

KHS Homecoming A Success; Tigers Top Pirates In Overtime Football Session

The excitement and thrills of homecoming weekend came to a frantic climax Friday night on the football field as the Kendrick Tigers defeated the Prairie Pirates of Cottonwood 14-8 in a overtime football game to bring their season record to 6 wins and just two losses.

The Homecoming activities had begun the previous Thursday night as the traditional serpentine rolled its way from Kendrick to Juliaetta and back again amid the cheers of students, fans and the music of the KHS Pep Band.

Mr. and Miss "Irresistible" Thursday night while the serpentine was stopped in Kendrick, Sophomore Janis Whittinger and Jeff Czowski were named, "Mr. and Miss Irresistible". They were given prizes by the Varsity Cheerleaders, who sponsored the event.

At the Bon Fire the same evening the four finalists for the Homecoming Queen contest were announced. From a group of 16 lovely young girls, the field was narrowed down to Jan Deobald, Senior; Delta Heath, Junior; Kathleen Parker, Sophomore and Terri Brooks, Freshman.

Friday at the school the cheerleaders gave all the football players orange cupcakes, in honor of the school colors.

Jan Deobald Homecoming Queen
Pretty, brown haired Jan Deobald, a senior from Kendrick High and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Deobald was named "Homecoming Queen" at halftime ceremonies Friday night. Miss Deobald was crowned by Stephen Holt, a co-captain of the Tiger football team. Serving as Princesses were Delta Heath, Kathleen Parker and Terri Brooks.

The senior football players also presented their mothers with homecoming mums at the halftime.

And Mrs. Arthur Eoe was awarded a certificate of honorary membership to the Kendrick Girls League for faithfully yelling at the football games.

Overtime Thriller
Marty Clemenhagen broke through the Prairie Pirate line and went three yards to score a touchdown which broke a 8-all deadlock in an overtime session to give the Tigers their 14-8 victory. Steve Holt then recovered a Pirate fumble to end the Pirates' chances of winning.

The game finished regular time in the 8-8 tie, and a rule passed before this season, was invoked, giving each team four downs to score from the opponents' 10-yard line.

Kendrick took the first shot and left it up to Clemenhagen. He gained four yards on first down on a play up the middle, gained three more up the middle on second down and tried it up the middle again on third down. The hole was plugged, so Clemenhagen ducked outside and found room on the right for a three-yard touchdown run. The extra point try failed.

Prairie gained four yards on its first tie-breaking down, then fumbled on second down and Holt fell on the ball to end the game.

The loss knocked the Pirates out of a share of first place in the White Pine league and tied them with Kendrick at 4-2.

Clemenhagen and Eddie Osborn were the Tigers' main offensive weapons. Clemenhagen scored the first touchdown on a one-yard run in the second period and Osborn ran over the extra point. Both runners broke the 100-yard mark in rushing. Osborn the tailback in Kendrick's single-wing offense, passed just four times and completed two.

Kendrick had two other chances to score in the first half, but the Pirates recovered a fumble on their own 15 and returned all the way for a touchdown that was called back for a clip. Kendrick's other drive was ended deep in Prairie territory when the clock ran out.

Gary Rleser scored the sole Pirate touchdown on a 10-yard run in the third period and added the two-point conversion.

Kootenai Here Friday
The Tigers will be at home again this Friday as they host the visiting Kootenai team.

Thomas-Vandenburg Make Trip—

Harold Thomas, Kendrick and Jack Vandenburg, Genesee reached Lewiston Saturday night, the end of a thrilling trip by boat that started at Homestead, Oregon; 160 miles up the Snake river from Lewiston. Their success Harold said might be laid to just two things, Luck and an exceptionally well-built boat, the boat being a sixteen-foot row boat.

Thomas and Vandenburg left Homestead on Sept. 22 and reached Lewiston on Saturday, Sept. 30. Harold said "they saw deer in droves, two mountain sheep, a number of coyotes and rattlesnakes were an everyday occurrence." The men reported that the scenery was something to make one gasp, the hills rising sheer into the air for hundreds of feet and ascending in great stone steps like the tiers of giant block was in itself worth the trip.

The boys enjoyed the trip, they say but do not care to make it again. Mr. Vandenburg will be remembered here as assisting with the A. K. Carlson and N. B. Long sales last week.

Returns From East—Roy Ramey arrived home Wednesday night from a month's visit with relatives in Virginia and Florida, coming home via Chicago, where he witnessed the Chicago games of the World Series, which he enjoyed very much.

Business In Idaho Rated "Good", Says Bank Newsletter

Business in Idaho for the first nine months of 1972 was rated good to excellent compared to last year.

This is the report of the quarterly First Security Bank News Letter which is being distributed this week according to James Hoogland, Jr., local manager.

The publication is edited by Dr. Elroy Nelson, First Security Corporation vice president and economist. Employment, production and trade have all increased at rates somewhat above the national average. There is, however, some lag from last year in certain segments such as mining, and cash receipts from farm marketing have also been below 1971 levels.

A continued upward trend in the fourth quarter is indicated and percentage increases from last year should continue above the national average. Increases in output of lumber and paper, most food products, apparel, household wares and electronic products are all expected. There should be increased employment and a further decrease in unemployment, reports First Security.

Cash receipts from farm marketing in 1972 are expected to approach the all-time record of $710 million reported last year. For the first seven months, receipts were $5.8 million below last year, due primarily to decreases in receipts from crops. Income from livestock and livestock products, however, was 20 million higher than the corresponding period of 1971. Receipts from both crops and livestock for the remainder of the year are expected to increase over last year's levels.

Production of most crops in the Gem State is slightly lower than last year, with the exception of potatoes and sugar beets. The new crop of potatoes is estimated at nearly 79 million cwt., an increase of 2 percent and a new record.

Lumber production for the first seven months was reported at 1,052,400 board feet measure, a 5.6 percent increase over that reported last year. Except for April, increases have been shown every month since January, and mills are operated at capacity levels. Total permit construction in the leading cities of the state totaled $100.2 million for the first eight months, an increase of 32 percent over 1971. Nonresidential building construction was up 60 percent over last year, while alterations and repairs were up 43 percent from the previous year.

Employment in the state in August was reported at 316,000, an increase of 6,000 over 1971. Agricultural em-

No Shooting From Roadways or Vehicles

With pheasant season set to open this Saturday all across the southern half of the state, Idaho hunters were reminded that it is unlawful to shoot from vehicles, and from or across public roadways. A Fish and Game Department spokesman said such acts are not only against the law, but they also violate basic rules of safety.

Pheasant hunting is worth doing right if it is worth doing at all, and the fellow who properly parks his car obtains permission from the landowner and hunts the fields in the accepted fashion, is the one who is deriving the enjoyment from hunting. He is also helping to ensure the future of public hunting in the Gem State.

employment declined, as is the case nationally, but nonagricultural employment increased by 9,100 from the previous year. Manufacturing employment at 42,400 showed a 3 percent increase.

The civilian labor force in Idaho is reported at 334,700, a 1.7 percent increase over 1971. Unemployment in August totaled 18,300, a slight decrease from the previous

Nearly all pheasant hunting takes place on cultivated lands, most of which is in private ownership, and the true sportsman knows that permission to hunt on farm land is a privilege obtained from landowners through cooperation and goodwill. OPERATION RESPECT is the program aimed at promoting good landholder-sportsman relations that can lead to continued free hunting on private lands. Details about OPERATION RESPECT can be obtained from any sportsman's organization of fish and game offices in the state.

The truth about Bronate, the "educated" herbicide. From a weed that lived just long enough to tell about it.

"Oh, it was terrible. A tragic day for weeds indeed.

There we were happily robbing the wheat of their precious moisture and nutrients when the Bronate hit.

First the tarweed, henbit and dogfennel keeled over and died. Then the mustard family collapsed simultaneously. And finally my own family of crowfoot went before my very eyes.

I'd heard about Bronate but I never imagined it could wipe us out like that. I mean, we crowfoot are a hardy lot.

Old Uncle Slimleaf, rest his soul, told us this Bronate wasn't like any other herbicide. It was educated. It knew the difference between weeds and wheat. It even says on the label it will kill 26 kinds of us.

He said farmers use it because when it killed us, it wouldn't hurt a grain of the wheat. Even the new herbicide sensitive varieties like luke wheat. And they'd get up to 12 to 20 bushels more yield per acre.

That's why it's the first choice of farmers out here in the Northwest.

Well, Uncle Slimleaf was right, dead right.

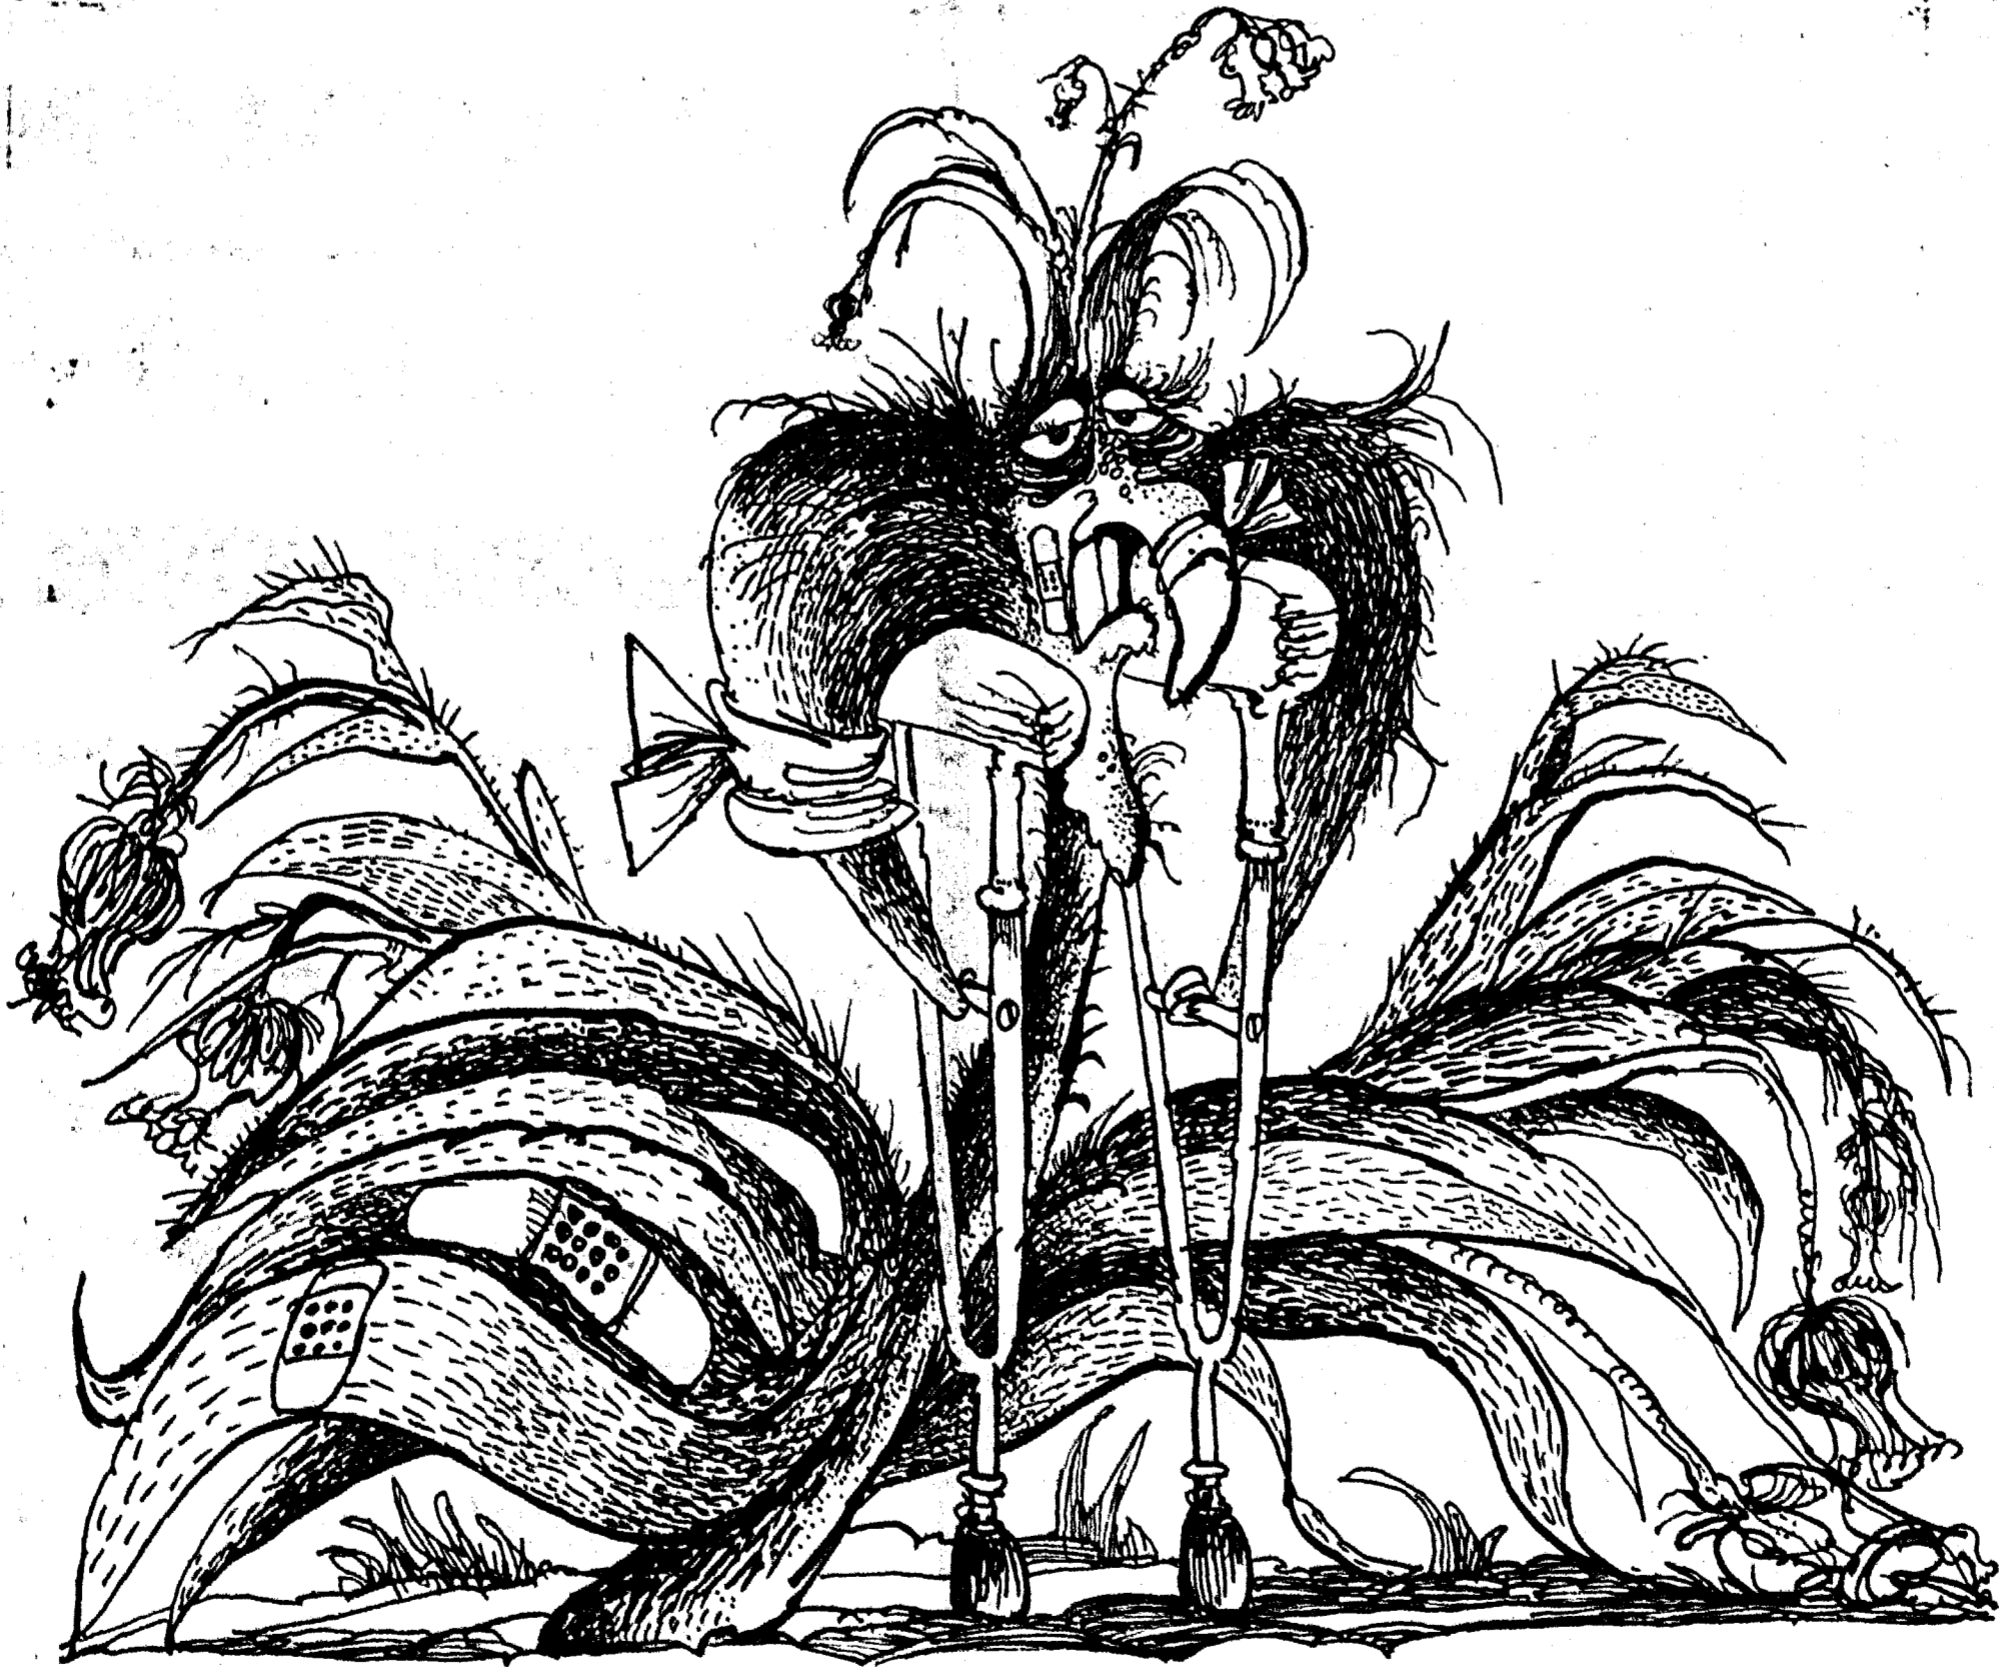

Anyway, by the time we realized Bronate was coming it was too late. We were goners.

It's just a matter of time for me now. I don't know how much longer I can hang on.

My last words to my fellow weeds are: stay away from Bronate. It r-e-a-l-l-y w-o-r-r-ks."

Moths Still Abound
With their age-old love of nibbling holes in stored clothing. Besides moth balls, the best defense is to clean clothing and bedding before storing, says Mrs. Janice Buckner, extension clothing specialist, U. of I. Even cotton and blended synthetics can provide food for moths if they are not clean. So launder everything possible and store unironed. If woollens are not washable—and many today are dry-clean. Sprinkle moth balls into garment bags, between layers of fabrics in cartons, and in garment pockets.

Steelhead Checked

Special check stations and roving checkers will be contacting steelhead fishermen this fall and next spring on the Snake, Clearwater, and Salmon Rivers to identify fish that originated in hatcheries. The purpose of the creel checks will be to determine the quality of steelhead fishing, to learn what the overall contribution of hatchery fish might be to the harvest and to instruct the public in identification of hatchery fish and wild fish.

Steelhead which originated in hatcheries have dorsal fins (large fins on the backs) that appear to have been "clipped," or at least are malformed or shriveled in appearance. Wild steelhead have well-formed dorsal fins. Last fall, over 80 percent of the steelhead harvested in the Salmon River between the South and North Forks were hatchery fish.

Research Project Seeks More Bear Information

By J. R. Graban, Conservation Educator, Idaho Fish and Game Dept.

For many years black bear have not shared the status of other big game animals such as elk, deer, antelope, moose, sheep and goats. In short, the black bear was considered a nuisance animal, especially in livestock range areas. For years the bear was an animal that was shot on sight, or incidentally, while hunting elk or deer during their respective seasons. In the past several years, however, increased popularity in bear hunting specifically created a need to establish seasons and limits.

The 1971 legislature authorized the Fish and Game Commission to establish and require a bear tag in those areas of the state where there is an established bear season. This bear tag will provide the needed information as to how many people hunt bear—the sex of the bear—and where the bear are harvested in Idaho.

Additional information in addition to the bear tag is necessary in order to learn about the ecology of the bears—that is, the relationship of the bear to its natural surrounding, and apply this knowledge to good management of black bear populations.

On July 1, 1972 a game research biologist was assigned to a statewide bear project. John Beecham, a 1968 graduate of Texas Tech, did his graduate study on the breeding biology of the golden eagle and received a master of science degree from the University of Idaho in 1970. Beecham worked as a district conservation officer in Carey, Idaho until his recent new assignment as game research biologist.

To help collect the biological information that is needed for this study, sportsmen are asked to assist on this project by bringing out with the bear certain animal parts. Check stations around the state will have facilities to collect the materials needed, or they may be picked up by contacting your local conservation officer.

Here are some of the items that will be beneficial in finding out more about black bear:

The skull and teeth, to determine the age of the animal harvested. Stomach samples—frozen if possible. Other items of interest would be: female reproductive organs; hair sample for mercury analysis; meat samples to check for pesticide residues; sex of the animal and the color.

There are several color phases of black bear, so your black bear may be blonde, brown, reddish, bluish or cinnamon color. No matter what color, its still a black bear.

Last, but not least, it is very important to know, as close as can be pinpointed, the geographical location the bear was shot and the date harvested. In many cases, it will be impossible for the hunter to bring out all of this information, but what ever the sportsmen can supply will be greatly appreciated.

FREEDOM is <sup>the</sup> ISSUE
FREEDOM FROM TOO MUCH GOVERNMENT

VTAXES: Everyone talks about reducing taxes. None of the other candidates talk about reducing government. How can you have one without the other? The legitimate reason for taxes is to support limited government whose only purpose should be to protect life, liberty and property.

VGVERNMENT: I believe that Idaho people are a rational reasonable people — capable of making their own decisions and responsible enough to accept the results of self-determination. Idaho is full of opportunity for the honest and hardworking in spite of government not because of it. What is needed is to release creative personal initiative and human effort from government shackles.

VHUMAN RIGHTS: I believe we should respect human and property rights, which are inseparable, and strive for maintaining free entry into the market for everyone — no favorites and no exceptions.

YWELFARE: I believe we should repeal the laws which encourage men not to work or not to produce. We must develop a system to separate the "cannots" from the "will nots." Regulations must be simplified so that people can start new business. We must not destroy human dignity.

FREEDOM is the major issue in America today. It is time the public demands to know what political principles a man holds — mine call for a massive reduction in governmental powers and a new era of individual responsibility.

VFORESTS: I have raised trees all my life and am the candidate who will be able to assist the U.S. Forest Service in applying the very best forest management practices to guarantee a sustainable yield.

VGUN CONTROL: I am absolutely opposed to any gun control.

VPRODUCTION: I believe we should limit government to a reasonable size and give the producing end of the economy a chance to catch up. We must return to sanity and common sense in government — this means reduce government — not streamline it, not make it more efficient, but reduce it. America is a great nation, but we must not allow governmental over-regulation and meddling to strangle the goose that lays the golden egg.

VINFLATION: I believe we should place the blame where it belongs. Inflation is made in Washington, D.C., where politicians spend far more than we taxpayers can send, thereby diluting our money supply. Deficit financing of government programs is the most clever system of dishonesty yet devised by mankind.

VENVIRONMENT: I believe in clean air, clean water, and food on the table — like everyone else — but the solution to pollution will come from the creative designs of free private individuals. Bureaucrats have not demonstrated an ability to design a better life-style.

STEVEN D. SYMMS
 Republican for Congress — 1st District of Idaho

VEDUCATION: We must not allow the Federal Government to dictate curriculum and school policies. The teacher-student relationship must not be jeopardized by bureaucratic control.

  - ★ Graduate University of Idaho with Degree in Agriculture.

I am not a career politician. I believe most people are tired of empty political rhetoric and endless spending. Most candidates promise to serve us. Remember it will be at our expense because there is nothing that the government ever gives that it first does not take away. Nothing can be consumed which is not first produced, and Congress must recognize this if we are to maintain free markets and be free men. I hope when any politician comes to town to tell you of his capabilities to SERVE you that you will (1) tell him about the freedoms you want to keep, (2) examine his record to see if he is telling the truth, (3) find out if he has as much common sense as you do, (4) grab your wallet, and (5) run for cover.

MR. SYMMS has issued the following statement entitled, "FOR THOSE WHO CARE," which explains in no uncertain terms his attitude about government in general. His statement follows:

Many of you have heard the old saying, "In times of moral crisis, the hottest places in hell are reserved for those who remain silent."

Now a word about how an apple grower could consider running for Congress. My opponent has asked for your support. I respect my opponent but it seems to me that he is locked in a system of popularity politics. All he is doing is playing the game the way it has always been played. He asks for your support so he can serve you. I'm like a lot of you folks — I don't want to be "served." Washington, D.C. is full of able politicians "serving us." It's full of people who know their way around both Washington and politics. The issue is WHO is going to run our lives anyway — WE or the GOVERNMENT?

All I hear from political candidates seeking office today is some appeal to popularity which leads us farther down the path of Government, by the Government, for the Government, and more Government.

It seems to me that our politicians, both Democratic and Republican, are losing their common sense. A common sense, limited approach to government has always appealed to me.

It does seem hopeless out here on the producing end of the economy. We elect good men to public office. Sooner or later their nostrils get infected with marble or they get a dose of Potomac Fever and this somehow turns them into madmen with the public coffers. The battle ends up being between the ins and the outs — no one caring about right or wrong — just carefully worded statements so the "good guys" can replace the "bad guys" — HOGWASH!

How can we cut through all this? How about free enterprise solutions? Haven't we had enough government solutions? All the politicians get to meddling and they tend to confuse and make worse most problems we could solve ourselves. WHAT WE NEED IS TO RELEASE CREATIVE PERSONAL INITIATIVE AND HUMAN EFFORT FROM GOVERNMENT SHACKLES AT EVERY LEVEL. Why don't we adhere to Jefferson's principle, "Throw the Government in chains and free the people." There is work to do, houses to build, people to feed, children to educate. Bureaucracy and regulation at every level is in the way. If the politicians would work as hard to make free enterprise work as they do socialism, maybe we could get some things going.

Ask your political candidates to answer this question: "Why is it that both state and federal office holders got their pay raises prior to wage and price controls?" Just once wouldn't it be fun to freeze every level of government and give us the chance to catch up out here on the producing end of the economy?

All I ever hear is, "Can he win?" or "Will it pass?" How refreshing it would be to have one political party in this country that just wanted to know if it was right or wrong.

What really brings this thing home to me is our own Idaho apple industry. In the days when we had the little grocery stores the apple price at the retail level had a close relationship to the price received by the farmer. In other words when there were too many apples, they were sold cheaper in the stores, therefore increasing consumption and unclogging the market. Today, as apples are sold through the chain store produce counters, the price fluctuates very little with regard to supplies. My point is this — big government, big business, and big labor evolve together — all power oriented. It is just simply impossible for the small businessman to fill out all the forms and abide by all the regulations so he sells out, goes broke, or gives up. Today we are seeing the small business, the small grocery store, the small farmer, all being put out of business by the pressure of high taxes and over-regulation.

I own an Elaine Powers Figure Salon franchise. If I didn't have the expertise of the parent company taking care of all the FTC requirements, it would be impossible to operate. If you want, just go to Boise, Nampa, or Lewiston and open a ladies' health club. Your education in business red tape, regulations, and free markets will really get a lesson. Believe me, the tuition is not free, and be sure you have lots of pencils to fill out all the idiotic forms.

What happened to the principles of the Republican party? Why is it more important to win an election than it is to stick to principles? We Republicans have helped run up our nation's debt to a point that we should be ashamed of ourselves. I want to raise my children to respect honesty, as most of you do. What happened in Washington? It looks to me like too many Republicans and Democrats are abandoning reason in a mad rush for power through expedient politics. No wonder we hear there's not a dime worth of difference between the government serving us, and the tax collector milking us, when are we going to produce?

It looks to me like Billy Sol Estes did the same thing with fertilizer and salad oil that the U.S. Treasurer has done to gold. No wonder some of our young people get disillusioned with us. No wonder the foreign countries don't trust us. How could we be shocked by the results of the United Nations vote to dump Free China? How many of you have friends still in Viet Nam? War is "Hell" — if we get involved we should fight to win — or else not get involved at all. Wasn't Korea enough of a lesson in playing touch football with the tenacious, vicious enemy that plays for keeps and knows the ideals they stand for?

What this country needs is to respect property and human rights (which common sense tells us are one and the same), and to strive for maintaining free entry into the market for everyone. No favorites, and no exceptions.

It seems as though it is an inescapable conclusion that the people in Washington are doing their best to SERVE their districts. You know what that really means — there is absolutely nothing that the government ever gets that it doesn't first take away. Why don't we just once all get together and tell the tax collector to either stop interfering or we stop paying?

Usually all we do is complain about welfare abuser, but never ask how it is that all these people are out of work. What about minimum wage laws? What about union labor monopolies? What about politicians who dangle the welfare carrot in front of the voter and help to lock him in his present situation? What's moral about this? Give the vote-buying politician and the welfare recipients an equal opportunity to work and I'll put my bets on the character of most of the welfare recipients.

If there are enough of you that share these same ideals that I have, let me have your support and tell your friends how you feel about the following questions:

- (1) Do I care about principle enough to back a candidate who is going to wage a campaign on ideas rather than expedient politics?
- (2) Do I want to have a representative from Idaho who will fight the Bureaucracy and work for free enterprise?
- (3) Do I want someone in office who isn't hungry for the job, power and prestige that goes with it and would really rather see people free to manage their own lives?

If you believe in these ideals, help get out the vote on Election Day, November 7, 1972. Show this article to your friends.

Did you ever want to take a bite out of Government?

Check Stations To Look For Hatchery Steelies

Steelhead anglers fishing the Snake, Clearwater or Salmon rivers this fall and next spring may be checked by the Idaho Fish and Game Department at one of several check stations or by roving census clerks. Check stations or roving checks for the purpose of monitoring steelhead fishing will be set up throughout the Salmon, Clearwater and Snake rivers. The purpose of the creel checks will be threefold: (1) to determine the quality of steelhead fishing; (2) to determine the contribution of hatchery fish in the harvest, and (3) to instruct the public on identification of hatchery fish and the proper listing of stream sections on permit cards for caught fish.

Steelhead returning to Idaho hatcheries can usually be identified by the condition of their fins. "Wild" steelhead have well-formed fins with straight, branched fin rays. However, the hatchery fish usually have a dorsal fin that has a clipped appearance or at least has bent or crooked fin rays. The pectoral (side) or pelvic (belly) fins may also contain crooked rays or have a clipped appearance.

Last fall over 60 percent of the steelhead harvested in the Salmon River between the South Fork Salmon River and the North Fork were hatchery fish. Approximately 35 percent of the fish harvested in the Riggins area also were of hatchery origin. The hatchery contribution to the steelhead harvest should remain high since larger hatchery releases are programmed for the Salmon river starting in 1973.

The first large return of hatchery fish will be returning to Dworshak Hatchery on the North Fork Clearwater River this fall.

New SS Book Available

Free copies of a booklet describing the Rent Watch program, recently announced by the Cost of Living Council, are now available at the Lewiston Social Security Office, D. Gene Shaw, Social Security District Manager, said today.

The "Rent Watch" program is aimed at preventing landlords from illegally boosting rents to take advantage of the increased social security benefits which became payable this month.

The booklet tells social security beneficiaries what to do if they receive a notice of a proposed rent increase and how to file a complaint with the Internal Revenue Service if they believe that the increase is in violation of Economic Stabilization Program regulations.

In announcing the "Rent Watch" on September 29, Donald Rumsfeld, Director of the Cost of Living Council, noted that there had been instances in the past where the rents of older people went up when their social security benefits increased.

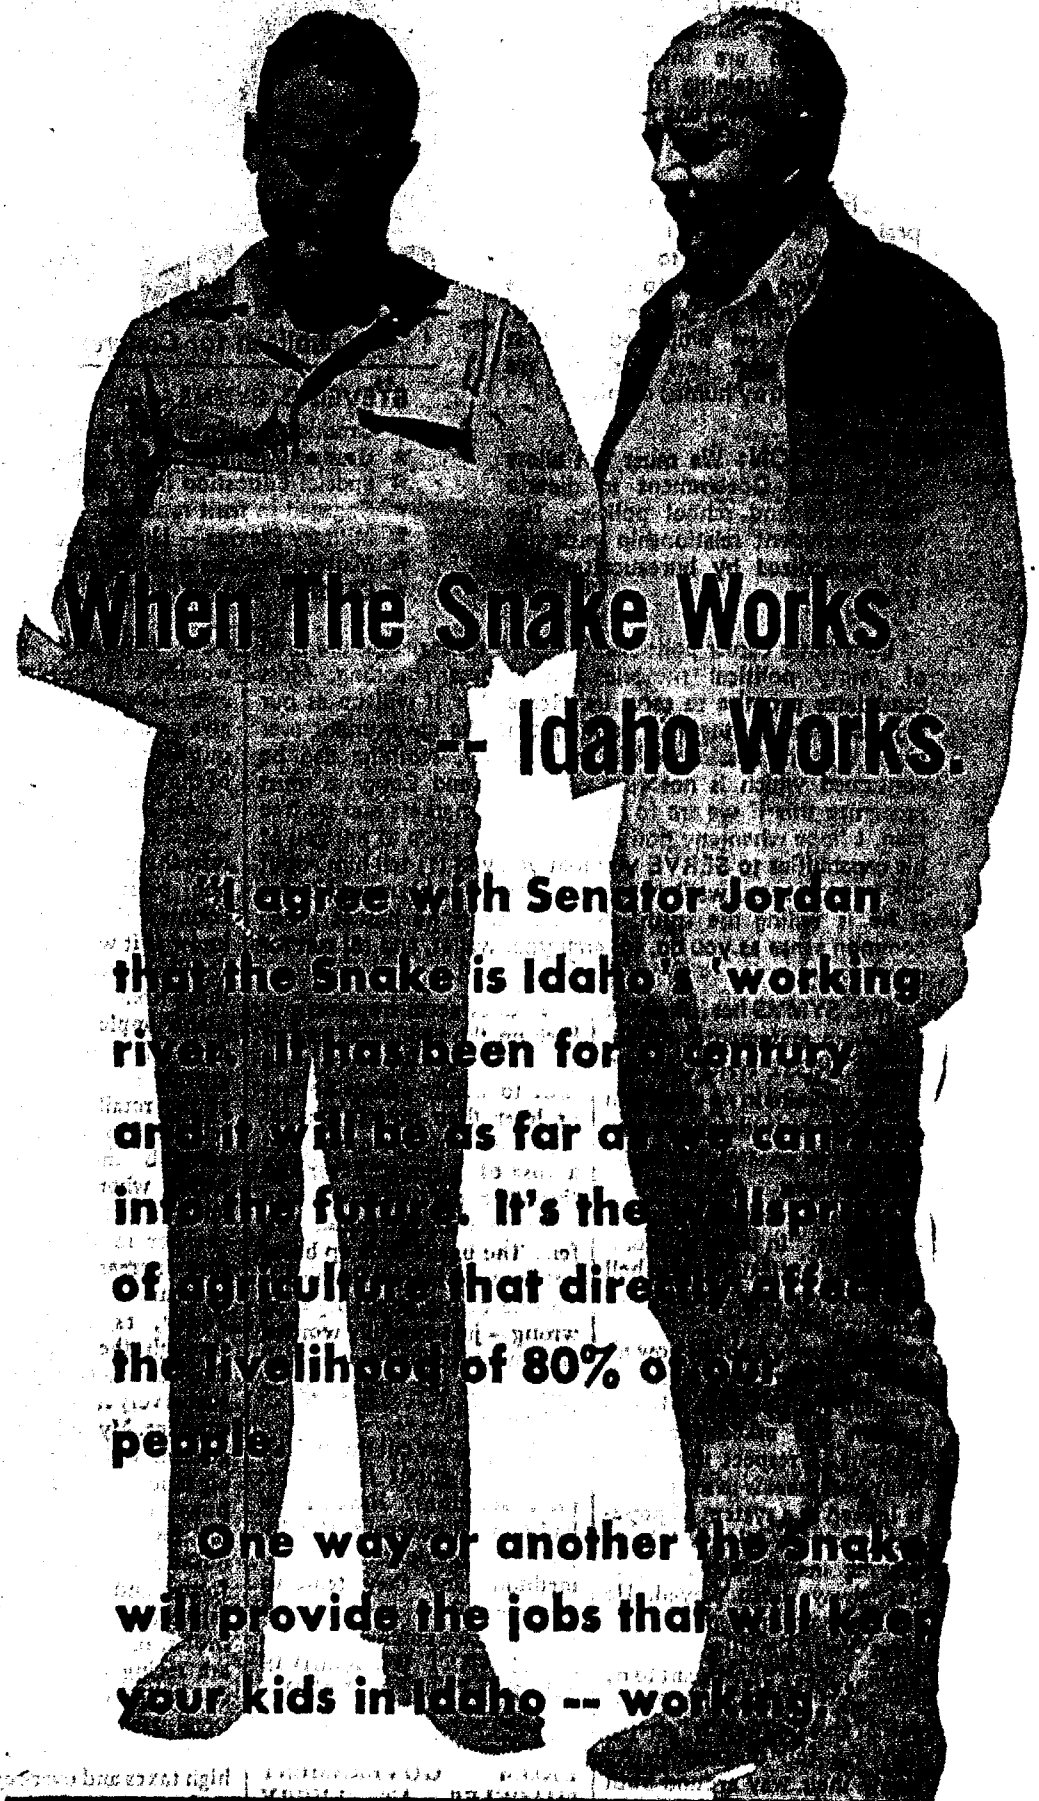

Social security beneficiaries in this area may get a copy of the "Rent Watch" leaflet by calling the Lewiston Social Security office, 746-2333, or the Internal Revenue Service information number in Idaho, 1-800-632-5990. Washington residents should use the telephone number 1-800-732-1040.

Copies may also be obtained by writing to the Social Security Office, P. O. Box 857, Lewiston, Idaho 83501, according to D. Gene Shaw, District Manager.

Copies will also be available on the pamphlet rack at the social security office.

Olefin

Olefin (polypropylene) is a man-made fiber found in sweaters, hostery, carpeting and upholstery fabrics. It is stain resistant and durable. It not only needs no ironing, but cannot be ironed, reports Mrs. Janice Buckner, extension clothing specialist, U. of I. Most apparel made of olefin is washable. However, as with any purchase, check hangtags when you shop and follow care instructions.

When The Snake Works -- Idaho Works.

I agree with Senator Jordan that the Snake is Idaho's working river. It has been for a century and will be as far as we can get into the future. It's the lifeblood of agriculture that directly affects the livelihood of 80% of our people.

One way or another the Snake will provide the jobs that will take our kids in Idaho -- working.

Men Only

Business and professional men are frequently poor eaters. These men with a good education and enough money for an adequate diet, don't necessarily eat the right food.

One study in a midwest city shows only half the men chose food that provided adequate amounts of calcium, thiamine and riboflavin. About 75 percent hit the proper level for ascorbic acid.

Only one-fifth of the diet met allowances fully in all eight nutrients studied. Nutritionists concluded the men need to eat more foods rich in calcium, ascorbic acid and riboflavin.

Mrs. Esther Wilson, extension nutrition specialist, University of Idaho, said a similar study in Idaho indicates businessmen often eat inadequate breakfasts. Each of 11 men ordered a "short stack" and drowned it in syrup. Ten had coffee; most added sugar. Only one drank milk. One had a side of ham. None of the 11 ate fruit of any kind. A teenage boy came in the dining room, saw what the men were eating, and followed suit.

"Perhaps," Mrs. Wilson said, "we need more fathers, uncles and grandfathers who set better examples."

LETTERS FROM READERS

October 23, 1972

To the Editor:

Many people have asked me why I wasn't invited to the meet your candidate affair sponsored by Mr. Brocke.

It was not billed as meet your Democratic candidate, but just meet your candidate. This should mean all candidates.

Why I was not invited, you will have to ask Mr. Brocke. I would not expect him to support me even if I were a democrat because I disagree with him on many issues. Just because I disagree with him does not mean I dislike him.

I have often wondered what Mr. Brocke was doing in the legislature when redistricting was going on.

Was he fighting for representation for our area like other legislators did for their areas? Why are we in this mess today?

It also surprises me that he would back a candidate like Mr. Butler. Butler advocates cutting the throats of the logger, businessman and farmer by removing the production exemptions from the sales tax. He would also hurt the average working man by voting to raise the sales tax while the real wealth goes untouched.

Is Mr. Brocke really concerned about the people who provide his income with a fair shake in the tax field? Or, would he back anyone as long as he is a democrat regardless what he stands for? Maybe you farmers better have a little chat with Mr. Brocke about this.

Again I want to urge everyone who believes in what I am doing to vote only for me, not either one of the other two candidates. Also ask your friends and neighbors to go vote. This is our only hope of getting re-

Last Saturday, October 21st, the Genesee F. F. A. Chapter held a judging contest at the Martin Stout ranch. It was one of a series of contests to determine who will be on the Portland judging team.

Classes judged were one of steers, one class of heifers and two classes of bulls.

Greenhand F. F. A. members will be initiated at the next F. F. A. meeting which will be at 7:00 p. m. in the Ag room. Future activities of the Chapter will also be discussed.

Kindergarten News The past two weeks the kindergarten class has been working with a unit on Courtesy. We have learned how to be courteous in many situations at school and at home. We hope that our parents have noticed our courteousness at home.

Last Friday Mrs. Mathison's Home Ec I class came to help with fingerprinting the last hour. There were 15 girls, and we all enjoyed having them, especially at clean-up time.

Next Tuesday we will bring costumes and masks to wear for the Halloween party and we hope everyone can be there.

First Grade News The first graders are all excited about getting to watch two programs on the educational television. Each week we see 'Just Wondering,' a science show on this program.

We have been learning about living objects and how they are alike and different.

The social studies show, 'Ripples,' is the other program we have been watching.

Last week on 'Ripples' we saw how much springs from the activities and feeling of the people.

In language we have been working hard to learn where to put capital letters and periods. So far we have learned to put capitals at the beginnings of sentences and names and periods at the end of sentences.

Shannon Pelfrey celebrated her 7th birthday last Friday. Her mommy brought some yummy cupcakes for treats.

Third Grade News The third grade had a visit from Mr. Diehl who discussed the Hot Lunch program. They asked him questions and found out that they would have to pay close to a dollar for a lunch down town that they pay 30c for at school. This is because the government gives us some of the food. The meals must be planned for good nutrition.

The class took a trip through the kitchen where they saw the cold storage rooms where the food is stored. They saw Jello which had vitamin C added to it. They also saw the big bread mixer and the big ovens. It was stressed that they shouldn't take food they didn't want, and that they should clean their trays.

Fourth Grade News We have a spelling bank shaped like a fat pig, which Mrs. Butler, our student teacher made for us. Each week we try to learn to spell ten extra words in addition to the twenty words we have for our weekly lesson. If we spell these correctly we may try the extra words. Our score on these and our name is written on a card-board coin, which we deposit in the piggy bank. At the end of 6 weeks we will total our coins and use them to purchase prizes.

Fifth Grade News In Math we are doing multiplication and in science we are studying the elements and compounds.

In Social Studies we are almost at the end of the chapter. The chapter was about Discovering the New World.

We made glue pictures in art for Halloween.

Ella Sarbacher had a birthday party the 23rd.

Sixth Grade News Last Friday we had a multiplication bee. The winners were Pete Becker, 1st place and Janice Alderman, 2nd place.

For science we are making crystals. We are making them out of water which is supersaturated with alum, sugar, salt or other minerals which crystallize.

We are planning our Halloween party. We have decided what our food will be and our game.

"Fifties Fashion Frolics" A Success

Genesee—Many Genesee attics and basements yielded treasures to make the "Fifties Fashion Frolic" presented by the Catholic ladies at St. Mary's gym on Thursday, October 19 at 2:30 p. m. a resounding success.

Guests were entertained by models attired in fashions from the 1950's. Everything from strapless net formal, with yards of fabric, to mid-calf knit skirts and the fashionable poplin were shown. The days of roller-skates and the hula-hoop were remembered with rolled-up blue jeans, rolled-down 'bobby sox' and bubble gum. "G" sweaters and the versatile Pendleton jacket were modeled along with the very fashionable drop skirts, bright red lipstick, rhinestones and fingernail polish. Two bridal attires were presented. Mrs. Carrie Jutte caught the bride's bouquet that was tossed into the crowd.

Song titles accompanying the narration by Glenda Becker included "Be-cause," "Good-Night Irene," "Sh-Boom," "Heartbreak Hotel," "Sweet Mama," "Hound Dog," "Changing Partners," "Temptation," and "Mr. Sandman." The audience reminisced with the voices of such favorites as Perry Como and Elvis Presley.

Models included Leona Becker, Frances Ferrera, Emma Lou Johann, Kate Lyons, Paulette Johann, Jo Moser, Karen Moser, Lucille Moser, Giovanna O'Callaghan, Nancy Rowley, Linda Schleuter and Kay Zenger.

The tea table presided over by Marie Linehan and Clara Neyens, had a cornucopia centerpiece. Jo Moser was the decorations chairman.

General chairmen for the tea were Frances Ferrera, Paulette Johann, and Joyce Lyons.

When the Loggers got rolling in the third period, Dave Gosnell cashed with a three-yard run and Arlen Schwandt broke for a 21-yard touchdown to give Potlatch a 22-18 lead.

Genesee closed to 22-18 on a three-yard keeper by Moser, but the hosts padded their margin when Eacker ran the ball over from a yard out. Gosnell provided most of the offensive punch for the Loggers, rushing 132 yards. Eacker hit for two of eight passes for 39 yards as Potlatch gained 291 yards in total offense. THE DRUG HABIT

Did you notice a story in a recent issue of the daily newspaper? It was the young man, I forget exactly where, that a few months ago had asked a judge to put him in jail so he could kick the drug habit. Now he's on record of asking the same judge to let him out of jail because drugs are easier to get and more plentiful inside the lockup than out. So what's the answer? I for one sure don't know, but do believe as long as there's a lot of money being made in drugs traffic will never be stopped. If somehow the profits can be taken from drugs, the problem will just go away in a short time."

THIS IS THE STORY OF PETEY, THE SNAKE Petey was a snake, only so big. Petey lived in a pit with his mother. One day Petey was hissing in the pit when his mother said, "Petey don't hiss in the pit, go outside the pit to hiss." So Petey went outside the pit to hiss. Petey was hissing all around when he finally leaned over and hissed in the pit. Petey's mother heard Petey hissing in the pit and said, "Petey, if you must hiss in a pit, go over to Mrs. Pott's pit to hiss in her pit." Petey went over to Mrs. Pott's pit to hiss in her pit, but Mrs. Pott was not at home, so he hissed in her pit anyway. While Petey was hissing in Mrs. Pott's pit, Mrs. Pott came home and found Petey hissing in her pit. She said, "Petey, if you must hiss in a pit, don't hiss in my pit; go to your pit and hiss." This made Petey very sad, and he cried all the way home. When Petey got home, his mother saw him crying, and said "Petey what's the matter?" Petey said, "I went over to Mrs. Pott's to hiss in her pit but Mrs. Pott was not at home, so I hissed in her pit anyway. Mrs. Pott came home and found me hissing in her pit and said, 'Petey, if you must hiss in a pit, go to your own pit and hiss. Don't hiss in my pit.'" This made Petey's mother very angry, and she said, "Why that mean old lady. I knew Mrs. Pott when she didn't have a pit to hiss in."

Ibex Enigma Brings "Old Timer" Letter

A medical doctor recently mailed a copy of the 1907 Idaho hunting regulations to the Fish and Game Department, asking: "What is the history of the ibex in Idaho?" Dr. Richard L. Kapsa, M. D., Salt Lake City wants to know. "Was 'ibex' the common local name applied to an indigenous species unknown to me? Or were ibex 'Capra ibex' introduced into Idaho more than 65 years ago as a propagating test?" Dr. Kapsa enclosed a copy of the 1907 regulations, which mentions the hunting of ibex. Specifically, it states that it is "unlawful to kill or capture more than one elk, two deer, one mountain sheep, one ibex and one goat during the open season." So it was that Idaho big game hunters spent a dozen years scaling the craggy back country in pursuit of an animal they called "ibex" and which never existed in this country, at least technically, though department regulations listed it from 1903-1915. Ted D. Bladreau, wildlife land agent for the department, researched the subject and concluded that modern game biologists and taxonomists says that the ibex was the mountain sheep ewe.

"Some oldtimers maintain it was a distinct type of animal frequenting the high ranges," he avers. "The European ibex is a small animal, about two and one-half feet tall with curving horns which look immense because of the ibex's small size. This animal frequents the snowy pinnacles of the Pyrenees, and is commonly called the steinbok. In technical circles the ibex is Capra Pyrenaica.

"In support of the argument that the Idaho ibex was only the ewe of the mountain sheep, biologists note that in 1915 the legislature passed a law protecting ewes and lambs of the mountain sheep. Reference to the ibex disappeared at that time and was never officially re-entered in Idaho's game laws," Bladreau concluded.

The mountain sheep ewe's slightly curved horns, which contrast sharply with the ram's curl, resembled the curved horns of the European ibex. It is believed that early settlers were familiar with the steinbok and adopted the name ibex on seeing the ewe, which resembled the bounding little ibex of their homelands.

PUT THE GOOD WEATHER TO WORK— FERTILIZE IN THE FALL

You're going to be busy as a bird dog next spring, right? So why not apply our Orthro Unipel 27-12-0 Fertilizer this fall. It's especially recommended for hay and pasture fertilization in this area and you'll enjoy these other benefits:

1. The product is in good supply now. Available in bag or bulk. You avoid that "sold out" situation that sometimes occurs in the spring.
2. You'll be fertilizing at a time when you have the time. Not during the spring rush.
3. You eliminate the problem of going into the fields in the spring when they may be soft and wet.

You avoid unnecessary soil compaction.

There are other advantages to fertilizing in the fall and we'd appreciate the chance to discuss them with you.

Hope you'll come in for a chat.

Scary Reality

At night we saw the tall gray ghosts upon the hills!
 They stood so firm to give us creepy thrills and chills,
 Like spooky skeletons looking down in the night,
 As we moved along the valley as if in fright!
 No spectres from the past are these towers so tall,
 But symbols of the near future's power to call.
 Right now each one stands alone as if rejected—
 Soon they will be joined by crackling volts connected;
 And still we may get the same eerie weird feeling,
 Even though the bright truthful daylight is revealing.
 Now we see the scars of progress on our sky-line;
 Not ghostly wisps, but steel and wire of the high line.
