Genesee Senior Citizens Met January 28

President Evelyn Danielson called the meeting to order. Dues are still payable for 1983—$5.00 per person per year. Etta Eglund and Cletus Morken were hostesses.

After dinner was cleared away, Levi Rossebo showed slides of old time pictures of Genesee and surrounding area. Among them were pictures of previous Community days, barn and cattle near Rosalia, Wa. Some of the east end elevator. Also pictures of Nick Bushes' sheep near the Rossebo home.

Pictures of a bumper crop of 1952 and '53 and of a Harris combine. A matched mule team of Pendleton, Oregon and many interesting pictures.

The last selection was from the Finley Holiday Slides—pictures of Washington, D. C. and the Capitol Building. These forty pictures were most informative and interesting.

Cletus Morken announced that the library was open and all were welcome to stroll through and look at the large black and white photos of "Women at Work" in Latah County. Some were of the early schools in Deary, Idaho and one was of Laura Albright when she was a young teacher in this area.

Next meeting February 11.

Grocery Shopping Requires Expertise

Moscow—In the business world, purchasing agents are appreciated for their money-saving expertise. A University of Idaho educator believes similar appreciation is due shoppers who have learned how to obtain maximum nutritional value for their grocery dollars.

"An expert grocery shopper has the skills of a purchasing agent," said Marilyn Swanson, food and nutrition specialist for the University of Idaho Cooperative Extension Service. "You're truly an expert if you can resist the tempting in-store displays, placing in your shopping cart only those items you intended to buy when you prepared your shopping list."

Careful planning—including the preparation of a shopping list—is the major requirement for efficient shopping, Swanson said. "Timing is important, too. You should go to the grocery store at a time when you are not hungry and when you can take a few minutes to make cost comparisons," she pointed out.

The University of Idaho specialist said good supermarket strategy includes the following steps:

—Arrange your shopping list according to the way items are grouped in the grocery. This makes it easier to shop.

—Plan menus for the week with the newspaper in hand, so you can take advantage of the advertised specials. Check food supplies you have on hand and place needed items on your list.

—Clip cents-off coupons for foods you regularly. For the sake of variety, you might add one or two coupons for foods you do not ordinarily use.

—Once in the store, stick to your shopping list. Substitute items only when you find a similar food at a better price.

—Always make cost comparisons. The unit price which is posted on the shelf directly below the item should be used as the basis for comparing costs of different brands and sizes.

—For comparing costs, learn to use a handheld calculator. This can save time and money.

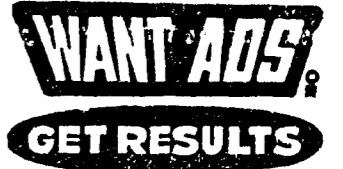

—Bypass candy, soft drinks and jellied doughnuts. If your shopping list includes nutritious snacks such as fresh fruits and vegetables, family members will have less strong cravings for sugary snacks.

—Check the dates on perishable items to make sure you don't buy food with limited self-life. Never buy more perishables than you can use in a reasonable length of time. Store foods carefully.

—If you shop with children, make shopping a learning experience for them. Teach them to shop efficiently.

A family purchasing agent, like an agent in business, should take pride in a job well done, Swanson said. "It's quite an achievement to provide food for the family and still have a few dollars left over for something else," she said. (Marilyn Swanson's phone number at the UI is 885-6545.)

Game 15- Game time 7:30- Bulldog's Coach Ozzie Kamikberg commented on the up coming tournaments. "It's going to be a good tournament where anyone of the six teams could win on a given night. As far as opponents go Kendrick with its height is going to be a tough team to play. I feel that the Bulldogs have been progressing all season and they are on their way to peaking. I figure that the guys will reach the peak at the right time (tournament time). Genesee's strength is in their defense and their offense is improving, which will really help. I am very optimistic and pleased with the progress of the ball club. I feel that the team's attitude is great and that can take us a long way."

Good Luck Bulldogs, we're behind you all the way!!

Mr. Knecht will be leaving—

Mr. Edward Knecht, the principal at Genesee High School for the last 4 years is leaving on February 11, to be the new Assistant Director of the Oregon Beaver Club. He will be in charge of the athletic fund raising organization for the Oregon State University athletic department in Portland. Mr. Knecht said that he and his wife are leaving Genesee with mixed emotions. He will miss both the community and the school. "We have made many wonderful friends, both adults and many of the school students." We will miss them all and we hope the friendship will continue through the years. By the same we are anxiously awaiting the challenge of the new job and returning to the Pac-10 Conference." Everyone at C. W. Post wishes Mr. Knecht and his wife the best of luck.

Girl's Tournament Ends—

Girls' basketball tournaments came to an end last week and the Genesee Bulldogs finished 4th. We are very proud of them all. Girls' basketball coach Mario Salinas reviewed last week's basketball action for us. In the first game against Highland, Genesee had lots of fouls which allowed Highland to nip up by three points. Over all though, the game was evenly played but Highland just made more foul shots than we did. In the second game against Culdesac Genesee dominated the boards and controlled the speed of the game as the score clearly shows, 58-9. The third game against Troy showed Genesee's best defense all season and we won by 1 point. The girls fourth and last game was against Highland. The game was similar to that of the game before but this time Genesee went into overtime and were beaten by foul shots in the last second. District tournaments showed what Genesee can really do and gave us invaluable experience for our growing team. Genesee Bulldogs are definitely a team of the future with all remaining starters. Overall Coach Salinas was very pleased with tournaments and the way the team came together.

Vocational Education Week—

The Genesee FHA (Future Homemakers of America) Chapter is celebrating National FHA Week as part of Vocational Education Week, February 6-12.

As part of the home economics program, FHA provides opportunities for students to have additional experience in planning and carrying out leadership activities in the home, school and the community. The chapter member of FHA dressed in the official club colors red and white, and the FFA (Future Farmers of America) came to school decked in their official dress.

Vocational classes are a popular and important part of the GHS curriculum. The vocational education classes include home economics instructed by Chris Turner, vocational agriculture taught by Randy Brown, and the business-related courses instructed by Rowena Smith.

The home ec. classes are presently working on interior design, sewing, and cooking and nutrition. The home ec. classes have also been using the school Apple computer to do diet analysis. The students in shop class are overhauling and studying small engines, learning parliamentary procedure, and acquiring shop skills. Last but not least, the business courses such as office occupations are working on the word processor, calculators, and typing skills. The accounting students are studying the pay roll with the use of the peg board system.

The skills learned with participation is extra-curricular clubs such as FHA, FFA, and OEA (Office Education Association) and in vocational courses will prove to be very helpful in future job and careers.

Straw and Other Poor Feeds Cause Nutritional Problems

Clifton Anderson
 Associate Agricultural Editor

Moscow—Cattlemen who use low-quality feeds in their rations this winter may be reducing the future profitability of their cow-calf operations, according to Richard C. Bull, animal nutritionist with the University of Idaho College of Agriculture. "Producers would like to reduce the cost of their rations, but it is false economy to make extensive use of cheap feeds such as straw. The reason these feeds are cheap is their low nutritional value. They don't provide the essential nutrients needed by pregnant cows and heifers," Bull said.

Fewer calves will be produced when cows are inadequately nourished, he said. "The survival and viability of this year's calves will be affected. Next year's calf crop will be reduced too, because poorly nourished cows have a poor rate of conception," he explained.

The University of Idaho scientist said mature cows that have had two or more calves could be fed a ration containing up to 25 percent straw or other low-quality roughage, if the remainder of the ration is high-quality alfalfa hay. High quality alfalfa has at least 18 percent crude protein content he said.

He advised cattlemen to pay close attention to the nutritional needs of younger cows.

"A young cow not only needs nourishment for a developing fetus but she also needs nutrients for her own growth. Her nutritional needs cannot be met by a ration based on low-quality forage," Bull said.

A cow's requirements for nutrients are particularly high during the last 60 to 90 days of the gestation period. "The fetus is then growing at a rate of one pound per day. Everything that is needed for this growth process must come from the mother's diet. If cows do not receive adequate nutrition, calves will be born in a weakened condition, highly susceptible to infection," he said.

Bull said cattle rations which contain some grain straw can be expected to be deficient in crude protein and phosphorus and also are likely to lack sufficient calcium, vitamin A and trace minerals. To make up for these deficiencies, supplements should be added to the rations.

"Straw has only limited value as a source of energy. As a feed it is not comparable to high-quality forages such as alfalfa. Its use in the ration after calving is not recommended," he said.

Rations which combine potatoes and straw cannot provide cattle's nutritional needs for protein and phosphorus, Bull said. Potatoes are primarily an energy source. They do not have the extra protein and other nutrients to meet the shortfall of straw," he said.

An alkali treatment, using anhydrous ammonia or sodium hydroxide could break down the lignin in straw and make its carbohydrate fraction more available. The treatment is not economically feasible at the present time," Bul said.

"It doesn't pay to feed straw when higher quality forages are available at a relatively low cost. Nutritionally, straw and other cheap feeds can't compete with alfalfa hay, he said.

Bull said ration-planning information is available at county offices of the UI Cooperative Extension Service.

Friendship Club—

The Stonypoint Friendship Club met on February 3 at the home of Dorothy Partridge, where work was done—quilting on a lovely, large pieced quilt. This quilt was made for Dorothy by Bernice Loft, now of Lenore, who was one of the four guests present. The others were Wanda Hoskins of Cottonwood Creek; Elaine Kerby, laughter of Janet Kerby, and Dorothy's guest from Salt Lake City, Mary Hayhurst, who ably assisted Dorothy in all the preparations for the meeting.

Having Mildred Heath, our oldest member, able to be present during the day, was a special joy for all! Eleven members were present. It was planned that all who could, would return on Wednesday, Feb. 9 for another quilting session, (not a regular meeting).

Two menfolk enjoyed the bounteous meal, via trays, somewhere in the immediate vicinity—Earl Partridge and guest Bill Hayhurst. (Some "goodies" were sent home for

A happy note! Our good club member, Beatrice Holsington, arrived home on Sunday, Feb. 6, after spending some time in St. Joseph's Hospital as a heart patient!

Remember!—

On Sunday, Feb. 20, at 5:30 p. m., many who are able to receive Channel 10 on their television sets will be tuning in to watch the film of "High School Bowl", showing Lapwai's win over Ritzville! This team, consisting of team president Arthur Taylor, Jr., Tony Houston, Clint Medley and Bekalyn Steigers, with coach instructor Linda Steigers, have filled all their "backers" with pride. All are students at Lapwai High School.

The contest was held on the campus at Washington State University in Pullman and KWSU-TV, did the filming, on the scene, when it was held one day last week.

Valentine Social at Church—

This fun-filled affair was held at the Cottonwood Creek Community Church on Saturday nite, Feb. 5, and a "magic show", given by Dr. Dan Lockwood, of Multnomah Bible Institute, was a feature of the entertainment. Following the show, pies were served in the social rooms. All present enjoyed it very much!

Mrs. Effie Powell spent the weekend with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Stevens, celebrating her early 85th birthday. All attended various church activities during her visit.

Erma Stevens visited daughter Crystal Fliger in Lewiston Sunday afternoon, Feb. 6, and they later called on Myrtle Helmgartner.

The Eldon Helmgartners were Sunday dinner guests of sister Marie, and Everett Custer of Clarkston.

On Thursday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Helmgartner were supper guests in the home of brother Lawrence Helmgartner and wife Nell and their son Ray. Pictures were shown of the fall trip in Canada made by the group. Re-living it again, together, refreshed memories and added to the same!

On Sunday, Wayne and Ruth spent the day celebrating son Harold's birthday, at his Clarkston home. A good time was had by all.

Stevens Kids Bowl—

On Sunday, Feb. 6, young Brady and Hollie Stevens, with mother Patti, were at a bowling tournament held in Orofino, for youngsters of 8 to 14 or 15 years. It was a close game and much enjoyed! The children are members of a Lewiston League. Active!

Rain, Snow and Fog—

Fog was closing in on our river area on Monday morning and rain had wet our ground. The hill-toppers "enjoyed?" a thin layer of "white stuff". A few brave little "Snow Drops" and crocus have peeped thru in various lower regions.

"Ground Hog Day" Birthdays—

It was a bright, sunny day, and the shadow of the ground hog could have been seen.

On that day—Feb. 2, 1933—our late Dr. D. A. Christensen delivered his first set of twins, Kenneth and Keith Steigers.

On this Feb. 2, 1983, their ages added to 100 years! Ken eligible for a Locust Blossom Sr. Citizen button.

It was learned that 80 years ago, Ada Wall, Mrs. Heath's able helper, was also born on Ground Hog's Day! Belated Happy Birthday!

Norma and Kenny Rugg were her mother's weekend helper guests.

Lucky? Mishap—

The overturning of a new Jeep on county road between Hubbard Gulch and Pine Creek, resulted in no bodily injuries Sunday morning, except to the top of the prized Jeep. Not speed! A large unseen boulder on the road side.

From Our Legislators

Sen. Marguerite McLaughlin (Demo. — Dist. 7)

Boise — There's a humorous, if somewhat cynical song in "Cabaret" that says: "Money makes the world go around". The Idaho legislature has joined in the cynicism, but has a hard time recognizing the humor in the $70 million shortfall for fiscal '83. The humor simply isn't there.

Everyone has a pet suggestion for raising revenue or cutting "fat". Although no tax increase is popular, a sales tax increase is a favorite in some quarters of the legislature. Revenue-raising devices run from cutting all or some of the present exemptions to raising the tax by one or two pennies on the dollar. There are literally dozens of variations on both of these plans, some including a "sunset" clause, which allows the tax to return to the old 3% level after fiscal 1983.

The proposed increase in sales tax is indeed valid, but an effort to make Idaho's property, corporate, and income taxes equitable is more than overdue. It's too late to correct the 1983 budget problems in this way, but 1984 will see Idaho in a graver situation than it is now if we don't do something about this.

Another proposal for raising money is to implement a negative supplemental in Idaho's biggest spending area: the schools. Education is Idaho's top priority, and a negative supplemental is a drastic measure. The school districts have already spent over 70% of their appropriated funds, and virtually all of the rest of their money is contracted. That the legislature is even considering cutting funds to the schools shows how desperate the state is.

There are also proposals to use dedicated funds, such as those raised from drivers' education course fees, to solve the state's money problems. The fees were raised last year from $15 to $25; now we tax even 14-year olds. This proposal, and others like it, may be a short-term answer, but we will be back to square one in 1984 if we rely on these as answers to the long-term problem of raising revenue for Idaho.

An original proposal to save money in 1983 by holding back $39,500 from the Woodland Forester program has been abandoned for now. The long-term fate of this program is unclear.

In a move perhaps more symbolic than actually money-saving, the legislature voted down its pay raise for the second time in four years.

In a sense, money does make the world go around, and at times the state's financial problems are dizzying. There is an answer somewhere, however—our job is to find the right combination of "solutions" to get Idaho out of the red.

Rep. Carl Braun (Demo. — Dist. 7)

I think a quote from Representative Jim Stoiceff of Sandpoint is in order here. "Until the money problem is solved, we're nothing but seventy frozen clods in a field of legislative dead grass."

After all this time waiting for the "Republican Master Plan" here is how they propose to cure our $69 million shortfall: Cut 1½% across the board from everybody for $3 million. Another $2.6 million is taken out of Driver's Education, Industrial Commission, Water Resources, Public Retirement and Building funds. None of the $2.6 million is repaid back into those departments. Public schools got taken for another $7.7 million. These dollars come from insurance rebate moneys and the school district's endowment funds. I don't know what your thinking is on using funds dedicated to specific purposes like endowment, public retirement, and the water resources moneys but that, to me, is like cashing in your saving bonds and has very, very grave consequences. Remember some of this money they don't intend to put back. That is irresponsible and I can't and won't buy it. There will be changes, I think, and you can watch for them.

Just a few words about the raising of the age of the young people from 19 to 21 to enter a bar or club where liquor is sold, that hasn't reached its final passage and will, no doubt, be amended also. It is my opinion that it is not going to solve the problem: in fact, I think as a former club owner during the Dworshak Dam construction here in Orofino, that it will only compound the problem. What is needed is stricter mandatory law enforcement. I leave you with that thought and will have more to say about this subject next week.

ON TO STATE

The Kendrick High School Tiger girls' basketball team, district No. 2 champions, will leave for Twin Falls by bus from the high school at 6:00 a. m. on Wednesday morning. An afternoon break is planned with a stop-over in Boise for a practice and swim session at the B. S. U. indoor pool. They will drive in later that afternoon to Twin Falls where they will be staying at the Holiday Inn.

Thursday at 3 o'clock Kendrick time or 4 o'clock Twin Falls time, the team will meet the Melba team for their starting game. "It is hoped that Kendrick's next game will be at 6:45 p. m. Friday night," quotes the Tiger coach, Jay Henderson.

There are many Tiger fans traveling to Twin Falls to help cheer the girls on and to help bring back the A-4 State Championship trophy.

Thanks for Cheering!
 Both J. V. and Varsity cheerleaders would like to thank everyone who cheered at the game Saturday. It helped us out a lot and the teams really appreciated it. Thanks again.

 Angie Abrams

Boys' Tournament

The Kendrick Tigers will be playing their last game until tournaments. The boys will be playing the Potlatch Loggers at Potlatch on Feb. 8. The boys' record is 13-6. After that game, the boys will practice for a week and then they will play in the tournaments.

The tournaments will be held in the Memorial Gym in Moscow which will start February 16. The Tigers will play Highland for the tournaments first.

They are 4th in the A-4 league. If you haven't seen them play yet this year, go to their last league game at Potlatch or the tournaments at Moscow. The Tiger boys are good but the crowd really helps them out, so go cheer the boys on to state!

Happy Home Club will meet with Mrs. Rufus Fairfield Tuesday afternoon, February 15 at 1:30 at Juliaetta. Weather permitting.

Cecil and Elsie Chamberlain visited Mr. and Mrs. Ross Armitage Saturday evening and enjoyed pinocle. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Nethken of weeks on exercise routine. They pick at least ten exercises or more to make up a routine to do in front of the rest of the class. Mrs. Monroe splits the girls up into groups of two or three. Then the girls make up routines to music. They put together a series of exercises such as jumping jacks, push ups, and sit ups, etc. Then when the routines are completed, one by one, each group goes all in the middle of the gym and shows the rest of the class their spectacular routines they worked so hard on. These routines are a lot of fun and are good for keeping in shape.—Michelle Mathews

Third Charms a Charm

As seen last Friday night at Pine-Waus gym history has repeated itself again.

The Tigers girls have once again proven they are No. 1 in the district. Wednesday, they will travel to Twin Falls. They will play their first state game on Thursday at 4:00 p. m. They will challenge Melba. This is the third year the Tiger girls have gone to state and it's time for the senior girls, Jean and Jane Glenn, Lisa Vallem and Charlene Parks, to prove that the third times a charm.

Good luck, girls. Reporter, Marta Jensen and Karen Reil

Since the Kendrick Tiger girls are going to State, the Kendrick and Juliaetta schools will have no school Thursday and Friday. This lets students go to State and yet they don't have to miss school. Hopefully we will get a few more days' off when the boys go to state.

The Valentine Message at KHS

If any one student would like to let a special person (girlfriend, boyfriend, or teacher) know that they adore or remember them, they buy a candy-o-gram. The candy-o-grams are delivered on the special day of February 14, Valentine Day. They each cost 75c and are doing well. The candy-o-grams are little (4-inches long) chocolate hearts. At Christmas time the cheerleaders sold other candies, but these are doing better. Don't you think it's worth 75c to tell them that you love them? Of Course! Luke Emery and Tony Mc Garvey.

"The Valentine Dance"

Kendrick High School had a Valentine's Dance on Saturday, February 5, 1983. The band was "Red Sky." The dance was semi-formal. Kristen and Troy were voted Sweetheart Couple. They received a box of candy and a stuffed animal. Mr. Vallem, Mrs. Gordon and Mr. Dirksen were all there, along with the K. H. S. students.
