Juliaetta May Take Sewer Legal Action

Acting at the request of the Juliaetta City Council, that city's attorney, Glenn Utzman, Moscow, has written letters both to the bonding company and the Anderson Construction Co. notifying them of an alleged breach of contract regarding the construction of interceptor and collection lines of the sewer system installed by the Anderson firm.

Mayor Paul Gravelle told the Gazette Tuesday evening that the letter gave the construction company ten days to fulfill the contract it signed with the city or the City of Juliaetta will proceed with whatever action is deemed necessary to insure the correct functioning and operation of the sewer system.

According to the terms of the contract, Gravelle said, the sewer system was to be completed and accepted by July 15. Following inspection by the city's engineering firm of Hoffman, Fiske, and Wyatt, the city was advised not to accept the system as completed until certain alleged discrepancies were corrected. There is an initial list of some 30-odd items which the engineers advise should be corrected. These range from minor items such as the installation of water-tight plugs to alleged major problems in the interceptor lines. "There are undoubtedly other items to be corrected," Gravelle said, "but this first list must be corrected before acceptance."

Gravelle said all the problems are with the collection and interceptor system. He added that the actual treatment plant has been satisfactorily completed and is "ready to go."

Fix Ridge Pioneer Passes at Age 90

Ida "Pearl" Fix, 90, a north Idaho resident for 80 years and a former Miss Idaho, died Wednesday, Aug. 18 at 1:45 a.m. of a stroke suffered three days previously at Dayton General Hospital at Dayton.

The fourth of nine children, Mrs. Fix was born Aug. 22, 1885, at Woodstock, Ill. Her parents, John and Clara Dyger, went to Moscow in 1890, then moved to Fix Ridge, halfway between Juliaetta and Genesee, in 1891.

During that time, she was an outstanding horsewoman, riding bareback, sideways and side saddle in pace, and bucking horse competition. She was named Miss Idaho during her teens.

She married Ira Fix for whom the ridge was named, Feb. 17, 1907. She never had a doctor deliver any of her eight children, who are all still living.

Mrs. Fix also drove a mule team and when any of the children needed a doctor, she hitched up the team and took them for treatment.

She and her family farmed 40 acres of land on Fix Ridge until 1936, when her husband developed heart trouble. They then moved to Juliaetta and started a chicken ranch. In 1945, they both were ill and their children persuaded them to move to Lewiston, where her husband operated the elevator in the Weisberger Building until his death in 1959. She then moved to a Clarkston apartment.

She remained self-sufficient, however, doing all her own housekeeping, sewing and cooking until 1970. She won a blue ribbon for an embroidered quilt at the Nez Perce County Fair in 1969.

In 1971, she moved to Dayton, where she lived with her daughter, Elsie Clark. She was a member of the United Brethren Church and a life member of the Women's Missionary Assn.

Survivors include a brother, Clyd-ger of Sedro Woolley, Wash., three sons, the Rev. Wilbur Fix of San Jose, Calif., the Rev. L. Jack Fix of Modesto, Calif., and Frank Fix of San Jose; five daughters, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Arlee Bietwert of Lewiston, Mrs. Macie York of Boise, Mrs. Vera Lantz of Sunnyside, Calif., and Mrs. Mary Atkinson of Redding, Calif., and 25 grandchildren, and 42 great-grandchildren.

The funeral was at 1 p.m. Saturday at Malcolm's Brower-Warren Memorial Chapel, with the Rev. Allan T. Whybark officiating. She was buried at Fix Ridge Cemetery at Juliaetta.

The family suggested any memorials may be to the United Brethren Church.

Juliaetta Seeks Library

All signs are very positive to be- gin a library branch in Juliaetta. The Moscow-Latah Library Board and Juliaetta's City Council have given the community their approval for the go-ahead on the project.

A library branch would have all the many services that are available to the main branch, if there is community interest and demand. One such service would be access to its films. A local branch would also mean library service in the area in the evenings and on Saturdays.

The location of such a branch library has yet to be decided.

Weather Helps Harvest Operations

Despite a few scattered thunder- showers Sunday afternoon, harvest- ing of the 1976 small grain crop be- gan in earnest this week and all farmers were out in the fields hur- rying to get their work completed before the changeable weather could again delay the already late harvest.

"We just need two more weeks of this," said Mike Martinez, assistant manager of Genesee Union Ware- house, as he viewed the bright sun and temperatures in the mid-80's Tuesday afternoon.

Although Genesee Union estimated that 97 percent of its expected pea harvest was completed, there has only been roughly 10 percent of the wheat cut. Martinez said Sunday was really the first "big day" for wheat deliveries to the Genesee co-op's two warehouses. Only a very small amount of Spring Barley has been cut, Martinez said, "maybe 200 ton."

Including peas, Martinez estimat- ed the total harvest as about 20 per- cent complete. This compares un- favorably to the 33 percent complete at this same time last year. "But remember," Martinez added, "that last year was a late harvest, too." He went on to point out that ware- house records indicated that two years ago at this time the harvest was 95 percent finished and three years ago the warehouse considered the harvest 100 percent complete.

Heavy rains and the hail damage of early August caused the Genesee Union to revise its anticipated deliv- eries of wheat downward by about 16 percent or 290,000 bushels. It has been estimated that the pea crop, hardest hit by the hail and rain was reduced by 55 percent.

Gerald Ingle, chairman of the La- tah County Commissioners, said a survey conducted by the county in- dicated that the storms of August 3 and August 6th, plus the delay in harvest would cost county farmers approximately five million dollars.

Asgrow Seed Company in Genesee reported that the delivery of peas grown under its contract had passed the peak and was winding down.

Brocke and Sons in Kendrick said harvest of green peas was pretty well along, and lentils and yellow peas are now starting to come in.

"Fast," was the word from Roch- dale manager Bob Watts Tuesday afternoon when asked how harvest deliveries were to Rochdale ware- houses. He said grain started com- ing in Monday and "everybody's go- ing" Tuesday.

"Sunday was the first really good day for us," said Howard Hoffmann, manager of Lewiston Grain Grower's facilities in this area. He said all the companies expected peas are in and its all wheat and barley now. Grain coming in from the lower elevations is showing the most effects from the rain and hail but despite the poor, late harvest there are still indica- tions that the quality and quantity of the 1976 wheat harvest might be better than average. "But," he added, "we're just getting started."

Letters to the Editor . . .

To the Gazette: At 5:15 o'clock on Sunday morning, August 15, two rifle shots were fired at Whitehouse pond on the Lochsa river, midway between two campsites filled with campers, Wendover and Whitehouse camps. One alert camper drove to the scene as soon as possible and found three people with a dead cow moose, evidently the one which had lost her calf when it was hit by a passing motorist on the highway nearby two days before. One of the three people is believed to have been a white man. The Indian woman told the camper that she was the one who shot the moose. The shot had been fired from the highway, using the Whitehouse pond signpost as a rest, as was evident from a loaded cartridge dropped nearby.

The moose, which have used this pond as a haven for many years have been a joy to campers and tourists—an attraction which has become so well known that people from many states return to visit the beautiful Lochsa river each year. There was indignation and sadness at the nearby campgrounds over this incident. After dressing out the animal and leaving the entrails in full view of the highway, they dragged it up the worn path to the vehicle where it was loaded. When asked by the alerted camper at the site of the killing why they were going to start acting like civilized people, he received the answer "when the government pays us for our rights."

We realize that this is not the attitude of all American Indians—there are poachers among all races. But how anyone could kill an animal, out of season, at its natural habitat and only a few yards from campsites where people go each morning and evening to watch these beautiful animals, is beyond the comprehension of any thinking American.

DEFINITION TERMS: "Income," as the term is used in this notice is similar to that defined in the Bureau of the Census report, "Characteristics of the Low-Income Population: 1971, 'Consumer Income, Current Population Reports, series P-60, No. 86; December 1972. 'Income' means income before deductions for income taxes, employees' social security taxes, insurance premiums, bonds, etc. It includes the following:

- (1) Monetary compensation for services, including wages, salary, commissions or fees; (2) net income from non-farm self employment; (3) net income from farm self-employment; (4) social security; (5) dividends or interest on savings or bonds, income from estates or trusts, or net rental income; (6) public assistance or welfare payments; (7) unemployment

Other cash income would include cash amounts received or withdrawn from any source including savings, investments, trust accounts, and other resources which would be available to pay the price of a child's meal.

"Income," as the term is used in notice, does not include any income or benefits received under any Federal program which are excluded from consideration as income by any legislative prohibition, for example, income received by volunteers for services performed in the National Older Americans Volunteer Program as stipulated in the 1973 amendments to the Older American Act of 1965, Public Law 93-29 (87 Stat. 30) nor does the term include income used for the following special hardship conditions which could not be reasonably anticipated or controlled by the household:

(1) Unusually high medical expenses (2) shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income as defined herein; (3) special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child; and (4) disaster or casualty losses. Furthermore, the value if prohibited by the authorizing legislation, e. g., the National School Lunch Act, the Child Nutrition Act of 1966, and the Food Stamp Act of 1964.

In applying guidelines, school food authorities may consider both the income of the family during the past 12 months and the family's current rate of income to determine which is the better indicator of the need for free and reduced-price meals; PROVIDED, HOWEVER, that children whose parents or guardians become unemployed shall be eligible for free or reduced-price meals or free milk during the period of unemployment; if the loss of income causes the family to be within the eligibility criteria of the school food authority.

Idaho Building Activity Increases

Idaho building permit construction activity increased in July to a level above the previous month and also above the levels recorded in July a year ago.

This was the highlight of the Idaho Construction Report, released this week by First Security Bank of Idaho, N. A., according to Orrin S. Merrill and James Hoogland, Jr., managers. The report is edited by Dr. Kelly K. Matthews, vice president and economist of First Security Co. service and operating company of First Security Corporation.

Total construction value for the authorized building permit construction in 47 major Idaho locations during July, 1976, was $34,506,817 or 30.7% above July, 1975. New residential construction for 942 dwelling units totaled $22,643,821 an increase of 27.3% in the number of dwelling units and an increase of 40.5% in value above a year ago. Non-residential construction was down by 3.1% while alterations and repairs were 41.8% above a year ago.

Through the first seven months of 1976, total construction, at $209,281,589 was 18.5% above the 7 months a year ago. New residential construction for 4,928 dwelling units for $121,924,984 was 19.7% ahead of last year. Non residential construction was 43.9% above a year ago, while alterations and repairs were 11.8% below 1975.

Some striking individual examples are Pocatello, where the value of residential building in the first 6 months of 1976 more than doubled the figure for the same 1975 period and Sun Valley, where residential construction value was almost 16 times greater than in 1975.

When the weather is warm and sunny, brush and forest litter dry out and quickly become inflammable. Remember that and be careful with all fires.

In compliance with the requirements of 33-203 notice is hereby given that: In all school districts of this state, every parent or guardian of any child between the ages of seven and sixteen years shall cause such child to be instructed in certain specified subjects. Every such parent or guardian shall cause such child to attend a public, private or parochial school, during a period equal to that portion of each year during which the public schools are in session in such district, and shall cause such child to conform to the attendance regulations established by the board of trustees of such school district.

When a duly licensed physician or psychiatrist shall certify in writing that the physical and mental condition of a child is such that it does not permit attendance at school and upon a finding by the board of trustees that the best interests of the child or the school will be served by exempting such child from attendance, then the board of trustees may grant such exemption during the continuance of such disability. A petition for exemption for such cause may be initiated by the child or by its parent or guardian.

Before the board of trustees may exempt any child who is an habitual truant whose conduct would disrupt school order or discipline, the board shall notify the parents or guardian and afford them an opportunity to appear and show cause why the exemption should not be granted. When exempted for such cause, the probate court shall be notified and said child shall come under the purview of the youth rehabilitation law.

Latah Unemployed Shows Decrease
 According to Frank Hartstein, manager of the Moscow department of employment, 25 persons were able to secure employment through the efforts of the staff this past week. This compares quite favorably with the 24 persons placed last week and 18 at this time a year ago. 23 jobs were received during the week, while 20 positions remain unfilled, including openings for waitresses, bar tenders, farm equipment operators, cashiers, full-time qualified bookkeepers, and daytime janitors.
 Hartstein indicated that there is a slight decrease in the number of persons seeking unemployment insurance, from the figure of 439 last week. Only 429 are now actively filing, compared with 421 a year ago this time.
 At Moscow, 250 persons are still filing, only down 2 from the week before, while the Genesee area has 15 persons still actively drawing unemployment insurance benefits which is 4 less from the previous week. Troy-Deary-Bovill shows 92 persons filing, while Kendrick and Pottlatch remain relatively stable at 17 and 53 respectively.

it's not your electric toothbrush that's causing the energy problem

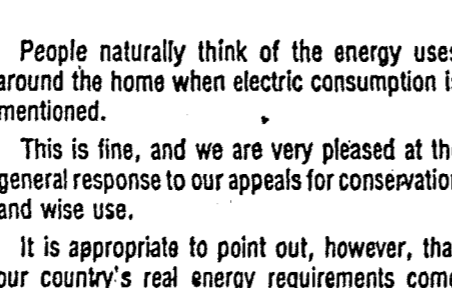

People naturally think of the energy uses around the home when electric consumption is mentioned.
 This is fine, and we are very pleased at the general response to our appeals for conservation and wise use.
 It is appropriate to point out, however, that our country's real energy requirements come in very large sizes. Energy to operate factories, food processors, public buildings, and waste treatment plants, plus the additional amounts required to meet today's environmental standards. Such blocks of power are hundreds of times greater than that used in any all-electric home.
 These power needs are vital and cannot be disregarded. Jobs depend on them, not to mention tax revenues. They are basic to economic stability, a healthy living environment, and national security.
 The utility industry is acutely aware of its responsibility to provide this energy. Even though a maximum level of conservation is achieved, still more power plants must be started at once. Once started, their construction schedules must not be delayed.
 Public understanding of the problem and support of new power projects is essential, now, before time runs out.

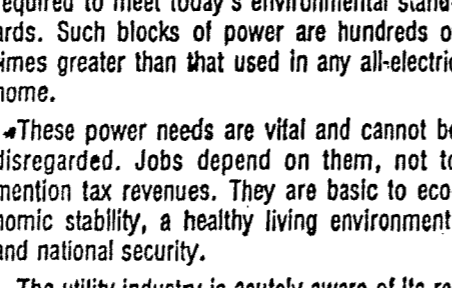

THE WASHINGTON WATER POWER CO.

 Morning Star Boy's Ranch, an institution that has helped immeasurably in guiding young lives, is enlarging facilities to accommodate more boys. The new quarters will require triple the amount of electricity.

 The Northwest Metals plant near Addy will produce magnesium and employ some 300 people. Its requirements will be 130,000 kilowatts of which WWP will supply 10,000.

 A new irrigation project on the Spokane Indian reservation near Little Falls will contribute to the area's production of crops and cattle. Its pumps will require 5000 kilowatts of power.

 Spokane's new, enlarged, sewage treatment plant will complete 2 major stages of the cleanup of the Spokane River. Power requirements will be twenty-five times as great as at present.

 Spokane's new Public Health Center will be able to assist the ever increasing number of clients. It will require 1,500 kilowatts.

 The new Pottlatch Plant at Post Falls will produce particle board using saw mill residue once considered waste. It will employ 55 people and require 3,000 kilowatts.

Stony Point

By Mrs. Nellie Steigers

Miss Julie Crouch and Miss Angie Crouch, with their mother Suzanne, and grandmother, Fay Scroggins, departed for their home in San Bernardino, Calif., on Angie's 7th birthday, on Thursday, Aug. 19, after a lovely visit with their great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Newt Heath and other relatives.

Young Jeff Schneider, after visiting with grandmother Natalia Heath, in our area and at his Fairley grandparents' home in Moscow, flew to his parents home in Chicago. Jeff is a seasoned traveler for one so young! Grandmother Fairley came for Jeff, for his two-week visit in her home, after two weeks with grandmother Natalia Heath at Cherrylane.

Returns from Hawaii
Eugene Heath, on Sunday, Aug. 22, returned home from a most enjoyable two-week vacation trip in Hawaii, spent with Scouts from Lewiston? Gene for the past several years has aided their projects by loan of garden space, and products raised. To show their appreciation he was invited to participate in this journey.

Granddaughter Linda and children, from Orofino, visited with Newt and Mildred Heath on Friday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Heath made their usual weekly visit from Nezperce, to see his parents, the Newt Heaths, of Hubbard Gulch, on Sunday evening.

Bill Slomp, Lapwai, a nephew of Ruth Heimgartner, spent last week in the Wayne Heimgartner home. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Slomp of Lapwai, were Saturday, August 21 supper guests in the Heimgartner home, Bill returning to Lapwai with them.

Visitor Departs
Caroline Kennedy, sister of Mrs. Betty Cowger, departed for her North Dakota home on Friday night, by "Am-Trak," after spending the past week at Stony Point and "arround." Betty Cowger and Walter Zumhofe took her to Spokane.

Two-year-old Vance Barnum of Lewiston is spending a week or so with Grandmother Betty and Aunt Becky Cowger, arriving there last Thursday.

Grandmother Lena Zumhofe spent Saturday, Aug. 21, in the home of her son, Walter Zumhofe.

Visitors on the River
Little Misses Teresa, Angie and Chantel Holsington spent overnight Thursday with their good friend Natalie Heath. On a late evening walk to Cherrylane Bridge, the group visited a few minutes with Nellie Steigers, much to her delight. The following afternoon their mother, Elaine Holsington, came for them and that time the little girls were brave enough to walk across the river on the bridge!

Mrs. Sharon Hatch, Kamiah, with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Steigers, were Kendrick and Lewiston visitors on Friday.

Barbara Rupers of Salem, Oregon, with cousin David Talbot of Moscow, visited briefly in the E. Steigers home Wednesday enroute to the Kamiah home of her brother, Hunt Hatch and family.

Dedication
The dedication of the new chapel at the Cottonwood Creek Community Church, held on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 22, was well attended and was a beautiful service. Among those attending from Stony Point were Erma Stevens, the Glen Stevens, Gertrude Heimgartner and Mrs. Wayne Heimgartner. Menfolk were striving to work at the delayed harvest.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Shannon of Spokane were among the many attending. The members of the congregation come from many hamlets and towns of larger population, and visitors are always warmly welcomed.

Mrs. Albert Heimgartner on Wednesday returned for a visit with son Floyd Heimgartner and wife Betty at their home in Juliaetta. Myrtle remains in good health, much to the joy of all who know and love her.

John Blessinger, Weippe, was a Sunday overnight guest in the Ernest Steigers home.

Mrs. Helena Brown enjoyed a picnic trip to the mountains above Pierce on Sunday with the Don Brown family of Lewiston. The young Brown family recently enjoyed a rainy vacation trip on the Oregon Coast.

Children Return Home
Daniel and Dorene Straw, with cousin Don Chapin, were returned to the home of parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Straw of Clearwater, by grandmother Delores Heimgartner on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 21, after their visit in her home. Delores remained overnight at Clearwater, after enjoying the visit and supper guests there, son Tim Straw and neighbors Uncle and Aunt Ted Tholl.

With many other, the Stony Point farmers have dolefully endured the continued rains that delayed their harvesting! Sunday's clear weather set truckloads rushing to warehouses or home storage! As of Monday a. m. again hope springs! Time will tell!

Many households contacted for the week's news reported little or none this time. All are wonderful help on the column.

Winter driving is rough on any vehicle — proper service and repair is necessary to prevent unwarranted wear. And when the winter driving is over, it is a good policy to have your car or truck checked over to insure it will operate at its most efficient during the coming rigors of Spring and Summer driving.
