

Howerton-Farrington Vows Exchanged

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Howerton are at home at Kendrick following a wedding trip to British Columbia, Canada.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Farrington of Juliaetta, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Howerton, also of Juliaetta.

The couple exchanged wedding vows July 27 at the Cameron Emmanuel Lutheran Church in a floral setting of white gladioli, pink daisies, red roses and carnations accented with red and white gingham bows. The double ring ceremony, officiated by Rev. Theo Meake, included a religious candle ceremony symbolizing the unity of marriage.

The bride wore a floor-length empire gown overlaid with chiffon and accented with hand crocheted appliques. She wore a ruby necklace given to her by her grandmother, Mrs. Belle Farrington. The necklace had been presented to Mrs. Farrington by her husband, James, 52 years ago.

Mrs. Mike Rishling of Kendrick was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Dan Johnson of Hood River, Ore., and Mrs. Ron Tweit of Juliaetta, both sisters of the bride, and Debbie Wood of Deary, a niece of the groom. Serving as junior bridesmaids were Lisa and Brenda Wood of Deary, also nieces of the groom. Flower girls were Rebecca Johnson of Hood River, Ore., niece of the bride, and Lynette Kress of Lewiston, niece of the groom.

The bride's attendants wore floor-length red and white checked gingham peasant dresses and white eyelet aprons. Each carried a long-stemmed red rose, wrapped in white satin and tied with a red and white checked gingham bow. In their hair they wore wreaths of red roses, white baby's-breath, and pink daisies.

Roger Witt of Juliaetta was best man. Groomsmen were Ron Tweit of Juliaetta, brother-in-law of the bride. Ushers were Jerry Galloway and Mike Rishling of Kendrick. The twin nephews, Robert and Wade Kress of Lewiston, were candlelighters. Bearing rings for the couple are heart-shaped pillows of red and white checked gingham, were Brian Johnson of Hood River, Ore., nephew of the bride, and Brian O'Conner of Clarkston, nephew of the groom.

The groom and his attendants wore red and white checkered shirts and white ties.

Robert Land and Ann Meake of Kendrick sang "The Twelfth of Never," "Amazing Grace" and "O Perfect Love," accompanied at the piano by Lisa Lyons, Jewell Denner of Juliaetta was the organist.

Assisting at the wedding and the reception, which followed on the church lawn were Debra Johnson of Kendrick; Teresa and Duane Howerton of Kendrick, cousins of the groom; Mrs. Gerald Wood of Deary, Mrs. James Kress of Lewiston and Linda O'Conner of Clarkston, all sisters of the groom; Mrs. Dave Klatt and Mrs. Nels Sneve of Kendrick and Mrs. Dean Weyen of Moscow. Betty was graduated from Kendrick High School and will return to the University of Idaho this fall as a sophomore in Home Economics, Child Development and elementary education.

Steve, also a graduate of KHS, will be a senior at the University of Idaho, majoring in Industrial Education.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Glen Howerton, and his sisters, Mrs. James Kress, Mrs. Gerald Wood and Linda O'Conner, were hostesses for a rehearsal dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Howerton of Juliaetta.

No Burning

With the fire danger still high despite the few showers last week, the City of Juliaetta has ordered a halt to all outside burning within the city limits until further notice. This includes trash barrel fire, weed burning and any other type, whether supervised or not.

The city also reminded that water sprinkling restrictions are still in force.

New Arrivals—

Hensen

Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Hensen are the proud parents of a daughter, born to them Monday, August 27, at 11:17 p. m. at Grattan Memorial Hospital in Moscow. The little miss weighed in at 7 pounds, 8 ounces, and has been named Marnie Michele. She joins two brothers, Tony and Chad.

Grandparents of Mrs. Grace Groselose of Juliaetta and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hensen of Missoula.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Heppner and family vacationed at Ocean Shores on the Washington coast last week and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Horschel Rouden in Seattle and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Moe in Bridgeport.

Gilbert Lublow of Milwaukee, Wis., arrived Tuesday to visit with his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lublow. He completed the distance, 1912 miles, on his motorcycle. Following a sightseeing trip to Dworshak, St. Maries and Bovill, taking many scenic photos enroute, he departed Sunday morning for his return trip home.

Mrs. Adrian Johns was a guest last week of her son, Don, and family in Lewiston. On Friday she accompanied her sister and family on a trip to the coast, returning home on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Groselose and family and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Manrow and family were Sunday guests in the John Groselose home.

Mrs. Verna Vincent, Mrs. Wilma Jones, and Mrs. Lois Thayer, all of Clarkston, were Tuesday morning callers at the home of their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Fairfield. Mrs. Thayer stayed for a longer visit, returning home Friday morning.

Mr. L. C. Groselose and Mrs. Gertrude Pederson were Thursday afternoon callers in the Fairfield home. Chris and Henry Tachtanz of Southwick were Saturday evening callers and Mrs. Erma Smith of Lewiston was a Sunday evening visitor.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Butler spent a few days last week touring Lake Louise, Banff, Calgary and Fort Steele in Canada and through Glacier Park in Montana. On Sunday they called on Mr. and Mrs. Gary Ggers and sons in Bovill and Mr. and Mrs.

Baumgartner Barn Burns

Geneese—Glenn Baumgartner lost a large barn, hay that was stored in it, a wheel tractor and spray equipment and other miscellaneous items last Wednesday morning when fire from a cause not yet known burned the structure to the ground in the early hours.

Glenn's son David first discovered the fire when he was awakened and looked out the window about 3:20 a.m. The barn, located about 250 feet from the house, was already in flames. After arousing the rest of the family, the Geneese Community Firemen and the General Rural Fire Department were called.

More than a dozen firemen and the three rural trucks answered the call, but it was too late to save the barn or its valuable hay. A corral adjoining the barn also burned.

According to Glenn, the barn, 64 x 42 feet and 40 feet high, was partially insured, but the insurance did not cover the contents which included 80 tons of hay, five tons of chop, about one thousand dollars worth of riding equipment plus the tractor and spray equipment. Total estimated loss by the fire was placed at $20,000.

The flames from the burning barn also set fire and burned 10 acres of wheat and barley stubble on the Baumgartner farm and the adjacent farm of Harold Kluss.

Cooler and Showers

The prolonged drought was broken late last week, but just barely. Friday of last week the skies clouded over and showers fell intermittently during the day. There was never enough to wet the ground in under trees and Roy Silflow, who was out at the ballfield Friday night watching practice, said he had been plowing and "we were kicking up dust all day."

The showers were apparently brought in by a cold front from Canada and the temperatures dropped down ten or fifteen degrees from the previous week's high. With variable cloudiness the mercury was staying in the low and middle 80's and dropping down to the low fifties at night. Despite the showers the fire danger is still high and all residents are urged to still exercise extreme caution to prevent any open fire from starting.

Stores To Close For Labor Day

The post offices, banks and almost all stores in Geneese, Juliaetta and Kendrick will be closed in observance of the annual Labor Day holiday on Monday, Sept. 3. This closure includes the grocery stores in the three towns, so residents are reminded to do their weekend shopping Saturday for the two days.

Some stores, such as Fleming Equipment in Kendrick, are planning to close Saturday too, to have a three-day holiday.

Plan November Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hedler, of Juliaetta, announce the engagement of their daughter, Judy to Dick Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Green, of Geneese. Judy is a graduate of Kendrick High School and of Practical Nurses

School, in Clarkston. Green, a graduate of Geneese High School, is employed by Goodman Oil Company. The wedding date has been set for November 9th.

Grange Plans for Fair

Pomona Grange—

Pomona Grange will meet Saturday, Sept. 8, at Troy Grange Hall for a 6:30 supper. Members are asked to bring either a salad or a vegetable dish. Election of officers will be held.

Kendrick Grange News—Nineteen members of Kendrick Grange met at the Grange Hall Tuesday evening, August 21 at 8:00.

The secretary read an invitation to all Kendrick Grange members from Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Davis, inviting them to attend a celebration honoring the marriage of their daughter, Joy, and Stewart Huggins, to be held September 9th, from two until five in the afternoon at the Galena Room of the Student Union at Moscow, Idaho.

In the absence of the chairman of Women's Activities, a report was made by her assistant, Mrs. Wayne Heimgartner, on the contest of baked products held at the hall August 7. She also reported plans are being made for Kendrick Grange to serve at the food booth at the Latah County Fair Sept. 13, 14 and 15.

Each Grange woman is requested to make four fruit pies for this. If they are made ahead of time, they can be put in the Grange locker at Blewett by getting the key from Mrs. Blewett. Any member wishing to do something other than bake a pie, can contact Mabel Glenn as there are many other jobs to be accomplished for the success of this project. It would be very helpful if pies are marked as to the kind they are.

The Pomona Contest for breads, fruit cake and needle work will be held at Moscow Grange Hall Wednesday, Sept. 5. The needlework includes edging, embroidered pillowcases, a dressed doll, tablecloths, afghans, socks, sweater or mittens. Anyone wishing to enter any of these please contact Mrs. Roy Glenn or Mrs. Wayne Heimgartner before Sept. 5th.

Lecturer, Mrs. Lawrence Heimgartner, conducted a discussion at the request of the National Grange to help point the way of the Grange of the future. This included any suggestions for the improvement of the Grange. All present participated and many suggestions arose.

Mrs. Heimgartner also requested anyone having entries for the art and photography contest to please get them to her right away.

The thought for the day was taken from the Lecturer's Bulletin and was entitled "It Is Yours to Decide". Grange Master Manning Onstott stated more work days will be needed to complete work on the hall.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 4 at 8 p. m. at the Grange Hall. At this time plans will be completed for serving at the Latah County Fair.

Football Season Opens Friday; Tigers at Prairie, Geneese at Clearwater Valley

Both Ozzie Kanikkeberg of Geneese High and Dick Ruark of Kendrick High are putting their respective teams through the final training sessions in preparation for the opening of the 1973 football season this

Friday evening, August 31. The Tigers of KHS will be at Prairie for their first game while the Bulldogs of GHS go down to Kooleska for a game with the Clearwater Rams. Both games are at night.

Tigers Have Veterans

Coach Dick Ruark, who moved up from assistant last season to head coach this year, predicted some "surprises" for the fans and opponents of his KHS Tigers as he sent his squad through a rough practice session Friday night getting ready for the Prairie battle.

With ten lettermen back from last year's squad, Ruark was cautiously optimistic about his team's chances in the grid wars this year. Back to form the foundation of his team are lettermen veterans Ron Silflow, John Hedler, Ed Anderson, Marty Clemenhagen, Dennis Lukehart, James Souders, Mike Czmowski, Vern Reed, Ron Whittem and Kelly Clemenhagen.

"Above average speed," was the way Coach Ruark described his tentative starting backfield of Dennis Lukehart, Marty Clemenhagen and James Souders who will be joined and directed by Junior quarterback Kelley Clemenhagen. "We'll have some good passing in Kelly," the Tiger coach predicted.

The probable starting lineup for the Tigers Friday night will be: Ends Ron Silflow and Ken Brown; tackles: Ed Anderson and Vern Reed; guards: Ron Whittem and Mike Czmowski; center: Mike Boe; backs: Kelly Clemenhagen, Dennis Lukehart, Marty Clemenhagen and James Souders.

The Tigers will have some weight in the line this year, too. Ed Anderson will contribute 210 pounds and Vern Reed tipped in at a hefty 215. Mike Boe weighs 185 with Czmowski going 170.

In all, 33 hopefuls turned out for football this year and for the first time in many seasons a KHS coach stated he had depth in the backfield.

Bill Lamunyon, an ISU graduate, is assistant to Ruark. Marty Clemenhagen and James Souders are co-captains of the Tigers for the 1973 season.

Tiger Schedule

The 8-game schedule for the Tigers this year includes four home games and four away. The Tigers will debut before the home folks Friday evening, Sept. 7, against the Asotin High School team.

KCK Met

The Kendrick Camper Klub met for their regular potluck dinner and business meeting on Monday evening at the home of Henry Reil.

It was decided to have a camp-out over Labor Day weekend at Whitehouse campground on the Lochsa. Sept. 15-16 a camp-out is scheduled at Wallawa, Ore.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Erickson invited the group to their home in Lewiston for the Sept. meeting.

The Latah Fiddlers will be with us in October.

A most enjoyable evening of visiting was reported by all.

Leland-Cameron

Homemakers To Meet

Members of the Leland-Cameron Homemakers Club will meet Tuesday, Sept. 4 at 1:30 at the home of Mrs. Ida Newman.

All members are urged to attend as there is much business to be presented and acted upon.

Drill Team Dinner

There will be a potluck dinner for all K.H.S. Drill Team members Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. in the park.

Saturday evening callers of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gerle were Mr. and Mrs. Ferd Puetz of Lewiston.

Monday visitors in the John Blankenship home were Miss Judy Martin, Alex Lawrence and Albert Hoppe, all of Clarkston, and George Flink.

Bulldogs Are Young

Coach Ozzie Kanikkeberg faces the 1973 football season with just five returning lettermen as he rounds out the pre-game training sessions and prepares for the opening tilt of the campaign Friday night against the Clearwater Valley Rams. Thirty-three turned out to form the Geneese Bulldogs this year. Five seniors are among these and three are out for football for the first time.

"We'll slow this year," Ozzie said last Thursday night as he watched the Bulldogs in practice scrimmage. Hurt by the graduation exercises last spring, the Bulldog coach will be putting two sophomores in the probable starting backfield for the opening game. Jay Roach, a sophomore, will be the tentative starting fullback and Dan Stout, a 160-lb. sophomore will be quarterbacking for the Bulldogs. Stout looked strong and poised in the practice sessions. Rounding out the probable starting backfield will be Laurin Morscheck, younger brother of Bill and Fred Jr., two of the best backs ever produced by the GHS Bulldogs. At the wingback will be Senior Jeff Boyd, who was last season's back-up quarterback. Ozzie said he decided to go with Stout as QB this year as "we've got a young team anyway and we can build on this."

Although smaller all around this season, the Bulldogs still can count on the services of veterans Curt Herman and Jim Evans at guard and tackle. These two were the only ones who appeared to have nailed down a starting spot on the line this year.

Summing up what he thought of his season chances, Kanikkeberg said, "We're going to be tough on defense, and if we can score a little bit, who knows, we just might win a few."

Back To Smaller League

Geneese will be back in the league with schools its own size this year, after a successful campaign against the larger institutions. In its nine-game schedule the Bulldogs have four home games and five away—starting with Clearwater Valley this Friday.

Woods Closures Up Unemployment Claims

13 Latah county job seekers were given help in locating work during the past week through the Moscow office of the Idaho Department of Employment. Frank J. Hartstein, Moscow office manager said that this was just a few more than the 9 given job finding help during the previous week, and compared favorably with the 11 so helped during the same week in 1972. 28 jobs remained open at the end of the week, mostly for workers with experience or training, and are for permanent, full-time workers.

Workers continued to file new claims for unemployment insurance as woods closures forced loggers into idleness. 27 workers submitted applications for jobless pay during the week, 2 more than the previous week. The total number of persons in the county seeking unemployment compensation rose to 297 from the previous week's 290, and was far above the 212 figure reported for mid-August a year ago.

Extrusion of the blocks or soil containers in germination tray must be done by hand. Two to three people can extrude and seed about 2,000 containers per day. The automated process, once completed, should produce over 10,000 containers per day using the same number of people, Moden said.

Moden estimated the cost of the blocks by the process now used to be 13 cents each. The automated process would reduce the cost. Nursery-grown trees at the U of I nursery cost 2 to 4 cents each to produce.

Some work has been done in the past with containers of different materials and construction, but none has been totally successful, Moden said. Many have plastic shells which do not decompose and will restrict root development.

The extrusion machine forms soil blocks stable enough to withstand greenhouse watering and handling during transplanting without an outer covering. A hole for the plant taproot to follow is formed during the extrusion process, Moden said.

Another machine being developed will plant containers with their seedlings at set intervals, the U of I scientist noted. Only one person will be required to drive the tractor. Presently seedlings must be planted by hand. The planting machine can go anywhere a small crawler tractor can pull it, Moden said.

He noted further project work will include revegetating highway cuts. The process should enable cuts to be planted with grasses or low shrubs which will reduce erosion and improve the appearance of the cuts.

The project is funded primarily by the Agriculture Experiment Station, College of Agriculture, at the University of Idaho.

Pea Leaf Weevil Study Undertaken

Entomologists at the University of Idaho are studying the pea leaf weevil in hopes of controlling the pest which threatens the pea industry in northern Idaho and eastern Washington.

Unknown in this area until 1970, the weevil has caused serious economic damage to pea growers. Since it first appeared in the pea-growing regions of Idaho and Washington, total acreage planted to peas has decreased by one-third, although the price of peas has more than doubled in that time, according to Dr. Lawrence E. O'Keefe, associate entomologist in the university's College of Agriculture.

University of Idaho scientists with cooperation from entomologists from Washington State University and U. S. Department of Agriculture have begun a project to study the life habits of the pest to find possible ways of controlling it.

The damage is caused primarily by the adult weevil which feeds in early spring on leaves of plant seedlings, sometimes "eating the plant right back to the ground," O'Keefe said. Less serious damage includes stunting plant growth and lower yields.

The research team is trying to determine when and how the insect came to this area. Before 1970 the insect had been known in farming areas west of the Cascades from Oregon to southern British Columbia and Vancouver Island and in Europe. The weevil could have been carried over the mountains in baled hay or other feed materials, O'Keefe said.

Not enough to know about the insect and its life habits in this type of climate to be able to determine the most effective method and time to control them, O'Keefe noted. "For instance, scientists know that the pea leaf weevil can be extremely destructive to seedling peas. However, they do not know how many weevils it takes to destroy a crop or under what conditions this will happen."

Scientists want to determine the actual economic effect of the weevil on the pea industry in northern Idaho.

Forests Very Dry
 Missoula, Mt.—"Drier than baked cotton balls." "The most dangerous conditions I've ever seen."
 Scientists at the Northern Forest Fire Laboratory in Missoula were hard put to describe just how dry the Forest and range lands of the Northwest had become during this period of critical fire danger.
 Physicist Ralph Wilson has some dramatic evidence to prove that burning conditions in the National Forests throughout the Forest Service's Northern Region are as bad as they can get.
 "In punky, rotten wood, the kind laying around all the forested areas, said Wilson, "we are getting ignition almost every time with a cigarette butt." In a recent tests at the laboratory cigarettes were dropped on 70 small piles of dry, rotten wood taken from the forests. 90 percent of the time flames appeared in 4 to 5 minutes.

"It's frightening," Wilson said.
 He estimated that all dead wood, needles and grasses in the woods now, all the materials that fuel forest fires, have a moisture content of 2 to 4 percent. "We have started fires by just flicking ashes from a cigarette so you can imagine what sparks from a campfire would do right now."
 In another startling wind tunnel experiment, Wilson said, "a cigarette was crushed out at waist high, as many people do in the forest." The air flow was 0 to 4 miles per hour, virtually calm. "Embers traveled 10 to 20 feet and still started fires in material similar to the kind that is lying around all the mountain country in this Region right now."
 The National Weather Service confirmed Monday, August 20, that 1973 to date is the driest year on record. Based on averages, Missoula should have had 8.7 inches of rainfall so far this year, a Weather Service spokes-

CRIPPLING THE FAMILY CAR
 A new way of life is about to begin for the American motorist, and we probably won't like it. The automobile, the nation's prime mover of people, is—by law—to become even more expensive to drive and far less convenient as a form of transportation. As federal clean-air standards and new safety regulations combine with fuel shortages, our patience, our pocketbooks and our devotion to environmental protection will be sorely tried.
 Most of the measures proposed have aimed at reducing air pollution. Some areas of cities may be declared "off limits" to all cars, while parking rates may jump by $4 to $5 per day in other sections to discourage congestion. To conserve fuel and fur-er reduce pollution, speed limits are likely to be lowered. We may also see a new tax based on weight, horsepower and fuel consumption to discourage congestion. To conserve fuel and further reduce pollution, speed limits are likely to be lowered. We may also see a new tax based on weight, horsepower, and fuel consumption to discourage purchasing of large automobiles. With this will come a trend toward smaller cars and increased prices as more safety and antipollution devices are added.

 The changes that are coming will be restrictive, high in price and irritating. As usual, the consumer, this time the driving public, will have to pay the bill. And the bill will have to be paid not only in dollars, but in more precious coin of personal mobility, freedom and convenience.
 A happy family is but an earlier heaven.—Sir John Bowring

Warning Issued Young Bike Riders

Genesee—Police Chief Chet Green this week issued a firm reminder to young bicycle riders and their parents that city ordinances prohibit the riding of bicycles on city sidewalks . . . at any time. The children who ride bikes on the sidewalks pose a serious threat to shoppers who may step out of a store and into the path of a bicycle.

Street traffic, especially in Genesee, is seldom heavy enough to pose a hazard to bike riders, if common sense rules are obeyed, so there is little reason for children on bicycles to be on the sidewalks.

RIDING BIKES ON SIDEWALKS Riding on Sidewalks:

City Ordinance: 7-15-20 (A) It shall be unlawful for any person to ride a bicycle upon a sidewalk within a business district.

Lamp & Other Equipment: 7-15-21 (A) Every bicycle when in use at night shall be equipped with a lamp on the front which shall emit a white light visible from a distance of at least five hundred feet (500') to the front and with a red reflector on the rear of a type which shall be visible from all distances from fifty feet (50') to three hundred feet (300') to the rear when directly in front of a motor vehicle. A lamp emitting a red light visible from a distance of five hundred feet (500') to the rear may be used in addition to the red reflector.

Miss Emma Isaksen, 80, former Genesee resident, passed away August 21 at her home in Caldwell from a stroke suffered on her 80th birthday, August 17.

The daughter of Abraham and Mary Abraham, she was born in Genesee, and spent her childhood in the Genesee area. She lived in Tacoma for a short time, and moved to Caldwell in 1929.

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Ida Bourland, of Caldwell, with whom she made her home. A brother, Herman Isaksen passed away in March of this year.

Funeral services were held August 23 in Caldwell.

The Laverne Anderson family spent Sunday at Dworshak Dam.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Miller and three children of Vancouver, Washington were Thursday and Friday house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Rossebo.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Martson and daughter of Moscow were Sunday supper guests of the Rossebos.

Friday visitors in the Delos Odenborg home were Mrs. Al Zenger, Mrs. Don Huddleston and children and Mrs. Carleen Odenborg of Moscow. On Sunday, a potluck dinner was held at the Odenborg home. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Neil Odenborg and Julie Mr. and Mrs. Alan Odenborg, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Martin; Mr. and Mrs. August Mueller, Bruce and Reed; Mr. and Mrs. Bill McIntruss, and Lisa; Steve Myers; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Beck, Clarkston. Bob Konen of Lewiston was an afternoon visitor.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stout, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stout and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Diehl spent over last weekend salmon fishing at Westport. The John Stouts also visited with the Don Morkens in Seattle before returning home.

Mrs. Marie E. Davis, 78, Passes August 22

Marie E. (Wood) Davis, who was born December 2, 1894 to Thomas and Lucy Wood, pioneer farmers in the Bald Butte area, passed away Aug. 22 at the age of 78. She had been in ill health for several years with a heart condition and asthma.

She had been active in the Johnson Grange for many years and was recently awarded her 25-year pin. She was also a past member of the Union Flat Community Church.

She married Claude L. Davis on May 12, 1918 at Moscow, Idaho. After living on several farms, they located on a farm in the Union Flat community south of Pullman, where they lived until retirement in 1954. They then moved to Clarkston where Mr. Davis passed away September 9, 1967. After his death, she made her home with her son, Jim D. Davis of Colton and daughters, Mrs. W. L. (Doris) Pettichord, of Ahsahka, Ida. and Mrs. D. F. (Faye) Wright of Genesee, Idaho. In addition to her son and two daughters, she is survived by a brother, Lawrence Wood, Moscow, Idaho, and 12 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday with Kimball Funeral Home at Pullman officiating. Burial followed at Colton City Cemetery, Colton, Wash. Shelby Davis was soloist with Mrs. J. Aaron Davis, organist.

Active pallbearers were Melvin G. Kimball, Daniel E. McGreedy, John W. Breyer, C. W. Hood, and E. Ted Murray, all of Pullman and Jim Morrison, Albion.

Suggest Ways To Get Relief From Pesky Yellow Jackets

relief from this year's hordes of pesky yellow jackets which, because of their stinging ways, take the pleasure out of picnics and other outdoor activities?

Roland Portman, University of Idaho extension entomologist, suggests some solutions—other than staying indoors—to reduce the possibility of getting zzzapped by yellow jackets.

One way, says Portman, is to lure the pests away from the area you want to use. To do that, place rinds of watermelon, muskmelon and cantaloupe some distance from your activities. Yellow jackets will be attracted to the moisture and sugar in the melon rinds.

The insects are also drawn to food scraps in uncovered garbage cans and trash barrels. Therefore, it's a good idea to choose a location away from such receptacles.

Yellow jackets like meat, and that can be their undoing. Portman suggests suspending a dead trash fish or other meat over a container of water to which a small amount of household detergent has been added.

The insects, overloaded with a mouthful of flesh, fall into the water as they attempt to fly away. The detergent, because it reduces the water's surface tension, causes the fallen yellow jackets to sink and drown.

There are commercial bait preparations effective against yellow jackets. However, with this year's exceptionally large yellow jacket population, the cost of enough commercial material to control the insects would be prohibitive in most cases, Portman advises.

A natural tendency is to swat at the pests. To do so is likely to result in being stung. This is especially likely if one is perspiring.

How long will yellow jackets be around to threaten picnickers and other trying to enjoy the out of doors? Until the first killing frost of the fall eliminates yellow jacket activity for the season.

However, next year's crop is assured. Young yellow jacket queens over-winter in many protected places. They emerge in the spring, construct a small nest and lay eggs, starting a new colony. As many as 10,000 workers—they are the ones that come to your picnic—may be produced in a colony in one season.

Yellow jackets were able to multiply almost unhampered this year because of abundant food and unusual weather conditions last winter which reduced their natural checks, namely parasites, predators and diseases.

THE COMING OF AUTUMN

September 22 marks the beginning of that crisp, invigorating Autumn Season when the lazy days of summer must give way to school, football, the carving of jack-o-lanterns and, for lawn-owners, the inevitable raking of leaves. Soon, swarms of little ones will be splashing through mudpuddles and chortling over newly found treasures such as a bird's nest or a leaf that crackles like a potato chip when it is crushed. As we watch the innocence of childhood in action we should try to regain some of the inquisitiveness and wonder which we felt when we were young. We must never be so busy that we cannot take the time to enjoy the brilliant finery of autumn leaves. So, as we prepare for the future tempo of this new season, let's keep a receptive and appreciative eye out for the beauties of God's handiwork all around us.

CHOICE OF BOOKS

The Field Enterprises Educational Corporation publication points out . . . "Children are not born with inherent good taste in their choice of books. They will remember the good ones longer and with greater pleasure than the rest, but they will not choose them without considerable guidance from some adult in whose judgment they have confidence."

To take a great weight off your mind try discarding your halo.

In Moscow recently, citizens were talking about a new statue of Lenin to be built in a small park. Remarkable one man: "I think this statue is just what our city needs. It will give us shade in the summer, shelter in the winter and an opportunity for the pigeons to speak for all of us."

A woman had an appointment with a fortune teller and rather than leave her son in the car, she took him inside with her. At the end of the seance, the medium asked, "Is there anyone in the other world you'd like to talk with?"

The little fellow piped up, "Yes," he said, "I'd like to talk to Grampa."

"All right, go ahead, he's here," the medium said.

The boy gasped, "For Pete's sake, grampa, what're you doing here? You're supposed to be home taking care of my dog!!!"

Stony Point

Mrs. Ernest Steigers

Visitors From California
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Foss, Mt. View, Calif. with two grandsons, have spent their vacation visiting in the home of her mother, Mrs. Albert Heimgartner; with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Foss, Lapwai, and with other relatives in the area. On Saturday evening their daughter, Mrs. (Sharon) Freeman, from Nevada, Calif., arrived to join the other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Steigers, Vancouver, Wash., have been visiting in our neighborhood with brothers Alvin and Ernest Steigers and families. On Wednesday Myrtle Steigers accompanied Mabel Steigers for a call on Myrtle Heimgartner. The Robert Steigers departed for their home on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Fliger and daughters, Moscow, were Sunday dinner guests of her mother, Mrs. Erna Stevens. In the afternoon the group were among the many visitors in the Alvin Steigers home, Culdeac, gathered in honor of the visiting Foss family.

Marie Dygert Hoskins from Oregon, formerly a Stony Point resident, visited with Myrtle Heimgartner on Tuesday. Marie was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dygert and attended Stony Point school.

On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Heimgartner visited with visiting California friends in the home of her mother, Mrs. Hunter, at Lewiston. On Sunday Ruth and Wayne, taking the group with them, drove to Lake Chatacolet. On their return all were Sunday evening dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Slomp of Lapwai.

Celebrates Birthday
Don Johnson, Lenore, was 60 years young on Sunday, August 26, and among those present to help him celebrate the event during the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Heimgartner of Stony Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Heimgartner enjoyed Wednesday supper with Mr. and Mrs. Rick Pratt and family at their home in Lewiston. The Heimgartners again enjoyed an upriver family gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Walden on Sunday.

After visiting Saturday evening in the home of their son, Gerald and family at Lewiston, Mr. and Mrs. Edson then spent Saturday overnight and Sunday with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Custer of Clarkston, Wash.

Mrs. Betty Cowger and Becky again were Spokane visitors on Monday for a checkup of Becky's recent surgery.

Cottonwood Creek Community Church held its annual Sunday School picnic at the church lawn on Sunday, August 26. Mr. and Mrs. Glen Stevens were among those many enjoying the occasion.

The Don Holmington family enjoyed the weekend at Lake Coeur d'Alene.

Big News!
Nobody came to visit Mr. and Mrs. Newt Health on Sunday except son Gene who dropped in for dinner!

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Space of Lenore were Sunday afternoon callers in the Helena Brown home. The usual other visitors have called during the week.

After spending the summer assisting his uncle Ken Steigers, Tim Steigers on Monday returned to his home at Huson, Montana. Tim spent several days at Aberdeen, Wash., before the return trip to Montana, visiting friends and relatives there.

The usual annual "melon feed" given by Ernest and Nellie Steigers for their "Idaho Fiddler group" and other friends, was held on their lawn at their Cherrylane home on Tuesday evening, August 21. A total of 87 from Grangeville, Ferdinand, Orofino, Peck, Moscow, Lewiston, Clarkston, Lenore, Culdeac, Juliaetta, Welpe, Spokane and Winchester, with Vancouver, Wash., even represented, enjoyed the evening of music, visiting and eating!

School has resumed at Lapwai, as of Monday, August 27. Somewhat reluctantly, some of the scholars resumed the new term! Others are eager to go!

NONRESIDENT STUDENTS MUST BUY NR LICENSES

Students from any state other than Idaho, who are attending any college or university in the state are not considered residents for the purpose of purchasing hunting and/or fishing licenses even though they have lived in Idaho as a student for six months.

Fish and game licenses of the proper nonresident class must be purchased by students from other states before hunting and fishing in Idaho. This applies to both married and single students living on or off the campus, according to Hawley Hill, chief of the enforcement division of the Idaho Fish and Game Department.

Daisy Stage and Altha Rathbone stayed at the Alma Betts home Sunday afternoon while Alma, accompanied Laura Adamson to the Lookout to visit Gayle Marek. Mr. and Mrs. Don Christensen and grandson Donnie were also visitors at the Betts home Sunday afternoon.

In order for any person to lawfully fish for any species of fish or hunt any wild game or nongame animal or to carry an uncased shotgun or rifle in the fields or forests of Idaho, a license of the proper type and class must first be obtained.

The Terry Gillispie family were Lewiston visitors Friday.

Written application is required for the purchase of a resident license. It is unlawful for the applicant to make any false statement as to length or place of residency in such application.

Warning Issued Young Bike Riders

Genesee—Police Chief Chet Green this week issued a firm reminder to young bicycle riders and their parents that city ordinances prohibit the riding of bicycles on city sidewalks at anytime. The children who ride bikes on the sidewalks pose a serious threat to shoppers who may step out of a store and into the path of a bicycle.

Street traffic, especially in Genesee, is seldom heavy enough to pose a hazard to bike riders, if common sense rules are obeyed, so there is little reason for children on bicycles to be on the sidewalks.

RIDING BIKES ON SIDEWALKS

Riding on Sidewalks: City Ordinance: 7-15-20

(A) It shall be unlawful for any person to ride a bicycle upon a sidewalk within a business district.

Lamp & Other Equipment: 7-15-21

(A) Every bicycle when in use at night time shall be equipped with a lamp on the front which shall emit a white light visible from a distance of at least five hundred feet (500') to the front and with a red reflector on the rear of a type which shall be visible from all distances from fifty feet (50') to three hundred feet (300') to the rear when directly in front of lawful upper beams of head lamps on a motor vehicle. A lamp emitting a red light visible from a distance of five hundred feet (500') to the rear may be used in addition to the red reflector.

Suggest Ways To Get Relief From Pesky Yellow Jackets

relief from this year's hordes of pesky yellow jackets which, because of their stinging ways, take the pleasure out of picnics and other outdoor activities?

Roland Portman, University of Idaho extension entomologist, suggests some solutions—other than staying indoors—to reduce the possibility of getting zzzapped by yellow jackets.

One way, says Portman, is to lure the pests away from the area you want to use. To do that, place rinds of watermelon, muskmelon and cantaloupe some distance from your activities. Yellow jackets will be attracted to the moisture and sugar in the melon rinds.

The insects are also drawn to food scraps in uncovered garbage cans and trash barrels. Therefore, it's a good idea to choose a location away from such receptacles.

Yellow jackets like meat, and that can be their undoing. Portman suggests suspending a dead trash fish or other meat over a container of water to which a small amount of household detergent has been added.

The insects, overloaded with a mouthful of flesh, fall into the water as they attempt to fly away. The detergent, because it reduces the water's surface tension, causes the fallen yellow jackets to sink and drown.

There are commercial bait preparations effective against yellow jackets. However, with this year's exceptionally large yellow jacket population, the cost of enough commercial material to control the insects would be prohibitive in most cases, Portman advises.

A natural tendency is to swat at the pests. To do so is likely to result in being stung. This is especially likely if one is perspiring.

How long will yellow jackets be around to threaten picnickers and other trying to enjoy the outdoors? Until the first killing frost of the fall eliminates yellow jacket activity for the season.

However, next year's crop is assured. Young yellow jacket queens, over-winter in many protected places. They emerge in the spring, construct a small nest and lay eggs, starting a new colony. As many as 10,000 workers—they are the ones that come to your picnic—may be produced in a colony in one season.

Yellow jackets were able to multiply almost unhindered this year because of abundant food and unusual weather conditions last winter which reduced their natural checks, namely parasites, predators and diseases.

THE COMING OF AUTUMN

September 22 marks the beginning of that crisp, invigorating Autumn Season when the lazy days of summer must give way to school, football, the carving of jack-o-lanterns and, for lawn-owners, the inevitable raking of leaves. Soon, swarms of little ones will be splashing through mudpuddles and chomping over new-ly found treasures such as a bird's nest or a leaf that crackles like a potato chip when it is crushed. As we watch the innocence of childhood in action we should try to regain some of the inquisitiveness and wonder which we felt when we were young. We must never be so busy that we

Mr. and Mrs. Peter (Nancy) Van Houten and their children left on Thursday for their home in Rapid City, S. D., after a two-week visit with Nancy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norla Callison. Wednesday evening callers in the Callison home were Esther and Dick Blewett and Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Murray Benjamin, Princeton.
Mrs. Rick Beebe, Terry and Tanya and Connie Davis returned to their home here on Tuesday evening following a week's visit with Anita and Connie's mother, Mrs. Phyllis Norby, at Rupert.
Weekend callers in the Frank Bencoter home included Ray, Kristie Jo and Bill Bencoter and Marvin Gorsek, all of Lewiston. Also Marvette and Mike Bencoter who are in the process of moving from Hemlock Butte back to Grangeville. They are both employed in the school system in that city.
Mr. and Mrs. Jim (Lesley) Kopp, Portland, spent Thursday night and Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Dick Bencoter. On Saturday they all attended the wedding of Vickey's nephew, Ron Sailing, in Spokane. After the ceremony Jim and Lesley returned to Portland and Dick and Vickey visited overnight with the Jerry Salings.
Mrs. Ellie Bencoter was a Sunday luncheon guest of Mrs. Pearl Long in Kendrick. In the afternoon they drove to Peck where they called on Ella's sister and husband, Nanny and Floyd Dryden.
Mr. and Mrs. Norla Callison were in Lewiston on Friday.
Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bencoter accompanied the Rick Beebe family to Kamiah. En route they made a short stop at Dworshak Dam and on the way home they called on the Jim Kaylers at Peck and the Don Bencoters in Sweetwater.
Mr. and Mrs. Walt Bencoter were Friday overnight guests of the Bob Dupeas in Orofino. En route they stopped in Southwick for a short visit with the Arlie Armitage family.
Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Nichols, Clarkston, and their son Dick from Boise, were Wednesday luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edd Kent. In the afternoon they all made a trip to inspect the Dworshak Dam and the fish hatchery at Ahsahka.
Mr. and Mrs. David Johnson and family spent the weekend in the Lawrence Heimgartner home. Janice and Dick Groseclose joined them for dining Saturday and Sunday evenings. Chris and Clinton Johnson returned home with their parents after a few days' visit.
Mrs. Lawrence Heimgartner and Mrs. Frank Bencoter accompanied Mrs. Ed Condel to Cottonwood Wednesday where they all assisted with judging at the Idaho County Fair. The exhibits were good and the produce and flowers surprisingly beautiful for such a dry, hot summer. County fairs are always interesting especially the hustle and bustle of the last minute preparation on opening day.

Safety Suggestions For Farm and Home

Safety suggestion to help avoid mishaps in the farm and home shop and in other areas are offered by Dorrell Larsen, Boise, University of Idaho extension agricultural engineer.

For instance, Larsen recommends that flammable liquids be stored in approved cabinets or storerooms. Large quantities of such materials should be stored in a safe area away from the main shop.

Other safety measures to help avoid fire or explosions are removing flammable materials from welding area, not welding tanks containing flammable substances, and wiping up spilled flammable liquids and keeping floors clean and dry.

Electrical safety tips include use of extension cords with a grounding plug—shutting off power in any emergency, being certain electricity is turned off or equipment is disconnected before working on any electrical equipment, and avoiding working with electrical tools in wet areas or under wet conditions.

Other protection measures are use of safety glasses giving maximum eye protection, wearing ear plugs or covers in areas with high noise levels, and wearing a filter respirator when working in dust, mist or fumes. Asbestos or leather gloves protect from the heat of welding, rubber gloves from acids, solvents and petroleum. Regular gloves protect from common blisters and minor cuts and scratches.

Avoid loose flapping clothes. Shop covers are usually safer than assorted shirts, sweaters, pants, etc. Wear steel-toed shoes to protect feet. A hard hat is especially advised around construction work or when there is danger from falling objects.

First Killing Frost Marks Time To Treat Cattle Grubs

"Any time after the first killing frost is the recommended time to treat cattle for grubs," says Roland Portman, University of Idaho extension entomologist.

To be most effective, treatment should begin as soon as possible after that first frost, he adds. Treatment eliminates cattle grub larvae before they can develop into large, fat grubs.

The treatment consists of applying chemicals to the skin of animals by using ointments, sprays, dips, dusts, backrubbers, or oillers.

There is presently no legal chemical treatment for lactating dairy animals, results in illegal traces of residues in the milk, Portman warns. For beef animals and non-lactating dairy cattle Coumaphos (Co-Ral) Ronnel (Korlan, Trolene), and Ruclene can be used to control grubs.

Portman cautions that the label instructions must be followed for the particular chemical selected. Although there is no difference in their effectiveness the chemical composition varies.

The grubs' life cycle begins when the adult of the cattle grub—called a heel fly—lays her eggs on the animal usually on the hair of the legs. This generally takes place between April and fall.

The eggs hatch in a few days and the tiny larvae bore through the skin. After they have migrated to the animal's back—it takes eight months—each larva grows and causes a bump under the skin.

The larva in the bump, called a warble, is about an inch and a half long at maturity. At that time it leaves the animal and drops to the ground. There it changes into a heel fly and the cycle begins again.

Cattle grubs cause considerable economic loss by sapping their hosts' energy. Damaged meat trimmed from the loin at slaughter and damaged hides add to the loss.

The highway littering trend in Idaho seems to be improving—perhaps due to increased environmental concern. Now for the bad news.

In 1968, Idaho had an estimated 88,555 signs on the State Highway System. 3,768 of those signs were destroyed and required replacement. Vandals also damaged 8,544 signs that had to be repaired in the field. The average cost per sign in 1968 was $10.95. Sign replacement, installation and field repair added up to $59,078.00—a rather tidy sum. But—hang on to your hat, we're in the 1970's now and here are the startling statistics Oberle discovered. In 1972, the number of signs on the State Highway System based on a physical inventory totaled 58,007. Compared to 1968, about three times as many or 9,690 signs were destroyed last year and required replacement. 4,800 signs were damaged by vandals and had to be repaired in the field.

Cost? The average cost per sign these days is $13.36. Replacing signs last year amounted to $129,458.00 compared to $41,136.00 in 1968. Installation was up to $16,500.00 compared to only $5,526.00 about 5 years ago. Field repair was $12,416.00 in 1968 and a whopping $39,000.00 last year. Statistics are usually boring but when it cost a total last year of $184,958.00 to repair or replace missing and vandalized signs on just the State Highway System—not including those vandalized on County, Forest, and City roads—that's your tax dollars somebody is shooting up that could well be spent on much needed Idaho highway improvements.

Oberle noted that damaging highway signs is a misdemeanor and could cost the vandal a $300 fine or six months in the county jail.

Legal Notices

NOTICE TO PARENTS AND GUARDIANS OF SCHOOL AGE CHILDREN

In compliance with the requirements of 33-202, notice is hereby given that: In all school districts of this state, every parent or guardian of any child between the ages of seven and sixteen years shall cause such child to be instructed in certain specified subjects. Every such parent or guardian shall cause such child to attend a public, private or parochial school, during a period equal to that portion of each year during which the public schools are in session in such district, and shall cause such child to conform to the attendance regulations established by the board of trustees of such school district. When a duly licensed physician or psychiatrist shall certify in writing that the physical or mental condition of a child is such that it does not permit attendance at school and upon a finding by the board of trustees that the best interests of the child or the school will be served by exempting such child from attendance, then the board of trustees may grant such exemption during the continuance of such disability. A petition for exemption for such cause may be initiated by the child or by its parent or guardian.

Before the board of trustees may exempt any child who is an habitual truant whose conduct would disrupt school order or discipline, the board shall notify the parents or guardian and afford them an opportunity to appear and show cause why the exemption should not be granted. When exempted for such purview of the youth rehabilitation law. Dated this 20 day of August 1973.

PROTECTION FOR EAGLES SOUGHT FROM TRAPPERS

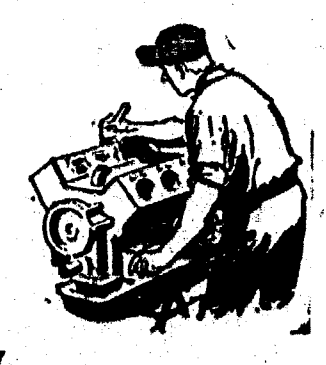

Trappers this year are urged to place bait where it cannot be seen from the air because eagles are becoming secondary victims and are unable to hunt efficiently because of severed talons or broken legs. Eventually they seek out road-killed rabbits and are hit by motorists.

Eagles and other raptors seek food by sight, according to the Idaho Fish and Game Department. Various selective scents are just as effective as exposed bait for coyotes and bobcats. Trappers will benefit from this inconvenience by having the traps for the intended species and alleviate mounting criticism to trapping in the mass news media, including radio television. The public will benefit by the reduction in eagle losses which are estimated at at least 2,600 in the past two years in several western states.

The department added that checking nondrowning "sets" within 72-hour periods will provide more humane method in harvesting the fur crop.

Your Highway User Taxes At Home

Lewiston—While doing some routine research recently, Idaho Department of Highways District Traffic Engineer George F. Oberle uncovered the following interesting facts:

In 1971, it cost Idaho taxpayers $243,275.31 for Highway Department personnel to pick up litter and trash from the 5,000-mi. State Highway System. The bill was $255,344.19 in 1972 on a reduction of $7,931.12.

National Parks Safety Campaign Underway

An intensive safety campaign at cutting down on the number of accidents in the 298 national parks of the U. S. was announced today by Supt. Jack R. Williams of Nez Perce National Historical Park.

"In all of our national park system, 105 visitors have died this year compared to 85 at this time last year," said Supt. Williams. "While 1972 was the safest year for visitors to use the parks since 1964, drownings are up 33 per cent—to 48—this years over last."

"People are killing and maiming themselves in our park in appalling numbers this year," said Williams. "Ronald H. Walker, Director of the National Park Service, as ordered a system wide, top priority effort to stem this tide. Director Walker has said a single death in our national parks is one death too many. In an effort to cut down on the number of accidents in the park areas, new hard-hitting safety messages are being distributed. All park personnel have been ordered to increase their vigilance plus making an intensive effort to educate visitors to the perils of carelessness when on water, scaling heights, observing wildlife, and speeding on park roads. "These mishaps," said Williams, "are not the result of negligence on the part of the park personnel, but the result of carelessness on the part of some visitors. Some people simply refuse to use their heads and follow the rules of safety."

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank friends and neighbors for their cards, flowers, prayers and other kind and thoughtful acts shown me while I was in the hospital and since returning home. These all meant much to me and will be long remembered with grateful heart.—Virgil Dygert. 35p
