Stellyes - Lawrence Wedding Vows Exchanged at Cameron Church June 18

Sandra Lee Stellyes and Earl Andrew Lawrence were united in marriage on Saturday, June 18, in an impressive evening ceremony held at the Cameron Emmanuel Lutheran Church. Officiating the occasion were the Rev. John Blom of Cameron Emmanuel and the Rev. Jim Berentson of Trinity Lutheran Church in Lewiston.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a soft eyelet dress sewn by her mother. The neckline of the dress lay gracefully around the bride's neck with delicate ruffles. The bodice was tapered to the waistline and was complimented with a soft, white cummerbund. The floor-length dress was flared by a hoop skirt showing off the ruffle which gathered to the waistline. A head piece with a fingertip length veil finished the dress. The bride carried a bouquet of lavender and white carnations accented with sprigs of wheat.

Maid of honor was Annette Peterson of Brandon, South Dakota, a friend of the bride.

Bridesmaids were Bonnie Lawrence, sister of the groom and Brenda Stellyes, sister of the bride from Moscow.

All wore lavender Swiss dot dresses that featured the same ruffles as the bride's gown and all wore lavender flower combs in their hair. Each carried a basket of lavender and white carnations and wheat sprigs.

The groom chose as his best man, Lyle Deobald, a friend from Seattle.

Ushers were Randy Siflow, a friend of the groom; Doug Lohman, a brother-in-law of the groom and Bill Funke of Lewiston, brother-in-law of the bride.

All the groom's men were attired in medium gray tuxedos.

Candlelighters were Dawn Hartwig of Whitefish, Mont., and Debbie Funke of Lewiston, both sisters of the bride.

Music was provided by organist Ruth Slind and pianist Pat Holt. Vocal selections were sung by Amy Lohman and Bonnie Lawrence, both sisters of the groom.

Serving at the reception were Joyce Coble of Spokane, aunt of the bride; June Lee, Seattle, aunt of the groom; Laura Walters, Seattle, aunt of the groom; Bert Koplitz, South Bend, Wash., aunt of the groom.

The bride is the daughter of Ron Duthiel Stellyes of Reubens. She graduated in 1977 from Highland High School and is a 1981 graduate of Dana College, Blair, Nebraska. She is employed as a teacher for the Orofino School District.

The groom is a 1976 graduate of Kendrick High School and graduated in 1980 from the University of Idaho. He is a self-employed farmer. His parents are Albert and Alma Lawrence of Kendrick.

Kendrick Council Met Tuesday Night

All members of the Kendrick City Council were present Tuesday evening, Sept. 13, as the council met in regular session at the City Hall.

The meeting was presided over by Mayor Darrel Brocke with councilmen Dana Magnuson, Dick Benjamin, Jerry Brown, and Dave Klatt. Also present were City Clerk Sharon Harris and maintenance man Don Bateman.

Guests at the session were Mike Neubeeise of the Clearwater Resource and Development Association from Moscow, and Ruby Craig and Maxine Foster.

Mr. Neubeeise was present to promote that group's programs and the city agreed to continue membership in that organization.

Mrs. Craig and Mrs. Foster, both residents of the small development in the east end of town (Fosterville), were present with a petition asking the city to take action to reduce the speeding and reckless driving in that area. The city has reduced the speed limits on the road through that area but it still apparently isn't enough. Mayor Brocke said after the meeting that Kendrick will talk with the State Highway board in an effort to change the approach to help cut down the speeding, etc.

The council also adopted a Latah Sanitation Addendum including new restrictions on disposal of household hazardous waste and infectious waste. The Addendum also included changing the rate structure from a wholesale price index to a Producers Price Index. This is in relation to the possible future changes in the price of fuel and other utilities the Sanitation service uses in its operation.

Mayor Brocke said a number of applications for the position of City Clerk had been picked up from the office of Magnuson Insurance and Harris Accounting. Brocke said the council will meet Sept. 22 (Sept. 21 is the deadline for applying for the position), and the applications will be reviewed at that time. When the actual decision will be made is not known.

The city also wishes to remind residents that watering restrictions are still in effect.

Carl Hanks Wins Football Forecast

Carl Hanks picked all but two of last week's NFL football games correctly and will win the five dollar gift certificate from Town and Country Diner. There were over 70 entries received in last week's contest, reported Jeff Smith. Gerald Lohman came in second place with only three missed winners.

The contest continues this week with Ray Snyder of Snyder's Home Center sponsoring the contest. Those who enter may leave their forecasts either at Snyder's Home Center or at the Town and Country Diner.

Those who have been entering the forecast events each week are encouraged to keep on, because records are being kept and the player with the best forecast record at the end of the season will receive a $100 Savings Bond. (In the event of a regular season tie, the winner will be selected by a winner and score forecast of the Super Bowl game.)

Out-on-the-Limb

His reputation as a football game prognosticator completely in a shambles, Jeff Smith crawled back out on his limb this week to predict that the Minnesota Vikings would beat the Chicago Bears at Chicago.

Junior Class Will Serve "Pepper Bellies" at Game Thursday Night

Don't eat before you attend the Potlatch-Kendrick football game this Thursday evening suggests the members of the KHS Junior Class.

The Juniors will be serving "Pepper Bellies" at the game for $1.50 per bowl and all the proceeds from the sale will go into the class treasury.

Local Girl Scouts Need a Brownie Leader

The local Girl Scout Brownie Troop needs a leader for the 1988-89 school year.

If you would be interested in being a leader for these 1st, 2nd, and 3rd year girls, please call Patty Kechter at 276-7181 after 5 p. m.

United Nations Trip Was the Highlight Of Busy Summer

Heather Tweit of Burns, Oregon has had a busy summer.

In addition to working as a life guard at the local swimming pool, she co-taught a gymnastics camp for children at Burns Union High School, attended a scientific seminar at the U. S. Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo., and presided as lieutenant-governor for eastern Oregon at a statewide Key Club conference.

And she was the local delegate to United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth conference held in New York City recently. The conference is sponsored by Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of America.

Heather and other Northwest delegates boarded a bus in Portland that made stops across the country to pick up other students. Two other buses brought students from various regions of the U. S.

During the first week or so of July the students made sight-seeing stops in Chicago, Philadelphia, Gettysburg, and Washington, D. C.

They hit the Big Apple July 10, and visited the Empire State building that evening.

The delegates spent two full days at the U. N., listening to speakers whose topics included such global concerns as nuclear disarmament and the AIDS epidemic. They also toured the entire U. N. building, and participated in several workshops.

Heather said all but one of the group's activities in New York had been preplanned and chaperoned.

"But they turned us loose for one night. We could go anywhere we wanted within a five-block radius of our hotel," she said.

Heather and friends opted to spend the free evening at Macy's.

"We did a LOT of shopping," she said. "Macy's is nine stories tall and covers a whole city block."

Heather said that, in time, she may forget certain things about her trip, but that she will never forget the group's visit to the Vietnam Memorial in Washington, D. C.

"We got off the bus, laughing and joking around, as usual. But when we saw the memorial, it was a very emotional experience. Some of the kids had lost fathers or uncles in Vietnam. It made you want to do everything you can to stop war."

Heather is the daughter of Ron and Barbara Tweit. Her grandparents are Mrs. Virginia Tweit and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Farrington. Mrs. Belle Farrington is a great-grandmother.

J-K Cub Scouts Received Pack Award for Efforts

The J-K Cub Scouts met at the Kendrick Fire Hall Thursday, Sept. 8. This was a special meeting, as Margaret Bostick presented the National Summertime Pack Award to the local Pack. This is the first time since 1978 that a scouting unit in our community has earned this award.

Those earning the award were: Travis Bostick, Josh Brocke, Gary Mitchell and Matt Weyen. Each boy received a badge and a blue streamer was added to our flag. Congratulations boys, we're proud of you!

The Scouts would also like to welcome the following new members: Jeff Arnett, Billy Brown, Jim Chilberg, David Donaldson, Micah Fey, Richie Hitchcock, and William Nye. The Scouts also have two more leaders: Jim Fey and Zana Wonder.

New Arrivals . . . Osborn

Mike and Sherrill Osborn of Pullman are rejoicing at the arrival of their first son, Anthony Charles, who was born to them Thursday, Sept. 1, at Pullman Memorial Hospital at 10:41 a. m. The new young man weighed 6 pounds, 12 ounces and was 21 inches in length.

The new little one will join three older sisters, Renee, Christina and Salencia in the Osborn home.

Singspirations Begin Again September 18

September begins a new season of Singspirations. The Cameron Emmanuel Lutheran Church will kick off the season by hosting the first one Sunday evening, Sept. 18 at 7 p. m. The Singspirations are sponsored by the majority of local churches. They are an evening of singing praises unto God. Songs are picked out by those who attend, and specials such as solos, duets, etc. are encouraged. Mark your calendar and plan to attend—and don't forget to bring a special!

EMTs Hear of Services Offered by Shriners Hospital Units

Hal Kruger, a Shriner from Clarkston, Wash., gave an informative presentation to the J-K E. M. T. s Monday evening. He explained the number of free services that the Shrine organization is able to offer to young people who need them. All children from infancy to 18 years of age are eligible for their treatment. Shrine Hospitals for crippled children and their burn treatment hospitals are open to all children regardless of race, religion, and relationship to a Shriner. If you know of anyone who could possibly benefit from any of their services, please call this toll free number—1-800-237-5055 or notify any Mason or Shriner in our communities.

The J-K E. M. T. s had a business meeting and discussed analphalactic shock treatments. Mike Larson demonstrated a new battery charger that he and his parents, Perry and Mary Bell Larson have purchased and made available for the ambulance and fire truck to use whenever needed. Our thanks is extended to the Larson family.

The next meeting of the J-K E. M. T. unit will be next Monday, Sept. 19, at 7 p. m. at the Firehall and Chuck Lyons will be giving a class on diabetes.

Jacobson Elected Grange Master For Coming Year

Twenty-one members of Kendrick Grange No. 413 gathered at the Kendrick Grange Hall on Tuesday evening, Sept. 6 at 7:30. The main business of the evening was the annual election of officers for the coming year.

After five years of faithful service, Nell Heimgartner stepped down from her position as Master of the local grange. She was given a vote of thanks and a standing ovation by the Grange members. It was very much appreciated.

At the election, the following officers were chosen for the coming year:

Master: Frank Jacobson
Overseer: Manning Onstott
Lecturer: Virginia Jacobson
Chaplin: Delores Heimgartner
Steward: Wayne Heimgartner
Asst. Steward: Lawrence Heimgartner
Lady Asst. Steward: Elsie Onstott
Gate Keeper: Ross Armitage
Secretary: Vera Hutcheson
Treasurer: Ruth Heimgartner
Flora: Kathryn Morey
Pomona: Mabel Glenn
Ceres: Marie Fey
Chairman of Women's Activities: Betty Cowger
Pianist: Muriel Hubbard
Executive committee member: Nell Heimgartner

Delegates to State Grange: Frank Jacobson and Virginia Jacobson.
Alternates: Lawrence and Nell Heimgartner.

The new officers will preside after installation to be held in the near future.

Committee reports were presented. Five members worked on the hall cleaning closets and new shelves built on one closet, making storage space much more efficient.

Latah County Pomona Grange will be held at Kennedy Ford Grange Hall on Saturday, Sept. 10 beginning at 6:30 p. m.

Plans were made to serve food at the Carlton sale on Fox Ridge on Saturday, Sept. 10.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Grace Ingle and Dick Cuddy. They included a cake made and decorated by Grace for Muriel and Lowell Hubbard in honor of their recent marriage. A card of congratulations was signed by everyone.

The next meeting of Kendrick Grange will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 20 beginning with a 6:30 supper. This will be the annual Booster Night. The Granger of the year will be honored.

The chairman of the serving committee asks members to bring a vegetable or a salad.

The date and place for installation of officers will be announced later.

Four New Teachers Join Faculty at Kendrick Schools

Students returned to the halls of Juliaetta Elementary and Kendrick High School to meet four new teachers for the 1988-89 school year.

Anne Yenni Anderson was hired as the new German teacher as well as librarian on a 65% contract. Mrs. Anderson grew up in Cavendish, graduated from the University of Idaho and taught German 1½ years in Caldwell and Spanish 2 years in Colton. She married George Anderson and they live in Troy with their 3 children.

Mary Conitz is the new full-time music teacher at Kendrick High School and Juliaetta Elementary School. She is a graduate of the University of Kansas in Music and has many years of teaching experience in North Dakota, St. Maries, Idaho, Montgomery County Schools in Maryland and for the past 8 years in Africa at a large Catholic School in Nairobi, Kenya. She and her husband claim "Idaho" as their adopted state since he was on the staff for a number of years in the College of Engineering at the University of Idaho and in between positions in the Washington, D. C. area and Africa, they have always returned to Idaho. They are establishing a small tree farm off the Kendrick Highway near Deary.

Ken Swanger is the new business education teacher at Kendrick High School. He is a graduate of Western Montana College at Dillon, Montana where he had a 4-year football scholarship and was a starter on the team all four years. His honors at WMC include All-District 12 (Safety) 1985; Frontier All-Conference (Safety and Kicker) 1983, 1984 and 1985; as well as Frontier All-Academic Team 1983, 1984, and 1985. He taught in Whitehall, Montana (north of Yellowstone Park) for 2 years in business and computers. He was varsity girls basketball coach at Whitehall High School as well as being a Babe Ruth coach during the summers at Choteau, Montana. Mr. Swanger's wife is a recent WMC graduate and is a financial representative at Credit Thrift in Moscow. Mr. Swanger's brother just opened The Subway sandwich restaurant on Third St. in Moscow.

Mary Lou Sugden Dietz is the new half-time 5th grade teacher with head teacher Dave Jones at Juliaetta Elementary School. Mrs. Dietz also teaches one period of 7th grade English at Kendrick Junior High. She is a native of Lapwai, a graduate of Lewis-Clark State College and did her student teaching in the 5th grade at Grantham Elementary in Clarkston and Sacajawea Junior High in Lewiston. In addition she has done extensive substitute teaching in the Lewiston and Clarkston School Districts. She and her husband have 2 small daughters.

The new teachers and returning teachers were greeted by Dr. Lynn Skinner, Director of the Lionel Hampton School of Music at the University of Idaho as well as the "father" of the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival held annually in the spring of the year on the U. of I. campus. Dr. Skinner was the "kick-off" motivational speaker for the teacher orientation meetings in the Kendrick School cafeteria on Monday, Aug. 29. Dr. Skinner's 1½-hour presentation to the staff stressed that while society supports the recent "quest for excellence" and return to basic education it should not be at the expense of fine arts and specifically music because it (music) or they (fine arts) also play an important part in our society. Dr. Skinner shared with the teachers that he had just returned from a national convention of music educators at Lincoln Center in New York City. Two of the keynote speakers of the convention was the president of Westinghouse Corp. and one of the nation's largest insurance companies gave testimonies of all the awards, honors and doctorates that had been given to them in their lifetimes, the single most important factor that has given them the most pleasure in life, was music.

Next month (October) the clinic will be conducted at Juliaetta as well as at Kendrick, reports Mrs. Erna Nelson.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to thank all those who attended the baby shower for me last August 7 and for the lovely and useful gifts we received. It was a very kind and thoughtful thing and we appreciated it. A special thanks to Ed and Linda Osborn who were the host and hostess.

Thanks again.

It's Finished—

The new culvert in Boulder Creek Canyon is finally finished. Have you tried it yet? Some comments from area residents have been: "Why'd it take so long?"; "If they'd spent half the money they put into it on the ends of the road, we might have a better deal!"; "I like it!—the old bridge was too slick."; "That thing would fit into Highway 95!"; etc.

Most are standing by with a wait-and-see attitude to see how the culvert handles the Spring run-off. Make a trip through and form your own opinion.

Harvest All Done—but the cheering.
In spite of combine and truck breakdowns, the long, hot summer has made it possible to complete the harvest. Current work for the area farmers includes moving and sorting cattle and starting to work the ground.

Sue Willis and Jody Smith were Lewiston business visitors Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Smith, Alan Lockman and Sue Willis all stopped by to help Jody Smith celebrate her birthday Thursday.

Sympathy Extended—

We are sorry to hear of the passing of Bill Searcy's brother who lived in Brunswick, Missouri. He died on Aug. 29 and Bill and Alice left that night for Missouri. The funeral was held Sept. 2. While they were in Missouri they drove down to Fort Leonard Wood to see their grandson Troy Syverson who is taking National Guard training. They visited with him for two hours on Labor Day. Bill and Alice returned home on Friday evening.

Gary and Renee Ball of Craigmont were Sunday dinner guests of Elmer and Thelma Cuddy.

Duane, Dorothy and Randi Grant attended the Lewiston Roundup on Saturday.

Jack and Donna Parsley attended the wedding and reception of Dale Wolff and Lisa Vallem at Cameron Emmanuel Lutheran Church and the V. F. W. Hall on Saturday evening. Jim Parsley of Seattle was home on Saturday night and on Sunday to return to his work. Jenifer Parsley of Lewiston visited Sunday evening and left Monday morning for school.

James Holt, who has been a patient at Gritman Hospital, was released Saturday and is now at the home of his daughter and son-in-law David and Eileen Ball in Potlatch.

False Information Surfaces About GI Insurance

The Veterans Administration is warning World War II veterans about false information regarding payment of a special life insurance dividend.

Every few years since 1948, mysterious "applications" surface, often poorly reproduced and sometimes directed to a non-existent Capt. Prosser at the VA Insurance Center in Philadelphia.

The forms claim that dividends are available to World War II veterans based on their military service "even if they haven't kept their policies in force." The bogus applications say that Congress has authorized the dividends, but according to the VA, such a law neither exists nor is pending.

"The VA does not pay dividends on lapsed policies," said VA administrator Thomas K. Turnage adding that its costs taxpayers a great deal of money for the VA to respond to the bogus applications. Annual dividends on current GI insurance policies are paid by the VA to veterans who continue to pay premiums, he explained.

Anyone with questions about GI insurance might contact Frank Dammarell, Service Officers of Baker-Lind Post No. 3913, Kendrick.

Shadowy Sounds

Cheery chirps of crickets
Drone out from dense thickets.
Deep croaking throats of frogs
Blend in songs from the bogs.

Tired chipmunks softly scold
As they prepare for cold.
Squirrels in pines chatter
As welcome rains spatter.

September's whispering breeze
Hints at some future freeze.
Night hums a quiet tune,
Singing of harvest moon.

Idaho Construction Activity Slowed Down Says Bank News Report

The pace of Idaho's new construction activity in July narrowed relative to the torrid growth rates recorded in recent months.

This is the report of the monthly First Security Bank Construction Report, according to W. Dirk Hammond, Manager of the Kendrick office of First Security Bank. The report is written by Dr. Kelly K. Matthews, senior vice president and economist of First Security Corporation, regional financial services company.

For the first time in 1988, according to the report, nonresidential construction value was below the corresponding month of the previous year. "Nonresidential permit totals in July exceeding $1 million were issued in Kootenai County, Boise and Ketchum. Multi-family resident construction centered in Boise and Ketchum was a bright spot in July's construction value for authorized building permit construction in 56 major Idaho locations in July was $42.8 million, or 5.7 percent above 1987, said First Security. New residential construction for 339 new dwelling units totaled $19.6 million, a decrease of 5 percent in number and a decrease of 4.4 percent in value compared with one year ago. Included in the total residential permits were 193 single-family, 89 multi-family, and 57 mobile home permits.

New nonresidential construction valued at $7.9 million was down 25.7 percent from last year, said First, while alterations and repairs totaling $15.4 million were up by 69.9 percent.

New Type of Tire Is Needed for Off-Road Tractors, Says Expert

Soil erosion in forests and farmland could be reduced greatly if tractors and other equipment were equipped with tires especially designed for off-the-road conditions, according to a Belgian engineer who spoke at the University of Idaho. Pierre Abeels, professor of agricultural engineering at the Catholic University of Louvain, Belgium, said the special traction needs of off-the-road vehicles have been overlooked up to now because the tire industry has been chiefly concerned with designing tires for autos that operate on hard-surface highways.

By redesigning tires, it will be possible to improve the traction of tractors by 25 to 75 percent and also reduce soil compaction by 50 percent, Abeels said. He said the key to good tire design for off-the-road use is the "footprint" a tire leaves in the soil.

Ideally, when carrying the tractor weight, a tire contacting soft soil should increase the width of its "footprint" in order to improve traction and decrease soil compaction, Abeels said. "At present, most tires increase the length of their footprints—just the contrary of what should happen," he said.

In his research, Abeels is originating and testing tire designs for off-the-road use. He has studied agricultural and forestry problems in many countries. He served a three-year term at a research institute in the former Belgian Congo, now Zaire.

Abeels has improved the pull of tractors 200 to 300 percent by adding a second drive axle. The extra set of axles is attached to the three-point hitch system. Improvements in tractor design can contribute to a solution of soil compaction and erosion problems, he said.

John E. Dixon, University of Idaho agricultural engineer, arranged Abeels' itinerary in Moscow. A highlight of his visit was a tour of the UI forest.

Don't Chill These Delicious Tomatoes, UI Expert Says

Delicious vine-ripened tomatoes will lose much of their flavor if they are stored in the refrigerator, according to Marilyn Swanson, University of Idaho extension specialist in foods and nutrition. Tomatoes also lose flavor when they are sliced in advance of being served, she said.

Wait until the last minute before slicing tomatoes to add to a salad or a sandwich. The natural chemicals that give tomatoes a pleasing aroma are very fragile. The aroma is strong when you slice into a tomato, but it starts to fade away in about three minutes," Swanson said.

In recent research, scientists have determined that tomatoes kept in the refrigerator will undergo changes that affect aroma and flavor. "Aroma is the most important part of flavor. To safeguard the aroma-imparting chemicals in tomatoes, the fruit should be kept at room temperature," Swanson emphasized.

"Because supermarket produce rooms are refrigerated, most tomatoes in retail stores have been chilled and have lost some flavor. For extra flavor, obtain tomatoes that have not been refrigerated. A good place to buy freshly picked tomatoes is a local farmers' market," she said. From now until frost, tomatoes will be at the peak of perfection, Swanson said. Enjoyment of choice, vine-ripened tomatoes can be enhanced by storing them at room temperature and serving them soon after they've been sliced, the University of Idaho specialist said.

One medium-sized raw tomato provides an adult one-half the average daily requirement of vitamin C and one-fourth the daily requirement of vitamin A. An excellent source of potassium, tomatoes also have the advantage of being low in sodium," Swanson said.

Americans consume large quantities of fresh tomatoes and tomato products. "As a source of vitamin C in the American diet, tomatoes rank next to citrus fruit," Swanson said.

Fear

It has been reported that the newspaper counselor, Ann Landers, receives an average of 10,000 letters month. Most of these letters are from people burdened with problems. She was asked if there was any one concern which was most common throughout the mail she received, and her reply was the one problem above all others seemed to be fear. "People are afraid of losing their health, their wealth, their loved ones. People are afraid of life itself."

Paul writes in his second letter to Timothy, "For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind." (2 Timothy 1:7). The fear that seems to be so predominant in our lives does not come from God. God is not the author of this kind of fear. The only fear that He is involved in is the kind that produces holy reverence and respect for Himself.

This passage of scripture also points out that fear is a spirit, a spiritual entity and not something that is made up in the person's mind. This spiritual entity provokes fear in the person he is tormenting. (John 4:18).

When the spirit of fear is at work, telling a person "Don't be afraid," or "Now, now, everything is just fine," will not remove the torment. To remove the torment something much, much more powerful must be employed—the spirit must be removed.

In the tenth chapter of the Gospel of Luke we find the story of Jesus sending out seventy disciples in pairs. He told them to heal the sick, and the disciples returned rejoicing that the devils (spirits) were subject to them. The devils or spirits were subjected by the name of Jesus. This is the power over the spirit of fear. Jesus said in Mark 16:17, that believers would cast out devils in His name. God then has given us power and victory over fear, by faith in His Son and by the authority of His name.

Sometimes the difference between success and failure can be as small as one-thousandth of an inch. To attain success wisdom is needed, wisdom even to the minute degree.

It is common knowledge that Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone. What is not so well known is that long before Bell's world-changing invention, a German school teacher by the name of Reis almost built a telephone. Mr. Reis's phone would carry the sounds of whistling and humming, but would not transmit the human voice.

Many years later, Mr. Bell discovered Reis's error. A little screw that controlled the electrodes on Reis's invention needed an adjustment of one-thousandth of an inch. Mr. Bell discovered this error and turned the screw one-thousandth of an inch and was able to transmit speech loud and clear.

Meal Site Tidbits—

By Dorothy Horn

We are told in the first chapter of James' book, "If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him." (James 1:15). Everyone would like to achieve success, or else why are there so many books written on the subject? And better yet, why are there so many books bought on the subject? The great good news that God wants us to have wisdom, wisdom that produces success!

The first thing we are told is, "If any of you lack . . ." That means if we want wisdom, we must first realize that we lack it! In other words, get rid of any pride and come to God on His terms. Admitting that we lack what it takes is the starting point with God. (Romans 3:23, 8:23).

Next, we are to ask. Asking is not being selfish, but it is the way God has planned things (Matthew 7:7). And in order to ask it is assumed that you are on talking terms. To be on talking terms means that all sin has been confessed for His forgiveness. (1 John 1:7).

The last thing we are told is, ". . . it shall be given him." We must believe that He has given to us the wisdom we asked for. This means to exercise or step out in faith.

What area are you wanting success in? Get really right with God and take the wisdom that is granted to you!

Seniors participated in a Nutrition Trivia game and it is enlightening to see that our seniors are very concerned about good eating habits instead of eating only what they like!

Remember the Elder Walk on the Lewiston levee on September 17. Entertainment will be by the Singing Mountain Man, so join in for good health habits as well as fun and exercise.

On Friday at the meal site, seniors celebrated grandparent's day early. It is wonderful to note the number of grandchildren, great-grandchildren and even great-great-grandchildren some of the seniors enjoy.

A former Kendrickite, Ida Olderness from Spokane received a beautiful prize for having the most great-grandchildren. Keep that attractive tray you received filled with goodies for your loved ones, Ida. Harry Ballstier was the lucky winner of a lovely coffee cup for his morning coffee for having the most great-great-grandchildren. Congratulations to both of you.

We were royally entertained by three lovely ladies who sang and whistled some of the good, old songs for us. Margaret Cox from Avon, Betty Chisholm from Lewiston, accompanied by Ruth Slind on the piano, from Kendrick. Music was beautiful, please come visit us again soon, as we really enjoyed your entertainment.

Now that fall has arrived, we hope all you seniors in the community will find the time to drop in for a visit with us and to share the delicious food and warm friendship. See you at the meal site on Wednesdays and Fridays.
