Russell Brammer Receives State Farmer Degree

RUSSELL BRAMMER

Russell Brammer, of the Kendrick FFA chapter received two honors at the FFA State Leadership Conference. He received the Union Pacific scholarship for $400 and the state farmer degree.

The Union Pacific scholarship is awarded to ten FFA members throughout the state. The honor is given to those who have shown above average leadership and those who have outstanding projects in FFA. The State Farmer Degree is given as a membership degree in the FFA. The only higher rank is to become an American Farmer. The State Farmer degree is given to 3% of Idaho's 4500 FFA members and is awarded on the applicant's leadership and scope of his projects, in addition to his ability to keep records.

Russell has shown all of these qualities extremely well. Brammer was last years Student Body President and chapter secretary. He was last years coop winner and places high at all other contests he attends. He has demonstrated his leadership abilities whenever possible.

"Russell's projects include several head of cattle, his own ground where he grows wheat and peas, the construction of a 40-foot chemical sprayer and other construction projects He plans to attend the University of Idaho after he graduates.

We All Live Together

That is the theme for this year's "Day of the Young Child" sponsored by the Moscow-Pullman chapter of the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC) The Event taking place on April 23 will be an experience in movement and music for all people, ages 4 to NAEYC is a nationwide, non-profit organization whose purpose is to act on the behalf of the needs and rights of young children. The primary focus provides educational services and resources to benefit young children, parents, teachers, and anyone interested in the lives of young children. Each year NAEYC singles out a particular day to bring some new experience to children and the community. This year that day is April 23. The musical movement experience features Greg Scelsa and Steve Millang, artists from California who have produced a children's record and performed at the NAEYC National Conventions in Dallas, 1975, and Anaheim, 1976. Lisa Rini, assistant professor in physical education at WSU conducts the movement sessions and Carl Petrick of Ballet Folk will lead the rhythm.

The event is to be held in the Elks Hall Saturday morning from 9 to 12.

Meetings Set For Latah County

Roger Fulton, Director of General Services for Latah County, has announced a series of Public Meetings to provide Latah County citizens the opportunity to express their ideas as to how they would like Latah Co. to grow; what kind of place they would like the county to be in the future years; what quality of life they would like to see; what kind of development they would like to have.

These are questions that need to be addressed in the up-date of Latahs Comprehensive Plan. The Plan will attempt to provide for orderly development of land to meet the needs of the community and provide for the future welfare of the county.

To address these problems the citizens will have to consider the future and communicate these desires to the county staff. These comments will be evaluated to establish the goals and objectives which is the basis for the Comprehensive Plan. Goals are broad statements that describe where we are going; and objective are more specific and point out how we will get there.

All citizens are encouraged to at-tend the meetings in their area and speak out as to their thoughts and Public Meetings will be held at 7:00 p. m. at the following places: Potlatch H. S.: April 14-May 26th. Deary H. S., April 21-June 2nd. Genesee H. S., April 28-June 9th. Kendrick H. S., May 5th-June 16th. Latah Co. Courthouse, May 12-June 23rd.

Notes "Pluses" For Idaho Wildlife

By Royce Williams Idaho Dept. Fish & Game

The National Wildlife Federation reports the nation's wildlife lost "points" again during 1976, but in Idaho there were some plus points.

The Federation has published its eighth Environmental Quality Index for the United States showing that on a scale of 100 points, wildlife has dropped from a 58 rating in 1969 to a 45 at the end of 1976.

Line line time women have been members of the UI chapter of Blue Key.

Those named to Blue Key last fall were: Jan Deobald, senior finance

It may be inappropriate to call the strides made for wildlife in Idaho pluses, because in many cases the accomplishments made for this resource have been replacement of ear- regret. lier posses or lessening the impact of losses. In this category of maintaining the status quo are the mitigation projects that have come to fruition luring the past several months.

Heading the list is an interim agreement with the Bureau of Re-clamation that will help replace wildlife—mostly big game and water fowl—lost when the Teton and Ririe projects were built in eastern Idaho.

Through this agreement $182,600 is freed to develop land exclusively for wildlife.

Coming out of the environmental impact statement on grazing in the Challis area is the assurance from the Bureau of Land Management that bighorn sheep and elk will receive more attention in future management decisions there. Before leaving office, President Gerald Ford signed a $58 million appropriation to aid the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers in replacing salmon and steelhead lost to dams on the Lower Snake River. Although the plan has not been worked out in detail, Idaho is fairly sure that four new anadromous fish hatcheries will be built within her boundaries in the coming years.

Another federal action that points toward an improvement of Idaho's wildlife status is the Sikes Act, an act that makes money available to federal land management agencies for cooperative agreements with state agencies to improve wildlife habitat.

No specific programs have yet been approved for funding but the Idaho Department of Fish and Game in cooperation with the U.S. Forest Service will submit proposals to Congress for help in range burning for elk in northern Idaho.

SUPPLEMENTAL READING MEETING HELD APRIL 18

A group consisting of parents and teachers involved in the Supplemental Reading Program at Juliaetta Elementary School met Monday evening at 7:00 p. m. The group was privileged to have as its guest speaker, Mrs. Dorothy Dancy, a teacher at Grantham School in Clarkston and Lewis-Clark State College in Lewiston. She was accompanied by Mrs. Vivian Hartung. Both ladies are involved with the AIMS Program, which stands for Attitude, Involvement, Motivation and Skills.

The parents discussed changes in reading habits and attitudes of their children who are participating in the Remedial Reading Program.

Mrs. Jonene Fries, Supplemental

Reading Instructor, is to be highly commended for her outstanding contribution in the field of teaching remedical reading. We regret that she will be leaving Juliaetta Elementary to accompany her husband to his new position in Arizona.

Mrs. Ruth Heimgartner wishes to express for all their family and relatexpress for all their family and relatives of her "Aunt Charlotte" Bour-Margaret Fong of Deary and two of geault, who recently passed away, the deep appreciation they feel for the many cards, prayers and other Susan of Bovill were Saturday visitacts of kindness that helped ease ors of her folks, Mr. and Mrs. Bill their hearts during this said time of bereavement.

Vytautas (Vyto) Simaitis, and Mark Orme, members of a Wildlife Research Unit from the U of Idaho, were callers in the homes along the Clearwater River Wednesday morning April 13, making a complete Wildlife Survey on a cooperative Wildlife Research which included both shores, between Lewiston and Orofino. Rattlessnake life was their particular interest in our vicinity! They were surprised to learn they were in the home of the grandparents of young Bill Dean Steigers, a former U of I friend and a wildlife student also. Young Bill will be workon a "grant project" again this summer on the Richland Wildlife Reserve of the Atomic Energy plant.

Lovely frosted shrubs and fields, decorated with icicles, formed on areas under the sprinklers, greeted the surprised eyes of river residents on early mornings in the river area this week!

letters to the Editor

Since the evening of April when the people of this community and of this area gave my wife such an overwhelming expression of friendship, I have tried to figure out a way to personally thank each one involved. But, then, how do you contact 500 people, all of the organizations and businesses, and then find the right words to say what you want to say? I haven't come up with an answer to the first part of that question, let alone the second part. So I guess this letter is an attempt to say thanks for the many personal hours involved, the organizing and planning, the contributions and preparation of all that great food, your generous contributions which will go a long way toward getting a hold on the medical side of things, the fine performance of the Swing Choir, those genuine and nearly authentic Greek Dancers, the Old Time Fid-dlers, the award certificate itself and the award ceremony. For all these things, I say thanks for a beautiful event and for the beautiful spirit in which it was given. Sincerely, The Howard Braden Family

To the Editor: I suppose the people in the blue Datsun pick-up who were out gathering daffodils on Potlatch Ridge Sunday thought the birds had scattered those bulbs along that stretch of roadway. Well! I'd like to enlighten them about that! They were planted, carefully and deliberately, by a real, live human being, with the intention and hope that they would be enjoyed for many years by whoever happened to be passing that way. It takes several years for those plants to make much of a showing since they depend on Mother Nature for moisture, so although they were planted several years ago, this year they were really quite pretty, due perhaps to last summer's rains. I sincerely hope that the people who dug them, lock, stock and barrel, get enough pleasure from them to pay for the disappointment of the people of this community who had been enjoying them. They were missed in less than an hour. Also, as I said another time, on a similar occasion, if anyone will come ton, visited her father, Ed Halseth to me and ask for them: I will share my bulbs with them, as soon as the

Cardio-pulmonary Resusitation

By Bill Tracy

Mrs. Stensland's Health Class received expert instruction in cardiopulmonary resusitation last week as four resource persons visited our school to demonstrate and work with students on this life saving technique. Helen Harris, Margie Silflow, Donna Heinen and Charlie Bowers brought with them lifelike manikins which were used to teach students how to administer artificial respiration and manual heart stimulation to potential victims. The C. P. R. miniclass was preceeded by a film describing the method and class lead-up to the demonstration. Many thanks to these community members for taking time to share their expertise with our kids.

Golf Attracts Interest Seventeen student golfers have joined Mr. Ruark's golf team this spring and the interest in chasing that little white ball around the course appears to be high. The team practices on the football field after school and travels to Orofino once a week for workouts on a course. 2 matches have been played so far this year. One match was against Orofino and the other was against Asotin. Our young team suffered defeats for both contests. However, one thing students will gain from their high school golfing experience is the experience to establish a life time sport.

Little League Baseball
If you are the parents of an upper elementary child, I don't have to tell you about Little League Baseball. The kids have been looking forward to this time of year, because it means not only good weather but also baseball. Mr. Jones has again organized this very popular after school activity. Both a girls league and a boys league have been formed with games being played on week nights until May 16. The help of parent coaches and umpires is very much appreciated. S. R. A. Testing Next week students in grades 1-9 will be administered S. R. A. Achievement Tests as part of the district wide testing program. These tests help measure educational growth of our students in the basic skills. The results will be used by the district to see where progress is satisfactory and to identify areas of weakness for future planning of instructional improvement.

FOR SAFE DRIVING

Safe, Dependable Winter Driving Requires Extra Care and Maintenance

A leaky or faulty muffler or exhaust system can be deadly on a car or truck in the wintertime when the windows are closed tightly most of the time.

Worn or poor snow tires can cause dangerous driving conditions when winter snow and ice are on the roads.

Brakes that grab or are out of adjustment could cause you to lose control of your vehicle when streets are icy.

Worn out points or spark plugs can make your car hard to start, especially on these cold mornings. And, an old, weak battery just can't give you the power you need in cold weather.

Good Anti-Freeze in the proper amount can mean the diffeernt between complete protection and or a costly repair bill.
