Representatives Report From Boise

Representatives Claud Judd and Leo Butler, District 7, reported to the Gazette Monday evening follow-ing the opening session of the 1973 Idaho State Legislature. In a telephone conversation, Judd said most daughter of William and Emilie Harof Monday's time was taken with Governor Andrus' State of the State address, and then just preparing for the work ahead.

Of interest to farmers, Judd said he had talked to the tax office at the Capitol and received word that farmers can claim an 81/3% rebate on gasoline for all gas purchased after April 1; prior to April 1, 1972 the rebate would still be at 7c per gallon rate. He advise that claim forms reflect these different dates to avoid confusion.

Both Butler and Judd stressed the fact that they were representing all of District 7 and would be pleased to hear from any citizens in their district.

Economic Outlook Reported By Bank

The economic outlook in Idaho for 1973 is similar to that in the nation with increases in production, employment, personal income and trade. This is the report of the quarterly First Security Bank News Letter which is being distributed this week, according to James Hoogland Jr.. The publication is edited by Dr. ElRoy Nelson, First Security Corporation vice president and economist. Total employment in November was reported at 229,100. This was an increase of 7,500 for the month over a year earlier and is rather typical of the pattern throughout the year. Employment in agriculture has con-tinued to decline with further mechanization on the farm. The decrease in 1972 was almost 1,500. Nonagricultural wage and salary employment by November had increased by 9,400 or 4.2 per cent above a year ago. Manufacturing employment was 1,400 jobs higher. Mining and railroad employment were both down. The ci-vilian labor force was reported as 314,200-an increase of 8,200 in the year. Unemployment at 15,100 was up slightly with 5.4 per cent unemployed.

Construction contracts in 1973 should be approximately the same or slightly lower than in 1972. the News Letter states. Total construction was $262 million or 83 per cent above a year earlier. There was an increase of six per cent in the number of

AUXILIARY MEETING

Genesce-The regular January meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary

Mrs. Farnam's third grade took a tour of the library. Mrs. Miller told them about the different kinds of books and how they are marked. She told them how to use the card catalogue.

The third grade has been very busy since vacation. We are working on a weather unit and are learning all about snow, fog, clouds, and temperature. Each day we each record the A. M. and P. M. temperature on a chart and record on our January calendars the kind of day it is.

We have also been learning about the library and its purpose uses. Mrs. Miller, our librarian, has talked to us. Tuesday we went to the library and she showed us the card catalogue, the circulating desk, and the different sections for different types of books. On Friday one group presented a play, chosen from one of the books of plays. Our guests were Mr. Dichl, Mrs. Kolva and Mrs. Farnam's 3rd grade.

Children who took part were Ann-ette Benson, director; Lynn Jacobs, assistant director; Mary Beth Moser, announcer; Kathy Nail, Betsy Ross; George Washington, Sky Schlueter; Craig Jobb, captain; Ron Haxton, Rob't Morris; Barbie Grieser, daughter, and Pat Purcell greeted our guests.

The children made their costumes during free time and practiced at re-cess. They also planned and brought They enjoyed our play very props

NOTICE: FIREMEN ELECTION

The Genesee Volunteer Firemen will hold their annual election of officers on Monday, January 15 at 8 p. m. at their hall. A good turnout is desired.

IDAHO DEPT. OF EMPLOYMENT

Frank J. Hartstein, Moscow office manager for the Idaho Department of Employment reported that the post-Christmas short work week reduced job placement activity in his office. He said that only 6 persons were placed on jobs during the week compared with 11 persons given job finding help during the previous week, and 10 so assisted during the same week a year ago. He said his office received 8 new job listings only 2 less than the previous week's 10; and that 31 jobs were still open at the end of the week. Most of the jobs require special skills, training or experience, he reported.

Although the number of persons currently filing claims for unemployment insurance increased from 335 last week to 369 this week, the total was considerably less than the 421 jobless pay seekers of a year ago. In the immediate Moscow area there were 215 persons claiming benefits compared with 201 last week and 209 last year. In the Troy-Deary-Bovill area the current t otal is 72, up from last week's 60 but little more than half of the year ending total of 123 reported in 1971. At Potlatch the total remained the same, 54, as last week, down from last year's figure of 68. Mellowing weather in the area permitted construction workers to return to their jobs although it did cause some curtailments among workers in the area's lumber producing industry.

CHANGES IN SS LAW

Copies of a payroll envelope leaflet explaining recent changes in the social security law are available to employers at the Lewiston Social Security office, according to D. Gene Shaw, social security district manager, Called "Your 1973 Social Security Deductions," the leaflet explains how payroll contributions to social security starting in January 1973 will build increased retirement, disability, survivors, and Medicare protection for employees, employers, and self-employed people.

"Employers with under 1,000 employees can get sufficient copies of the leaflet free on request," Shaw said. Employers with over 1,000 employees can get free "repro" proof to print their own copies for distribution in payroll envelopes.

There are two kinds of people on earth today, lust two kinds of people, no more I need say.

Not the good and the bad, for 'tis well understood

The good are half bad and the bad are half good.

Not the happy and sad, for the swiftflying years

Bring each man his laughter and each man his tears Not the rich and the poor, for to count a man's wealth You must first know the state of his conscience and health. Not the humble and proud, for in life's busy span,

Who put on airs is not even counted a man.

No! The two kinds of people on earth I mean

Are the people who lift and the people who lean.

Wherever you go you will find the world's masses

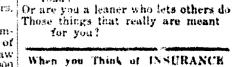

Are ever divided in just these two classes.

And strangely enough, you will find, too, it seems,

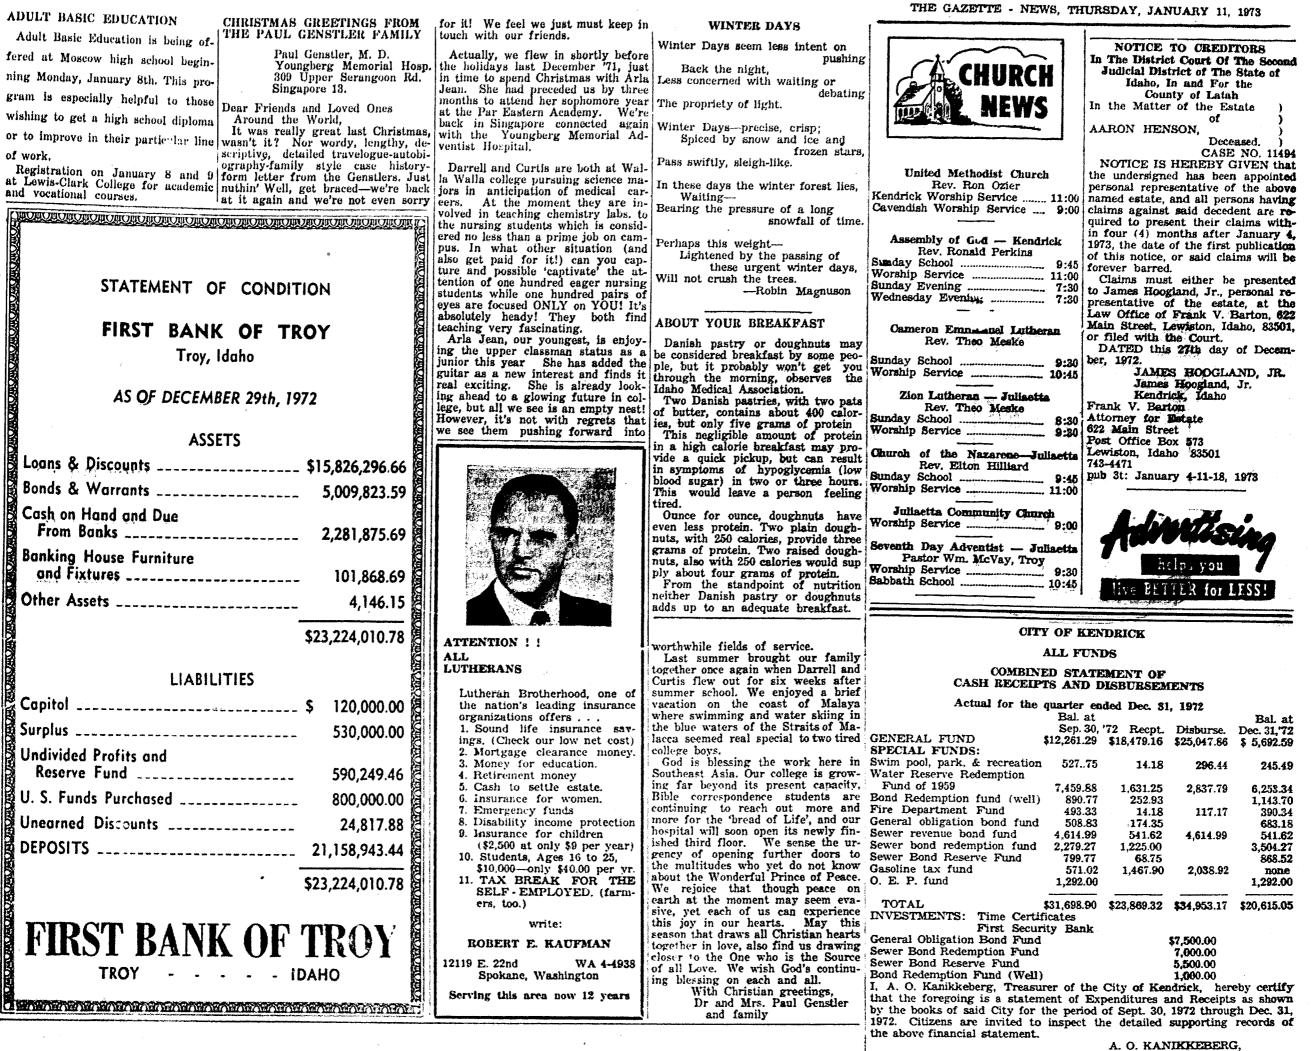

There is only one lifted for twenty who lean.

In which class are you? Are you

ELECTRICITY, who needs it? Ask grandmother.

Grandmother can tell you about the "Good Ol' Days" when there wasn't much electricity for hot water and other household chores. Today, this clean energy is the homemakor's helper in a hundred different ways.

But, more important . . . electric energy is vital to our economy and to jobs for people. It handles much of the muscle work in our factories, sawmills, and mines; does the heavy lifting, yard lighting, and water pumping on the farms; it refrigerates our meats and foods; runs our office machines and computers; and powers the precision equipment so important to surgeons, nurses, and assistants in modern hospitals. It lights our streets and freeways and runs the traffic control signals.

And, there is an important new assignment for electric energy. It's needed to help clean up and maintain a healthy and attractive environment. It takes electricity to recycle waste and sewage, to desalt sea water, to operate electrostatic air cleaners, to energize mass transit systems. Many of our future automobiles and trucks may be operated by electricity.

Now, just when we need it most, clean electric energy stands ready to perform its greatest services to mankind. Our objective is to see that supplies will be sufficient.
