Seems strange that all of these stories seem to center around Genesee farmers, but that is where I receive most of my exposure.

This tough old Genesee farmer finally became ill and was rushed to the hospital where he was treated for several days. His condition became worse and finally with his wife at his bedside he drew his last breath a started across the last

The doct rushed in and after a brief examination pronounced him When the ambulance came dead. to take him to the mortuary his wife stated that she had lived with him for so many years that she thought she would ride with him to the mortuary. During the trip, his wife noticed a little tremor in her husband's body and hardly before she realized what was happening he raised up and with was happening ite raised up and said, "Where are we going?" His wife replied, "You're dead and we are going to the mortuary."

The tough old farmer exclaimed, "I'm not dead." To which his wife replied, "Shut up, and lay back down, the doctor knows best!"

Regulations

The Department of Fish and Game announced this week that the 1977-1978 trapping and the 1977 upland game bird regulations are ready for distribution across the state. Trapers will find some changes in the new regulations. For example, the bobcat no longer is considered a predator and will have a one-month season in January.

That means al harvest of bobcats in the state is illegal until January. The closure came with the reclassification of the bobcat from the states predator list to the furbearer list. rect it, you have made another one. bird seasons wil be opening Septem-October 22.

Second Grade

The second grade class attended the Latah Co. Fair Sept. 16. We were given a tour of the exhib... in Livestock, 4-H, and Open Class.

Each student was given a special guest badge and an Indian band with a feather in it.

The highlight of the day was the complimentary tickets for carnival rides and treats. Although it was rainy and cold, the students didn't mind and spent an enjoyable day at

We would like to thank those mothers who came along to help us, Mrs. Callison, Mrs. Blair, Mrs. Morton, Mrs. Dennler, Mrs. Lohman, and Mrs. Groseclose. A thank you also to Mrs. Souders, our bus driver. In class this week we have been studying nutrition. We made colorful mobiles to hang in the room showing foods from the basic four food some of her math training working with the second grade. Howie Warner and Lucinda Groseclose were the first two to compete their addition quizzes and successfully pass their "candy bar" tests. They each received a candy bar for their

Fourth Grade

So far school has been hard work! The other day Mrs. Mathison changed desks around, it looks different. Wednesday Agatha spent the day Darvie Gentry will have a birthday judging 4-H entries at the Fair and party Tuesday.

John Bryan, Kris Gillispie and Rocky Smith have the most in the Bookworm club.

Danny Emery is going around the United States with his Mom and he has not returned yet from his trip. Monday we had a substitute teacher named Mrs. Marek. Diane Wilson got two red ribbons for her pig at the Fair. And Robert Jones got two blue ribbons for his rocket. Karen Reil got a blue ribbon for her skirt. Jenifer Parsley got a blue ribbon on her poster.

Well, goodbye.
