

EXPANSION OF POTLATCH PULP MILL

Plans for expansion of Potlatch Corporation's Lewiston pulp mill to produce an additional 100 tons of pulp per day by utilizing sawdust and wood shavings presently being disposed of by burning at plants throughout North Idaho were announced today by Tom W. Tudder, Pulp & Paperboard Division vice president.

The expansion, costing an estimated $14 million will expand the plant's sawdust pulping capacity and will increase total production to an average of 1,130 tons per day, said Tudder. Construction will begin this summer with start-up scheduled for late 1975.

The additional 150 tons per day production will result from using over 300 tons of residual sawdust and shavings that are currently being wasted, mostly by burning. "This new facility will allow us to purchase this material for utilization in the production of a useful product, while simultaneously relieving a bothersome disposal problem," Tudder said.

"This expansion will bring the total complex at Lewiston more in balance with raw material supply, with no further expansion expected in the foreseeable future," Tudder said.

Tudder said the expansion program has been approved by the Department of Environmental & Community Services for compliance with Idaho air pollution standards. The new facility will also meet 1975 air quality standards and will be accomplished while not substantially increasing air and water emissions from the Lewiston facility.

Included in the expansion will be a new lime kiln, an electrostatic precipitator and a new power boiler which will operate on either natural gas or No. 6 crude oil. Other equipment to be added includes a new M & D continuous digester, a brown stock (pulp) washer, a sawdust conveyor system and a black liquor eva-

The heart of the expanded facility will be a continuous M & D digester which will cook the sawdust into pulp. It will be the second such digester at the plant.

The short fibered pulp resulting from sawdust is blended with the long fibered pulp produced from wood chips.

No major changes or additions are planned for the bleaching plant said Tudder, although some minor modifications will be necessary.

The increased production will necessitate another line kiln at the plant. Similar in size to the existing No. 3 kiln, it will measure 11 ft. in diameter and 256 feet in length. A Venturi scrubber will control particulate emissions. Total reduced sulfur (TRS) emissions will be min

Swimming All-Americans

Swimming All-Americans A. R. "Joe" White, 20, Soph, and Jerry Lee White (19), Frosh, both students at Central Washington State College, Ellensburg, Wash., sons of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald R. White, W810 Teal, Spokane and grandsons of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. White of Kendrick and Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Freeman, Jullietta, have been named on the National Association for Intercollegiate Athletes (NAIA) All American swimming and diving team for 1974. In addition each man has received individual All-American awards for their performance at the NAIA College Swimming and Diving Championships in Chicago, Ill., on March 7-8-9, 1974.

Joe, last year's first Freshman All-American from Central Washington State College, repeated his high ranking by finishing 3rd in the 100-yard breaststroke and 3rd in the 200-yard breaststroke and swimming the breaststroke leg of the 400-yard medley relay that placed 3rd overall.

Jerry, a Frosh and first-year competitor in the college ranks, finished 2nd in the 200-yard breaststroke and 5th in the 400-yard individual medley, and 8th in the 200-yard individual medley.

As a result of these performances and the other team members who took one and two places in each of their special strokes, Central Washington State College was elevated from 12th place last year (when Joe White had over one-half the team's individual points) to 3rd place with a whopping 185 points and named NAIA College "Team of the Year."

Their coach, Bob Gregson, also received NAIA "Coach of the Year." Both Joe and Jerry have now qualified to travel to Dallas, Texas, in April to compete in the AAU National Championships.

Younger brother Chuck, still in high school (senior), has posted times that are faster than his two older brothers at the same age and is peaking for an all-out effort to qualify to go to Dallas also.

Sister Karen, 15, is among the top 15 swimmers in the Northwest in her breaststroke also and is looking toward Hawaii in the summer Junior Olympics.

We know your readers will recall something about these swimmers from past articles and hometown visits we have made. We sincerely hope our boys can serve as an inspiration to those who are too short for basketball, too small for football, and can't see good enough for baseball. There is a world of gratifying experience in individual sports.

Ada C. Huntley, 83, Native of Kendrick, Passed In Palouse

Ada C. Huntley, 83, a pioneer of the Palouse country, died Thursday about 11 a. m. while sitting in a chair at the home of a sister with whom she had lived since 1971.

Mrs. Huntley had resided at Tekoa for 50 years prior to coming to Palouse. She once worked as a telegraph clerk for the OWR&N Co., which was later purchased by the Union Pacific Railroad Co.

She was born Ada Catherine Benscoter, Aug. 24, 1890, on Little Bear Ridge near Kendrick to Wallace and Louise Benscoter. The family later lived on American Ridge, then at Viola in 1907-10 and at Kamiak Butte in the Pullman area later.

She was married to George R. Huntley June 11, 1927, at Pasco, and they moved to Tekoa. He was employed by the Union Pacific Co. She retired from her job in 1943, and her husband died in 1962.

Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Mabel Scoville, Palouse, and Pearl Hane at Seattle, and numerous nephews and nieces.

The funeral services were held on Saturday, March 16 at 1 p. m. at the Christian Church of Palouse with the Rev. Keven Widener officiating.

Burial was at Bethel Cemetery at Steptoe with Kimball Funeral Home of Palouse in charge.

County Job Picture

13 Latah Co. workers were given assistance in locating work during the past week through the Moscow office of the Idaho Department of Employment. Frank Hartstein, Moscow office manager, reported that this was an increase over the eight persons placed during the previous week. It was still a little short of the 16 workers given job finding help during the same week a year ago. Better weather contributed to

Winifred Kluckhorn, 85, Former Area Teacher, Passed March 7

Funeral services and burial for Winifred Kluckhorn, 85 years old, were held March 11, in Boise, Idaho. She died in a hospital at Rock Springs, Wyoming, while visiting her son Wesley.

Mrs. Kluckhorn was born in Gilmore, Nebraska, March 25, 1888 and died Thursday, March 7, 1974. She was the daughter of Alfred H. Soward, and the former Lucy Baxter.

She came to Idaho with her parents and lived in the Boise Basin area. She was married to William Kluckhorn and lived in that area for many years. Her husband preceded her in death.

She lived in Clarkston, Wash., for several years (1954-1966) with her son-in-law, Harold Blue and family. She was also a retired school teacher from the Southwick area.

Survivors include her son Wes, Rock Springs, Wyoming; 14 grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

The increase in job placements, he reported. At the end of the week there were still 22 jobs open. As has been the case during the past several weeks, the jobs remaining open called for either experience, training and/or specific education; or were the less desirable jobs, from the standpoint of wages, hours or working conditions. With the onset of spring, job opportunities should improve during the next few weeks, he said.

The number of persons continuing to seek unemployment insurance remained steady, with an increase of only one from the previous week. 52 workers filed new claims for benefits, many from the area's forests filing during the last couple of days of the week. Others discontinued claims, as some construction workers returned to work, other workers exhausted benefits, and some were declared no longer eligible for various reasons. Hartstein's report indicated that there are currently 200 persons seeking jobless pay from the Moscow area, down from last week's 234, but up from a year ago's figure of 160. In the Troy-Deary-Bovill area, the current total is 118, a week ago it was 93, and a year ago 139. The Potlatch area remained stable, with a current figure of 87 compared with last week's 86, and last year's 73. At Genesee the totals were 13, 11 and 10, and at Kendrick the total now is 9, last week 11 and last year 14. Additional workers are expected to file new claims next week, Hartstein said as many of the workers reporting this week had indicated that they, and their co-workers had worked 2 or 3 days this week and would not be eligible to actually receive any benefits for the current year.
