eycle. The organism produces egg-like structures in the intestine of cats. These eggs can be picked up from the soil or cat box by a susceptible individual. Eggs can also be carried by earthworms and insects. After the eggs are eaten by a sus. ceptible animal then a miniature cyst is formed in the tissue of the animal. These tissue cysts can then infect another animal if they are eaten, such as a dog eating an infected rabbit. Then the dog develops tissue cysts. If a cat eats a tissue cyst then the toxo organism can start producing eggs

Some early indications are promising, the anadromous fishery coordinator explains.

"We had a very good return of one ocean fish in 1983-84 and this usu ally means that good numbers of two ocean fish, those that have spent two years at sea, will be coming back,' Pollard says.

"Another promising sign is the strong downstream migration of smolts in 1982 and 1983," he adds. The 1984 permits will be valid if the Fish and Game commission approves

This church, and its ministrations, have been an important part of the young girl's and her families' life. All was lovely! The members of this church work together for the needs of the community. The groom's parents are from the Peck area—Mr. and Mrs. O. L. (Bud)

Recently, our Barbara Heimpart-ner, as a "woman in agriculture" filled much space in local newspapers! This week's call for 'news' for our Stonypoint column drew an exhausted "n onews" from her girls.

According to Delores Heimgartner, she and two other Heimgartner ladies, Ruth and Barbara, served Farm Breakfast (38c) as members of I. W. A. at Lewiston Mall on Tuesday, March 20. A fairly good 'turn-out' Delores reported. A real bargain! (Price based on what the farmer re-ceives for material consumed.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Heimgartner visited on Sunday in the Clearwater area. They, and others, returning later in the evening, found the ground white at the top of Hubbard Gulch! Rain in lower regions.

Mrs. Cunningham and children of Juliaetta, and Barbara Smith of Kendrick were callers of Delores Heimgartner one day last week. Cletis Hoisington dropped off the mail. A service the residents of lower Ridge perform for each other, as their mail boxes are out on Hubbard Gulch proper. Makes one remember the "good old days!"

Darick H. is 3— Grandparents Eldon and Gertrude Heimgartner, with Erma Stevens, on Sunday afternoon late, stopped at the Rick Heimgartner home to help Darick celebrate and admire the "trucktractor" gift, his dream come true!
