deer and elk. Time was spent visiting, playing cards and sitting around the campfire.

The K. C. K. met again Monday evening for their monthly business session and potluck supper. Forty-three members and three guests were present. The campouts for the coming month were set and other business taken care of.

The evening was then turned over to the entertainment committee to present the "talents" of some of the members.

The talent we have in our group is really surprising—especially when it is put together by experts like the entertainment committee in the K. C. K. The program consisted of:

Reading, "Kendrick, My Home Town", by Nell Crocker.

Vocal solo, "Suddenly there's a Valley", by Roy Ramey.

Accordion solo, "The Nall Scared Hand", Lorraine Gustafson with vocal by Ida Clemenhagen.

Brocke Declines To Seek Office

Rep. George F. Brocke Jr., revealed late last week that he will not be a candidate for re-election from District 5 in the November election.

He was appointed to the legislature to succeed his father, George F. Brocke, who died November 5. He accepted the appointment with the stipulation that he would serve out the unexpired term of his father, which ended this year, reserving until later his decision to seek re-election.

In making the announcement not to run for office, Brocke said Monday morning that the length of time he was away from the family business, plus the demands of the many meetings between sessions forced him to reluctantly decline. "You could spend almost a half year either in the legislature or attending the meetings," he said.

Brocke is general manager of George F. Brocke and Sons, Inc., a seed and fertilizer firm.

Although the pressures of his business claimed first priority on his time at present, Brocke said he hoped that some day he might be able to return to the legislature.

283 Trustees Hold Special Session

Trustees of Jt. School District 283 at Kendrick met in a special meeting Monday night, April 24, to consider non-contractual applications for 1972-73 and to discuss teacher salary negotiations.

Marion Souders of Southwick was offered a contract as bus driver for the Southwick-Cameron route and to serve as District Mechanic for 1972-73.

Marilyn Benjamin was employed as District Secretary and will start learning the job duties in the Kendrick offices as of May 1st. She replaces Allie Krenmin, who has been District Secretary for the past 15 years and is retiring on June 30. Presently Mrs. Benjamin is employed by the Magnuson Insurance Agency. She was selected by the Trustees from a large number of well-qualified candidates.

Art Boe, present Science Instructor at the High School, submitted a resignation effective May 27, which the Board accepted. Mr. Boe was elected for 1972-73 and offered a contract, but declined stating he had other plans.

David Jones represented the teachers requests relative to the salary and fringe benefits for 1972-73. He stated the teachers voted to accept a $6200 base on the B.A.-B.S. level and $10.00 per month for each teacher to cover medical and health insurance. The Board accepted this proposal and were high in their praise of the teachers and results being achieved by District students during the present year.

Bids are being accepted on a 1961-36 Dodge passenger school bus, now operating on the Gold Hill-Cedar Creek route and will be opened at the next regular meeting May 13 at 8:00 p.m.

Supt. Don Blakeley informed the Trustees that two petitions had been received for the Trustee election on May 23, namely Charles Taylor from Zone 1 and Richard Benjamin from Zone 2. Mr. Benjamin is the incumbent from Zone 2. Taylor is running from Zone 1. This position has been held by Floyd Heimgartner the past 3 years, but he does not wish to run again.

Open House At Elementary School Is Wednesday, May 3

There will be an Open House at the Juliaetta Elementary School on May 3, from 7-9 p.m. Among the activities planned for the evening is a play entitled, "The Prince and the Pauper," given by the sixth grade. The play will begin at 7 p.m. and be presented in the gym.

There will also be a student art exhibit in the hall. Parents are encouraged to visit the various rooms and meet with the teachers.

Parents who have children in the Supplemental Program are asked to meet in the library following the play so they may choose delegates to the Advisory Committee for the Supplemental Program.

FFA Preview Sunday

The Kendrick FFA chapter will hold their chapter livestock preview this Sunday at 1:00 p.m. on the football field. There will be one class of beef and several classes of lambs. All animals will be judged for showing and fitting rather than quality by John Davis of Joel who will be the official judge. Most of the animals shown will be entered in the Spokane Junior Livestock Show May 7-11. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Senior Supper Sunday

The annual senior supper honoring all graduating seniors of Kendrick High School will be held at 6:30 Sunday evening at the Kendrick United Methodist Church. Rev. Ron Ozler will serve as master of ceremonies. The Women's Society of the Church is hosting the dinner.

Seventeen Given Job Finding Help In Latah County

Seventeen area residents were given job finding help through the Moscow Office of the Idaho Department of Employment during the past week, Frank J. Hartstein, Moscow Office Manager, said that this considerably more than the 7 persons who were assisted in finding work during the previous week. During the corresponding week last year 19 persons were placed on jobs through the Moscow Office. Hartstein said that there were currently 24 jobs still open, an increase from last week's 17, and above last year's 20 vacancies. Jobs are available for a cook, secretaries, domestic workers, farm tractor operators, a carpenter and a variety of other skilled workers. Hartstein's report showed that a total of 41 persons were seeking jobs; pay through his office at the present time. This is an increase of 31 over the 410 persons who were listed as unemployed at the end of the previous week, and is 78 above the 363 figures reported for the same time a year ago. A total of 61 persons filed new claims for unemployment insurance during the week. Of that number 32 filed claims under the recently adopted Temporary Extended program that became effective April 9, 1972. Hartstein said that under this program workers who have been unemployed on a long term basis, and who have drawn all regular unemployment benefits may qualify for benefits for an additional period of time. Workers receiving benefits under this program must meet all eligibility requirements of the regular benefit program. The extension is equal to one half of their regular benefits, and will terminate no later than September 30, 1972. No claimant can receive more than 13 weeks additional benefits under this extended program according to Hartstein. In the immediate Moscow area there are now 161 persons seeking unemployment insurance a week ago there were 147 and a year ago 132. In the Troy-Deary-Bovill area the total is now 153, last week 149, and last year 138. In the Potlatch area the current figure is 95, last week 85 and a year ago 67. At Genesee 16 persons are filing claims, compared with 14 last week, and 4 during the same week last year.

Comforts of New Knits Outweigh Their Disadvantages

Knit garments are popular for men's and women's wear because of their comfort. Tailored garments are now fashionable in knit as well as woven fabrics. The easy give and quick recovery of knit fabric plus the ability to resist wrinkles, is fast becoming part of today's style in dress, reports Janice Buckner, University of Idaho extension clothing specialist. New knits are designed and sold with the softer look and less tailored construction. There are also some disadvantages of knit wear. One is that winds penetrate the porous fibers and make them cool in winter. To make slacks or pants warmer, look for a fiber content of wool and polyester combined to prevent the "chill" factor. A blend of polyester and wool combines the stability of polyester and the resilience of wool, Mrs. Buckner said. Another disadvantage of knit wear is that it snags easily because of its loop construction. To correct a snag, thread a needle and pull it through at the snag. The snag will pull thru with the thread on the reverse side. Another method is to thread the snag through the eye of a needle and pull to the inside of the fabric. It may be singed off or worked into the fabric. Do not clip it off. Already knit fabrics will snag on rough surfaces, Mrs. Buckner says. Comfort and easy care make knits popular for tailored and casual wear. Years of love have been forgot In the hatred of a minute.—Edgar A. At Kendrick, the current figure is 8, the same as for last year, a week ago there were 7 persons seeking benefits. Only 8 checks are going into the Elk River area through the Moscow Office, the same as for a week ago, but less than the 14 who were seeking jobless pay at this time in 1971. Hartstein pointed out, however, that many Elk River residents filed claims through the Orofino office, since that is the county seat for Clearwater County. Difficult working conditions in the area's forests are still the major factors in the continuing higher than usual unemployment in the county at this time.

Salmon Smolts Released In River

Spring chinook smolts were released on the Lochsa and Clearwater Rivers as part of the restoration of salmon to the Clearwater River system. There were 116,875 smolts 3 to 6 inches long released on the Lochsa River from the Rapid River and Sandpoint hatcheries. Also, 96,000 smolts were turned out of the National Fish Hatchery at Kooskia into the Clearwater River. These fish are over one year old and will start their journey to the ocean this spring in high water.

The salmon runs into the Clearwater system were virtually all lost when the Washington Water Power dam was constructed at Lewiston on the Clearwater River years ago. Since 1980 programs are underway to re-establish the chinook salmon runs up the Clearwater again. Part of the program called for planting eyed eggs in the tributary stream and in artificial hatching channels. The salmon would hatch in these streams, rear for approximately one year and go to the ocean and then return to the same river system to spawn.

Releases such as the ones from the Clear Creek Hatchery at Kooskia were directly into the river from the hatchery. Again, it is planned that the adult salmon would return to the Clearwater River when mature. This attempt to raise spring chinook salmon to smolts in a hatchery and then truck them to release site in a different river system is a new innovation to the re-introduction of salmon to the Clearwater, however, it has been successfully used elsewhere. The 116,875 smolts trucked to the release site near Boulder Creek Bridge on the Lochsa in an attempt to get these fish can also return to their release river to spawn and not to the hatchery reared them.

In addition to the smolt that were released, there will be smaller fingerling salmon put in the Lochsa River and South Fork of the Clearwater River in the coming weeks. These will be this year's fry, which will remain in the river one year and migrate out next spring during spring runoff as smolts.

These spring chinook salmon releases should not be confused with the young steelhead being released into the Clearwater from the Dworshak National Fish Hatchery at Ashka.

Thymus Transplant New Medical Care

Transplanting a thymus sounds like a gardening delight. Actually, it's an intriguing new medical procedure that can save lives.

The thymus—a gland in the lower neck and upper chest—helps fight off infections from viruses, fungi, and a few bacteria like the TB germ. The gland apparently instructs the bone marrow to prepare bodily defenses and ward off the microscopic invaders. Someone with a deficient thymus has no such defenses and can be susceptible to fatal infections. Even vaccinations can be extremely dangerous for such people.

The third and fourth successful thymus transplantations in medical history were recently performed by Dr. Richard Hong of the University of Wisconsin, who research was supported by the National Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association as well as by federal agencies. The technique itself, quite different from other transplant procedures, is fascinating.

The technique involves injecting into the patient's thigh the thymus tissue from a 12 to 20-week-old fetus. This is done under local anesthetic, and the process may be repeated several times. If the body rejects the injected thymus fragments, it usually does so only after they have sent their instructions to the bone marrow cells. The instructions may last as long as ten years. Then another transplant can be made.

According to Dr. Hong, the thymus is sometimes slowly worn away in many chronic diseases. Thymus transplantations may help build up the body's defenses and thus prevent or treat many kinds of illness.

"The role of thymic therapy," says Dr. Hong, "is just beginning to be explored." He predicted an "exciting" future for the technique. It's a future that bears watching.

The Case of the Disappearing TB Van

Remember the TB "bus" on the corner with lines of people waiting to be X-rayed. The scene is disappearing. For years, the mobile X-ray unit was a standard way of finding out who had TB. But the times—and the problem of TB—are changing.

The numbers of people with active TB and those with tuberculous infections have declined over the last decades. Taking drugs can prevent infections from developing into active disease. And even when active disease does develop, drugs can make the patient non-contagious within a short time.

However, there are still people who have active TB and do not know it. And when they have live TB germs in their sputum, they can spread the disease by just coughing and sneezing, as evidenced by the recent outbreak of TB in the Lewiston area.

But back to the disappearing TB van. The fact is that mobile X-ray units surveying general populations find too few cases. Over 95 percent of people with new or reactivated TB are found by other means than mass TB screening in the community-at-large. Even in the inner city and ghettos, where the incidence of TB is higher. Today most active TB is discovered because the person has symptoms and seeks medical advice, or through skin testing. Some common symptoms of TB are coughing a lot, feeling tired all the time, spitting blood, and losing weight. And one or all of the symptoms can mean TB. A tuberculin skin test will indicate the presence of the TB germ in the body and on X-ray, the presence of active disease.

 Kathy Moden gave the class an interesting report on her trip to Boise for the State Litter Prevention Contest. She went on a tour of many interesting places and met Gov. Andrus. This is her poem she recited at the meeting of the Idaho Beautification Council:

Idaho Is Too Great To Litter
 By Kathy Moden
 Where once was grass
 There's broken glass.
 There were trees
 Now trash.
 Water serene
 Now muddy and unclear.
 The sky was blue
 But pollution got it too.
 Who can stop this ugliness?
 You!

But how?
 All we need is someone who cares,
 Who dares
 To fight the ugly view
 Of pollution.
 Don't say "What can I do?"
 Do it!

the muscles. By cutting the fillet crosswise into strips three-eighths to one-half inch, these bones are reduced to the width of the strip. Cooking tends to break down these soft bones even more and generally the bones are not even noticeable during eating. Eat them—feed them to the family cat—bury them—or at least discard them far enough away from popular areas so that they cannot be seen, stepped on or smelled.

Discarded Fish Pollute
Instead of killing suckers, carp and other nongame fish species by throwing them out on the bank to eventually rot and pollute the air and water—why not take the fish home and eat them.
One of the principal complaints against carp and suckers is the fact that the muscle tissue is filled with intermuscular free-flowing bones. These small bones lie lengthwise in

Belated Spring

I love to sing of March and bluebirds mating
Of daffodils that bloom, and nod, and sway;
Of willow catkins sweet, and buds of promise;
Of wild chinooks that take the snow away.

But when the winter snows hang on forever
I get the JEEPERS-CREEPERS when I sing;
And so dear heart, I have no song to give you;
When winter lingers in the lap of Spring.

RECOMMENDS BRONATE®

Our competitors think so highly of Bronate as a broad-leaf weed killer in wheat and other grain crops that they want you to tank mix their products with Bronate.

While we appreciate the compliment, we don't necessarily go along with the recommendation.

Because while the addition of less effective herbicides to Bronate may help the other herbicides, it doesn't help Bronate. Matter of fact, it can hurt Bronate.

Unlike many other herbicides, Bronate kills your weeds without damaging your wheat. And tank-mixing reduces Bronate's high degree of selectivity.

Also, unlike other herbicides, Bronate isn't restricted to any particular soil type or condition. And tank-mixing limits Bronate's wide range of application.

Use Bronate alone if your weed problems include Tarweed, Gromwell, Henbit, Dogfennell, Crowfoot, Purple Mustard, and the rest of the Mustard family. Or any of the 23 other kinds of weeds listed on the Bronate label.

Our experience has shown that Bronate used alone has increased productivity for Northwest wheat farmers by as much as 20 bushels per acre.

Is it any wonder our competitors recommend Bronate?

For more information on how Bronate can help you, see your supplier or write Mr. R. P. Rich, Rhodia/Chipman Division, 120 Jersey Avenue, New Brunswick, N.J. 08903.

BRONATE® DOESN'T NEED ANY HELP.

Roasting Bags Pose Problems

Recent reports indicate that some people have difficulties when roasting meat in the new roasting bags. Problems such as exploding bags fires or steam burns can be avoided, says Esther Wilson, University of Idaho extension nutrition specialist. She makes the following suggestions:

Test oven for accuracy. Use a reliable oven thermometer. It is common for ovens to be off 25d-50d, usually on the high side. Be sure to allow for the difference when setting the temperature control. Remember that this method calls for higher temperatures for roasting than is usually recommended in standard recipes.

Read and follow directions of temperature and time accurately.

Use a large enough pan. The bag should not lap over the edges. It should be deep enough to hold all liquids that are released during cooking—at least 1½" to 2" deep. Aluminum or stainless steel pans are best.

When roasting meat, add 1 tbs. of flour to the bag. Shake well to coat the inside of the bag before adding the meat.

Trim excess fat off the meat. Be sure to puncture the bag, as directed. This prevents a pressure build-up and possible explosion. Place in oven so bag does not touch the sides or any part of the oven. Do not use under broiler or on outdoor grill.

When done let stand a few minutes to allow steam to subside. Take care in opening bag just as you do when taking a lid off a steaming kettle.

SPRING FISHING OPENS

The fishing season for some streams, lakes and reservoirs in the Clearwater region will open for fishing on April 29 this year and will remain open until November 30, 1972. This is one month earlier than the general fishing season which opens May 27, 1972.

Most of these areas offer good fishing during early spring and have populations of fish that should be harvested at this time, but are not suitable for year-around fishing. These areas are listed in the 1972 fishing regulations available to all license vendors and at the Lewiston Regional Fish and Game Office. Anglers should always check the regulations before going fishing.

Those areas that open on April 29 are: Bedrock Creek, tributary to the Clearwater River; Big Canyon Creek and tributaries, tributary to Clearwater River; Blue Lake, Nez Perce Co.; Butcher Creek and tributaries, tributary to South Fork of Clearwater River; Campbells Pond, Clearwater County; Cottonwood Creek and tributaries, tributary to South Fork Clearwater River; Elk Creek Reservoir, Clearwater County; Five-Mile Creek and tributaries, tributary to Clearwater River; Hatwai Creek, tributary to Clearwater River; Jacks Creek and tributaries, tributary to Clearwater River; Lapwai Creek and tributaries, tributary to Clearwater River; EX-OEPT Soldier Meadow Reservoir and tributaries; Lawyers Creek and tributaries, tributary to Clearwater River; Maggie Creek and tributaries, tributary to Middle Fork Clearwater River; Manns Lake, NezPerce County; Moose Creek Reservoir, Latah County; Palouse River and tributaries, Pine Creek and tributaries, tributary to Clearwater River; Potlatch Creek and tributaries; Six-Mile Creek and tributaries, tributary to the Clearwater River; Spring Valley Reservoir, Latah County; Three-Mile Creek and tributaries, tributary to South Fork Clearwater River, Waha Lake, NezPerce County; Winchester Lake, Lewis County.

There has been a change in the bag and possession limit of trout this year. It has been lowered from 15 to 10 trout. Grayling have also been added to any included in the trout limit and the daily bag limit as now. Trout and Grayling not more than 7 pounds and one fish but not to exceed 10 fish in one day or kept in possession.

Kokanee and coho salmon are listed in a bag limit of their own now and an angler can catch 25 a day of either kokanee or coho or in the aggregate of both. This limit is separate from the trout limit and a fisherman could take 10 trout and 25 kokanee or coho in the same day.

Bag limits on other species of fish in the area are more liberal. Fifty whitefish can be taken in a day, with no possession limit. Bass, catfish, crappie, perch and sunfish have no bag or possession limit and you can take as many fish of these species a day as you wish.

Several non-game species, such as carp sucker, squawfish, chubs, and minnows can be taken without regard to the number also. However all anglers are reminded that they must purchase and have in possession their fishing license before fishing for any species.

Streams will probably be high and muddy for the April 29 opening, unless there is a change in weather conditions before that time.

Minnows Must Be Dead

Bait fishermen regard anything that flies, creeps, crawls or hops as bait. Worms head the list early in the season. The reason is that worms can be found naturally in the water because spring runoff floods many places and washes these creatures into the main stream firm, shiny, and lively. Salmon eggs come in either singles or clusters in several colors such as white, pink, red or fluorescent red and their consistency varies from soft to hard. Fishing conditions and other factors should control when to use them.

Minnows also are popular, but Idaho law requires that minnows must be dead before they can be used as bait.

Goose Banding

A cooperative migratory waterfowl banding program will start in June when mature geese and goslings cannot fly. This is a cooperative program involving U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and Idaho Fish and Game Department personnel. Banding work is done in the same areas every 3rd year. The work this summer will concentrate on the South Fork of the Snake River and a number of reservoirs, including possibly Magic or Mormon, Crane Falls and even Cascade, as well as small reservoirs in southern Owyhee county. In addition a projected federal-state banding program on American Falls Reservoir is scheduled for late winter of 1972-73 when some 1,000 Canada geese will be marked if the plan succeeds.
