

Twenty-four Locals Spent Wonderful Week In Hawaiian Islands

By Bud and Connie Fey

Twenty-four local people left Clarkston at 11:45 January 17, to travel to Seattle where they joined others from the northwest to leave for a week's vacation in the Hawaiian Islands. Arriving in Honolulu just long enough to catch a bus to go to catch a plane to be flown to Hilo. There we were transferred to lovely Waialeale Village Hotel. We all gathered in the lobby for orientation and get our keys to our room. Our hotel was very nice with palm trees, a lagoon through the grounds with beautiful fish, ducks and geese. A swimming pool just in front of our hotel which many enjoyed. After freshening up a bit we went to look around and came upon the many market places. Little shops with gifts, mu mu shirts and just about anything one would want. These little shops stayed open until 9 o'clock. One had to make reservations for dinner so six of us ate in a Japanese restaurant. Had a wonderful meal—ate with chop sticks which was an experience for some of us but found them not hard to eat salad with. Rice, I'm sure, would have been quite a challenge. We were up the next morning; breakfast at seven and all ready to board the bus for a day of touring. Our first stop was at Orchid farms; there we were taken all through the grounds. Then we went inside and watched the girls making lei. They also had a gift shop with many beautiful things. Back on the bus and on to visit Rainbow Falls which was pretty. Then we left to see the Hilo volcano. Some are still steaming but none erupted while we were there. One volcano we stopped to look at we could see people walking down on the bottom—steam rising here and there. At lunch at Volcano House restaurant, we had a lovely lunch and set out on the verandah where we could look over some volcano area. Afternoon was spent sightseeing and singing. It was this afternoon that we passed by the Parker Ranch and saw many cattle grazing. Arrived at Keanohou Beach Hotel. Found our rooms and changed for the evening. At five went out to watch the ceremony of digging the pigs out of the pit for the luau which was held later that evening. Then the next hour was the happy hour. A woman gave lei and a kiss and a man decorated the women with a lei and a kiss. The band played songs—some requests from the audience. The luau was served at seven and all the food on these two long tables. And all was very good. After dinner they had a Hawaiian show which everyone enjoyed very much. Then we took in a Polynesian show. This is an old culture they are trying to keep going. We could stand on a small raised porch and see the ocean. Of course we were on the seventh floor, so looked right over the palm trees and beautiful shrubbery. Sunday morning was transported by plane to the island of Kauai. Here we stayed in the beautiful Cocca Palms hotel. One of our windows was a big swimming pool with a fountain. At night they turned colored lights on the fountain and what a wonderful sight. Corner post at steps had sea shells for lights. Back of the swimming pool was a lagoon full of fish. A dining area along the lagoon with open sides so we could feed the fish. My how they would leap for every morsel. Sparrows and another bird walked on ledge and floor looking for crumbs. This was our first place to stay for two nights in one place, so we got to see a lot. Walked through the big cocconut grove behind the lagoon to a zoo. Saw a baby monkey and his family. A goat hung by one horn in the fence but you throw him something and it didn't take him long to get down out of the fence. Cocconuts were laying all over the ground and many more were hanging on trees. We walked to the ocean just across the road from hotel and got our feet wet. It looked like a lot of fun playing in waves. But not being a swimmer I didn't venture out far; but we enjoyed watching the swimmers and surfers. Monday morning we caught the bus to go to Waimea canyon, which they call the Grand Canyon of Hawaii. To arrive here we went up a winding road in the mountains. This was a beautiful sight and also had a big water falls. Back to Cocca Palms for lunch and then took a boat ride up the river to the Fern Grotto. The Hawaiians entertained us with song and had a sing-along on the way up. Walked to Fern Grotto, a cave-like with cliff overhanging. Here you see ferns growing out of rocks from the underneath side. After all are up in the cave the same people sang the "Hawaiian Wedding Song." On our way back down river the skipper of the boat pointed out places of interest and told legends which were real interesting. After this tour we were off our own. We walked up to the market place and browsed for a while. Then back to motel to prepare for dinner. After dinner we watched another Polynesian show. It was put on by the Mormons and was a very interesting show. The next morning we were off for Honolulu to stay at the Reef Hotel the next three days. This hotel is built right on the beach where you could sit and watch the sail boats sailing in the wind, see the fishing boats go out, and see the big freighters out on the horizons. Here they built some of the roofs

Flood Repair Work Begins In Kendrick

Workers began diverting part of the channel of the Potlatch River back of Brocke and Sons Fertilizer plant this week as efforts to repair some of the damage sustained in the recent floods got underway. Geo. Brocke, Jr., chairman of the committee to oversee the repair work on a local level, said Tuesday that the diverting of the channel will allow a temporary dike to be pushed back into place. This dike will give better protection to Kendrick's sewer lagoon and also to the buildings on that section of the river. Last Friday water was finally diverted away from the area surrounding the two sewage lagoons so inspection for damages could be made. Jim Armitage, director of Latah County's office of General Services estimated the recent high water caused 1 1/2 million dollars in damage to the county.

Garden Club Sets Senior Citizens Social For February 4

The Garden Club will host the Senior Citizens social afternoon on February 4 (Monday) from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. at the Grange Hall. There will be games for those who are interested or some may just like to visit. We hope this will be a great success for all concerned. Members of the Hill and Valley Garden Club received a constructive lesson on the growing of shrubs and grouping them according to habit and use by Mrs. Grace Yenni at their regular meeting on Wednesday, Jan. 23. There will be one more lesson on shrubs at the Feb. 27th meeting since this is the time to select and plant the shrubs fitting to the area in which they are to be used for extra beautification. Bare branch arrangements using accessories was exhibited by some of the members. Two of the outstanding displays was shown by Mrs. Ida Newman and Mrs. Elaine Galloway. Ida showed her Christmas tree made from a board and covered with dried materials using pine cones (cut whole) tassels and nuts of various kinds. Elaine's work of art was a large polished birch containing several limbs with other small birch's growing on these limbs. Both exhibits received special praise and attention from garden club members because of their beauty and realism. The club also received 42 "Smoky Bear" and "Woodsey Owl" posters from the elementary and junior high school students for participation in the Conservation contest. These will be judged at the Clearwater Federation of Garden Club district meeting in April as this is a Clearwater District contest. Plans were laid for a recycling project in cooperation with other organizations of the Kendrick area. Further information on this project will be given as progresses. Mrs. Barbara Hepler announced that April 23-25 is the dates of the flower show school for any member interested from the Garden Club. It will be instructed at the Civic Center in Lewiston. KHS Girls Can Tie for Hoop Lead Thursday

If Kendrick's girl basketball team can defeat the visiting Potlatch girls this coming Thursday evening, they can move into a tie for the White Pine League championship. Tiger coach Bill LaMunyan said Tuesday. Kendrick will host the Potlatch girls Thursday evening for a two-game match beginning with the Junior Varsity game at 6:30. Kendrick has compiled a 9-win, 2-loss record this season. Should Kendrick and Potlatch tie for the championship, LaMunyan said, the league championship would probably be decided by a coin-toss, because of lack of time to schedule a play-off game. The Lapwai Girls Invitational tournament begins next week and Kendrick will be competing in that.

Tigers Edged Spartans

Tied 44-44 with less than a minute left in the game. Lavern Reed dropped in a two-pointer which was enough to give Kendrick a 46-44 victory over Timberline Friday night in Wenno. Reed was the hero in the Kendrick attack, scoring 15 points and also rebounding. The Spartans led 41-40 with 1:30 left in the third quarter. Kendrick rebounded to tie the score. The Spartans led 44-44 with 30 seconds left in the game. Reed's shot made it 46-44.

P&Z Group Accepts Sub-Division Ordin.

A subdivision ordinance written by a committee of the Latah County Planning and Zoning Commission was accepted by that group Monday evening following a public hearing at the Court House in Moscow.

The new ordinance, which was six months in preparation, will now go to the county commissioners for their approval, and they in turn will also hold public hearings prior to its final acceptance.

The subdivision ordinance sets forth guidelines for growth and development of the county, providing adequate traffic access and circulation within subdivisions; insuring adequate provisions for water supply, drainage and sanitation facilities; and providing for a manner and form of making and filing of plats.

Harry Lee, assistant director of the Department of General Services, read and explained the provisions of the proposed ordinance at the hearing.

In other action, Planning and Zoning chairman, Jay Nelson, Genesee, appointed a committee to work with the University of Idaho on a survey of the Moscow-Troy Corridor. This survey hopes to determine some of the problems, potentials and opinions on growth within this very fast-growing section of the county.

At the next meeting of the commission, to be held Feb. 25, a public hearing will be held on the application of Jess Wilder, Moscow developer, for a Public Utilities Development of his Wildlea addition.

Boy Scouts Observe Founding Date

The Boy Scouts of America observes the 64th anniversary of its founding this year during the month of February. With some 6.5 million members, it is now the largest youth organization in the free world.

The purpose of scouting is unchanged—to build character, create awareness of citizenship responsibilities and promote mental and physical fitness. But under a new improved Scouting Program, adopted after three years of study, the approach to reaching these goals has been changed to meet the conditions of today. To remove the inference of immaturity, Boy Scouts are now called just plain Scouts. They have more responsibility for guiding troop programs. Recognition for progress comes more rapidly and more often. There is more flexibility in choosing scouting programs to fit the areas where Scouts actually live rather than the wilderness conditions of some distant forest they may never see.

Boys and girls must become men and women of faith and integrity, able to live successfully and take part in today's complex world. The Boy Scouts of America, with its Improved Scouting Program, gives a helping hand. The Scouts deserve our thanks, our good wishes, and our support.

Bulldogs Down Tigers 54-49

Outscored and outplayed in the first half and down by 11 points going into the final two quarters, the Genesee Bulldogs staged a 17 point rally in both the third and fourth quarters to defeat the Kendrick Tigers 54-49 last Tuesday night in Genesee. The win allowed Genesee to strengthen its hold on first place in the Central Idaho League and upped its record to 9-2.

Kendrick took control of the scoring the first quarter, outgunning the cold-shooting Bulldogs 10-8. The Tigers continued to press the attack in the second quarter and were ahead 31-20 at half time.

Coming out for the final half, Ron Telgen and Curt Hermann combined to spark a Bulldog rally which included seven straight points without an answer from the Tigers. Genesee finally forged ahead in the final quarter to take possession of the lead and the game.

Both teams had balanced scoring, although Kendrick was able to outscore the Bulldogs percentage-wise, 42 to 33 percent from the field.

Tiegen's 14 points paced all scorers, with Curt Hermann and Ralph Stout each getting 12 and Jeff Boyd 11.

National FFA Week

The promise of the future lies in the youth of today. This fact is brought sharply to mind during National FFA Week, which occurs this year during the period of February 16-23.

Through its program of instruction in modern farming techniques and preparation for challenging careers in agribusiness and related fields, the Future Farmers of America ensures that tomorrow's agriculture will be able to meet the needs of tomorrow's consumer.

The national FFA organization embraces some 8,000 high schools throughout the nation, helping its members develop their individual skills and interests in agriculture. As the world leans evermore heavily upon American farmers to supply the food and fiber vital to human life and well-being, the importance of FFA becomes more evident. We must see to it that the Future Farmers of America continue to thrive and produce the agricultural leaders capable of maintaining the excellence of U. S. agriculture—the most productive agricultural system ever created in all the recorded history of man's earthly tenure.

A psychiatrist is a man who gets paid for listening to the problems your friends have heard for nothing!

The young aren't sure about traffic rules, the older ones may have forgotten, some are too occupied. All need watchful attention when we drive. Have a mind for traffic safety!

Heading the list of honorees is Virginia Russell, Rte. 4, Idaho Falls. She has been a volunteer 4-H leader for 40 years.

A 25-year pin was presented to Don Mortimer, Lewisville.

Receiving 20-year pins were Mrs. Ted Kinzer, Rt. 2, Genesee; Clem Lyons, Kendrick; Mrs. Harold Frye, 116 N. Jackson, and Mrs. Henry Silha, 1373 Walenta Dr.; both of Moscow; Mrs. Elvita Judd, Rte. 3, Orofino; Mrs. Evan Rider, Rte. 3, Coeur d'Alene; Charles Hawkins, Horse shoe Bend; Mrs. Glenn Parke, Malta; Mrs. Lula Williams, Thatcher, and Jay Pearson, Moore.

County Job Placements Remain Stable

Job placements through the Moscow office of the Idaho Department of Employment last week remained about the same as for the previous week. An even dozen Latah County workers were assisted finding work compared with 13 during the previous week and eight during the last full week in January 1973. At the end of the week there were 10 jobs still open, nearly all calling for skills and experiences that are difficult to locate here.

Frank J. Hartstein, Moscow office manager said that the number of persons seeking unemployment insurance throughout the county declined slightly from 581 a week ago to a current figure of 575. A year ago there were only 389 persons seeking jobless pay. Hartstein attributed the increase to the weather conditions which made logging difficult and resulted in curtailment of wood work. He also said that construction work opportunities were not available in the same volume as last year. However, the unemployment problem stabilized somewhat as only 43 persons filed new claims for benefits, compared with 94 filing new claims during the preceding week.

What would it be like without any war?

If people didn't want to fight anymore.

On every flag there'd be a dove of peace. A truce that would last and never cease.

If guns were sugar cane and bombs were clocks; if things of destruction were kept under locks.

If the air was clean and the water was pure, and for every disease there was a miracle cure.

If the world was perfect and everyone got along there'd be reason and time for laughter and song.

But the world's not perfect and people don't get along. It's time we got together and righted the wrong.

UI MEATS SPECIALIST OFFERS HAM INFORMATION

Don't throw away the gelatin in canned ham. Make a sauce by heating the gelatin and use it for its good flavor and nutrition.

That and other information about ham is offered by Dr. John Miller, Caldwell, U. of I. extension meats specialist.

Speaking further about canned ham, Miller says the gelatin is added in dry form just before the can is vacuum sealed and the ham is cooked. The gelatin thickens juices drawn from the meat, fills the air space and holds the boned ham together during shopping, storing and slicing.

A small canned ham—three pounds or less—usually does not refrigeration. Because it is fully cooked, it is safe to store on the cupboard shelf. A larger ham—over three pounds—generally requires refrigeration. The label on the can will state whether or not refrigeration is required.

The larger unopened canned hams can be safely kept for six months at a proper refrigerator temperature. However, once the can is open, use the ham within a week.

Ham can be frozen. But, leave it in the freezer only a short time since freezing can change the flavor and texture of cured meats.

Another kind of ham is the fully-cooked ham or ham roll. The name applies to a boneless, fully-cooked ham. It may be eaten the way it comes from the store or heated for more flavor.

Ham can also be purchased with the bone in. The ham flavor will go even farther by using the bone. Simmer it with split peas or beans for soup.

There is a compromise—the semi-boneless ham. Only the one long bone remains, making it easy to carve around. The leftover bone and meat attached to it serves a tasty and useful purpose in the soup pot.

MISCELLANEOUS FUND GETS "CONSCIENCE MONEY" ITEM

What happens to "conscience money" received by the Idaho Fish and Game Department from people who want to make restitution for past violations—after the statute of limitations has expired and there is no possibility of legal consequences? There is no way it can be added as "license" income. Or "fines." It's a somewhat thing and can't be earmarked for deposit in any of the normal accounts receivable.

Yet any unexplained surplus money in any fund category causes just as much fuss as too little during an audit. The books won't balance, a cardinal sin. Questions of the 'why' and 'how come' variety are inevitable.

For example, one $20 bill and a 5 were received in the mail recently by the Idaho Fish and Game Department in Boise. The letter was signed and current California address given. The writer confided:

"I am sending you the $25 that I owed the state since 1931. I went up there and claimed that I lived in Sandpoint, Idaho. So different out-state license expense of $25 more would be saved."

The writer added that the $25 was restitution . . . "to be honest . . . and saved . . . and sanctified."

The $25 was deposited in the department's "miscellaneous income" fund.

The Senate is now considering further amendments for other districts) H 354: Provides for reconstruction of dams especially at American Falls and such financing as needed. (This bill passed the House unanimously).

H 355: Covers notices of hearings, their publication and mailing by Irrigation District Boards of Directors. (This bill passed the House unanimously).

H356: Provides for a state erosion and sediment control program, district program and issuance of permits.

H357: Relates to nonprofit cooperative corporations issuing exempt securities.

H358: Clarifies the job of District Health Director.

H 359: Concerns school financing by increasing bonding capacities to 20 per cent-5 per cent more than present limits.

H360: Makes it illegal to reproduce records and tapes without the written consent of the original recorder. First offense $300 or 6 months in jail or both plus confiscation of illegal stock.

OPOSSUM SHRIMP SUCCESS IN IDAHO LAKES HOPEFUL

Nearly 5 million Mysids shrimp have been introduced into 14 lakes and reservoirs in Idaho since 1965. Shrimp populations now are well established in Priest and Upper Priest Lakes and may be contributing to larger fish size. The population at Fond Oreille Lake also is established and growing.

Commonly called opossum shrimp, these half-inch long creatures are so delicate that about 2,000 are needed to weigh an ounce. The Idaho Fish and Game Department reports that nearly one million shrimp (Mysis relicta) were released in Priest Lake in the Idaho Panhandle Region from 1965-1967 and about 300,000 shrimp in Upper Priest Lake from 1968-'70.

Sampling crews found about 600 shrimp in 5-minute trawl net hauls at Priest Lake in 1970. In 1972 the average number of shrimp taken per five-minute net hauls increased to 2,500, and shrimp were found almost anywhere in Priest Lake. Similar samplings on Upper Priest Lake also are beginning to find shrimp.

Over a million shrimp from Canadian lakes were transplanted to Lake Pend Oreille beginning in 1966. Trawl samplings indicating the successful establishment of shrimp were reported in the fall of 1972. Although not large, the number of shrimp found was enough to indicate that the species may be common throughout the big lake in a few years.

Mysis shrimp introductions were made between 1965-1970 in the following Idaho waters: Spirit Lake, Coeur d'Alene, Payette Lake, Upper Payette Lake, Stanley, Alturas, Redfish, Anderson Ranch Reservoir, Pettit Lake, Pailsades Reservoir, Warm Lake and Salmon Falls reservoir.

Although there is no indication that kokanee are growing larger in any Idaho lake or reservoir as a result of shrimp in the diet—or indeed that shrimp have established themselves in waters outside the Panhandle, fisheries workers are keeping tab on the size of kokanee in the affected waters and hoping.

If a high cholesterol count is discovered, the physician can advise parents as to changes in diet that will keep the condition under control. Cholesterol buildup can be retarded by a low diet in saturated fats.

What does it cost to build a new school
or fix the streets
in your town?

The public has a right to know what it costs to build or improve a street or building in your town. Your local newspaper is the publication where you find that information.

For centuries, people have recognized the right of the community and of the individual to be put on notice.

Many citizens don't understand what a legal notice is, or why they're printed in your local newspaper. Many people don't read them until it's too late.

Legal notices keep a citizen informed on all school, city and county action by official bodies. Legal notices also give a citizen an opportunity to do something about some proposed action that may affect his rights.

Your local newspaper is a long established medium for such notices as provided by law or by official designation. And, it's one of the many public services provided by this newspaper.
