Farm Population Increases On Large Farms

Washington —While total farm population is declining, more people are living on the larger farms which produce the bulk of the nation's food and fiber, according to a study released today by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.
 Although the total farm population declined during the 1970-75 study, the number of people living on farms with annual sales greater than $40,000 increased by 76 percent, said demographer Vera J. Banks of the department's Economics, Statistics, and Cooperatives Service (ESCS).
 A substantial but undetermined part of this increase was associated with inflation of farm product prices during the period. The farms with over $40,000 in sales account for about 80 percent of total U. S. farm receipts but only 24 percent of the U. S. farm population.
 Banks said in 1975 farms with under $2,500 in annual sales contained a third of the U. S. farm population, or about 2.8 million. This compares with 3.6 million in 1970. Operators of these farms usually earn most of their money income from off-farm sources.
 Single free copies of the report, "Farm Population Trends and Farm Characteristics" (RDRR-5) are available from ESCS Publications, 0054-S, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. 20250. Cr, phone (202) 447-7305.

There was an old man, a boy and a donkey.
 They were going to town and it was decided that the boy should ride. As they went along they passed some people who thought that it was a shame for the boy to ride and the old man to walk.
 The man and boy decided that maybe the critics were right so they changed positions. Later, they passed some more people who thought that it was a real shame for that man to make such a small boy walk.
 The two decided that maybe they both should walk. Soon they passed some more people who thought that it was stupid to walk when they had a donkey to ride.
 The man and boy decided maybe the critics were right so they decided that they should both ride. They soon passed other people who thought that it was a shame to put such a load on a poor little animal.
 The old man and the boy then decided that maybe the critics were right so they decided to carry the donkey. As they crossed a bridge they lost their grip on the animal and he fell into the river and drowned.
 The moral of the story is that if you try to please everyone you will finally lose your ass.

Cumberland wasn't a free pass.

But it was America's first generation gap. Between 1775 and 1880, generation after generation of American settlers plodded through the Cumberland Gap. by the agricultural colleges at the University of Idaho, Washington State University and Oregon State University.

In a section of the report, dealing with cereal grains, Washington State extension economist Owen S. Wirak predicted U. S. wheat prices at the farm will average from $2.80 to $3.00 per bushel during the 1978-79 marketing year, as compared to $2.31 in 1977-78.

"Wheat prices are expected to hold in the $3.75 to $4.00 range throughout the current marketing year if exports reach 170 million bushels. Supplies of white wheat without sprout damage are likely to be tight before the new crop harvest in 1979," Wirak pointed out.

White wheat accounts for 50 percent of total wheat production in Washington, 95 percent in Oregon and 100 percent in northern Idaho. "World wheat production in 1978-79 is forecast at a record 423 million tons, more than 40 million tons above 1977-78.

"Total world stocks of wheat at the end of the 1978-79 season are expected to increase 15 million tons, with most of this buildup occurring in the Soviet Union. World wheat trade is expected to remain near the past year's record level," Wirak reported.

For Pacific Northwest producers of white wheat, Australia may be a formidable competitor in the 1979 drive for expanded foreign markets. The tri-state outlook report said Australia's current wheat crop may be a third greater than the crop harvested last winter.

The report said a measure of stability for U. S. wheat and corn markets has been provided by strong loan activity, heavy export shipments and the tie-up of grain in the government grain reserve and Commodity Credit Corporation inventories.

"U. S. wheat stocks on June 1 were 1.17 billion bushels the largest since the early 1960s. Farmers held about 47 percent of these stocks, either in the government grain reserve or under loan," the report said.

The 1979 U. S. wheat program will again feature a set-aside level of 20 percent, a national loan rate of $2.35 per bushel and a target price of $3.40 per bushel.

"Deficiency payments based on the $3.40 target price will probably be an important factor to wheat growers in 1979," the outlook report said.

First Security Advantage lets you write checks on your money when you need it — and pays interest on it when you don't.

Your checking money can stay in statement savings — earning 5% continuously compounded interest until you write a check. Transfers are made automatically when required to maintain the checking balance at the level you set. And you never have to worry about being overdrawn. The service can cost you nothing — depending on the combined average balance of both checking and statement savings accounts.

Advantage also gives you the First Security Banking Card, the easiest way to use your checking account. Accepted wherever you see the blue, white and gold Visa sign.

It looks like a credit card and is accepted as readily. But rather than going on your credit card bill, funds for each transaction are simply deducted from your checking account. Faster and easier than writing a check. And soon it will be your key to First Security Automated Teller Machines.

OR how FULTON kept HIS head above WATER.

Robert Fulton laughed all the way to the banks. Of the Hudson River that is.

It was August 17, 1807, and Fulton's steamboat "Clermont" made its maiden voyage from New York City to Albany.

The skeptics lined the river's edge to witness the sinking of "Fulton's Folly." Instead, Fulton kept his steamboat and his head above water. And helped shape the future of America.

A flock of some 12 or 15 robins were seen early Monday on the McCreary ranch former Ellis place on the Schoolhouse Hill. They were much interested in the berries that form on the Virginia Creeper vines. However, their stay was short, probably sensing the approaching snow that began falling on Monday night and continuing on Tuesday.

Fix ridge news: Christmas dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Denner were Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Weaver and family, Mrs. Jim Farrington and children, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Heimgartner and children, Mrs. Lena Zumbhoffe and son, Walter, S. S. Taber and son, Rex; George Denner, Frieda, Martha, Ella and Ernest Denner and Mrs. Elsie May and son.

The people of Kendrick carried out the true meaning of Christmas this year when they rallied to fill baskets with provisions, clothing and toys. Eleven families were made happier by this thoughtfulness on the part of their friends. Approximately 25 of the business people and individuals contributed to this worthy cause. All was given in the name of Him who said, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me." December 30, 1948

Mrs. Stewart Wilson and Mrs. Bill Zimmerman attended a shower given for Mrs. Zimmerman at Bovill by friends and neighbors, who wanted to help replace, as far as possible, the things destroyed by the fire that left the Zimmerman's homeless, as well as burning all their furniture, canned fruit, etc. Mrs. Zimmerman said she had difficulty getting all she received into the car and was still receiving packages. It makes a world of difference to see how friends respond and to help in times of misfortune or trouble.

Food Stamp Changes
Now In Effect

A widow on Social Security will notice a difference when she gets her January food stamp allotment.

She will no longer have to pay for her food stamps. Instead of spending $41 for $54 in food stamps, she will receive her adjusted bonus in food stamps free.

Jan. 1 is the date Idaho will implement the Food Stamp Act of 1977 according to Idaho Department of Health and Welfare (DHW) Eligibility Specialist Neil Ehresman.

The decision of the purchase requirement is an example of a change benefiting senior citizens on fixed incomes and families or individuals who have very low incomes.

Ehresman says the elimination of the purchase requirement is one of the program's most significant changes. Previously persons in the widow's situation would forego buying food stamps because they lacked the purchase price.

"Most of those who will enter the program when the purchase requirement is ended are the elderly and the poor," Ehresman said.

Ehresman notes the new law will eliminate more than 1 million recipients with higher incomes by changing the system of deductions used to figure eligibility.

"In the past eligibility was figured allowing food stamp recipients to use itemized deductions for child care, medical care, excess housing costs, education and unusual expenses," Ehresman says.

Now recipients can use only three deductions. The first, Ehresman says, is a stand deduction of $65 a month for all families regardless of their size or income.

"The second is an earned income deduction. Households with earned income (not Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) or Supplemental Security Income (SSI)) will be allowed to deduct 20 percent of their gross earned income. This deduction is intended to compensate for taxes, mandatory salary deductions and work expenses," Ehresman explains.

The third deduction covers dependent care costs (adult or child) for working parents and excess housing costs. This $80 deduction can be taken one of three ways.

It can be taken entirely for child care or for excess housing. Or it can be shared. A household which takes a $50 deduction in child care costs can take up to $30 in excess housing costs. The entire deduction can't exceed $80," Ehresman stresses.

The Food Stamp Act's purpose is to expand the program to those who really need it and to simplify the bureaucratic process, Ehresman says. An example of the simplification is a change in the definition of whom comprises a household. Under the new definition, any group of people who buy and prepare food together is a household.

Work requirements for food stamp eligibility have been tightened considerably, Ehresman says. Any person who is otherwise eligible to receive food stamps, who is mentally and physically fit and who is between 18 and 60 years old must register for full-time work.

Students will be required to work 20 hours a week during the school term if they want to participate in the food stamp program.

If a student is or can be claimed by his parents as a tax deduction, he will automatically be disqualified from the program. During the school recesses which last longer than 30 days, a student must register for full time employment, Ehresman says.

The new law will disallow recipients of AFDC and SSI from automatically qualifying for food stamps. All families will have to meet federal poverty guidelines, Ehresman notes.

"Under the new 'expedited service' requirement, DHW is required to issue food stamps within three days when there is an emergency situation and the client has no money. With normal service, the time between filing an application and receiving food stamps can take up to 30 days," Ehresman says.

DHW will review food stamp cases sometime after Jan. 1, 1979 to determine how the regulations will affect current food stamp recipients. Although most households will not lose benefits, some may. Ehresman says DHW will notify those clients at least 10 days before any change in benefits is made.

Stony Point

Nellie Dean Steigers—Reporter

New Year's blew in on a nippy wind, with river area temperatures slightly below zero and with much lower readings on the Stony Point Ridge! During New Year's Day, a call from Keith Steigers near Missoula told of -38 degree that day. Much trouble at the Frenchtown Mill, resulting from the extreme cold was mentioned. As of Tuesday morning, Jan. 2, the weather has moderated several degrees on the ridge of Stony Point and on the Clearwater River area! Roads, so far, are in good condition, and Friendship Club plans to meet on this Thursday, January 4th, with Ruth Heimgartner! Editor Bill was not guilty of the error that 'e' apologized for! Nellie was, I'm sure!

Erma Steven's latest report on her mother, Mystie Heimgartner, is good.

Wayne Heimgartners, other guests there being Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Heimgartner and family and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Heimgartner, Sr., who also were supper guests.

Jim Steigers, during the cold snap of New Year's was home from Weippe. The Hutchins Mill was "laid off" on Tuesday.

Entertain—

On Thursday, Dec. 28th, for supper and visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Cookill, Pat and Raymond Heimgartner and children Shelly and Greg. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Heimgartner were at the Wayne Heimgartner home. Sunday nite supper guests were Everett Heimgartner, Bill and Laverne Harri and the Dean Rynearson family, all of Clarkston. Bill, Laverne and Lilly McCall, also present, remaining overnight at Wayne's home. Ruth reports it a most enjoyable week despite her bout with sinus problems! Some "overnited" with Roy's on Sunday.

New Year's Eve and Day—

A gathering of the Heimgartner clan was held at the home of Roy and Ardythe Heimgartner on the above festive dates! A huge dinner was held on New Year's day! The Lee Heimgartner family was present at both these events!

Journey To Turlock, California!

A ten-day vacation trip to the California home of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Carpenter and children was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Glen Stevens and Effie Powell, returning home on Dec. 27th. While in Turlock a 35th wedding anniversary party was celebrated honoring Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baake, who reside there. (Steve and Linda Baake had gone to Sitka, Alaska for their holidays visiting a friend's home). A concert was enjoyed by the Stevens' while in Turlock, also. The weather in California was not "hot" but most enjoyable, and driving conditions were good!

Pastor and Mrs. John Skillman and small son, Jonathon of Cottonwood Creek were Sunday dinner guests in the Glen Stevens home on Sunday, December 31st.

At Pinecreek
New Year's Day, Don Brown and wife, Jan, of Lewiston were Helena Brown's dinner guests, taking home with them son, Allen and daughter, Shannon, who had spent their vacation with their grandmother. Mrs. Carol Richardson of Orofino, came on Sunday, celebrating her own and daughter, Noelle's birthday and taking home with her daughters, Noelle and Rena, who for the past week had joined cousins, Allen and Shannon at Pine Creek. Helena, during their visits had a quickie version of stomach flu and was cared for most tenderly by the visiting grandchildren!

American Ridge

By Mrs. Jo Benseater

1979 came in on a sub-zero temperature which kept most people by their firesides, news is quite scarce. However a few ventured out.

Vicky and Dick Benseater, in company with Walter and Emma Randolph of Spokane traveled to Grandview Lodge on Priest Lake to visit the Bob Benseaters from Friday to Monday.

The Warney Mays entertained a group of friends of their three sons on New Year's Eve. For their own entertainment they also had Rena and Ernie Andrews and their daughter, Evelyn and Budd Russell and their children of Missoula, Montana.

On Friday evening, Ernie and Rena Andrews and Warney and Betty May attended a New Year's party for members of "Search and Rescue" in Potlatch.

New Year's dinner guests in the George Havens home were the Chas. Havens family of Clarkston and the Dr. Eric Stauber family of Genesee. Ira and Vicky Havens of Lewiston were afternoon callers.

Monday afternoon callers in the Warney May home were Gary Browning and Roy Silflow.
Andy and Minnie Cox visited the Tom Neal family Monday afternoon. Theda Swanson was a Sunday afternoon caller in the Cox home.

New Year's dinner guests of the Lawrence Heimgartners were the David Johnson family of Lewiston and the Dick Groseclose family of Juliaetta. On Saturday evening, the Heimgartners enjoyed supper with Janice, Dick and Marilou Groseclose in their Juliaetta home.

Joy Huggins accompanied Wayne and Phebe Davis to Ritzville, Wn. for New Year's with Bruce, Connie and Kristen Davis. Stuart Huggins had to keep the home fires burning.

Rena and Ernie Andrews took Shelley and Sheila Andrews back to their home in Kennewick.

Christmas dinner guests in the Ernie Andrews home were Norma and Dave Crocker, Teresa Castelberry and Steven Crocker, Londa Crocker and Randy Sexton, Moscow. Also Shelley and Sheila Andrews. In the afternoon Wesley, Brenda Andrews and baby joined the family gathering. Emma Kent has been moved from Gritman hospital to the Latah County Convalescent Center for further treatment and therapy. Edd Kent is staying with their daughter, Kathleen Morey to be near enough to keep in touch with her progress. We all wish them well.

Get ready for winter driving by checking your car's thermostat. If it sticks open, the engine will not be operating at its best efficiency resulting in fouled plugs and less gas mileage. This reminder from the Bureau of Highway Safety.

Cedar Ridge News

Mrs. Sam Weaver

Mr. and Mrs. George Lyons and Charles had New Year's dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Dave Hutcheson and children, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Grant and Mr. and Mrs. Clem Lyons. Saturday guests of George Lyons were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones and Doug and Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Staker, all of Lewiston.

Wally Butler came home last Saturday from the hospital and is getting along as well as his back condition will allow, which isn't very good.

Russel Brammer spent the weekend at Pinehurst and attended the wedding of Debra Clarke and Mike Stafford.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wilson, Alvin and Diane joined other friends for supper at Mr. and Mrs. Don Edgars on the hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Groseclose and family attended a New Year's Eve party with Mr. and Mrs. Dave Hutcheson and family.

Jennifer Parsley spent last week in Portland with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Candler. Lynesse Phillips of Kennewick was a New Year's Day and overnight guest of the Jack Parsley family.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Perryman and Gene were Sunday afternoon visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Kechter. Neil Grinolds and Jeff were Sunday afternoon callers of Perrymans.

Mrs. Marion Souders was a New Year's day afternoon caller of Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Brocke.

Jake Reibold of Garfield was a Sunday afternoon visitor of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Bahr. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Arnett were New Year's Eve callers. Phils enjoyed New Year's Day dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Skip Arnett and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Fey and sons had New Year's dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fey and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Clem Lyons visited with Mrs. Edd Kent and Grandma Lyons at the Latah Nursing Home Monday. Clem and Flo spent New Year's Eve with Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Brammer.

Elk E-10 Was Well Trained

E-10 was a well-trained elk for part of the 13 or more years of her life.

Jack Benton, Fort Worth, Texas, turned in the Department of Fish and Game tag when he found the animal in Montana during the 1978 hunting season.

The department, in acknowledging receipt of the tag, informed Benton that the elk was trapped and tagged as an adult cow at Cold Meadows airstrip in the Idaho Primitive area on July 25, 1967.

"Her age would be at least 13 and, according to the map, she traveled about 80 air miles to Montana, where you found her with tag E-10," Benton was told.

Officials in the department's wildlife bureau say elk normally don't move such a distance during migration between summer and winter range.

The department welcomes the return of the tags, because it helps wildlife research biologists in their studies of big game habits. If requested, a brief history of the tagged animal goes along with the "thank you" letter after the tag is received.
