and especially in print . . . _ To come to a place and meet people who have strong feelings, and also strong wills . . .

To know within yourself that you too have both of these, and have expressed them freely . . .

To find a welcome so strong that you are baffled by it, delighted by it, and inspired by it to think of new ideas which would, which must, benefit the community and the outermost areas . .

To know also inside that your words could be taken as meant from the heart, or meant to be the smoothest trickery possible to imagine ... To find out that, in fact, a healthy emotional and medical combination is working the best, when it is done many times over, by the efforts of both you and the person you are seeing .

. , and to find that the result is a portion of people who stay be-

and to find a portion also who develop strong negative feelings about the whole thing.
To find that both portions are outspoken, and the result is a misunder-standing which standing which grows, instead of Defeats Lapwai 6-2 fading away

To wonder many times over how

Bob Parks pitched a one best to help correct that misunder-standing—to consider it a hurtle to jump over, not a dead end.

To discover that money, needed to give back the best care, is now not at your use, but by the decisions of a few, has become only a loan and to learn that money is not available for use when you need it the most because the ones you yourself elected are not at all willing to meet and talk about it, at all. To find that rumors are, as you suspected already anyway, very, very deadly and painful, not just to you, but to many people . . . To decide to diaregard them, because they are not true—but lose ground anyway, because somehow they continue to multiply, and not give way to common sense.

To know that because of all this you still have not been able to tell and show people what you think and believe could happen, in a very good and beautiful way...

And also to realize that there are lead pipes against you in the streets, but still believe ...
And also to realize that the original of the streets in the streets and also to realize that the original streets in the streets and its streets.

Kendrick Grange Thursday Evening

Nineteen members of Kendrick Grange met at the Grange Hall in regular session Tuesday, June 5 at 8 p. m.
A report was made by the Master and the chairman of Women's activities on the Grange projects of the Locust Blossom Festival. She also presented gifts to Sewing Contest winners-Mrs. Wayne Heimgartner for winning first at the local grange and Mrs. Dean Brocke and Mrs. Lawrence Heimgartner for placing first on the local and Pomona levels. The program for the evening, written and arranged by Mrs. Frank Benscoter, was based on Faith, Hope and Charity. It was presented by the three Graces assisted by the Lecturer. Each member received a corsage. A short article about Flag Day was also given by Mrs. Benscoter and to help remind everyone to fly their flags at least on special occasions, she presented each member with a small flag.

Announcements were made by Engene Taylor and Gerald Ingle accompanied by an invitation for all to attend. A Flag Day celebration will be held at the Elks Temple in Moscow June 13th. Dedication of the new Law Enforcement Center at Moscow, will be held June 16 at 1:30.

More progress has been made on completion of the hall. Installation of the carpeting on the side wall has been completed. An electric range has been added to the kitchen equipequipment, compliments of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Davis of Pullman. A donation to the Building Fund was made by the Foster and Bateman families.

Everyone is reminded of Pomona Picnic to be held at Pomona Park on July 15, Kennedy Ford will be hosts. The next Kendrick Grange meeting will be held June 19 at 8 at the Grange Hall. The program will be given by the Chairman of Women's Activities on

GET SPECIAL PERMITS TO SELL WILD ANIMALS

The Idaho Fish and Game Department today announced that existing regulations require a permit to import the following animals skunks, raccoons, bobeats, coyotes, bats wolves coatimundis, mongoose and fox.

The reason for the regulation is to prevent rables from spreading among wildlife species from other parts of the United States. Conservation officers periodically contact pet store owners, airlines and truckers to explain details of this permit system.

> NOTICE! Al's Barber Shop Troy will be CLOSED

Mondays and Tuesdays Until Further Notice

PLEASE NOTICE

I am forced to close my business due to poor health. Marion and I would like to thank all our friends and customers for their patronage and friendship throughout the years.

We will have a public sale June 14, 15 and 16 in Rowdy's to sell equipment and miscelleanous items. Also to those owing me, accounts may be paid by mailing to P.O. Box 185 or on those days of sale.

Thank You All-Marion and Ellen Rowden
