Alberta Schupfer, Kendrick and William L. Turner, Juliaetta, were united in marriage Sunday, February 8, at the Kendrick United Methodist Church with Pastor Steve Caskey officiating at the afternoon service. The marriage vows were recited before members of the immediate family of both the bride and groom. Mrs. Donald Eichner, was matron of honor for her mother and Ted Turner, served as best man for his father. Organist was Mrs. Glen Stevens.

Kendrick Trustees Award Insurance Bid

The regular meeting of the Kendrick District 283 School Board was held last Thursday, Feb. 12. Brocke Insurance of Troy was the lowest bidder on the property insurance and will become the insurer for the forthcoming year. Mrs. Eichner gave a report on the meeting of parents and Mrs. Hawkins, school health nurse. The meeting was for the purpose of reviewing materials for the upcoming sex-education class for the sophomores who decide to enroll.

Superintendent Morton informed the Board of a $495 Title IV grant which the District will use for library books. A March field trip to the Portland area was approved for Mr. Norden's Advanced Biology class.

The contract with Senior Citizens was renewed. The contract provides a bus one-day-a-month for Senior Citizens. The Board reluctantly accepted the resignation of Miss Stefonsk who has enlisted in the Army for a three-year term. The next Board meeting will be at 7:30 o'clock on March 9.

Needs Assessment Meeting Held at KHS

The Concerns Analysis Committee of the Elementary School Needs Assessment Project of the Kendrick J.L. School District 283, met February 10 at the Kendrick High School to discuss the needs or concerns that have been expressed by members of the district.

These needs were gathered by the Steering Committee through meetings last fall with patrons, teachers and students of the district and by sending out a questionnaire to a random sampling of the members of the district. The results of these surveys were then listed for the consideration of the Concerns Analysis Committee.

Lester C. Diehl, superintendent of the Genesee School District was present to assist the committee in its job of consolidating the listed needs into a workable number. This committee will meet again in March to recommend goals concerning these needs. The Concerns Analysis Committee is doing a very important job and one that is certainly appreciated.

Those members present included Marilyn Cuddy, Alice Henson, Don Dennier, Peggy Lehman, Kay Morey, Wes Richardson, Kenneth Wilken, Lois Fliger, Opal Lohman, Walter Harris, Bill Thornton, Howard Braden, Lawrence Wilson, Priscilla Armstrong, Rose Arnitage, Ben Cook, Wally Wolff, Vera Hutcheson, Joyce Clemenhagen and Charles Taylor.

Harding B. Jones, 96, Passes February 9th

Funeral services for Harding B. Jones, 96, who passed away February 9th at the Latah Convalescent Center were held Friday at 11:00 a. m. at the Community church with the Rev. Bryce McProud officiating. Unity Lodge 32 A. F. & A. M. conducted committal services at St. Mary's cemetery.

Mr. Jones, who farmed his wife's family homestead northwest of Genesee for many years, was born July 21, 1879 at Bristol, Penn. He lived in Philadelphia as a young man, where he was a motorman for the Rapid Transit Company for three years. He moved to Spokane in 1906, and was a foreman for the Spokane Traction Co. and a foreman and motorman of electric railways. He also repaired suburban and city electric cars.

He married the former Agnes Healy, a member of a pioneer Genesee Valley family, June 17, 1910, in Spokane. The couple moved to Genesee to farm in 1917. Mr. Jones retired in 1953.

He was the oldest member of Unity Lodge AF & AM at Genesee, a member for more than 50 years, and was honored by the lodge on his 92nd birthday. Writing poetry was one of his hobbies.

Survivors include his wife at the family home in Genesee; three daughters, Mrs. Theima Reisenauer, Colton, Mrs. Eva Cotroneo, Seattle, and Mrs. Mary Smith, Edmonds, Wash.; six grandchildren and six great-grandchildren and a sister, Louise Swartzwelder, Rio Duzi Downs New Mexico.

Larry Gee, sang "In the Garden," and "Beautiful Isle," accompanied by Mrs. Martin Stout.

There will be labor in the First Degree and all members are urged to attend.

Washington Day Party Sat. The annual Washington's Birthday observance for members of the Kendrick Masonic Lodge and Canyon Chapter 67, O. E. S., will be held Saturday evening, February 21, beginning at 7:00 p. m. This is for all Masons, O. E. S. members and their escorts.

Genesee Crab Feed Saturday Night

Members of the Genesee Community Firemen, Inc., will present its 11th annual public crab feed Saturday night, February 21 in the Genesee Fire Hall between the hours of 5 and 9 p. m.

This yearly event always attracts a large attendance from all over the surrounding region of people who enjoy dining on fresh crab with all the trimmings.

This is one of the few means the Genesee Firemen have of raising funds to supplement their income from the city. All of the proceeds realized from these dinners go back into the department and is used to purchase and repair department equipment and also to help support the ambulance fund.

In addition to the fresh crab, there will be potato salad, cole slaw, baked beans, relish plate, pickles, sauces, crackers, several kinds of liquid refreshment, and ham for those who do not care for crab.

Admission prices are $5.00 for adults; $2.50 for children, grades 1 through 6, and pre-school children are served free.

Terry Geltz, president of the Genesee Firemen, offered the thanks of both himself and the other firemen to those who purchased advance tickets. These tickets help the firemen determine the number who will be attending. Tickets will also be for sale at the door that evening.

"Our Flag" Theme of Juliaetta School Program

"Our Flag" was the theme of a program presented to Juliaetta Elementary student body by the sixth grade last Friday afternoon.

Kathy Bryan told the "History of Our Flag"; Respect for the Flag—by Beth Harris and Teresa Howerton; History of the Pledge—Joanne Heath; What the Colors Stand For—Misti Colbaugh; Love of Country—Cathy Haminton, Kathy Nail and Jamie Lohman.

Several students made flags that have served our nation in the past and told when they were used and what the flag colors represented.

Patty Brown had the "Grand Union Flag"; Berk Shawver, "The Gadsden Flag"; Eldon Wilson, "The Bunker Flag"; Bronwyn Manful, "First Stars and Stripes"; Mitch Cuddy—"The Cowpens Flag"; Dolly Emery—"The Betsy Ross Flag"; Amy Holt—"Flag of 1795"; Shan Harris—"Flag of the Confederacy"; David Wolf—"Flag of 1912"; Todd Heppner—"Flag of Today."

Robin Courtwright and Brad Lohman demonstrated the proper way to fold a flag.

Ferri Hudson and Randy Renfrew displayed the field of stars with the date and sequence of each state's entry into the Union.

Joe Forest, from Baker-Lind Post 3913, Mrs. Chas. Deobald and Mrs. James Holt of the Ladies Auxiliary, were there to present a new flag to the school. They also had flag etiquette pamphlets to give each student.

This program on "Our Flag" was given in celebration of the Bi-Centennial. The entire sixth grade and their instructor is to be commended on such a fine program.

In keeping with the Bi-Centennial Celebration many students throughout the school were dressed in Colonial costume.

CANYON CLUB HOLDS MEET AT MERRICK HOME

Kendrick Canyon Klub met at the home of Mrs. George Merrick on Wednesday, February 1, at 1:30 p.m. with nine members and one guest present.

"America, the Beautiful" was sung. Roll call was Heloise hints. There was a discussion of upcoming meetings.

The lesson was recycling and time-saving sewing. Refreshments in Valentine motif were served by hostess Doris and co-hostess Crystal Gruell.

SQUARE DANCING IN JULIAETTA FRIDAY

Snow, Rain, Wind Battered Region Monday and Tuesday

Apparently Mother Nature wouldn't make up her mind as to just what type of storm she wanted to inflict on the region Sunday night and Monday, so she just settled for a little bit of everything. Beginning in the early morning hours of Monday the snow began to fall in the upper elevations and on the ridges accompanied by high winds. The temperatures were too warm for the snow to continue and it turned to slashing rain. There was over 8 inches of snow in Genesee Monday morning but the combination of rain and wind quickly reduced it. Just for variety, sleet and some hail were also noted.

Schools dismissed early in the morning Monday for Genesee schools. Genesee had already missed a day of school Friday being the high number of flu victims forced a closure.

Power lines were knocked down in the Genesee area by the high winds twice. The lights went out the first time shortly after 6:00 a. m. but came back around 7:00 a. m. Then approximately at 9:00 a. m. the power went out again.

Snow and rain again fell above the 2,000-foot elevation Tuesday but it alternated with rain. In the valley it was all rain with the temperatures hovering in the middle and upper thirties.

Caroline D. Carlton, Fix Ridge Native, Passes February 9

Caroline D. Carlton, 88, a life-long resident of the Fix Ridge area near Juliaetta, died of arteriosclerosis, a circulatory ailment, at Paradise Villa Nursing Home in Moscow at 9:05 Monday morning, February 9. She had been ill for about one year.

She was the widow of Marshal G. Carlton, a retired farmer, who died in 1942.

Mrs. Carlton was born Feb. 16, 1887, the daughter of James and Sophie Hutchison, pioneer residents of Fix Ridge. She attended school and married Marshall there in November of 1905.

The couple farmed there until his death. She resided on the farm until one year preceding her death.

She was a member of the Juliaetta Baptist Church.

Surviving are three sons, John M. Carlton of Davenport, Wash., James H. Carlton of Juliaetta and Charles L. Carlton of Seattle; a daughter, Gladys Foskette of Sequim, Wash.; two stepsons, William Carlton of Juliaetta and Vance B. Carlton of Seattle. A son, Gerald N. Carlton preceded her in death in 1930. Other survivors include a brother, George Hutchison of Spokane, Wash.; four grandchildren; eight great-grandchildren and six great-great-grandchildren.

The funeral services were conducted at 2 p. m. Friday at Brower-Wann Chapel at Lewiston with the Rev. Vern Rusk, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church officiating.

Music was furnished by organist Marie Schneider and the Juliaetta Methodist Choir. Burial was at Normal Hill Cemetery.

Casket bearers were Paul Richardson, Lawrence Slead, Roy Glenn, R. L. Blewett, Rex Tabor and Ernest Denner.

A luncheon was served at the William Carlton home in Juliaetta by Mrs. Carlton, Mrs. Vance Carlton, Mrs. Ernest Denner, Mrs. Rex Tabor and Mrs. Adolph Denner.

Unemployment Rolls Up Slightly In County

Nine Latah Co. workers were given job finding help during the past week through the Moscow Office of the Idaho Department of Employment. Frank J. Hartstein, Moscow Office Manager said that this figure was the same as for the previous week, and 2 less than the number of workers placed on jobs during the second week in February a year ago. 7 jobs were still open at the end of the week, including one for an exceptionally well qualified and experienced secretary-receptionist, a mechanic-welder, a housekeeper, sales clerk and babysitter.

47 persons filed new or additional claims for unemployment insurance during the week, according to another part of Hartstein's report. This is fewer than opened claims during the previous week. The total number of persons currently seeking jobless pay in the county rose to 560 from the previous week's 554, and was up just a little from last year's figure of 525. The sharpest increase was noted in the immediate Moscow area where the total now stands at 329, up from last week's 323, but quite a bit higher than the 281 of mid February 1975.

"Still sits the schoolhouse"

Whittier created a nostalgic word picture of his boyhood school. Modest as it was, it was almost palatial compared to the early schools of the Western frontier.

At first, classes were held in a mission or church or the corner of some settler's cabin. Then, perhaps, a one room log house with all grades and just about anyone with "larnin'" enough to serve as teacher.

But education was a symbol of the better life these people sought and it held high priority. Families who had the barest means of living scrimped and shared to sustain their precious school.

Changes have been dramatic and for the better but the importance of good schooling is still unchallenged. Like any good thing, education doesn't come easy nor cheap. Boarding the teacher and passing the hat has long since given way to school support by taxing bodies.

Tax revenues, like any others, depend on the productivity of people and industry. The economy of our country, and indeed the world, depends on energy. Now, with a serious energy crisis upon us, industry efforts to bring new power plants on the line are being blocked. Public understanding of the problem and support of power plant construction is today's urgent need. The bell is ringing. The hour is late.

Portable Heaters Blamed In Camper Deaths

(Editor's Note—The following article was given to the Gazette by Mrs. Jean Wegner, who received it from her son Dr. Glen Wegner a Boise physician. Dr. Wegner being aware that not only his parents, but many of his friends in this area use campers and trailers year-round, feels the contents of the article should be brought to the attention of all campers.)

Campers and other recreational vehicles are becoming an increasingly popular source of lodging the year round. When warmed by portable heaters, they can turn into death traps.

In a two-week period last winter, four Washington residents died in campers of carbon monoxide poisoning due to improper use of heaters.

"There is no such thing as an absolutely safe unvented combustion source heater," said Peter A. Breysee, associate professor of environmental health at the UW School of Public Health and Community Medicine. Mr. Breysee and his colleagues have studied nearly every recent carbon monoxide camper death in the region usually at the request of law enforcement officials and the State Health Department. The devices most commonly implicated in these deaths have been the widely used unvented open-flame portable radiant propane heaters and lamps.

"We found," Mr. Breysee said, "that in small areas with limited air circulation, dangerous levels of carbon monoxide could result after two to three hours of heater operation." Catalytic heaters use a platinum-coated ceramic screen as the combustion bed. They often are advertised as producing no dangerous concentrations of carbon monoxide. This, together with the fact that they produce no visible flame, has led many in the lead with a good margin. He made the highest score in bowling which was 220.

11 members of the C. E. society of the Congregational church, accompanied by Guy Wicks, drove to Moscow Saturday, February 13 to attend a district rally of the Christian Endeavors. The C. E. wishes to thank Robert Emmett and Al Mayer for the use of their cars for the trip.

Mrs. Frank Hoorman delightfully entertained the Card Club at her pretty home Tuesday p. m. when pinocle was played at 7 tables.

people to believe they are safe."

"Catalytic heaters," Mr. Breysee said, "produce a minimum of carbon monoxide. They can, however, give rise to high levels of carbon dioxide and serious oxygen deficiencies, the combination of which can be dangerous to life."

Nearly all of the heaters investigated by the Department of Environmental Health are sold with a warning that they should be used with "adequate ventilation." Mr. Breysee said this warning is not sufficient.

"No unvented combustion source heater is foolproof," he said, "and they simply cannot be made to be so. A person who opens the windows of a recreational vehicle cannot ensure absolute safety. Too much depends on potential faultiness or misuse of the heating device, the weather conditions and available space. In a cramped bunk area or in a small canopy unit, there could very well be no such thing as 'adequate ventilation.'"

Mr. Breysee said he had reported the need for safety regulation changes to Consumer Protection Agency and the Department of Social and Health Services. The warnings, he said, should be changed from "Use Only With Adequate Ventilation," to "Never Use While Asleep."

"Considering all that can go wrong," he said, "why take the chance?"
