Architect and Bank Officer Spoke at School Bond Meeting; Vote Due Tuesday

Tuesday evening, October 23, Jim Belamy, an architect from Coeur d'Alene, and Jim Sager, an assistant vice president of First Security Bank from Salt Lake City attended a special school board meeting for public information at Juliaetta Elementary School. The meeting was held in the basement gymnasium of the school.

Mr. Belamy drew the original preliminary architectural sketches when the issue was brought before the voters in 1977. He reviewed the sketches with the audience showing them that the addition would be built on the lower playground area thus making the present gymnasium where everyone was sitting available to be remodeled into needed classroom and cafeteria space. He indicated that the timing for building is the most favorable that it has been in the past 5 years. Mr. Belamy indicated that during the late 70s and into 1980 the construction industry was experiencing such a large annual inflation rate that building material costs were rising at a 10-20% annual increase. He said that today's building costs are very near that same cost that they were five years ago. He indicated that this addition should be able to be built for $50 per square foot for the finished portion which includes the multipurpose room, entrance hall and girls restroom and $28 per square foot for the unfinished area which would include the roof and unfinished walls of an approximate 1000 square ft. area. This unfinished area would then be finished as the school district could afford it. He also mentioned that recent contractor bids that have been coming in the greater Inland Empire have been as low as $15 per square foot which are bargain prices in school construction prices where they range from $50-$65 per square foot on a national basis.

Mr. Sager, likewise, mentioned that the climate was very favorable for successful school bond elections particularly in Southern Idaho. He indicated that he had reviewed the figures being asked of the voter was truly a "bare bones" amount and the $200,000 less than was asked of the voters in 1980 was a situation he did not find very frequently in his travels. He mentioned that Idaho school bonds always sell well in the market places because of the scarcity of them. He cited one example where recently over a million dollars worth of Idaho bonds which are tax exempt sold in less than 1 1/2 hours. Mr. Sager explained the procedure of bond sales once a favorable vote the electorate has been received. He indicated that the bonds are first made available for public sale at the market places and then banks, brokerage firms and other lending institution bids on the bonds. He added that generally the more bids you have the lower interest rates the school district has to pay. He indicated that should a situation occur where they do not sell in a public sale, Idaho law then permits them to be sold in a private sale. However, he did indicate that the interest about this particular bond issue has been such that there is a good chance that a majority of the bonds could be sold in the local area because of their tax exempt status. Mr. Sager complimented the school board on their conservative action on repaying the bonds in 10 years instead of 20 years which is allowable under Idaho statute thus saving the Kendrick Jt. School district taxpayers some $387,000 in interest payments. He closed the session by saying that many times people do not stop to think that banks also pay property taxes. He indicated that banks do not like to pay higher taxes than do individuals but First Security Bank as one of the largest taxpayers in the district has gone on record as supporting the bond election because they feel that it is healthy for the economic future of the community.

Frequently Asked Questions About Juliaetta School Bond Issue

During the past few weeks as information has been disseminated about the bond issue to the Lions Clubs, Grange, Senior Citizens, P.T.S.O. and the special school board meeting for public information, several questions have frequently been asked the superintendent of schools. Question: Why is the school district pumping thousands of dollars into remodeling an old structure like Juliaetta Elementary School? Answer: Structurally Juliaetta Elementary School is a solid structure worthy of remodeling. Unlike private homes which can be built in the $25-40 per square range, schools have to meet earthquake standards and other structural requirements which boost the cost of a national basis from $50-65 per square foot. If the district was to go out and build a new structure with the same amount of square footage that is presently found on both floors of Juliaetta Elementary, we would be looking at a price tag from $1.15 to $1.5 million dollars. If we had to go out and buy land for this structure it would boost the cost to somewhere between $1.5 and 2 million dollars. If you have visited the elementary school this school year and have gone into one of the four classrooms which have been completely renovated by installation of the ceilings with fluorescent lighting, and insulation above, new sinks in each classroom, and carpeting, you would then think that you were standing in a classroom built in the 1970s or 80s. Consequently, you can see the remodeling and the $530,000 addition is a savings to the taxpayers of hundreds of thousands of dollars. Question: How can the school district propose the same addition onto Juliaetta Elementary using the same architectural design 5 years later for some $200,000 less than was asked the taxpayers in May of 1980 ($730,000)?

Answer: There are several reasons. First of all, some of the cost in the 1980 bond issue was to include some remodeling of the school basement that the school district had gone ahead and done on their own. A good example of this is the kindergarten classroom that was brought in from renting church basements in the summer of 1980. The cost of remodeling the stage into a kindergarten room (it still can be used as a stage by opening the folding wall) was about $12,000. Since you were annually paying about $1800 in rent and this is the 5th year the new kindergarten has been used, you can see that it has almost paid for itself. Had we gone out and bought a portable classroom that many of the school districts are doing around the state and country, it would have been around $50,000. Thus a substantial savings to taxpayers. Thirdly, there is one portion of the new addition of approximately 1,000 sq. feet that we are going to leave unfinished until the school district can afford to finish it on their own. Furthermore, there are a few portions of the existing school basement that the school district will remodel on their own but cannot until we have the room of the new addition to move those activities into. Fourth, because of the recent recession some building materials are actually less than they were in 1980 and according to our architect, contractors with current labor costs in mind have been most competitive on their construction bids of schools in the past year. Question: If that elementary school was good enough for me why isn't it good enough for my kids or grandchildren? Answer: There are several ways one can answer that question. When the pioneers built the one room and small schools that dotted the ridges and valleys that now make up Kendrick Jt. School District No. 283, they knew the importance and value of education for their children. In proportion to the money they were making homesteading, they were paying a much higher proportion of their income in both time to build the schoolhouse, help to keep down costs and taxes to support them. Today we as taxpayers in Kendrick Jt. School District enjoy the 8th lowest property taxes out of 115 school districts in the State of Idaho. During the 10 years that we would be repaying this addition we would still be in the bottom 25-35% of the property taxes paid by the other taxpayers in the 115 districts. As Eugene Taylor, retired Latah Co. Assessor, recently said in a Grange meeting, "while we will see a small increase in our property taxes over the 10 years, one should remember that property taxes are deductible from federal income taxes and there fore it helps lessen the burden and keeps our tax dollars closer to home. Another factor that we live with today are state accreditation standards and affirmative action regulations that causes school districts to offer comparable education standards among all school districts for both boys and girls throughout the state of Idaho. A third factor is that our enrollment this 1984-85 school year is at the 180 mark. There are 3 more classrooms today (2 built in 1962-63 and the kindergarten in 1980) that use the cafeteria and gymnasium which were built for 60-90 students.

Linden Voters Must Vote In Kendrick On School Bond

It is going to be necessary for the Linden Precinct voters to vote in Kendrick at the fire hall on the school bond issue due to an oversight in the auditor's office. Linden Precinct is that portion of Latah County that covers upper Cedar Ridge and Gold Hill area. This oversight was caused by not detecting that the Linden District was in the Kendrick Jt. School District. Idaho law prohibits any change of polling place on a school bond issue once it has been publicized for 3 consecutive times in the newspaper of record. To violate this law could cause the bond election to be in jeopardy. The polling hours of the school bond election at all polling places (Kendrick Firehall, Juliaetta City Hall, Cameron Lutheran Church, and the Albert Lawrence home) will be from 8:00 A. M. - 8:00 P. M., the same time as the general election. The school district urges Linden Precinct voters to come out and vote on the bond issue on the way to the first home game of Kendrick Tigers Girls Basketball !!!

Parent/Teacher Conferences Set For Nov. 8 and 9

Parent/Teacher Conferences will be held at the high school again this year following the first quarter. During the evening of November 8, time 6:30-8:30 and the following day Friday, November 9th from 8:30-3:00.

We would like to try the evening session so more of the student's parents who both work could participate in conferences. On Friday, those parents or parent who can come in during this time, we'll be looking forward to seeing as usual. By providing the evening session we are hoping to see the parents who haven't been able to attend in the past.

Conferences this year will also have a new twist in that they will be held in the gym. Each teacher will occupy an area and meet with the parents in these areas. Setting up a time schedule to meet with each teacher won't be necessary this year. As you, the parents, leave conferences, I would appreciate your turning in the questionnaire and evaluation form, reacting to this type of conference. Gale S. Vallem

Fitness Award Program—

This year the Juliaetta Elementary school will be participating in the President's Academic Fitness Award program.

This program is designed to motivate students to meet high academic standards. The program was initiated by President Reagan in Dec. 1983, and expanded to include students at the exit grade of elementary school this year.

The criteria for the awards at elementary school level are as follows:
Attain a B plus average or equivalent, accumulated in elementary school, including the 1st semester of the exit grade at this level, which is sixth grade on the most recent test taken placing the student at or above the 80th percentile on any nationally recognized standardized achievement test battery. We use the SRA Achievement Test.

Schools also have the option of giving a limited number of awards to students who do not meet the above criteria, but who have shown extraordinary effort in school. These awards are made at the discretion of the principal.

Awards will be presented at the end of the school year. We hope participation in the President's Academic Fitness Award program will help motivate students to work to their full potential in the school year.

O. E. A. Finishes Two Weeks Of "Fun Raisers"

The Kendrick O. E. A. chapter just finished up two weeks of "Fun Raisers". O. E. A. strives itself on earning money through "Fun" activities. The first of these was the annual "Kiss the Pig" contest during homecoming. As always, Terry Webb was the winner in the faculty division (but Gordy Presnell was sweating it out in second place). Patty Lohman won in the student division and kissed that beautiful hunk of bacon. Thanks goes to the Wilson family for donating the pigs. O. E. A. then had a "car bash" on the bonfire night of Homecoming. Dale Renfrow had the honors of the windshield. We would like to thank J. Junkman and Sons for the donated car.

Then came the final activity last Saturday night. "The Haunted Hall and Dance" for Halloween. O. E. A. set up the haunted hall in the shop with such stunts as "The Mad Ax-man", "The Chainsaw Pumpkin Head Killer", "Hangman", "The Mad Scientist and his Pet Rat" (yes, a real rat), "Spook in the Rafter" and the "Disappearing Floor". The dance had great music and there was an apple-bob, and egg drop (where alot of girls got egg in the face.) We'd like to thank Carolyn Gravelle for the apples.

We had great fun this past two weeks and I would like to thank everyone involved. Good job. O. E. A. members.

Constitutional Amendments
 Two amendments to the Idaho Constitution will appear on the general election ballot. These have been proposed to the people for ratification following action by the legislature.

The amendment proposals, the Legislative Council's statements of meaning and purpose, and the statements for and against are listed as follows:

H. J. R. No. 5
 Section 5, Article III, of the Constitution of the State of Idaho be amended to read as follows:

SECTION 5. SENATORIAL AND REPRESENTATIVE DISTRICTS. A senatorial or representative district, when more than one county shall constitute the same, shall be composed of contiguous counties areas, and no county shall be divided in creating such districts.

The question to be submitted to the electors of the State of Idaho at the next general election shall be as follows:

"Shall Section 5, Article III, of the Constitution of the State of Idaho be amended to provide that senatorial or representative districts shall be composed of contiguous areas when more than one county constitutes the district and to provide that a county may be divided in creating such senatorial or representative districts for the Legislature of the State of Idaho?"

Legislative Council's Statement of Meaning and Purpose
H. J. R. No. 5
MEANING AND PURPOSE

The purpose of this proposed amendment to Section 5, Article III, of the Constitution of the State of Idaho is to allow counties to be divided in the formation of legislative districts.

EFFECT OF ADOPTION
 If this amendment is adopted, it will permit the formation of legislative districts that cross county lines.

STATEMENTS FOR THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT

1. Recent judicial decisions have shown that it is a practical impossibility to comply with the Idaho Constitution and not divide counties in forming legislative districts while complying with federal mandates to form legislative districts of equal population. This amendment will remove a barrier to the goal of achieving the "one-man, one-vote" principle of representative government.

2. Economic and social considerations do not follow county lines, most of which were established over a half-century ago. This amendment will allow legislative districts to be formed which can take these economic and social considerations into account, and still maintain a high degree of population equality.

3. Without this amendment, the large, unwieldy "floterial" legislative districts established by court order for the 1984 elections will be continued in some form or another. The large population numbers and the huge land areas included in the "floterial" districts have diluted the citizens' ability to know and contact their local legislators. If this amendment is adopted, legislative representation of a more local nature can more easily be achieved.

4. Without this amendment, representation in the legislative body of the state will depend more on archaic county lines than people. Since only people vote, this amendment will allow legislative districts to be formed with the primary emphasis on the voting public, and not on county lines that were formed when the most common means of transportation was the horse and buggy.

STATEMENTS AGAINST THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT

1. Splitting counties to form legislative districts will only lead to voter confusion as to who represents them in the Legislature.
 2. The county unit is the most

Joint School District No. 282 will be held for the conduct of business at 8:00 o'clock A. M. at the Superintendent's Office on Wednesday, 7th day of November, 1984 for this month only. This action represents a change of the formerly adopted schedule of regular meetings, and applies only to the November meeting.

This meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Genesee Joint School basic of governmental units, and performs many important governmental functions. The county form of government should be strengthened and improved, not split and torn asunder as this amendment would do.

3. This amendment would allow rural, isolated areas to be combined with urban areas in forming legislative districts. This practice will dilute the representation of the interests of our most important agricultural industry.

4. This section is a part of the original constitution of this state. It has served well for nearly a century, and the fact the 1984 legislative elections will be conducted in conformity with its requirements shows that no amendment is needed.

S. J. R. No. 117
 Section 7, Article XV, of the Constitution of the State of Idaho be amended to read as follows:

SECTION 7. STATE WATER RESOURCE AGENCY. There shall be constituted a Water Resource Agency, composed as the Legislature may now or hereafter prescribe, which shall have power to formulate and implement a state water plan for optimum development of water resources in the public interest, to construct and operate water projects; to issue bonds, without state obligation, to be repaid from revenues of projects; to generate and wholesale hydroelectric power at the site of production; to appropriate public waters as trustee for Agency projects; to acquire, transfer and encumber title to real property for water projects and to have control and administrative authority over state lands required for water projects; all under such laws as may be prescribed by the Legislature.

Additionally, The State Water Resource Agency shall have power to formulate and implement a state water plan for optimum development of water resources in the public interest. The Legislature of the State of Idaho shall have the authority to amend or reject the state water plan in a manner provided by law. Thereafter any change in the state water plan shall be submitted to the Legislature of the State of Idaho upon the first day of a regular session following the change and the change shall become effective unless amended or rejected by law within sixty days of its submission to the Legislature.

The question to be submitted to the electors of the State of Idaho at the next general elections shall be as follows:

"Shall Section 7, Article XV, of the Constitution of the State of Idaho be amended to provide that the Legislature shall have the authority to amend or reject the State Water Plan in a manner provided by law and that any change in the State Water Plan shall be submitted to the State Legislature upon the first day of a Regular Session following the change and the change shall become effective unless amended or rejected by law within sixty days of submission to the Legislature?"

Legislative Council's Statement of Meaning and Purpose
S. J. R. No. 117
MEANING AND PURPOSE

The purpose of this proposed amendment to Section 7, Article XV, of the Constitution of the State of Idaho is to specifically give the Legislature constitutional authority to amend or reject the state water plan in a manner provided by law.

EFFECT OF ADOPTION
 If this amendment is adopted, it will eliminate any confusion about the role of the people's elected representatives and senators in the formation of water policy as prescribed in the state water plan for optimum development of water resources in the public interest.

STATEMENTS FOR THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT

1. When this section was added to the Constitution in 1964, most people assumed the Legislature would have some authority to accept, reject or modify the state water plan developed by the appointed Water Resources Board. A recent Idaho Supreme Court decision ruled that existing constitutional language was inadequate to grant such oversight. This amendment will preserve and protect the legitimate constitutional function of the Water Resources Board to formulate and implement a plan for the use of Idaho's public waters, yet restore final oversight of that plan by the elected representatives of the people.

2. Some aspects of the state water plan are extra important. Public waters may be allocated to some groups of citizens and not to others. The economic well-being of cities, regions or individuals may be sharply impacted. It is, therefore, important that the principals of equal representation and accountability to the voters be part of the process. These principles cannot be fully guaranteed through an appointed board.

3. Because the Idaho Water Resources Board is appointed, the potential exists for partisan or patronage appointments. These problems can be countered by insuring that the elected representatives of the people have influence in finalizing the water plan.

4. Legislative oversight on other major areas of state interest, such as education, corrections, other natural resources, or utilities, has not been withdrawn as has been done for management and development of water resources. The management and development of our water resources must be made subject to the review and oversight of the Legislature, just as are all other major concerns that affect Idaho's citizens.

STATEMENTS AGAINST THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT

1. The Idaho Water Resource Board is composed of citizens from all walks of life who are appointed by a Governor elected by popular vote. The board has the ability to utilize extensive hearing procedures to gather citizen input, allowing more thorough evaluation of the desires of the citizens of the State of Idaho. The Legislature does not have the time for extensive technical hearings and is affected during its active session by numerous special interest groups which may influence the decision-making process to the detriment of a majority of citizens of the State of Idaho.

2. The proposed amendment puts politics back into state water planning. The existing constitution places the planning process in the hands of the general public through their Idaho Water Resource Board. Placing the final decision in the hands of the Legislature opens the door to special interest groups and partisan politics. The Idaho Water Resource Board holds public input sacred in formulating the state water plan. A defeat of the proposed amendment will leave state water planning in the hands of the people.

3. The complexities of water resource management require the services of a single issue agency with both the resources and the time to do the job. The task must also include both a great degree of public education and public response. The Legislature, which must address many other important issues, has neither the time nor the expertise to make properly informed rather than merely political decisions about water management.

4. A viable long range plan for optimum development of the state's water resources must be consistent, with each part carefully complementing the others. Piecemeal amendment by legislative action will inevitably lead to the integrity of the total plan and will not be in the public interest.

"... a reasonable balance between our job needs
and our wilderness needs."

So, what is reasonable balance? Jim McClure looks at it this way — "The true meaning of the word 'environmentalist' is someone who strives for balance and quality of life in the complete sense." In the complete sense, that is, one who cares about quality of life in our homes and communities too. Jobs. Paychecks. It is grazing and agricultural development. It is how we are able to live day to day. Idaho already has the largest wilderness area in the continental U.S. (4,000,000 acres) and Jim McClure is ready to add over 500 thousand more. Then it's time to build Idaho's job base. Wilderness. Yes! New jobs. A must!

Researchers To Seek Cause of Bighorn Sheep Die-Off

Department of Fish and Game biologists have initiated a study to find the cause for an unusual number of die-offs in the Hells Canyon Rocky Mountain bighorn sheep herd.

About a dozen sick and dying bighorns have been observed in the area during the past several months on both the Idaho and Oregon sides of the Snake River, according to regional conservation educator Rod Nichols.

He said all of the affected animals were at least 8 years old, near the maximum age for bighorns, and death could have resulted from natural causes.

"Analysis of several carcasses has become inconclusive, however, because laboratory tests on sheep are effective only if they are examined within 10 hours of death," Nichols said.

"For this reason, the department will begin the study of taking a few animals from the herd—those displaying obvious symptoms of illness," he added. The North American Bighorn Sheep Foundation is funding the project.

In the study, biologists will look for possible nutritional deficiency that could have increased susceptibility to illness and contributed to the die-off, Nichols said.

"We have a reason to be concerned," he added. "In 1983, a pneumonia outbreak in Alberta, Canada, wiped out 70 percent of one bighorn population and soon after, the disease crossed the border and claimed several bighorns in adjacent Glacier National Park."

Nichols said the Montana Department of Fish, Wildlife and Parks has also reported losses in herds along that state's Rocky Mountain front. Montana researchers reported that poor body condition, combined with pneumonia and a high infestation of lung worm, could have caused the losses.

"Most Idaho bighorns have lung worm but this in itself does not usually cause serious health problems because wild bighorns on good range are extremely resistant to disease," Nichols explained.

Genesee Senior Citizens Met October 12

The Genesee Senior citizens met October 12 and after a potluck luncheon President Gene Woodruff called the meeting to order.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Treasurer, Gladys Liberg gave the treasurer's report. Approved.

President Woodruff read the financial report sent to the secretary for 1984 Community Day. A profit of $2,085.35 was realized after all expenses were paid. Everyone felt we owed a vote of thanks for the efficient manner in which the younger people carried out the event.

Verla Hall said the profit from Community Day was used for good causes for it went for the betterment and improvement of the community.

Norma Woodruff suggested we have a Chinese Auction to raise money. Bring whatever you don't need from your home—even baked goods. Put a price on what you think it is worth.

Irene Nebelsieck made a motion to have a Chinese Auction at the next Gay Nineties meeting November 9th. Lucille Moser seconded the motion and it carried.

Gene Woodruff said that Roselle Robinson of the First Security Bank had a Lewiston lady who would come for the next meeting October 26th and present the program. It is on Trust Funds—how you can invest your money through the services of the First Security Bank.

Verla Hall, program chairman has contacted the Old Time Fiddlers but they cannot come before the 1st meeting November 9th the same time as the Chinese auction.

Should have high blood pressure check-up October 25th.

Hostesses were Clara Neyens and Genevieve Klemm.

Pinochle prizes were won by Mary Kasper and Kay Zenner.

Reporting Earnings for Social Security Purposes

People getting Social Security benefits who work are required to estimate their projected earnings as accurately as possible and to report the amount to the Social Security Administration, Ill. Andrews, Social Security Field Representative in Pullman, said recently.

Furthermore, people should revise these estimates, as necessary, during the course of the year.

Excess earnings under the annual retirement test are the primary cause of overpayments. More than one million people were overpaid in 1983 because of underestimation or failure to report their earnings, and total overpayments, as a result, amount to more than $1 billion.

People must file an annual report of earnings at the end of the taxable year. At that time the amount of benefits due for the year is figured; if all the payments that were due have not been made; the person is paid the appropriate amount.

On the other hand, if the person is found to have been overpaid, the amount of the overpayment will be withheld from future benefits or will have to be repaid.

The earnings limit in 1984 is $5,160 per year for a beneficiary who is under age 65. The limit is $6,960 for someone between the ages of 65 and 70. At age 70 or over, there is no limit.

More information about how work affects Social Security benefits can be obtained at the Pullman Social Security office, located at SE 1205 Professional Mall Blvd. or write to P. O. Box 459, Pullman, Wa 99163. You may call toll-free 1-800-632-5121 in Idaho and 1-800-562-6350 in Washington.

University's Ag Day Program Examines Future of Farming

Clifton Anderson, Associate Agricultural Editor

Moscow, Idaho—Will support prices for farm commodities be reduced drastically in the next few years. This will be one of the questions under discussion November 3 in an agricultural policy symposium at the University of Idaho College of Agriculture. The symposium will be one of the major events during the UT's two-day "Salute to Agriculture."

On Friday, Nov. 2, agricultural student organizations will hold their annual fun-filled "Aggie Day." Students will compete in contests of straw-stacking, wild cow milking and tug of war. Saturday's "Ag Day" program will include the symposium, departmental displays, livestock judging and showmanship events, a beef barbecue and the Idaho-Northern Arizona University football game.

Speaking at the agricultural policy symposium will be UI extension Neil Meyer, Maurice Brannan, of Far-Mar Co., Marie Rietmann of U. S. Wool Contest Held

The northern Idaho "Make It Yourself With Wool" contest, sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of art Idaho Wool Growers, will be held on October 27, at 1:30 p. m. at the University of Idaho Home Economics building in Moscow.

The contest is open to anyone ten years of age or older. Contestants sew, knit, hand-weave or crochet their garments and will be modeling them at the 1:30 p. m. style show, which is open to the public.

Numerous prizes are awarded including lamb pelts, fabric lengths, sewing aids and gift certificates. The Junior and Senior division winners will be awarded expense paid trips to Pocatello for the state competition held on November 11, 1984.

The winners of the state contest will win a trip to Reno, Nevada at the MGN in January for the national competition.

ARCHERY MUZZLE LOADER STAMP SALE DEADLINE NEARS

This is the time of year when a familiar deadline—October 31—merits attention to big game hunters.

Department of Fish and Game regulations specify that midnight, October 31, is the cutoff date for the sale of archery and muzzle loader stamps. There are, however, some exceptions to the rule.

Those who have valid permits for controlled archery or muzzle loader hunts can pick up a stamp at a department office after the cutoff and through the final day of their particular hunt.

The rule also is waived for children who become 12 years old after the cutoff, persons who have attained six-month residency and Idaho servicemen on leave.

Limited edition prints of those stamps numbered 1 to 1,500 can be purchased, but they are not valid for any hunts. Any unsold 1984

LIMITS LIFTED TO 2 WATERS IN NORTHERN IDAHO

The Department of Fish and Game has lifted fishing limits on Campbells Pond in Clearwater County and Manns Lake in Nez Perce County because of drawdowns for repairs to the dams.

Also, there is no restriction on number of poles or lines, the orders stated. The ruling is in effect thru December 31st.

Current (fishing) regulations will not allow sufficient harvest to prevent substantial fish kill prior to dewatering," according to the department.

stamps can be sold to collectors at department offices after next December 31.

"We had to tear away that platform of injustice."

You have seen this happen. Until the last year or so our senior citizens, more than any other group, have been bludgeoned by inflation... a platform of injustice for those to whom we owe so much.

With inflation rampant, there was little or nothing anyone could do to help them in a meaningful way. Jim McClure was a leader in the congressional action that brought inflation down... now less than 4% per year, lowest in eleven years.

We've begun the long road back. We are re-orienting the economy for growth... jobs... productivity. We are setting the stage for a day when private retirement plans will again have meaning.

When savings will count for something.

When the 'worry of retirement' will be a thing of the past.

The golden years should be the upbeat years. Jim McClure is working for that.

Animal Topics

H. R. McKelvey, DVMI

Worms can infest any animal. Worms are relatively easy to test for and when found are usually easy to get rid of.

The type of product used to deworm an animal depends on the species of animal and the kind of worm the animal has. Many drugs used to deworm animals are released for use only in specific classes of animals.

Deworming medications come in various forms including pills, powders, to be sprinkled on food, liquids for drenching, injectibles and paste products to be given orally.

Puppies and kittens can be given a pill to rid them of roundworms, a common parasite of young carnivores that they first get from their mother's milk. Dogs and cats are also commonly infested with tapeworms that can be dealt with by using a pill or an injectible product. Tapeworms in small animals usually come from two sources—rodents or fleas.

Cattle and sheep are often dewormed with medication in pill or injectible forms but paste-type and drench-type dewormers are also available. A new injectible dewormer for cattle will also rid the animals of lice and grubs.

Horses have traditionally been "tube" dewormed, a process by which a tube is passed through the horse's nose and into its stomach. There is very little danger or discomfort to a horse being tube dewormed if the horse is cooperative and the person passing the tube is skilled with the process. Tube deworming is quite effective because it allows the placement of a proper dose of dewormer to be placed directly within the gastrointestinal tract.

New products on the market offer an alternative to the traditional tube deworming of horses. These

Area Librarians Attended Sun Valley Conference

Vaughn Overlie, librarian for the Genesee School District, Mrs. Pat Stewart, librarian for the Kendrick School District and Mrs. Marie Scharnhorst, librarian for the Potlatch School District were among area people who recently attended the Joint Conference of the Idaho Library Association and the Idaho Educational Media Association in Sun Valley. Mrs. Anna Green, director of the Portneuf Library District, is outgoing president of ILA. Mrs. Green is the daughter of Mrs. Jane Roth and sister of Bill, of this newspaper.

Many interesting programs were offered at the highly successful conference. Authors speaking and giving workshops were Terry Davis, Spokane; Gloria Skurzynski, Salt Lake City, Utah; Dr. Richard Eklain, Albuquerque, New Mexico; Bill Hall, Lewiston and Eric Kimmel, Portland, Oregon.

Workshops were given dealing with audio visual equipment; computers, etc. A pre-conference was held funded by the Institute for the Humanities and looked at the democratization of history and the role of women in western history. Mrs. Joanne Sutton, Elementary Library Media Coordinator for the Moscow School District, gave a workshop on products come in both an injectible and a paste form.

Testing for the common worms is the same in all species. Very small fecal sample is placed in a solution that allows parasite eggs to float without being destroyed. The floating eggs are caught on a glass slide and examined under the microscope to determine what type of worm the animal has.

the newest books for children and a Caldecott Award Selection committee looked at the nominated best illustrated books for 1984.

Mr. Overlie, as outgoing chairman of the School Division, served on many committees including the Executive Board for ILA and chairman of the film festival. Mrs. Stewart was elected Chairperson of the School Division and Mrs. Scharnhorst, secretary for the next two years. Cheryl Sebott, Poacello,

Letters to the editor...

To the Voters of Latah County:
 I would like to take this opportunity to thank the voters of Latah County for their support in the primary election this year. Upon speaking to many of the residents of Latah County who supported me, I find that you would like to vote for me as a write-in candidate at the election November 6.
 My recommendation is that you consider showing your support for Joseph Lobello. I feel that he is capable of effectively implementing the continued changes necessary within the department and of serving the citizens with continued better law enforcement.
 I further feel that Joseph Lobello would be an advantage to the department because he is coming in from the outside. The reason I have considered supporting Mr. Lobello is because he has a large scope of training in the law enforcement field in the federal, military and city. With his knowledge and his specialized training in supervision, I feel he is the best qualified candidate for the office.
 If you as voters who have supported me in the past would consider supporting Joseph Lobello, I would greatly appreciate it. So make your vote count and vote November 6.
 Sincerely,
 Laune Odenborg,
 Sheriff, Latah County

Special Services, Film at Methodist Church Sunday

A special Sunday service this Sunday morning, Nov. 4, and an inspirational film in the evening has been scheduled at the Kendrick and Cavendish United Methodist Churches.

Pastor Vander Does will direct a special program at both the Kendrick and Cavendish Churches this Sunday concerning our National heritage. The Sunday before election is a fitting time to rediscover our heritage as Americans, Pastor Vander Does said.

Several patriotic songs will be sung.

Special Film—

Pastor Vander Does has issued a special invitation to come to the Kendrick United Methodist Church Sunday evening, Nov. 4, at 7 p. m. to see a movie about the life of Merrill Womach. Mr. Womach is a gospel singer and is especially known for his musical services to funeral homes. His life story is told in the film. He survived a plane crash that left his face badly scarred. The film, "He Restored My Soul," is an inspirational tribute to one man's courage and faith.

Come and bring a friend, Pastor Vander Does urged.
