Braun responded to the editorial with this reply, which he also sent to the Gazette and asked we publish.)

Editor: Lewiston Tribune:

March 10, 1975 Without any animosity I wish to respond to your lead editorial "A Victory for Equality", in the March 1st

You state that if I am to show (future) political promise, quote "Braun must represent his own con-situents, not those of his South Idaho Colleagues."

In passing, I would point out that there was far more than meets the eye in the ERA bill than the emotional issue involved, and the people did not have all of the legal opinions that governed my final decision in voting to rescind.

Therefore, I insert for study the House Concurrent Resolution 9; (Equal Rights) it contains three sections as follows:

Section 1: Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abrid- broad and dangerous; it is not specthe law shall not be defined or abrid-ged by the United States or by any State on account of sex.

The above is the Equal Rights Amendment; this is what 105 legis-lators voted on and what follows are In this case, whether even my re-election depended upon this, it would the opinions of the finest legal counsel in the nation. It will open a Pandora's box of legal complications. He continues: "The great question that has never been answered, and which I have not yet been able to answer despite my thirty years of research into the feminine soul is: What does woman want?"

From Professor Philip B Kirland, University of Chicago Law School "The so-called Equal Rights Amendment is largely misrepresented as a women's rights amendment when, in fact, the primary beneficiary will be men. I am opposed to its approv-

Now, returning to your admonition that I "represent my constituents," I had to decide whether I should respond to the all-too- emotional appeal made by some to the members of the legislature, or judge the merits of the Amendment in the light of the foregoing opinions.

I chose to follow the opinions expressed herein for a very simple reason: If I was right, I would have gaved the people of the State, particularly the women, untold grief and distillustionment in the future consequenses of the Amendment to the Constitution. In essence, I see nothing that woman will be gaining that she doesn't already have. She will come tumbling off her pedestal where she has always been held in highest esteem and will have equal rights such as is shared by her Russian and Cuban counterparts. # Agriculture. ldaho's number one industry.

The 27,600 farmers and ranchers in Idaho make up the state's single most important Industry.

Since we're number one, we're telling the rest of the state.

in ads like this running in newspapers all over the state, we're telling our story.

It's the story of the contribution of our industry to the economic good of Idaho.

We're telling the city dwellers that agriculture is idano's most important industry.

Between 40% to 60% of the value of all goods and services depends, in some way, upon agriculture. We're saying that about every other job in the state is dependent on us. A full 19% of all jobs are in either farming or food processing.

We're telling them that we paid more than $25 million in real estate taxes last year, making us the state's major taxpayer.

We're reminding them that they need what we produce-food. And that the average American farmer produces enough food for 52 people.

We're asking city folk to understand agriculture. And finally, we need them as much as they need us.

h's a story worth telling.
