Ray is a 1981 graduate of Genesee High School and a 1983 graduate of Link's School of Business in electronics. He is employed as an electronics technician at Sperry Univac of Salt Lake City, Utah.

Mrs. Ollie Pederson Now Residing in Spokane

Mrs. Ollie Pederson, a former Genesee resident, is now making her home in Spokane, it was learned here this week. After leaving Genesee, Ollie moved to Moscow, then went to Coeur d'Alene to be near her son, Gerald and his family recently, then she entered a care home in the Spokane Valley.

Ollie, who recently observed her 87th birthday anniversary has been in ailing health for some time, however, she would be pleased to hear from her many friends here. Her new address is:

Mrs. Ollie Pederson
c/o Mary Jo Wilson
N. 5027 Vista View Circle,
Spokane, Wa. 99212
Ollie's sister, Lillian, who has been with Ollie has returned to her home in Nebraska.

Ollie and her husband, the late E. D. "Pete" Pederson, owned and published the "Genesee News" from 1928 until 1954, when they sold the paper to the Roth family.

For anyone wishing to contact Ollie's son, Jerry, his phone number is 765-0613 in Coeur d'Alene.

Lily Wallace Back Home

Mrs. Lily Wallace returned to her home in Kendrick Wednesday, Feb. 15 after spending two months in the home of her son and daughter-in-law, John and Ann Wallace at Whitefish, Montana. They left Whitefish at 8 a. m. and arrived in Kendrick at 4 p. m. where they were greeted by Mrs. Wallace's daughter, Donna Thiessen.

K. Jensen Sets New Long Jump Record

Kirsten Jensen, a member of the Idaho Track Club, participated in the 2-day Simplot Games this last weekend at the Idaho State University Miniome at Pocatello. There were 1500 athletes competing from California to Colorado and from Mexico to Canada.

Kirsten competed in her first track of 1984 with 35 other girls in the long jump and set a new meet record of 18 ft., 10 1/2 inches with her first jump. The old meet record was 17 ft., 8 1/2 inches.

The Idaho Track Club was established and coached by Dave Alvord of Boise, Idaho Co-Chm. of the U. S. Olympic Committee and delegate to the U. S. His aim is establishing the club is to get recognition for the athletes of Idaho and hopefully get some to qualify for the Olympic training camp in Colorado Springs this summer. Lisa Bernhagen of Wood River is a member of the track team and has qualified for the Olympic trials with her new national record high jump of 6 ft., 3 inches.

While at the meet, Kirsten also attended two seminars for sprinters taught by Mel Rosen of Auburn University, the sprint coach for the 1984 Olympics. There will be another meet, the Idaho Olympic Invitational, held April 20-21st in Boise.

Fred John Wegner, Southwick Native, Passed Jan. 23

Fred John Wegner died at his home in Rockland, Idaho Monday morning January 23, 1984, at 8:30 a. m. of an apparent stroke. He was 74.

He was born March 25, 1909 at Southwick, Idaho to Gustav and Emma P. Connick Wegner. He attended Grinolds School, Kendrick High School and Lapwai High School. He farmed with his father and brothers near Southwick, as well as running a sawmill. He was a mechanic unexcelled.

In 1929 the family moved to Rockland where they farmed and operated a sawmill.

He married Frances May Valline Herrick in Twin Falls on January 8, 1942. They made their home in Twin Falls. He was drafted into the army medical corps in 1942 and served 37 months in the Pacific Theatre, stationed in the Hawaiian Islands and Saipan. He received his discharge from the service in October, 1945 with the rank of S/Sgt. He and his family now moved to Rockland and he returned to farming until his retirement in 1974.

He served the Rockland Community for fifteen years as a member of the Rockland School Board of Trustees, the Cemetery Board and the ASC Committee. He worked hard to keep the schools in Rockland during the 1960's. School was dismissed Friday afternoon for his funeral as a mark of respect.

He was affiliated with the Pentecostal Church in Twin Falls.

He is survived by his wife Frances; two sons, F. Fred and Stephen E. Wegner, both of Rockland, Idaho; three daughters, Mrs. Kenneth D. (Mona) Russell, Mrs. Donald J. (Mary) Allen, both of Brigham City, Utah, and Mrs. Donald W. (Esther) Neifer, of Kelly A. F. B., Texas; two brothers, Albert H. Wegner, Hamilton, Mont., and Gustav F. Wegner, of Jerome, Idaho; seven sisters, Martha S. Allison, Berlin, Ohio; Elsie A. Deobald, Kendrick, Idaho; Lena A. Bohn, Mattawa, Wn.; Alice L. Sather, Lake Oswego, Oregon; Emma Lou Clyne, Mrs. Roy (Edwardine) Sexton, both of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Robert (Eleanor) Rockwell, Boise, Idaho, and many beloved nieces and nephews; seventeen grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. He was preceded in death by his parents, one brother, George, and one infant granddaughter, Darlene Eyrle Wegner.

Funeral services were held Friday, January 27, at 2:00 at the Rockland School Chapel with the Rev. James Hansen officiating. Burial was in Valley View Cemetery, Rockland.

The Rockland community showed its high esteem for Mr. Wegner when over 500 people attended the services, and with the many beautiful floral arrangements.

Bill and Beulah Deobald of Moscow and Elsie Deobald left January 26 to attend the funeral. They returned home Saturday, Jan. 28, stopping in Boise to visit with Roger Deobald and family for a short time.

Genesee Crab Feed Was a Success

Although attendance at the 19th annual Genesee Firemen's public crab feed Saturday evening was down slightly from some previous years, it was still rated a success by Craig Hopkins, president of the Genesee Community Firemen, Inc. It was estimated that about 800 persons enjoyed the dinner and visiting that evening.

Proceeds from the crab feed will be used for the upkeep of the Genesee ambulance and possibly toward the purchase of a new ambulance in the future.

Craig, speaking for all the members of the department, said he wished to thank everyone who helped in any way for their support, to those who attended the dinner, to all the business firms and individuals for their contributions and support, and especially to the wives of the firemen and other ladies for their help in preparing and serving the food Saturday night.

Talking of future plans, Hopkins said the organization hopes to offer a C. P. R. class in Genesee in the near future, possibly by early summer.

Jim Lyons Is Treasurer

All memorial donations to the Genesee Ambulance Fund should be now sent to Lyons, who replaced John Baldus. John served the department faithfully and well for 14 years.

Winners in the department raffle drawing were Doug Revord, socket set; Doug Stout, chimney fire extinguisher, and Mark Hill, also a chimney fire extinguisher.

Kamiah Drops Tigers 66-56

By Dan Emery

Late last year, Kendrick escaped Kamiah with a 40-39 win. The Tigers did not come out on top Friday at home against Kamiah, however. The Kubs won 66-56.

Kendrick led 15-13 after the 1st quarter, but Kamiah bounced back to a 37-27 halftime lead. Kendrick narrowed the Kubs' lead to as few as 62 points in the 2nd half, but 10 points was still the Kamiah final margin of victory.

Kendrick had 26 personal foul in the game, compared to only 16 for Kamiah, enabling the Kubs to go to the free-throw line 31 times. Kamiah converted on 22 of their foul shots. Kendrick was only 9 of 18 from the line.

Kamiah coach Fred Mercer said he thought the fact that his team didn't stall as much as it usually does had a lot to do with the game's outcome. He praised the play of Steve Ball, who scored 18 points from the field and made 12 of 12 free throws for 30 points total. Kendrick was led by Troy Hewett who had 15 points.

When asked for a comment following Friday's game, Coach Brent Monroe of Kendrick said, "I feel that I coached very poorly. I accept all the blame for our loss." Kendrick dropped to 10-9, while Kamiah ended its season with an 8-12 record after the non-league confrontation.

School Board Hears About State Funding

The regular meeting of the Kendrick Joint School Board of Trustees was held Monday, evening, Feb. 13. Supt. Eldon Taylor reported on the status of the education legislative appropriation bill for the 1984-85 school year from the state superintendent's association and legislative meetings held in Boise Feb. 9 and 10. He explained that the appropriations are divided into 2 portions this legislative year. HB 475 has already passed the House and carries some $20.5 million for education reform in Idaho and the general appropriations bill has not even come out of committee at this point or been assigned a number. He reported that Rep. Bateman, Twin Falls, said in one of their sessions that he predicted that the legislature would be considering a general appropriations amount in the $229 million range which is only a 6% increase over the $215 million amount which was frozen for the past 2 years for elementary and secondary education.

The staff report was given by Mrs. D. Ann Parks, 5th grade teacher at Juliaetta Elementary School. She showed the board the new intermediate (4-6) science books that were recently purchased for that instructional level.

The board awarded the new 48 passenger bus bid to NORAM of Lewiston for the bus chassis and Novelt's Carriage of Spokane for the Wayne body bid.

In other action, the board okayed the purchase of an Apple Computer for the elementary school which enabled the district to take part in a special 6 for the price of 5 educational offer that the Apple corporation has made available to school districts throughout the country. By combining funds from vocational education, Chapter 2 and forest reserve funds plus the one okayed from school district funds the district will distribute three computers to the elementary school and three computers to the junior high and high school level.

The board also granted an in-lieu-of transportation funds request and authorized the advertisement of bids on a 65'x70' cement pad for the playground at Juliaetta Elementary School.

The next regular board meeting will be Thursday, March 8, at 7:30.

KCK Meets Monday Night

Sen. McLaughlin
Reports from Boise

Sen. Margurite McLaughlin (D- District 7)

BOISE — Last Monday's Senate tabling of the water rights bill seems to have been the trigger for the sort of frayed tempers and unraveling that we usually see toward the end of the session.

However, I do not see things ending very soon for this session.

The only major legislation to reach the governor's desk thus far is the Reapportionment Plan O. K'd by the MAJORITY party of both HOUSES.

As with any re-apportionment plan, some like this one, others do not. It is especially damaging to North Idaho water with the loss of three legislative seats. This leaves some 23,000 people under-represented and creates 23.3% deviation from the norm.

There is speculation that the Governor may allow it to become law without his signature so that the matter will not continue to drag on in the courts.

Our budgeting process has become snarled because the MAJORITY party cannot come to agreement inside its own caucuses. They seem to know that realistic B government is higher than they had earlier committed to.

Perhaps next week we can encourage them to deal with their responsibilities in a straight-forward way. So far the Public Education Reform Bill—calling for $20.3 million remains alive and well. However, the legislation is in a fragile environment; the I. E. A. membership is quite evenly split on the bill's desirability and it is difficult to forecast how the senate will feel about the measure.

There is a peculiar kind of ritual dance taking place within the MAJORITY party on all this. The HOUSE has passed bills calling for increased public employee and education funding, but we have seen no similar action in the Senate and no appropriation measure from Joint Finance Appropriation Committee.

In spite of all this, I have seen a lot of responsible activities take place during this session. Both HOUSES seem eager to approve the C. V. I. P. legislation; the bill to create a Department of Commerce has been approved for printing by the Senate State Affairs Committee, and efforts are underway to develop a new water rights bill that would be less objectionable than the one tabled by the Senate.

ASHTON FISH HATCHERY BACK IN PRODUCTION

The Ashton fish hatchery is back in production after a three-month, $90,000 renovation project, Evan Parrish, Department of Fish and Game reported.

Ashton is a major source for Henrys Lake cutthroat and it also rears rainbow, brown and brook trout, the hatcheries supervisor said. A department crew sealed off the hatchery pond with 30,000 cubic yards of fill and upgraded the raceways, he said. "Algae in the pond was plugging screens," Parrish explained, "and that, combined with the fish in the pond, moss and aquatic insects in the water source, was causing fish disease."

Late in 1983, the department completed phase one of another renovation job at American Falls hatchery to bring the 50-year-old facility's annual production capacity up to about 150,000 pounds of rainbow.

Work is scheduled for the Mackay hatchery this summer, when the department will deal with raceway problems and other damage caused by the earthquake that hit central Idaho last October, Parrish said.

"We won't have a cost estimate, however, until we determine the extent of the damage," he added.

CIVIL PENALTY DELINQUENTS FACE ACTION TO PAY UP

Offenders owe the department of Fish and Game at least $54,000 in mandatory in civil penalties and the Idaho attorney general has been asked to crack down on the delinquents, according to enforcement special operations officer Frank NeSmith.

"The amount has built up between 1979, when the civil penalty law took effect, and 1982," NeSmith said, "and we haven't finalized the total due in 1983."

Names of 17 individuals have been sent to the attorney general for initial action, he said. One person owes more than $2,000 and the average penalty due is $470, NeSmith said.

Idaho law requires mandatory reimbursement of $1,000 for each caribou, bighorn sheep, mountain goat or moose illegally killed, possessed or wasted; $500 for an elk; $200 for each deer, antelope, wild turkey, whistling swan or sturgeon and $100 for a chinook salmon.

Weather Slows Construction
Says Bank Newsletter

In Idaho adverse weather conditions during January slowed residential construction activity, but a reasonable gain was still recorded over last year.

Because mortgage rates remain relatively high, the 1984 outlook for residential construction suggests only moderate gains this year. Despite a major reduction in January in nonresidential construction value, this commercial segment of the construction industry should record significant gains this year.

Total construction value for authorized building permit construction in 64 major Idaho locations in January was $18,678,702, or 37.9 percent below 1983. New residential construction for 187 dwelling units totaled $7,494,751 an increase of 19.2 percent in number and an increase of 16.6 percent in value compared with a year ago. Non residential construction valued at $1,956,390 was down 89.1 percent from last year, while alterations and repairs totalling $9,227,561 was up 64.7%.

Dworshak Firewood Program Ends

Thanks to an extremely good turn out by anxious woodcutters, the Corps of Engineers' free use firewood program at Dworshak was again a success. Over 400 cords of reservoir debris were bucked up and removed during the five weekends of use. The collection and removal of floating reservoir debris is an annual task which provides for not only a safer boating environment, but firewood for local homes. It is anticipated that this popular program will continue in future years.

To prevent getting separated during a flood, some ants on the North American prairie cling together forming a big ball, says National Wildlife's Ranger Rick magazine. The ball becomes a floating raft that constantly tumbles, giving each ant a turn to breathe. Amazingly, few ants drown.

More Rio Grande Turkeys Added to Idaho Flocks

More Rio Grande wild turkeys — these from Texas—have arrived in Idaho to bolster flocks that were first introduced in 1982.

State gamebird manager, Gary Will, Department of Fish and Game said the 42 birds were relocated on three sites.

Ten Rio Grandes were released south of Burley to augment a population established earlier. The remaining 32 birds were introduced along the South Fork Snake River in the Roberts and Menan areas, Will said.

A shipment of 56 Rio Grandes came from Kansas in mid-January for relocation in western Owyhee County and the Firth area in southeastern Idaho, he added.

Wildlife trades with other states have brought 336 Rio Grandes to Idaho since 1982 and populations have grown enough to allow two controlled hunts this spring in management unit 68A with a total of 20 permits.

Original Bird Watchers Studied with Shotguns, Says Author Peterson

Before the advent of top quality field binoculars, bird watchers studied birds with shotguns. For them, the only sure way to get close to a bird was to kill it.

Among those who relied heavily on dead birds for models was the famous ornithologist, John James Audubon.

Audubon once implied that "it was not a really good day if he killed fewer than 100 birds," writes Roger Tory Peterson in the current issue of National Wildlife magazine, a bimonthly publication of the National Wildlife Federation.

Peterson, the originator of the Peterson Field Guides says that modern day birders are well equipped with powerful binoculars enabling them to closely observe birds—alive—and in their natural habitat. Now, writes Peterson, birders are demanding better and better guides to help them identify nature's abundant bird species.

The first illustrated bird guide published in America was done by Alexander Wilson in 1808—with illustration painted from freshly killed specimens.

Audubon had a greater influence on bird guides, says Peterson. Audubon's "Birds of America," showed birds in action poses and in their proper ecological setting—for the first time the majority of the birds of eastern North America and many of those of western North America were adequately portrayed," according to Peterson.

The shotgun school of ornithology which prevailed for over 75 years,

Employee Tax Rate Remains Same

Although the Social Security tax rate for employees and employers will increase from 6.7 to 7 percent for 1984, the effective tax rate for employees will remain at the 1983 level, Ila Andrews, Social Security Field Representative in Pullman, said recently.

This is because employees have been given a one-time 0.3 percent credit against the 1984 tax rate. As a result, employees whose earnings are the same in 1984 as they were changed with Ludlow Griscom, a curator in the bird department of the American Museum in New York.

"When (Griscom) was a young man developing his field glass technique, he was challenged by one of the old boys who made all his own identifications through the sights of a shotgun," Peterson says in National Wildlife. "Griscom pointed out a female Cape May warbler in the top of a sycamore. The old boy blazed away. He picked up the bird; it was a female Cape May."

Peterson gives Griscom, whom he met in the 1930s, credit for the philosophy and fine points of field recognition that Peterson used in his Field Guide to the Birds.

Peterson's own career as an illustrator began in the mid 1930s and it continues today. There are now 30 titles in the Peterson Field Guide series, and Field Guide to the Birds, has sold nearly three million copies. His books are unique for his innovative drawings which detail key bird features for fast field identification.

Of his series, Peterson says, "This reference library, I like to think, has made significant contribution to the environmental movement by making it easier for people to know what they are looking at."

In 1983 will see no increase in the amount of Social Security taxes withheld from wages.

In 1984, Social Security taxes will be paid on annual earnings up to $37,800 the maximum that counts for Social Security. The 1983 maximum was $35,700.

The 1984 Social Security tax rate for self-employed people will be 14 percent, double the rate paid by employees. But, self-employed people will receive a credit of 2.7 percent of self-employment income, resulting in an effective tax rate of 11.3 percent. The 1983 self-employment tax rate was 9.35 percent.

More information about Social Security can be obtained at the Pullman Social Security office, located at SE 1205 Johnson Ave. or you may call toll free to 1-800-632-3121 in Idaho or 1-800-5626350 in Washington.

When lightning strikes, it's hot. In fact, a bolt of lightning is more than twice as hot as the surface of the sun, says National Wildlife's Ranger Rick magazine.

Non-Game Management Plan Released for Public Review

By Hugh Wilson
Department of Fish and Game

A long-range plan for nongame management in Idaho has been released in draft form for statewide public review prior to final consideration by the Fish and Game Commission later this year.

The plan, for 1981 through 1985, "charts the (Department of Fish and Game) values and to provide scientific, aesthetic, recreational and physical products to man."

More than 280 species of nongame wildlife are involved. The plan divides them into 10 groups that include mammals, birds, reptiles, amphibians and species of special concern. First step in preparing the draft was to gather all nongame information available from the state's colleges and universities, resource managers and universities, resource managers.

This statewide assessment of Idaho's nongame resource provided the basic data for the development of management guidelines, the plan stated. Meanwhile, the commission has approved nine projects "to expand public interest in the nongame program." The projects include:

Raptor rehabilitation—About 400 birds of prey have been treated at raptor rehabilitation centers in the department's six regions.

The department shares such costs as those for diagnosis and treatment and post-treatment rehabilitation. The degree of department participation in each region is determined by consulting with veterinarians, falconers and regional nongame advisory committees.

Raptor nesting platforms—The platforms are used principally to replace raptor nests on utility poles to preserve the nesting sites and prevent short circuits in electrical lines.

Bluebird nest boxes—Materials for nest boxes and guides for construction and placement of nest box routes are available at the department's regional offices. At least 1,500 of the boxes have been distributed throughout the state.

There's no validity in the old saying that moss only grows on the north side of a tree, says National Wildlife's Ranger Rick magazine. In a dark moist forest, moss can be seen growing all around the trunk of a tree.

Detergents' Changed Formula May Affect Washing Machines

Moscow, Id.—A carbonate buildup problem that has been developed in many washing machines lately is linked to changes in the chemical formulation of popular laundry detergents, according to Ernestine Porter, clothing and textiles specialist of the University of Idaho Cooperative Extension Service.

"Manufacturers have changed their products and some that were based on phosphates are now carbonate-built detergents. These perform well in soft water but in hard water they may cause a carbonate buildup on washer filters," Porter said.

Carbonate deposits may occur not only on the filter but also on the washer tub. "If the inside surface of the tub has a rough feel, this could be the carbonate buildup," the University of Idaho specialist said.

To remove carbonate buildup, a strong solution of white vinegar and water may be effective. "Fill the tub with the solution and run the machine through the wash cycle. If there is still some residue left, finish cleaning with a soft scrub product," she said.

Problems caused by carbonate built detergents include accumulation of deposits in machines and some damage to fabrics. "Recent research indicates that fabrics washed with carbonate-built detergents shows a higher degree of strength loss than fabric washed with phosphate-built detergents. You may want to switch to a phosphate-built detergent if you are having problems with a carbonate-based product," she said.

Kamiah Outguns Tigers 66-56 . . .

TIGER GUARD MARK HARRIS was on the attack last Friday night when this picture was taken in the third quarter, but the Kamiah Kubs still took a 66-56 win from the host Tigers. Kendrick had a slim 15-13 lead at the end of the first quarter, but Kamiah exploded for 24 points in the second period to lead 37-27 at the half. Kendrick rallied in the third quarter to pull within two points of the Kubs with 3:12 remaining in the third when this picture was taken. In the final quarter, Kamiah used free throws to turn back the Kendrick threat and win 66-56.

Kendrick scoring: Slade Zumhove 11, Wayne Deeds 3, Galen Browning 0, Mark Harris 4, Troy Hewett 15, Jack Meyer 16, Ted Dennler 0, Lance Upendahl 4, Dale Renfrow 0, Brian Parks 3.
 Kendrick won the JV game 66-48.

Mid-Year Graduate From U. of Idaho

Moscow—A total of 441 UI students completed requirements for degrees in their various fields of study at the close of the 1983 fall semester.

Of those, 344 are bachelor's degrees, 85 are masters, 7 are Juris Doctor, 4 are specialist degrees in education and 8 are doctoral degrees. Also, 200 students graduated at the close of the 1983 summer session. The graduates include: KENDRICK: College of Letters and Science: Joanne F. Parks, Gertje.

If a Vampire bat attacks, you might not even notice it. According to National Wildlife's Ranger Rick magazine, vampire bats sneak up on sleeping "victims" and lap, not suck the blood from a wound. And the bats usually only swallow about one teaspoon at each meal.

Tillage Conference Features Views of Palouse Farmers

Clifton Anderson Associate Agricultural Editor
 Moscow—Farmers who have tried reduced tillage and no-till systems will report on their experiences at the Inland Empire Conservation Tillage Conference which will be held Feb. 28-29 at the University Inn in Moscow. Also scheduled are presentations by University of Idaho, Washington State University and U. S. Department of Agriculture researchers.

In a panel discussion, farmers of the Palouse region will exchange views about the practicality of conservation tillage. The panel will include Idaho farmers Gary Morris of Potlatch and Gary Osborn of Troy. Washington will be represented by Lee McGuire, Thornton; Marvin Schmick, Endicott; Gale Gering, Ritzville and Dan Garwood, St. John. Jim Miller, past president of the Washington Wheat Growers Association will moderate the discussion.

How placement of fertilizer in conservation tillage systems can influence crop yields will be the topic a panel moderated by Tom Hoffman, Whitman county extension agent. Appearing on the panel will be Roger Wilson, Tennessee Valley Authority representative; Steve Watts, agronomist for McGregor Co., and Fred Koehler, Washington State University soil scientist.

In a third panel, new developments regarding herbicide applications will be discussed. The panel members will be chemical company representatives Gil Cook of Dupont, Kevin Cannon, Monsanto and Hank Hamsey of Mobey. John Burns, Whitman County extension agent, will moderate.

The featured speakers at two luncheon meetings will be Donald Moss director of the Washington State Department of Ecology and Greg Schmick of Yelder No-Till Co. Moss will speak on trends in water quality and Schmick will report on national developments in no-till farming.

Conservation tillage on local farms will be viewed during a tour on Feb. 29. Agribusiness firms will display equipment and supplies at University Inn.

Scientists associated with the STEEP (Solutions to Environmental and Economic Problems) project will report on their research work. University of Idaho scientists reporting will be soil physicist John Hammel, agronomist and plant breeder Dick Auld and weed scientist Donn Thill.

The Conservation Tillage Conference is sponsored by the Inland Empire Chapter of the Soil Conservation Society of America, in cooperation with the UI, WSU, USDA Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, Idaho and Washington conservation districts, USDA Soil Conservation Service and Pacific Northwest No-Till Association. Registration for the conference is $25 if paid before Feb. 18 and $30 if paid at the door. The fee includes two lunches.

Checks should be payable to SCSA and mailed to: Conservation Tillage Conference, 220 E. 5th, Moscow 83843. For information about the conference call the Latah Conservation District at 882-0507.

Stony Point

Nellie Dean Steigers

President's Day! It came on Feb. 20, 1984! Wonder what "George" and "Abe" think. Killed two birds with one stone!

Valentine's Day came. It brought an unexpected "greeting" from Marie Daniels Swan of Coeur d'Alene for old friends, Ernest and Nellie Steigers. A card from Hawaii vacationers, Jay Heath Twyford and husband, Nick which was also much appreciated, arrived the same day! Rain drops had blotted the ink a bit. Fay explained.

Greetings to all our loved ladies at the Lewiston Care Center, from those who love you at Stony Point! Up here folks have been "not enjoying" various types of "flu."

A few sunny days have encouraged residents of Cherrylane to begin more yard and garden cleaning and tree pruning.

'A First Showing'

This stirring event occurred on Friday eve, Feb. 17 at the Lapwai home of grandmother Phyllis Hechtner and the late Bill Hechtner. Tiny baby boy, Joseph William Kearly, with parents Susy Hechtner and husband Bill were guests of honor. A-mong guests invited for the event were close friends, Roy and Ardythe Heimgartner and Lee and Barbara Heimgartner, all of Stony Point.

The baby can't be praised to high! as the old song goes. A beautiful child, all agree!

The Kearly family are residents of Wendell, Idaho.

To Kellogg

Weekend guests of the Syd Armstrong family of Kellogg, Idaho were the Lee Heimgartner family. Skiing was enjoyed by the group.

Birthday Celebrated!

Little Miss Emily Quinn Steigers, age 3 months, with mother Laura, and grandmother Mary were Friday, Feb. 17th supper and evening guests of great grandparents of Cherrylane. Ken Steigers was also a supper guest, and, later returning from Lewiston, Linda and Brant Steigers also made the acquaintance of the bright little miss. Her father is on a Training Mission on the Nuclear Submarine and his "women folks" are enjoying a visit with Idaho residents during his absence from their California home.

Bringing Gifts of Colored 'Eggs! Not Easter!
 On Monday morning, Feb. 20th, Earl Partridge came to Cherrylane, bearing gifts of assorted sized eggs from their varied chickens. Varmints have destroyed most of the nest full of baby chicks, hatched on Thanksgiving day and now the Mother Hen has met the same fate! Many have faced the same problems in our region in previous years and hopelessly resigns ourselves.

The Ken Steigers were busy over the past weekend. Brant attended an F. F. A. 'deal' in Moscow on Sat. On Sunday they drove to the Orofino home of friend "Rusty" Sherer to attend a little birthday celebration for one of Rusty's daughters.

Late Monday evening Laura Steigers with baby Emily Quinn dropped in unexpectedly enroute to the Kaniyah home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Cruz, after visiting in the home of husband John Steiger's parents, in Lewiston for a week or so.

Snake venom is not only being used to aid people bit by snakes, it's becoming a valuable substance to make new drugs, reports National Wildlife magazine. Viper venom, for instance, is being used to make anti-coagulants that can dissolve blood clots. It's even proving effective in treating coronary heart failures where a clot is blocking the arteries that supply blood.
