Community Greet Returning Champs

If you want to know how Genesee spells "PRIDE" in a winning state championship basketball team, just take a drive up Tamarack Street towards the Genesee High School and you will see it in huge gold letters:

NO 1 STATE CHAMPS
A-4 82-83

Thanks to Bob Jacobs, Duane Roach and Jack Spangler, this message of pride will be with us for a long time for all to see . . .

Yes, the town of Genesee knows how to take pride in their youth and knows how to welcome home their champions. It all started long before that final buzzer sounded on Saturday night, March 5th, when the Genesee Bulldogs Varsity Basketball Team was declared the A-4 State Championship Team for 1982-83.

On Tuesday, March 1st, the student body at G. H. S., plus many local patrons, gathered for a grand send-off for the team and coaches. The band played, the cheerleaders shouted, speeches were given, and the student body cheered for victory. As team members and coaches boarded the bus, all spectators quickly rushed to line the street on both sides for a final farewell. Amid the cheering and clapping and the band striking up the G. H. S. Fight Song, the Bulldogs left in a blaze of glory. As the bus drove out of view, the spirit and pride stayed, along with the knowledge that eleven young men would give their best for their school and their community.

Immediately plans began for the "Welcome Home" celebration, with no idea of just how big that celebration would be. The G. H. S. Student Council contacted Margie Baumgartner, the school district secretary, and asked her to order a cake that would serve at least 250 people. That order ended up being three cakes, one of which was decorated with the basketball court and the words: "To our team, coaches, and cheerleaders. Congratulations for a job well done." By Wednesday, March 2nd, the halls of G. H. S. were nearly bare of students left with parents for the trip to Twin Falls. The remaining staff and students kept busy and waited for the championship games to start.

The residents of Genesee who could not make the trip to Twin Falls were not to be disappointed at missing out on the action of the games, thanks to the Bulldog support from the local businessmen who sponsored a broadcast on KRPL of all three games. It is with heartfelt thanks that we salute the following business: Broemeling Welding, Genesee Food Center, Genesee Meat Co., Genesee Union Whse., Hall's Corner Barr, Roach Construction, Scharnhorst Oil Co., Springer Insurance and Stout Flying Service.

As soon as the final buzzer sounded on Saturday night, Margie Baumgartner went into action again. She contacted several Genesee residents in planning a welcoming home celebration that would long be remembered. The list included Joe Labello, Chief of Police, and Jay Roach, Fire Chief. By Sunday afternoon there was much activity in Genesee. Rob and Karen Eubanks were busy making and hanging posters at the Genesee highway junction and on Main Street.

Margie, Shirley Hill, Jan Hasfurther and George and Carolyn Wilson rushed around the school multi-purpose room setting up tables and preparing coffee and punch for the victory celebration. Although only one 7th grader had been contacted for help, the entire 7th grade showed up with paint brushes in hand and began making the posters and decorations. While the "Three Musketeers" (Jacobs, Roach and Spangler) were busily painting a message on Tamarack Street, Jon Rowley and Bill Shirley arrived to assist the 7th graders in hanging the posters and decorations. With all the hustle and bustle, Genesee was prepared when Coach Kanikkeberg called from Grangeville at 4:15 p. m. to say that the bus should arrive in Genesee about 6:15. Little did the coach and team know what was in store for them upon their arrival.

The bus was met at the junction by Chief Labello in the city police car and by Chief Roach in the city fire truck. With lights flashing and sirens screaming, a grand escort into town began. The bus was guided through Main Street so the occupants could see the posters and then up Tamarack for a view of the special message on the street. As the procession reached the top of the hill, a deafening sound of applause and cheering began from the community residents who filled the school grounds and lined the road in front of the school. As the bus stopped and the doors opened, a stunned group of coaches and team members stopped out. The applause and cheering continued as the group made their way up the blue and gold crepe paper draped sidewalk into the multi-purpose room.

After many congratulations, the team members lined up behind the cake table for some much sought after photographs of them, the A-4 District Championship Trophy, and the ultimate A-4 State Championship Trophy. Although tired and a bit bedraggled looking, the smiles on their faces only added to the happiness that filled the room. It was then that Coach Kanikkeberg and team captain Allan Roach were hustled up onto the stage for a speech. After the shouting and clapping finally died down, the Coach motioned for Alan to step forward and speak as he held the State Trophy. "We've come so close the past two years but it's been just out of reach. We finally did it. The support has been great. I don't know what to say except . . . thanks!" A thunderous round of applause followed.

The Coach added a few words. "If you were to ask any other player, they would say about the same thing that Al did. These boys speak more with actions than words. They proved that when they brought home the State Championship for Genesee." Again the Coach had to pause until the cheering and applause died down. "You know, we also brought home some fat lips and sore noses from playing in the trees, but there isn't a player who wouldn't tell you it was worth every bit of it. The only other thing I want to say is how much the team and we coaches appreciated the support from all of you who drove down to Twin Falls, the great job the cheerleaders and band did for us at every game, the spirit and enthusiasm from the student body in the cheering section, and also from those who stayed home and never lost faith in us. Thank you."

It was then back to the celebration with cake, coffee and punch, plus a great deal of laughter, warm handshakes, cheerful talk, and happy faces. Young and old alike, family and friends—an entire community joined together to prove that Genesee is the home of Bulldog Pride and the Home of Champions. P. S.—It is sincerely hoped that all the names of the Genesee patrons who helped with the celebration were mentioned. We are sorry if anyone was left out, but your help was greatly appreciated.

CARD OF THANKS

We want to thank all our friends and neighbors for the care and concern they have shown us through the past months of Darlene's illness and since her death.

The cards, phone calls, letters, flowers and memorials were sincerely appreciated and will never be forgotten.

We have lived in so many places since we went to school in Genesee but the heart felt love and concern we have received from our old friends and neighbors over these past months will never be forgotten.

A special thanks to all the lovely ladies who sent food to the family home.

Reporting Responsibilities Important To Social Security

People who receive Social Security checks have an important responsibility to report any event which could have an effect on their continued responsibility or the amount of their check, Ila Andrews, Social Security field representative in Pullman, said recently.

Prompt, accurate reporting is a must to insure that people get the correct amount at the right time each month. In addition, a person can be penalized if he or she fails to make a required report.

Every person getting monthly retirement or survivor checks must re:

- A change of mailing address.

People whose checks are deposited directly into an account in a financial institution must also report any address change.

- Earnings over the annual limit by people who are not 70 or older all of 1983. The annual limit is $6,600 for people 65 and over and $4,920 for people under 60.
- A person plans to go outside the United States. Someone should report it:

- A person works outside the U. S.
- A person becomes unable to manage his or her funds.
- A person getting checks dies.
- People getting checks as a dependent or survivor must also report:
- Spouse or surviving spouse gets a pension based on work for government not covered by Social Security

- Divorce or annulment of marriage.
- Adoption of a child.
- Child leaves the care of the parent.
- Child nearing 18 is disabled or a full-time high school student.
- Change in school attendance for child 18-19.

More information about reporting responsibilities can be obtained at the Pullman Social Security office, located at S. E. 1205 Johnson Avenue. The telephone number is 1-800-562-6350 in Washington and 1-800-632-5121 in Idaho. The people there will be glad to answer any questions or explain in more detail about what reports must be made.

Three Fish and Game Dept. Officers Start Training

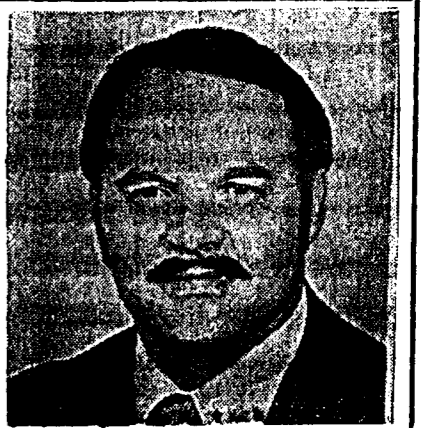

Three newly-appointed conservation officers started about 6 months of training March 7 to prepare for Department of Fish & Game assignments, enforcement operations officer Don Nicholson reported.

When they go to their duty stations later this year they will bring the department's field enforcement staff to full strength in the 81 patrol areas statewide, Nicholson said. The appointees are John Hanson, Jerome; Blake Phillips, Dubois, and Mark Taylor, Aberdeen. All have bachelor degrees in a wildlife science or related field, which is a requirement for the position.

During their training period, they will be in each of the department's six regions, and its headquarters in Boise to familiarize themselves with all aspects of department operations Nicholson said.

Their training also includes five weeks at the Police Officer Standards and Training Academy. Conservation officers, who have full authority as peace officers, must be certified by POST within a year of their appointment.

Computers Help Wheat Growers Weigh Payment-In-Kind Program

Clifton Anderson
Associated Agricultural Editor

Moscow—To make up their minds whether or not to participate in the federal government's "payment-in-kind" program, Idaho wheat growers can consult computers of the University of Idaho Cooperative Extension Service. A computer program, available at county extension offices throughout the state, helps growers to analyze their individual farming situations in light of the new wheat set aside program.

Neil Mayer, University of Idaho extension economist, said producers make varying evaluations of the payment-in-kind program because no two farmers have identical financial situations or cost structures. "In most cases, however, response to the new PIK program appears to be favorable," he said.

"Several options are available for wheat growers this year. The computer program is designed to help farmers consider the alternatives—non-participation in PIK or participation at various levels," Meyer said. Participation in PIK is conditional on participation in the regular reduced acreage program, he said. "Acreage withdrawn from production under PIK is in addition to the acreage withdrawn under the regular set-aside program. Planted winter wheat acreage which is withdrawn from production may be harvested for forage before July 1 or may be grazed all summer," the UI economist added.

Meyer said the PIK program was established with the objective of halting the burgeoning increase of wheat and feed grain stocks.

"Grain stocks have become very burdensome after two consecutive years of record wheat and feed grain harvests. On May 30, when the current marketing year ends, stocks of wheat are projected to be nearly 50 percent above the year-ago level," Meyer said.

Youngsters Advised To Enroll In Hunter Education Courses

Most youngsters who intend to apply for controlled hunt permits this year should be thinking about enrolling soon in a hunter education class, said Milt Williams, Department of Fish and Game administrator for the program.

June 30 usually is the deadline for controlled hunt applications, subject to Fish and Game Commission approval, and boys and girls under 15 years must pass an approved hunter education course before they can obtain a hunting license, Williams reminded.

Controlled hunt regulations state that the license number must be entered on each application for a permit.

Williams said those planning to enroll should allow two weeks or more for classroom instruction and range firing.

More than 670 volunteer certified instructors teach the courses throughout Idaho. Topics covered during a minimum eight-hour course include gun safety, hunter ethics, landowner relations, wildlife law, first aid and survival in the outdoors.

Each student fires at least 10 rounds of low velocity .22 caliber ammunition to become familiar with handling a firearm safely. Information about classes is available at any department office, Williams said.

ARCHITECTURE STUDENTS ARE OFF TO ITALY

Moscow—Ten University of Idaho architecture students have embarked for Rome, Italy, where they will participate for a semester in the UI art and architecture college's Idaho/Rome Invitational Studies program.

They are the first students to study in the new international extension program, which offers a full range of fourth year architecture coursework.

Art and Architecture College Dean Paul Blanton said the program will offer an educational experience that the students couldn't get in the U. S. In addition to studying classic architecture, they will study real architectural problems and have individual building and planning projects. The students will be able to stay in step with their professional program in order to graduate on schedule, Blanton said.

While the program is geared primarily to the fourth year architecture student, it will offer directed study in art, landscape, architecture and interior design for students in those fields.

The program is supported entirely by student fees and private donations and will run at no cost to the UI according to Blanton.

Among the students selected for participation in the program on recommendation of the college dean is Kurt Zenner, senior architecture major and son of Mr. and Mrs. An-

From Our Legislators

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Claud Judd, Dist. 7

Boise—Big interest this week was what would happen after Governor John Evans vetoed HB last week. Part of HB 130 that was vetoed but almost $7.7 million of state support to public schools. It also did not help in any way towards revenues to counties and cities.

House Bill 130 came back this week to the House of Representatives for action to uphold or oppose the action of the Governor. The House voted against the Governor's veto. The bill was then transferred to the Senate where they upheld the Governor's veto.

I hope we now can do something more in support of education and also do something for counties and cities.

This week the Legislature was visited by the Association of Counties officials. We had many assessors, county commissioners, auditors, clerks, treasurer and sheriffs in Boise where District 7 was represented very well.

Also in towns from North Idaho were some members from the logging group who were also represented well.

Currently, there is some action in the sub-committee on the 50-50 Initiative in the Revenue and Taxation Committee. Two bills have been introduced; one bill says that to qualify for the 50-50 you must occupy the residence; the second bill repeals the 50-50 Initiative altogether plus the 20% reduction on your home that was passed for home tax relief two years ago.

The 50-50 Initiative plus the other 20% makes a shift of almost $24 million.

I hear we have other bills coming to committee for next weeks action.

drew Zenner, Route 1, Genesee.
Fee for enrolling in the program is $3,000 per student and each student must also pay his or her living expenses while in Europe.
Blanton said that a fundraising drive is planned so that the cost to the students can be reduced.

Kendrick School News—

This year's Jr. Miss program is in April. It looks as though there will be a really good turnout. There are a lot of girls hoping to be this year's Jr. Miss. It will be a tough decision of the judges to pick the winners, and they all have a good chance. The 7th grade class would like to wish all the girls who are trying out a lot of luck.

Girls Jr. High Basketball

Girls' Jr. High BB is going well considering our record is 1 out of 3 for the 7th grade girls and for the 8th grade girls is 0 out of 3. Mr. Henderson, our coach, has been teaching us different defenses and offenses. He is working hard to keep the Jr. High girls in shape. We are pleased to have Coach Henderson for our Jr. High BB coach.

Henderson the Jr. High basketball team beat the Troy Trojans 28-22. Ahead by 6 at the half, coaches Monroe and Henderson put in a new offense which stunned the helpless Troy Trojans. As the Kendrick Tigers came out and scored 6 unanswered points to a big 0 points for Troy. Thank you Coaches Monroe and Henderson.

7th Grade News

The 7th grade has been studying Greek, Norse and Native American myths. Last Monday Miss Croshaw assigned us to do a summary and a drawing to be copied so everyone could have one. We all had to do a different myth. Today, March 7, we are presenting our myths to the class.

Our thanks to Mrs. Benjamin for copying our drawings of our myths, Mrs. Stewart for her help of finding the right books.

Sean and Mike

Jr. High Basketball

The undefeated 7th grade boys had a record of 3 and 0 but Monday night the 7th grade boys' record fell to 3 and 1 with their first loss to Elk River. The 7th grade boys fought hard to win the game but Wayne Tomasen was a little too much. The 7th grade boys' would like to thank everyone who came out and cheered for us.

Charlie and Rodney

The 7th grade boys BB team was undefeated until the night of March 7th, when they played Elk River. Brendon Millard played a good game but he fouled out in the fourth quarter. Ron Hewett and Jim Woods tried their best as guards to get the ball to the basket but just couldn't get it there.

All of our 7th grade boys are good players and they just had a bad night but we have a feeling they'll make up for it.
