More Turkeys Released In Potlatch Canyon

Bill Gorgen, Conservation Officer for the Idaho Fish and Game Department, prepares to release one of three Tom turkeys recently planted in Potlatch Canyon while Bud Eichner, president of the Kendrick Wildlife Club looks on.

The latest plantings of the three mature Toms, brings the number of turkeys released in Potlatch Canyon to 33 since the original 15 birds were trapped in the St. Maries area and brought down in an attempt to start a flock in this region.

Gorgen said last week he had received very few reports of sightings of these birds and he would appreciate it if anyone sees any of the flock to relay the information on to him.

RICE SHAPES NEW FROZEN PRODUCT

A new frozen rice product called Rice shapes will give a new look to that old familiar grain of rice and increase rice consumption, reports Mrs. Joanne Anderson, Extension Home Economist, University of Idaho.

Rice shapes: squares, circles, triangles or even stars will be made from a mixture of rice and flavored ingredients covered with a layer of ground potato or pinto bean flakes. It is then tried to form a thin, crisp crust with a tender chewy interior. They can be eaten as a snack. They also can be served as a carbohydrate

Grange Met In New Hall For First Time Mar. 6

Kendrick Grange held their first meeting in the new hall on March 6th at 6:30 p. m. beginning with a delicious chicken supper. Thirty-three members from Kendrick and thirty-one guests were present. Kendrick Grange had the pleasure of the presence of Kendrick's future medical doctor Michael Cryhold and assistant Keith Bird accompanied by Mrs. Lillian Meske. Everyone enjoyed the opportunity to get acquainted and visit with them and are also pleased that Kendrick will again have their own M. D.

Idaho's State Soil Scientist Darrell Gallup of the Soil Conservation Service of Boise and members of the Moscow Grange were also present to make this a most pleasant and memorable meeting. Pomona Grange Master Edwin Condell and State Youth Superintendent Mildred Condell of Troy Grange and Pomona Lecturer Betty Lindsay of Kennedy Ford and Mrs. K. D. Ingle of Mt. Deary Grange were also present. For the program slides of Thailand were shown and narrated by State Soil Scientist Darrell Gallup. He had spent one and a half years there as a U. S. government representative, and lived among the natives trying to help them improve their agricultural conditions and had much to offer about the country.

He stated it is a very hot climate. Usually 95 to 100 degrees daytime and 85 to 90 degrees at night with extreme temperature running at 115 to 117 degrees.

Living conditions are very primitive and have much to be desired in sanitation. His pictures showed some steps and conditions of the raising and harvesting of rice and other crops; the crowded conditions of cities and traffic congestion and muddy country roads. Their farming equipment is very primitive consisting of such things as bullocks and wooden plows. Also he talked of their religion belief and had pictures of a Buddhist Temple built in 1750 at Bangkok.

The program was most interesting and informative and everyone enjoyed meeting Mr. Gallup.

The chairman of Women's Activities, Mrs. Roy Glenn reported on recent dinners served by the Grange. She also spoke of getting stainless steel tableware for our new hall and more M. J. B. coffee lids are needed to help acquire coffee makers.

Roy Glenn reported for the agriculture committee. He urged everyone to plant a tree stating, "you protein or a partial meat substitute of a balanced meal.

Rice shapes are a creation of research conducted by USDA Agricultural Research Service in Berkeley, California, Mrs. Anderson says.

may not get to enjoy it but your grandchildren or some one else will, in years to come." He says forestry trees must be spoken for now at the University of Idaho.

Eugene Taylor speaking for the Legislative committee reminded all that No. 3 license plates are about to expire. Also everyone over 65 must come in before May 15 to receive their exemption in taxes.

He also announced the Latah Co. Chamber of Commerce will hold a meeting on "Identifying Property" at 7:30 p. m., April 15 at the Tamarock Cafe in Troy.

Announcements were made: A Youth and Young Marrieds Conference will be held at Mica Flats Mar. 31st.

The Pomona Jamboree will be held at Moscow Grange Hall, Saturday night, March 31st beginning with a 6:30 potluck supper.

The next meeting of Kendrick Grange will be held at 8:00 p. m. at Grange Hall. The program for the evening will be "The Talent Show." Please call Mrs. L. W. Helmgartner with your number and come for the fun!

GRANGE NEWS: Progress Report

The first meeting was enjoyed in the new hall by the Grangers and their guests on Tuesday, March 6th. All improvements were inspected and appreciated. There is more to be done before it will be complete. During the past week, paneling was placed on the walls of the hallway leading to the ladies restroom, giving a nice finished appearance.

A fluorescent light for the kitchen was donated by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Olderness.

Others make contributions were Mr. and Mrs. Edd Kent and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Blewett.

A letter of commendation was received from Abrams Hardware, complimenting the Grange on their achievement and community spirit. They also contributed a specified amount of paint or other merchandise to the equivalent for the building fund.

POMONA GRANGE

Nine members of Kendrick Grange drove to Potlatch and attended a Pomona Grange meeting at the Rock Creek Grange where they enjoyed a delicious 6:30 potluck supper. Forty-nine Pomona members were present and two guests from Rathdrum. Two new members were taken into Pomona Grange.

The Grange Master of Rock Creek is Mickey Nicholson, who is a former Kendrick girl and will be remembered as Mickey Harris. Kendrick members enjoyed this.

It was announced by Pomona chairman of Women's Activities, Leona Sawyer that judging for the National Sewing Contest will be held in Moscow on May 9th (ninth).

Nellie Handlin reported she had received news from all the Granges in the county, so should have a good report of Latah County Granges in the State Grange paper.

It was announced that practice for the Fifth Degree will be held Sunday evening, April 27th, at Mt. Deary Grange.

April 27th, the State Officers meeting will be held at 8:00 p. m. at the Kendrick Grange.

A contribution of ten dollars was made to the National Youth fund.

The Pomona secretary said that all Latah County Pomona Grange Memorial donations go to help support Idaho State Youth Fund.

Those attending from Kendrick Grange were Mr. and Mrs. Manning Onstott, Vera Hutchison, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wolff, Mr. and Mrs. Olderness, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Ingle.

Interest yields on U. S. Savings Bonds have increased seven times since the first series E Bond was sold on May 1, 1941. The current rate is 5 1/4 percent, if held to maturity, and E Bonds bought today mature in 5 years, 10 months. Outstanding E and H Bonds also benefit so there is no need to replace them with new Bonds.

Better Weather Aids Employment Rate

The number of persons seeking unemployment insurance benefits in Latah County decreased due to the mild weather which allowed construction workers to resume work. Frank J. Hartstein, Moscow office manager for the Idaho Department of Employment reported today that there are currently 391 persons in the county receiving such benefits. This compares with 409 persons seeking jobless pay a week ago, and 381 idled workers at the same time one year ago. Hartstein's report indicated that there were 164 checks coming into the Moscow area, down from 175 last week and just slightly more than last year's 106. At Potlatch 75 persons are seeking benefits, increased by one from last week's 74, but down from last year's 81. The Genesee area remained generally the same with 15 for last week and this week and 13 for last year. Ten persons were placed on jobs during the week. Up from last year's 7 but less than last year's 15. 19 new jobs were received and at the close of the week there were 37 positions available. Current listings include a pressman, secretary, yardman, bookkeeper, furniture salesperson, farmworkers, domestic workers, and experienced auto mechanic.

Effect of Protein Intake On Calcium Retention

Although high protein diets are very popular, recent studies show they might have harmful health effects. Current research indicates too much protein might cause the body to lose large amounts of calcium," says Esther Wilson, extension nutrition specialist, U. of I. "Calcium belongs to the class of nutrients known as macro-minerals," Mrs. Wilson explains. "It is an essential component of bones and teeth. It must be present for blood clots to form and for good muscle tone and nerve function. "If more calcium is needed than the body gets in food, reserves stores are drawn out of the bones, causing them to become brittle and porous." Mrs. Wilson cites a recent study at the U. of Wisconsin. Six men between ages 18 and 20, were put on diets alternately low then high in protein. While on the high protein diet the subjects lost calcium at a much higher rate than when on the low protein diets. In fact, they lost more calcium than their food intake provided. Although the experiment subjects ate excessive amounts of protein, 113 grams per day when 60 grams is recommended for this age group, Mrs. Wilson points out this is not unusual for certain groups. She says many athletes are on high protein diets, due to popular misconception that extra protein will improve muscular performance. While more research is needed to confirm a definite relationship between a high protein intake and a corresponding high loss of body calcium, Mrs. Wilson notes that people in the United States tend to eat more protein than they need. For example, when people eat out, they order a huge steak when a small one would be sufficient. "Protein is an essential nutrient," Mrs. Wilson says, "but the body just uses what it needs as the cells constantly build and break down. Very little is stored in body tissue."

PREVENTION OF POISONINGS

Each year many Americans are poisoned accidentally and unnecessarily. Prevention of poisonings is mostly a matter of good judgment and common sense, along with a few basic precautions that are readily applied in any household. To prevent accidental poisoning in your home the Idaho Medical Association suggests the following basic safety rules: Keep all drugs, poisonous substances and household chemicals out of the reach of children. Do not leave discarded medicines where children or pets might get at them. Do not store nonedible products on shelves used for storing foods. Never tell the children you are giving them candy when you are giving them medicine. Never give or take medicine in the dark. Read labels before using chemical products. Do not keep unnecessary or unlabeled drugs and chemicals in the home. Never re-use containers or chemical substances. Do not transfer poisonous substances to unlabeled containers.

SPRING BEAR SHOOT PROTECT YOUNG CUBS

Resident bear hunters are reminded by the Idaho Fish and Game Department that a $2.00 tag is now required to take this species except in those units open to year round hunting. Any person holding a $25.00 nonresident bear license also must have a $2.00 bear tags to hunt in any unit in the state.

Bear hunting, which actually started last September, as variable endings in the spring of 1973. Closures start April 30 in the Panhandle units. Other closings are units 32 and 32A in the Little Weiser River and Squaw Butte section close May 15, May 31 in designated units of the Clearwater drainage, four Hells Canyon units and units 33 and 39 on the South Fork of the Payette and Boise River drainage; and June 30 in other designated units. All other management units in the state except designated game preserves (unless otherwise specified in the regulations) are open year-round for the taking of one bear per season.

Black bear generally come out of hibernation with relatively unrubbed pelts that hold up for several weeks before starting to shed and showing bare spots. A bear just out of its winter den does a lot of prowling in search of food, often on fairly open hillsides. Hunters glassing the slopes carefully (binoculars are invaluable) have usually good opportunities to spot black bears feeding on green vegetation.

These animals are much easier to locate in the spring before other food sources become available as they scatter.

Game managers urge that spring bear hunters take a good long look at a bear before they shoot. Careful glassing may save shooting a sow with cubs. It is unlawful to kill either a cub or a sow with cubs at side. Cubs of the year may not survive without the sow.

John Beecham, Carey, game research biologist, is working on a continuing program of radio tagging and marking and contacting bear hunters, houndsmen and residents of areas having high bear population densities. The purpose of the study is to learn bear densities in traditional bear hunting areas and to compare with other areas in the state with similar vegetation.

THE HICCUPS

The next time you develop a case of hiccups, try swallowing one teaspoon of dry, white granulated sugar suggests the Idaho Medical Assn.

The treatment is laboratory tested, and at last count worked in nine out of 20 cases.

In a few cases, those cured later got hiccups again, but the sweet treatment relieved them again.

Hiccups are the result of involuntary contractions of the diaphragm muscle which controls breathing.

Although hiccups are usually no more than a short-lived nuisance, when prolonged they can debilitate the body and even cause death.

PFI To Curtail Potlatch Plant Employment and Production

Lewiston: A major curtailment in production and employment at the Potlatch unit of Potlatch Forests, Inc. is scheduled for June 1 it was announced by John M. Richards, Western Division Vice President for PFT's Wood Products Group. The declining timber supply from the St. Joe National Forest was cited as the reason for the reduction.

The plant presently operates on a two-shift basis employing a total of about 240 people. The operation will be reduced to one shift employing about 100.

A review of St. Joe National Forest timber sales for the current five year period points up the problem according to the company vice president. "The forest management plan for the St. Joe calls for an allowable cut of 100 million board feet of timber each year. They were right on target in 1969 and actually exceeded the figure by five million feet the following year.

"The volume of lumber sold in 1971 nose-dived to only 75 million and dropped even lower in 1972, to 65 million feet. During the first half of the current fiscal year, less than five million board feet was sold and the firm sell program for the second half is only 23.5 million feet. Even if the tentative sell program of an additional 50 million feet were accomplished before June 30 (end of the current fiscal year), they would still be far short of meeting the allowable cut figure and it doesn't appear likely the tentative sell figure will be reached," Richards said.

The timber supply situation on the St. Joe National Forest was worsened despite the efforts and concern of Region I Forest Service personnel Richards stated.

"A substantial capital expenditure will be made by PFI to increase operating efficiency and raw material utilization at the Potlatch mill. This investment will enable us to operate competitively on a one-shift basis rather than face complete closure," Richards said.

Forest products industry spokesmen have been expressing alarm and concern for many months about dwindling supplies of timber being offered for sale from National Forests, primarily in the northern Idaho-western Montana region. Forest Service officials have cited environmental pressures, lack of money, and reduced personnel as reasons for the decline.

Mills partially or completely dependent on this public source of logs have been feeling the pinch and six small mills have closed down in the north central Idaho area during the past 18 months. Declining timber supplies was cited as the major reason for the closures.

Efforts will be made to find jobs at other PFI plants for those employees who will be losing their jobs at the Potlatch unit June 1 Richards said. Employment opportunities will be available at the new cedar products mill under construction at the Jaye plywood plant near Pierce. That plant, scheduled for initial opening in June, will utilize defective

HEART IMPAIRMENT

Many Idahoans are living active satisfying lives, even though they have some degree of heart impairment, observes the Idaho Medical Association.

After suffering a heart attack, it is understandable that some people are fearful of resuming activity. But when these fears are exaggerated they actually harm the patient and his heart by denying activity needed for good health.

Getting back to work is a tonic for a person who has been disabled. This applies as much to a heart patient as to the person who has suffered some other illness or injury. The heart patient may not be able to resume the complete range of former activity, but should try to reach the safe limit of his functional capacity.

The patient should follow the advice of his physician who can evaluate his capacity. Becoming more active often relieves financial and emotional strains within the heart patient's family.

Resuming some activity is good for the patient's heart and health.

cedar logs and pieces in the production of split fencing materials.

"We will also work closely with Idaho and Washington State employment placement personnel in our efforts to find jobs for those unable to find work at other PFI operations," Richards said.

"No major curtailments are planned for the immediate future, Richards emphasized.

Mrs. Albert Lawrence called on Mrs. Rubenstein Monday. Marie Bothum visited her mother, Laura Reichenberg Tuesday morning before attending the Extension meeting at Teakan.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Gildow returned to their home in Langley, Wash. on Friday after spending the past week with the George Finkes. They took the Finkes out to Lewiston Thursday in honor of their birthdays. Mr. and Mrs. Gildow had recently returned from a trip to Australia, New Zealand and Tahiti.

Agatha Perkins attended the Clearwater Valley Garden Club Dist. officers meeting and luncheon at the Pancake House in Lewiston Monday.

Mrs. Deloris Czmowski, Agatha Perkins and Alma Betts were among those to enjoy the Farm Institute at Teakan Grange-Friday. Those who did not make the effort to attend don't know what they are missing as the program was very interesting. Hope to see you next year.

Daisy Stage and Altha Rathbone were Kendrick visitors Saturday. Mrs. George Finke spent Saturday with her mother, Mrs. Chas. Baack, while George was a Lewiston visitor. Mrs. Don Christensen spent Sunday afternoon with her mother Alma Betts while Don motorcycled to Lewiston to visit his mother, Dola Christensen.

Mrs. Albert Lawrence visited Stella McIver Saturday who had returned home from St. Joseph's Hospital. On Sunday afternoon Mrs. Albert Lawrence and daughters were Lewiston shoppers.

Enroll Now For Medical Insurance Part of Medicare

People 65 and over who haven't already signed up for the medical insurance part of Medicare can enroll now through April 2 at any Social Security office, according to D. Gene Shaw, Social Security district manager in Lewiston.

Medical insurance helps pay doctor bills and other medical expenses. It is the voluntary part of Medicare, funded by individual premiums and general revenues from the Federal Government. The basic premium is $5.80 a month through April 1973. It will be increased to $6.30 a month starting July 1, 1973.

You have 7 months to sign up for the medical insurance part of Medicare the first time. You can apply in the 3 months before you are 65, the month you become 65, or the 3 months thereafter. But you must apply during the 3-month period before you are 65 to have protection beginning the month you become 65. Otherwise your protection will begin with a later month.

After your first sign-up period ends you can sign up only during a general enrollment period, the first 3 months of every year. If you delay signing up for more than a year, however, you pay a higher premium.

This year's general enrollment period has been extended through Monday, April 2 because March 31 falls on Saturday.

Previously, you had to sign up in an enrollment period that began with in 3 years after you became eligible for medical insurance or within 3 years after your protection stopped because you cancelled. The 3-year deadline was eliminated by the 1972 amendments to the Social Security law.

"If you cancel your medical insurance, you can re-enroll only once, the manager said.

Nine out of 10 people 65 and over are enrolled in the medical insurance part of Medicare. Last year the medical insurance program paid over $2 billion in benefits on behalf of more than 10 and a half million people.

The medical insurance part of Medicare supplements the Medicare hospital insurance program which helps pay for hospital bills and certain post-hospital expenses.

Medicare is administered by the Social Security Administration of the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. The Lewiston Social Security office is at 1617-19 Avenue. The phone number is 746-2333.
