Upsets Mark District A4 Basketball Tournament; Kendrick, Genesee Survive

By Dan Emery

Upsets were the surprise of the District A4 boys basketball tournament at LCSC gym this week as the dust of first round action settled. The number 1 and 2 seeded teams were both eliminated in Monday night action. The Troy Trojans squeaked by top-ranked Deary 61-58 to eliminate the Mustangs, and the Kendrick Tigers knocked off the Nezperce Indians in a 73-58 romp.

The amazing Genesee High School Bulldogs remained undefeated after first round action. The Kanlikeberg boys dropped the Troy Trojans 46-35 Friday night in their first tournament game and then gained revenge over the Kendrick Tigers Saturday evening by upsetting the Tigers in at 56-52 thriller.

Tigers Over Culedasac 71-56

Slade Zumhofe scored 31 points and Jack Meyer was a perfect 10 of 10 from the field for 21 more points to lead Kendrick to a 71-56 win over Culedasac Friday. The two teams started off the day's action in Warrrior gym, but Kendrick took a big early lead. The Wolves responded by trying 17 three-point efforts, but could only convert on four of them.

Although Kendrick's coach was pleased about the outcome of the game, he wasn't so happy about his team's 20 turnovers. Culedasac was also far from perfect with 18 miscues.

Culedasac dropped to 3-15 and was eliminated by Troy the next night. Kendrick moved on to the second round of play.

Genesee Tops Troy 46-35

Genesee was seeded 6th going into the tournament opener against Troy. The Trojans were seeded 3rd, but that meant nothing as GHS put Troy in the loser's bracket with a 46-35 win.

Genesee hit 52% on field goal attempts and went a hot 11 of 14 at the free throw line Friday in the LCSC gym. The Bulldogs were led in scoring by Dave Cvarcara, who had 13 points. Sam Smith and Rick Vestal each added 11 points for the Bulldogs, while Troy was paced by Jeff Dunnam with 12.

Genesee Edges KHS 56-52

Once again turnovers were Kendrick's weakness as Genesee put the Tigers into the loser's bracket Saturday night 56-52 in a hard, close game. Kendrick had twice the number of turnovers as Genesee—12-6 and that was one of the differences in the game. The other difference was against the Tigers. Rick was 10 of 16 from the floor and 4 of 4 at the line for a game high 26 points.

"Turnovers made a difference" said Genesee coach Ozzie Kanlikeberg. He added that Vestal played an outstanding offensive game. Kendrick's Brent Monroe thought so to, "Vestal killed us," he said.

Jack Meyer led Kendrick in scoring with 21 points.

Kendrick Dumps Nezperce

Slade Zumhofe pumped in 27 points and got 4 steals and grabbed 27 rebounds to lead Kendrick to a 73-58 victory over Nezperce Monday at Lewiston. The loss knocked the Indians out of the double elimination tournament.

Kendrick had 21 turnovers for 18 for Nezperce, but a powerful fast-break offense and a 57-44 rebounding advantage game KHS what it needed.

Coach Brent Monroe of the Tigers said Kendrick got its tempo back up after Saturday's loss to Genesee. "Slade had a great game," he said of Zumhofe, adding, "the crowd was really great. It was like having a 6th man on the court."

The quick-passing Tigers had 23 assists to only 11 for Nezperce. Troy Hewett and Mark Harris each led the way with 8.

Zumhofe was the game's high scorer, while teammate Hewett had 19 more. Stan Boyer led Nezperce with 21.

E. M. T.'s Attend Workshop

Several E. M. T. members attended a work shop Thursday in Moscow on pre-coronary care. Saturday some attended a full day work shop on anatomy and physiology at the U. of I. There will be reports from these work shops at the E. M. T. meeting, Monday, March 5th at 7:30 p. m. at the fire hall. Prior to the regular meeting Mike May will be re-showing the C. P. R. film for those who missed it last time. Re-meeting—7 p. m. C. P. R. Film—7:30 E. M. T. meeting.

Genesee Community Church To Celebrate Heritage Day

March 11, 1984, will be observed as "Heritage Day" at the Genesee Community Church. The purpose of the celebration is to bring together members and former members of the congregation to remember and honor the pioneers who created a new church congregation out of two predecessor church bodies, and, then, with in a decade built a house of worship and a parsonage.

Former ministers and members are being advised of the event and are being invited to participate in the festivities. A potluck dinner will be held in the recreation hall following the morning worship service at which some of the former ministers and pioneers will speak. Movies and slides of construction activities and other events that took place 30 or 40 years ago will be shown. There will be many photographs on display—some from the 1910-20 era—and a recently written history that has just been printed will be introduced and will be available for sale. All former members are urged to participate.

Kendrick's O. E. A. Club Places High at Regional

The Kendrick High School O. E. A. Club (which is Kendrick's business club) went to regional competition this past week and earned quite a bit of respect, reports the club's advisor and teacher, Jay Henderson. A total of six students went down and competed against 150 other students from Lewiston, Moscow, Highland, Prairie and Lapwai.

This is the results of the judging on local students:

Kristen Cuddy—1st place in Job Interview.
Dan Emery—1st place in Business Mathematics.
Luke Emery—3rd place in Business Mathematics.
Michelle McGarvey—4th place in Job Interview.
Dan Emery—4th place in Accounting II.
Luke Emery—5th place in Accounting I.
Paty Lohman—5th place in Accounting II.
Amy Noren—6th place in Job Interview.
Kristen Cuddy—6th place in Machine Computation.
Michelle McGarvey—6th place in Accounting II.
Paty Lohman—7th place in Job Interview.

Kendrick didn't have one person judged below 7th place. One school only placed one person in the top 8. So to the Kendrick Office Education Association members, Mr. Henderson said, "Super Job! and on to State competition!"

Lillie Wallace Honored At 'Welcome Home' and Birthday Party

Last Tuesday, Feb. 21, a group of friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Lillie Wallace to welcome her back after spending the winter at White Fish, Mont., and to wish her a belated "Happy 97th Birthday."

Those attending were: Pearl Grose-close, Gertie Pederson, Delores Polunsky, Maud Bluhw, Aldena Polunsky, Theda Metcalf and Ida Clemenhagen, who baked a lovely cake, all from Juliaetta, and Ida Clemenhagen and Darlean Wilson, both of Kendrick.

Mrs. Wallace celebrated her 97th birthday Feb. 16. She is now home taking care of herself. Theda Metcalf comes in to help with the heavy work, but Lillie still cooks for herself, including baking bread, pies, cookies, etc., and enjoys life to the fullest. Lillie still likes a good joke and never fails to catch the point.

Many more happy years, Lillie! We love you!

March 10 Wedding Date

Mr. and Mrs. Jon Nilsson of Cavendish announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Caroline, to Mark Mustoe of Southwick. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mustoe, also of Southwick. The couple will be married Saturday, March 10 at St. Stanislaus Catholic Church in Lewiston.

Miss Nilsson is a 1979 graduate of Orofino High School and is a senior majoring in Advertising and Public Relations at the University of Idaho. Mr. Mustoe is a 1975 graduate of Kendrick High School and a 1979 graduate of the University of Idaho in Agricultural Business and Animal Husbandry.

He is presently engaged in farming at Southwick where the couple will make their home.

Agnes Parsley, 77, Kendrick Resident, Passes In Arizona

Agnes Parsley, 77, a pioneer Anathone and Lewiston postal worker, died of a heart attack Thursday, February 23, at Yuma, Arizona, where she was spending the winter. She had made her home in Kendrick since 1968.

Mrs. Parsley was postmaster at Anathone from 1939 to 1948 when she was transferred to the Lewiston Post Office. She was the first woman employed as a postal clerk at Lewiston, then under the management of Postmaster Tish Erb.

She and her husband, Dick Parsley, then moved to Kendrick in 1950 to farm in the Gold Hill area. They retired in 1968 and bought a home in Kendrick.

She was born March 6, 1906, at Forest, Idaho, to Mr. and Mrs. James Kenyon. The family moved to the Grand Ronde River valley to homestead while she was a child. The Parsleys were married Jan. 7, 1924, at Lewiston. They settled at Winchester. Mr. Parsley died in August of 1980. Mrs. Parsley had been spending recent winters in the warmer climate of Arizona for her health.

She was a member of the Anathone Pollyanna Club, Rebekah Lodge at Clarkston and the Friendly Neighbor Club at Gold Hill.

Survivors include two sons, Dale S. of Saratoga, Calif., and Jack D. of Kendrick; a daughter, Naidean Shepherd of Spokane; a brother, Jack Kenyon of Dayton, Wash.; a sister, Ethel Bershaw of Clarkston, 11 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. A sister Tessie Bailey, son, Donald, and granddaughter, Ginger Parsley, preceded her in death.

The funeral was held at 10:30 a. m. on Tuesday at the Merchant Funeral Chapel at Clarkston with the Rev. John Blom of the Cameron Emmanuel Lutheran Church of Kendrick officiating. Memorials may be given to the Kendrick-Julietta Ambulance Fund.

Kendrick PTSC Meeting Postponed Until March 5

Because of the boys basketball team playing the tournament, the Parent, Teacher, Student Organization meeting scheduled for Feb. 27 has been changed to Monday, Mar. 5, at 7:30 p. m. in the Kendrick High School.

We would like to encourage you to come to this meeting. Mr. Vallem will talk on how KHS is meeting the challenges suggested by the State Committee on Excellence in Education.

The organization will also vote on ideas made by the goals and directions committee on activities and goals for the PTSC for the remainder of the school year.

We really need the support of the parents to make this organization worthwhile.

Little Acres Nursery Visits Offers Advice to Hill & Valley Garden Club

Following a potluck luncheon at the club house, hosted by Aldena Polunsky, Crystal Gruell and Delores Polunsky, a gift exchange was enjoyed by twenty members and two guests, Irene Thornton and Dorothy Krommel.

A business meeting was conducted by the president, Doris Pettichord. Plans for the May sale were discussed, also memorials for deceased members.

Steve Pelton of Little Acres Nursery, 1515 21st St. in Lewiston entertained the group with a very interesting program. He discussed planting, spraying and pruning, giving detailed information on everything related to gardening. All questions—there were many—were answered in a helpful and informative manner. Steve recently passed an examination which qualifies him to recommend the use of pesticides for any use other than that advised on the label.

Members of the Club were impressed with his knowledge of all growing things and when and where to plant them.

A wide variety of plants, seeds, ceramic planters and a delightful gift shop plus courteous and helpful assistance are all found at Little Acres Nursery.

Pierce N. Blewett, Retired Gifford Farmer Passes

Pierce N. Blewett, 67, of Lewiston, who farmed in the Cottonwood Creek area for 41 years, died Tuesday, Feb. 21, at St. Joseph's Hospital at Lewiston of cardiac arrest.

Blewett had been in failing health for several years. He grew up in the Gifford area and began farming right after high school. He retired from farming in 1979 and moved to Lewiston.

Blewett was born Sept. 18, 1916, at Lewiston, the son of Jack and Lily Blewett. He attended Culedasac High School, graduating in 1935. He was a varsity athlete during his high school years, and continued to be an avid sports fan.

He also served his community in several civic and church positions. He was on the George School Board for two years and the Culedasac School Board for nine years, serving as chairman for five years. He also served on the Gifford Cemetery Board for eight years, on the Farm Home Administration board for five years and was a member of the Deer Creek Cattleman's Association for eight years.

Blewett was a member of the Cottonwood Creek Community Church for 20 years, and a member of Gideon International for several years. He was a member of the Bible Baptist Church at Lewiston at the time of his death.

Blewett married Grace J. Peters on June 16, 1939, at Culedasac. She survives at the family home at Lewiston.

Also surviving are three sons, Michael of Seattle, Dennis of Culedasac and the Rev. Patrick Blewett of Sheridan, Wyo.; eight sisters, Nita Ruddle, Veda Hoduffer, Enid Geild, and Janet White, all of Lewiston, Miriam Cook of Kendrick, Arla Geild of Lenore, June Stegner of Grangeville, and Mabel Stone of Pasadena, Calif.; three brothers, Milford of Lewiston, Aaron of Palm Desert, Calif., and Rex of Ramona, Calif.; and four grandchildren. Two brothers, Richard and Nye, preceded him in death.

The funeral was held at 2 p. m. Thursday at Malcom's Brower-Wann Memorial Chapel in Lewiston with the Rev. Richard Moore, pastor of Bible Baptist Church officiating. The family suggest any memorial contributions be made to the St. Joseph's Family Hospice or the Bible Baptist Church Memorial Fund.

Tom Wahl, 72, Genesee Farmer, Passes Feb. 25

Tom Wahl, 72, a former Genesee-area farmer and retired electrical engineer at Washington State University, passed away Saturday morning, February 25 at Deaconess Hospital in Spokane. His death was attributed to a heart condition following surgery.

Wahl, member of an early-day Genesee family, attended the University of Idaho from 1929 to 1932. He had lived in Pullman since 1945, working the farm east of Genesee during the summers and returning to Pullman for the winter.

He completed his education in 1940 at Washington State College receiving his engineering degree. He was employed at WSU until 1964, and retired from farming in 1976.

He was a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity, and Tau Beta Pi and Sigma Tau, engineering honor societies. He was a member of the Unitarian Fellowship and a charter member of the Latah County Historical Society.

He was born July 2, 1911 in Juliaetta, where his parents, Sherman and Mary Wahl kept a part-time winter home. They also had a winter home in Lewiston, and Tom graduated from Lewiston High School. The family spent the summers at the Genesee farm.

He was married to Elizabeth Gamble, also a member of a pioneer Latah County family, March 1, 1939. She survives at the Pullman home.

Also surviving are a son, David, who operates the family farm near Genesee, and two granddaughters, Lori Ann and Wendy, of Genesee.

Two brothers and a sister died previously.

A memorial service was held Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. at Short's Funeral Chapel in Moscow. The Rev. Stephen Maling of the Pullman Presbyterian Church and the Rev. Roger Herndon at the Genesee Community Church officiated. The family suggests memorials to the Pullman or Genesee ambulance funds, the Latah County Historical Society or the charity of the donor's choice.

Moscow, Idaho—The future of chemical, mechanical, cultural and biological systems of weed control will be discussed in Spokane on Mar. 13-15 when the Western Society of Weed Science holds its 37th annual meeting at the Sheraton Hotel.

Donn Thill, University of Idaho weed scientist, said the society fosters education and research in weed science. It has members in 11 Western states plus Hawaii and Alaska.

Lloyd Haderlie, weed scientist at the UI Research and Extension Center in Aberdeen, will preside at two meetings in which important research projects will be reviewed. One meeting will concentrate on chemical and physiological studies regarding herbicide absorption and translocation in plants. The other will examine research dealing with European water milfoil, an aquatic weed now posing problems in Idaho, Washington and British Columbia.

University of Idaho researchers will present papers on the chemical desiccation of potato vines and use of microcomputers in research projects. Research showing the effect of fallow tillage and weed control on soil moisture accumulation will be reported by Joan Lish, UI research associate.

UI graduate student Bradley Schaaf will present a paper on spring wheat varieties' varying susceptibility to triallate herbicide. Phillip Leno, UI research associate at Aberdeen, will report on a study of late-season photosynthesis in Canada thistle.

Robert Stovicek, UI graduate student, will describe a field method for studying seasonal translocation patterns in snowbush ceanothus. Raymond J. Boyd, U. S. Forest Service researcher at Moscow, will describe the effects of hexazinone herbicide on the germination and survival of conifer seedlings.

The president of the Western Society of Weed Science is Garry D. Massey, Fresno, Calif. The president-elect is Stanley Heathman, Phoenix, Ariz.

(Note: Donn Thill's telephone number at the University of Idaho is 208-885-6214).

U. of Idaho Faculty and Students Plan Special Genesee Event March 2

Moscow—Some University of Idaho College of Education faculty and students will spend March 2 teaching classes in the Genesee School District, as part of a long term commitment to all area public schools.

Dr. Ken Meierdiercks, coordinator of instructional research and development, said interested faculty and advanced education students will work in Genesee classrooms for the day. Genesee teachers released from classroom duties that day will attend a teachers' educational resource day at UI.

Meierdiercks said the day-long exchange will give interested UI faculty a chance to return to the classroom and apply current trends in education. The students involved will have a chance to experience planning and carrying out lessons.

Detailed planning for the exchange day has been done by Andrea Brown, UI doctoral candidate in education administration. She has been assisted by Richard Johnson, another doctoral candidate and Debby Bailey a sixth year specialist certificate student.

The graduate students named will serve as "shadow administrators," he said, working with Genesee administrators. They all have prior public school experience.

Genesee students will be given assignments to cover any work needed to fulfill their regular teachers' lesson plans and will also have the chance to experience some special learning opportunities. The special learning experiences are being developed from UI students' suggestions of their areas of interest and expertise.

In order to be sure the day's plans fulfill the needs of Genesee students, the UI participants will meet this week with the Genesee teachers whose classrooms they will occupy to coordinate teachers' lesson plan and student's ideas.

Some of the program goals include providing opportunities for students to have a monitored practical experience in a realistic setting, experience a full day of responsibility for planning, implementing and evaluating classes and have immediate feedback and evaluation from peers and supervising faculty.

The resource day, scheduled for 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. that day in rooms 310 and 311 of the College of Education Building, is open to any interested educator or education students. It involves textbook and media presentations on new educational materials.

Among the presentations are an introduction to LOGO programming language, an overview of the science of teaching, a workshop on Idaho

Animal Topics

H. R. McKelvey, DVM

SHOCK

Shock is a complex syndrome that can have many causes; however, the most common cause of shock is a loss of blood volume. Loss of blood volume can come about through hemorrhage or a pooling of most of the blood volume in veins. This pooling prevents adequate return of the blood to the heart. Hemorrhage can be either internal or external.

Shock can be mild or severe. Shock can quickly kill an animal if it is not treated. Shock patients with other injuries, such as fractures or lacerations, usually have to be treated for shock and their condition stabilized before their other injuries can be adequately treated.

Animals experiencing moderate shock are often depressed and quiet. Animals in severe shock are very depressed, may be unconscious, and often have slow, shallow respiration.

First aid for a shock should be used in any animal having a large amount of blood loss or suffering from a traumatic injury that leaves the animal dull and depressed. First make certain the patient is breathing then stop any bleeding that can be found. External bleeding can usually be controlled with the use of firm pressure directly over the bleeding site. Pressure can be applied with gauze pads or clean clothes. An animal in shock needs to be kept warm. Wrapping a small animal in a blanket with its head exposed is a good way to help maintain body temperature.

Treatment for shock is begun by controlling hemorrhage and starting fluid therapy to increase blood volume. Animals are kept warm. Steroids, antibiotics and other drugs are administered as needed.

The prognosis for animals in cases of moderate shock is good. Some animals may respond well to initial treatment but show more severe signs later due to kidney, lung, or nervous system involvement in the shock syndrome.

Outreach statewide activities, presentations by textbook publishing firms and a session on use of overhead transparencies and computer designed graphics.

Faculty for the workshop includes Owen Kelly and Mark Freer, of the UI College of Education faculty; Dave Hanson, education graduate student; members of the Idaho Outreach staff; Bill Haddock of Scott, Foresman and Company; Bill Chapman of Addison-Wesley Publishing Company, and J. P. Morgan of Huber Business Systems.

Also displaying educational materials will be Allyn and Bacon, B. C. Heath and Company, Ginn and Company, Inland Audio-Visual Company and Rand McNally.

Meierdiercks said that university faculty from all disciplines will find the session on overhead transparencies of special interest. That session will be from 3 to 4 p.m.

"We hope this will be the first of many of these events," he said. "We hope to make this an annual affair." He said the College of Education would be happy to plan an educator's exchange program with any other area school districts with interested faculty and administrators.

Sen. McLaughlin Reports from Boise

Sen. Marguerite McLaughlin (D-District 7)

(Boise)—I think that reapportionment is a lot like a couple of neighbors bickering over a disputed property line. More often than not the squabble is only about inches—and then escalates into feet and noisy, pointless battles.

Usually, the rest of the neighborhood doesn't really care about the disputed few inches, but does get awfully tired of the loud and endless bickering.

In reapportionment, we legislators are the bickering neighbors while you who elected us are the surrounding neighborhood, rapidly tiring of the din and unegotiated solution.

This feud dates back to the 1970 census and a U. S. Supreme Court ruling which requires that state legislatures represent their constituents equitably and proportionately.

Two results of the Idaho reapportionment battle are becoming clear: A legislative body cannot effectively reapportion itself, and—

Idaho is dangerously close to losing the traditional party system.

There are coalitions in both parties trying to resolve this morass fairly. Likely we will see more parliamentary maneuvering in committee and on the floor of both houses in the next two weeks. Possibly, we will see legislators looking to the court for a solution—which could controlling hemorrhage and starting fluid therapy to increase blood volume. Animals are kept warm. Steroids, antibiotics and other drugs are administered as needed.

The prognosis for animals in cases of moderate shock is good. Some animals may respond well to initial treatment but show more severe signs later due to kidney, lung, or nervous system involvement in the shock syndrome.

further cloud the issue. And, we will see some effort to move the filing deadline of candidates later in the year to give the Legislature more time to grapple with the problem.

The complex and tiring war will not end until the Republicans leadership drops its goal of annihilating the state's Democratic party.

There is a sunnier side to our Legislature:

The CWIP bill, which protects electric ratepayers, has soundly passed both houses and is on the Governors' desk.

We have heard excellent testimony on creating daycare licensing, creating a state Department of Commerce, and re-examining the controversial Swan Falls hydro-electric problem.

I think we are about a week away from having the general fund apportionment process get underway.

It's a bit like a Chinese puzzle, reapportionment, Swan Falls and budgeting—along with public education and generating revenue—are all intertwined.

Once we find the key to unlocking one of the pieces, the others will be more easily dealt with.

If you wonder how parents can care for quintuplets, imagine having 99 offspring. According to National Wildlife's Ranger Rick magazine, water snakes are known to have as many as 99 young in one litter.

U. of Idaho Faculty and Students Plan Special Genesee Event March 2

Moscow—Some University of Idaho College of Education faculty and students will spend March 2 teaching classes in the Genesee School District, as part of a long term commitment to all area public schools.

Dr. Ken Meierdiercks, coordinator of instructional research and development, said interested faculty and advanced education students will work in Genesee classrooms for the day. Genesee teachers released from classroom duties that day will attend a teachers' educational resource day at UI.

Meierdiercks said the day-long exchange will give interested UI faculty a chance to return to the classroom and apply current trends in education. The students involved will have a chance to experience planning and carrying out lessons.

Detailed planning for the exchange day has been done by Andrea Brown, UI doctoral candidate in education administration. She has been assisted by Richard Johnson, another doctoral candidate and Debby Bailey a sixth year specialist certificate student.

The graduate students named will serve as "shadow administrators," he said, working with Genesee administrators. They all have prior public school experience.

Genesee students will be given assignments to cover any work needed to fulfill their regular teachers' lesson plans and will also have the chance to experience some special learning opportunities. The special learning experiences are being developed from UI students suggestions of their areas of interest and expertise.

In order to be sure the day's plans fulfill the needs of Genesee students, the UI participants will meet this week with the Genesee teachers whose classrooms they will occupy to coordinate teachers' lesson plan and student's ideas.

Some of the program goals include providing opportunities for students to have a monitored practical experience in a realistic setting, experience a full day of responsibility for planning, implementing and evaluating classes and have immediate feedback and evaluation from peers and supervising faculty.

The resource day, scheduled for 8 a.m. to 5 p. m. that day in rooms 310 and 311 of the College of Education Building, is open to any interested educator or education students. It involves textbook and media presentations on new educational materials.

Among the presentations are an introduction to LOGO programming language, an overview of the science of teaching, a workshop on Idaho

Animal Topics

H. R. McKelvey, DVM

Shock is a complex syndrome that can have many causes; however, the most common cause of shock is a loss of blood volume. Loss of blood volume can come about through hemorrhage or a pooling of most of the blood volume in veins. This pooling prevents adequate return of the blood to the heart. Hemorrhage can be either internal or external.

Shock can be mild or severe. Shock can quickly kill an animal if it is not treated. Shock patients with other injuries, such as fractures or lacerations, usually have to be treated for shock and their condition stabilized before their other injuries can be adequately treated.

Animals experiencing moderate shock are often depressed and quiet. Animals in severe shock are very depressed, may be unconscious, and often have slow, shallow respiration.

First aid for a shock should be used in any animal having a large amount of blood loss or suffering from a traumatic injury that leaves the animal dull and depressed. First make certain the patient is breathing then stop any bleeding that can be found. External bleeding can usually be controlled with the use of firm pressure directly over the bleeding site. Pressure can be applied with gauze pads or clean clothes. An animal in shock needs to be kept warm. Wrapping a small animal in a blanket with its head exposed is a good way to help maintain body temperature.

Treatment for shock is begun by controlling hemorrhage and starting fluid therapy to increase blood volume. Animals are kept warm. Steroids, antibiotics and other drugs are administered as needed.

The prognosis for animals in cases of moderate shock is good. Some animals may respond well to initial treatment but show more severe signs later due to kidney, lung, or nervous system involvement in the shock syndrome.

Outreach statewide activities, presentations by textbook publishing firms and a session on use of overhead transparencies and computer designed graphics.

Faculty for the workshop includes Owen Kelly and Mark Preer, of the UI College of Education faculty; Dave Hanson, education graduate student; members of the Idaho Outreach staff; Bill Fallock of Scott, Foresman and Company; Bill Chapman of Addison-Wesley Publishing Company, and J. P. Morgan of Huber Business Systems.

Also displaying educational materials will be Allyn and Bacon, B. C. Heath and Company, Ginn and Company, Inland Audio-Visual Company and Rand McNally.

Meierdiercks said that university faculty from all disciplines will find the session on overhead transparencies of special interest. That session will be from 3 to 4 p. m. "We hope this will be the first of many of these events," he said. "We hope to make this an annual affair." He said the College of Education would be happy to plan an educator's exchange program with any other area school districts with interested faculty and administrators.

Sen. McLaughlin Reports from Boise

Sen. Marguerite McLaughlin (D-District 7)

(Boise)—I think that reapportionment is a lot like a couple of neighbors bickering over a disputed property line. More often than not the squabble is only about inches--and then escalates into feet and noisy, pointless battles.

Usually, the rest of the neighborhood doesn't really care about the disputed few inches, but does get awfully tired of the loud and endless bickering.

In reapportionment, we legislators are the bickering neighbors while you who elected us are the surrounding neighborhood, rapidly tiring of the din and unegotiated solution.

This feud dates back to the 1970 census and a U. S. Supreme Court ruling which requires that state legislatures represent their constituents equitably and proportionately.

Two results of the Idaho reapportionment battle are becoming clear: A legislative body cannot effectively reapportion itself, and—Idaho is dangerously close to losing the traditional party system.

There are coolheads in both parties trying to resolve this headache fairly. Likely we will see more parliamentary maneuvering in committee and on the floor of both houses in the next two weeks. Possibly, we will see legislators looking to the court for a solution—which could further cloud the issue. And, we will see some effort to move the filing deadline of candidates later in the year to give the Legislature more time to grapple with the problem.

The complex and tiring war will not end until the Republicans leadership drops its goal of annihilating the state's Democratic party.

There is a sunnier side to our Legislature:

The CWIP bill, which protects electric ratepayers, has soundly passed both houses and is on the Governor's desk.

We have heard excellent testimony on creating daycare licensing, creating a state Department of Commerce, and re-examining the controversial Swan Falls hydro-electric problem.

I think we are about a week away from having the general fund apportionment process get underway. It's a bit like a Chinese puzzle, re-apportionment, Swan Falls and budgeting—along with public education and generating revenue—are all intertwined.

Once we find the key to unlocking one of the pieces, the others will be more easily dealt with.

If you wonder how parents can care for quintuplets, imagine having 99 offspring. According to National Wildlife's Ranger Rick magazine, water snakes are known to have as many as 99 young in one litter.

Jazz Greats Star In UI Jazz Festival

Moscow—Jazz greats Sarah Vaughan and Lionel Hampton will headline this year's University of Idaho Jazz Festival March 1-3.

Vaughan's appearance is scheduled for 10 p. m. March 2 in Memorial Gym. Hampton and his big band will give a concert at 10 p. m. March 3, in the same location.

Also appearing during the festival will be Dianne Reeves, one of the fastest rising young jazz vocalists in the U. S., with Bill Perkins, world famous for his mastery of jazz saxophone. Free Flight, a classical jazz improvisational quartet will be a part of the event. The group's unusual repertoire includes classical works, contemporary jazz and improvisational combinations of the 2 styles. Free Flight will give concert at 8 p. m. Thursday, March 1, in the Student Union Building Ballroom. The group will also offer individual clinics for flute, piano, bass and percussion at 5 p. m. that day.

On Friday, March 2, Lianne Reeves will give a vocal clinic at 4 p. m. in the SUB Ballroom and will appear in a concert at 6:30 p. m. at the same location. That concert will also feature appearances by high school and junior high school vocal jazz groups winning competitions during the day. Perkins will be saxophone soloist with University Jazz I in a concert at 6:30 p. m. Saturday in the SUB Ballroom. His clinic is sponsored by Yamaha. Vaughan, sometimes called "The Divine One," has a voice that spans four octaves. "She uses it like a horn," one critic has said. She has been a performer for over 40 years. She is a long time friend of Billy Eckstine and has performed with him at intervals throughout her career.

On the theory that rotten eggs are near the top of the world's most offensive-smell list, some Louisiana farmers are spraying soybean fields with a diluted egg mixture to discourage deer from nibbling on young plants, reports National Wildlife magazine.

Among her honors are an honorary doctorate of music from Howard University, the 1981 Downbeat Award, 18 consecutive years as best female vocalist, eight years as best female Jazz singer for the National Academy at Recording Arts and Sciences and a 1981 Emmy Award for her television special, "Sarah Vaughan Sings George Gershwin."
She has also won the 1981 Emmy award for the best performance by a female vocalist.
Hampton has been a musical performer for over 45 years. He is world famous for his command of the vibes and drums. His big band has toured all of the jazz capitals of Europe and throughout the Far East.
He holds Doctor of Music Degrees from three universities, Allen, Xavier, and Pepperdine, along with many other awards and honors.
He first began to play drums while a student at Chicago's Holy Rosary Academy. His first contact with the vibes was as a student at St. Elizabeth's High School.
Hampton's big break in music came in 1930, when he met Duke Ellington in Los Angeles and was asked to help back him for a recording session. That inspired him to form his own band in 1934. He has served as director, vibre player and drummer since then.
Dianne Reeves lives in Los Angeles, where she is active as an entertainer and records for Palo Alto Jazz.
Tickets for any of the concerts are available from the Student Union Information Desk, Telephone (208) 885-6484.

Harvest Party—An Annual Event

The slightly belated, this event was hosted by Leslie and Delores Heimgartner and held at the Chinese Village in Moscow Sunday, Feb. 26. Happy guests included the following: Roy and Ardythe Heimgartner, Barbara and Lee Heimgartner and family, Ken and Debby LaBlanc and family, and Brian Straw of the U. of I. A good dinner party!

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Heimgartner, following the Moscow festivities, spent the evening in the Juliaetta home of the Lawrence Heimgartners. The Don Hoisington family enjoyed Sunday dinner in the Juliaetta home of Mr. and Mrs. Neale Hoisington.

Sickness comes and goes. Weather is changeable.

News from the Glen Stevens

On Saturday afternoon the Stevens were happily surprised with a 'drop-in' visit from Keith and Carolee Steigers, visiting from Missoula. Both couples were filled with joy. Many years ago, Glen and Margorie, with their 2 young daughters surprised the Montana family with a similar joyful visitation! They arrived in time for breakfast!

The Stevens, with John and Melanie Gibbs and baby Ashley, and Maxine Halsey, were all dinner guests on Sunday at the home of Ralph and Shirley Steigers in the Gifford area. A very pleasant day was enjoyed.

Ruth and Wayne Heimgartner Events

Sunday, Feb. 26, at their home, were son Harold, wife Carlene and the 2 little girls. The old Stony Point Ranch rejoiced!

Stony Point Friendship Club will meet at the home of Mabel Steigers on this coming Thursday, Mar. 1, unless unforeseen events have "called it off".

A 'Major' Operation

Head surgeon Kenneth Steigers, with 4 observing assistants, schoolmates and Brant from Lapwai High, performed major surgery, a valve grind operation, on the car of one of these boys, on Sunday at the E. Steigers shop at Cherrylane. The operation was a success! The patient did not die! This famished team team enjoyed 'serve yourself' belated lunch dinner in the kitchen of Nelle. The car-owner, with 2 friends, departed homeward happily, while Ken and Brant gathered up tools and instruments!

Visitors from Missoula— Art Eller, with daughter Carolee and son-in-law Keith Steigers, were Thursday overnight guests in the Ern-

Southwick, Golden Rule News

By Gayle Marek

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hanks of Lewiston were Sunday afternoon callers of Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Armitage and Nick.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Czmowski were weekend visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Czmowski and Debbie.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Czmowski spent Thursday through Saturday visiting Jeff at Pasco. Mrs. Barbara Osborn and Jennifer visited Debbie and son Wednesday through Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Colwell of Lewiston were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mustoe one day last week.

Saturday evening Mrs. Betty Mustoe attended a bridal shower for Caroline Nilsson, Cavendish, that was held in Lewiston. Sunday afternoon Bob and Gerlene Parks of Leland were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mustoe.

Walt and Helen Zelinski went fishing on the Clearwater River one day last week with no luck reported.

Leslie Green spent Sunday night with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walt Zelinski.

Delayed from Last Week—
Mr. and Mrs. Tom Marek and Jake attended the Hermiston, Ore horse sale last weekend. They sold a registered quarter horse mare and colt. The weather and roads were good.

Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Marek and boys called on Mr. and Mrs. Greg Richardson of Clarkston. Ray Smith, Clarkston was a Sunday visitor of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Marek and sons.

John Lettenmaier visited the Marek family Friday evening to view the slides of the Bob Marshall trip of last summer.

Spaghetti Feed March 17—
Saturday, March 17, there will be a spaghetti feed at the Southwick Aid Hall. Everyone is invited to attend. Proceeds go to the fund to help maintain the Aid Hall for a multi-purpose hall. The Southwick Extension Homemakers are the sponsors of this dinner. Details next time.

Mrs. Laura Adamson and Sandi Gipe and a friend all traveled to Spokane Saturday to attend an art show where Sandi's work was being exhibest Steigers home. Art spent the rest of his visit in the home of brothers in Lewiston, returning Sunday for the backward trip over Lolo Pass to their home in Montana. The young couple made Cherrylane their base. The "young" folks all enjoyed a trip to Moscow on Saturday to attend the gun and antique show and sale, with the Ken Steigers also attending.

Mr. and Mrs. David Steigers, with grandchildren Tyson and Brittany, and their father, Rick Steigers, came on Sunday morning to see the Montana visitors before they departed and were enjoyed by the Cherrylaners. All this Juliaetta group and families have been enduring the prevalent "Uggy Flu"! Much weight was lost.

Mary Hayhurst and Dorothy Partidge were Tuesday, Feb. 21st, callers in the E. Steigers home.

Visit Relatives on Sunday—
Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Steigers were callers of her uncle, Cletis Hoisington then on down later in the evening to brother Ernest's home. Mabel reported visiting her mother, Mystie, in Lewiston and also Mildred Heath, both doing nicely. Mildred says, "I eat everything they bring me, at the Lewiston Care Center."

Vicky Bencoter

Saturday supper guests of Walt and Babe Bencoter were Bob and Diane Dupea of Orofino. Bob and Diane then traveled on to Moscow to attend the basketball game at the Kibbie Dome.

Sunday morning Dick Bencoter was a visitor in the Walt Bencoter home.

Dareld, Julie, Wyatt and Jenny Hazeltine were Sunday afternoon visitors in the Warney May home. Steve and Dawn Holt and children visited on Friday afternoon.

Vicky Bencoter called on Grace Westburg of Linville Wednesday, and on Ella Bencoter in the Latah Care Center. Friday Vicky visited with Ann Turner in Troy.

Ray and Fran Bencoter of Lewiston visited with Jo Bencoter Monday afternoon. Tuesday afternoon callers were Anna Fairfield and Jo's granddaughter, Sherry Smith, of Sweetwater.

Tuesday evening Jo attended the Kendrick Grange meeting with Gene Taylor and Muriel Schoeffler.

Don Bencoter of Sweetwater and Lawrence Heimgartner were Wednesday visitors of Jo Bencoter. On Sunday afternoon Kathryn Morey and Jo Bencoter drove to Sweetwater to visit with the Don Bencoter family, then had dinner Sunday evening at "Granny's Pantry" in Juliaetta.

Phebe Davis phoned Jo Bencoter on Sunday evening, Feb. 26, to tell her Wayne Davis is in Gritman Hospital recovering from surgery, but is doing okay. We wish him a speedy recovery.

The Bob Callison family attended a basketball game in Lewiston Saturday evening.

Bob and Judy Callison, John and Anna enjoyed Sunday dinner with Don and Janet Johnson, at their Cavendish home.

ited by Arrow L Galley of Grangeville. They reported that the roads were very foggy.

Cedar Ridge News

The Friendly Neighbor Club

Weekend guests of Marion and Eileen Souders were their daughter Diane and her husband, Dan Wallinder of Spokane, Wa.

Supper guests Wednesday evening at the home of Clem and Flo Lyons were Howard and Diane Holt of Bowll.

Geo. and Delores Lyons left last Friday for Vancouver, Wash where Delores attended a doll show. They then drove on to Seattle to visit relatives returning home Wednesday.

Alvin and Diane took their parents, Bill and Darlene Wilson to dinner at the King's Table in Moscow and later attended the gun and antique show at the Kibbie Dome on Saturday night to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary, which will be on Tuesday.

The community is saddened again at the loss of another of our members. We are so sorry, Jack, to hear of the passing of your mother, Agnes Parsley.

Local News Of Juliaetta

Friday afternoon callers of Rufus and Anna Fairfield were Chris Tschantz of Southwick, Gertrude Pederson and Edith Adams. Saturday afternoon caller was Bud Fairfield, Lewiston. Mrs. Majorie Whitton and daughter, Sheryl of Lewiston and their friend, Jerry from California were also luncheon guests in the evening.

Heather Tweit Named National Award Winner

The United States Achievement Academy announced this week that Heather Tweit has been named a 1984 United States National Award winner in History and Government and Mathematics. This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than 10% of all American high school students.

Heather, who attends Abbott Loop Christian School in Anchorage, Alaska, was nominated for this national award by William DeSchweinitz, a Math and history teacher at the school. Heather's name will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

Heather is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Tweit of Anchorage, Alaska. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Everett Farrington of Juliaetta and Mrs. Virginia Tweit of Moscow.

Kendrick Grange Entertained Visitors

Last Tuesday, Feb. 21, a 6:30 dinner was served by Kendrick Grange No. 413 to 23 of its members, plus 13 guests from Moscow Grange and 2 visitors from Reubens Grange.

Led by Master Gordon Dailey, the Moscow Grange presented pots of flowers by drawing numbers.

Kendrick Grange discussed the upcoming March 6 meeting which will be at 7:30. The local Search and Rescue group will furnish the program. The public is invited to attend. Slides, movies and demonstrations will be presented.

Following the Feb. 21st business meeting, Moscow Grange entertained with bingo games and prizes.

HAWAIIAN MEMORY

The full moon sailed across the starry sky,
Whales flicked their tales while cruising by.
Rainbows arched perfectly over the beach,
While gorgeous birds came down within our reach.
We loved the sound of roaring waves at night—
Sunset memories we'll cherish with delight.
