Donna Heinen Wins Football Forecast

Donna Heinen won last week's Kendrick Football Forecast by correctly picking all but five of the 16 NFL games correctly. Ron Dammarell and Dennis Lukehart also each missed only five, but once again the winner was decided by the Monday night tie-breaker, and Donna had that correct and Ron and Dennis didn't. So Donna is the winner of a $5 gift certificate from Snyder's Home Center, who sponsored last week's contest.

Knowing that many sport fans would be most interested to learn how Donna's husband Phil did on the forecast last week, Jeff Smith reported that Phil missed 7 games. This week's forecast is being sponsored by Fleming Truck and Equipment Co., who will award a $5 gift certificate to this week's winner.

Out on the Limb—

Still estatic that he finally picked correctly in last week's Viking-Bears prediction, Jeff Smith went back out on his famous limb to choose the Detroit Lions over the New York Jets this Sunday at Detroit.

Birthdays Observed At Jim Nelson Home

Out-of-town guests at the Nelson homestead over the weekend were Jim and Marjorie Boyer of Lewiston. The Boyers were there to help Jim Nelson and his nephew, Ron Wylie, celebrate their birthday anniversaries. Jim is the Vo-Ag teacher at Kendrick High School where Ron is a student.

When the much-needed rain caused them to cancel plans to barbecue ribs, they enjoyed a delicious dinner in Moscow.

Among the many gifts, cards and good wishes the two received, were a loveable puppy and two two cuddly kittens. This brings the Nelson's menagerie to a total of seven.

An enjoyable weekend was had by all.

Swimming Pool Attendance Was Down This Season

Selby Woods, who is the summer manager of the Kendrick War Memorial Swimming Pool, said last week that the average daily attendance at the pool was down this season. The pool had an average of 47 customers each day.

Part of the decrease was the late start, because of cold, wet weather in late May and early June. There is also an opinion that the lack of a diving board also contributed to the poor attendance. The city and the recreation district are working on the diving board problem.

KCK Enjoyed Weekend At St. Joe Campsite

The last scheduled camp-out of the season for the Kendrick Campers Klub was held this past weekend on the shadowy St. Joe river near St. Maries.

Nineteen campers enjoyed the beautiful St. Joe Campground and the surrounding area.

It was a most relaxing time for visiting and saying farewell to summer.

Members are reminded that the next business meeting and potluck will be hosted by Fred and Frances Zimmerman in Oakesdale, Washington on Monday, Sept. 24 at 12 noon.

Donations Needed for Nicaraguan Children

Rev. Walt Miller, interim minister of the Kendrick United Methodist Church, reminds everyone that this is the last week that donations of clothing and toys for the Nicaraguan children will be collected. Anyone wishing to contribute may leave the items in the box located at the door of the United Methodist Church in Kendrick and Rev. Miller will take them on Sunday.

The clothes and toys will be distributed to the children by the Nicaragua Red Cross.

Revival Services Set at Church of Nazarene

The Superintendent Emeritus Dr. Raymond C. Kratzer of Yakima will conduct revival services at the Juliaetta Church of the Nazarene Sept. 21-25. Pastor Selby Woods said this week.

Services will be held at 7 p. m. on Wednesday to Saturday and 11:00 a. m. and 6 p. m. on Sunday.

All interested persons are most cordially invited to attend these interesting and inspirational services. Pastor Woods said

Dammarells Attended POW/MIA Ceremony At University of Idaho

Frank and Patricia Dammarell attended the U. of Idaho POW/MIA recognition ceremony held last week in Moscow. This ceremony was to honor the Prisoners of War and the Missing in Action from all of America's wars.

Edgar Jensen from Boise, and ex-POW from WWII was a house guest and motored to Moscow to attend the ceremony with the Dammarells. Another veteran, an ex-POW attending was Glen Newman and his wife from Lenore.

All ROTC units from the University were in formation to represent their respective branches of service. A "Missing Man Fly By" was conducted by the U. S. Air Force group from Fairchild Air Force Base, in Spokane.

After the ceremony, you could look around and see tears in the eyes of many of those assembled for this ceremony. Sometimes we don't realize just how lucky we are. To those who are interested, please take time and attend a ceremony honoring these veterans.

Chemistry Class Seeking A Few More Students

The KHS chemistry class is looking for a few good men, or maybe even women. The class only has an enrolment of four students. These courageous few are Chad Henson, Thane Syverson, Patty Hill, and Julie Bateman. This exceptional class is led by the world famous Colette Cozort.

The class has been studying the vast and fascinating history of chemistry. Chad Henson can be quoted as saying, "Chemistry is fun. We do so many great things." And, fun it is indeed. For a lab on one occasion, they studied the difference in texture between chocolate and plain cheesecake. They observed the fact that the more flour one adds to cheesecake, the more cakelike the texture becomes. Following this lab the class feasted on cheesecake. The class also has been studying scientific notation. They find this to be pretty easy since it is just a review of their math classes for the past four years.

Chad Henson almost fainted when Ms. Cozort announced to the class that they would be going to early lunch three-quarters of the year.

Overall, the students think the class is a lot of fun!

P. S. (by Ms. C.)—We are happy to have Chad Sneve among us. We are hoping to get one or two more KHS students who are not pusillanimous and will join this week. We stop reviewing math and begin chemistry Sept. 26.

Golden Sunset Seniors Enjoyed Games Day

After a short summer vacation, the Golden Sunset Seniors began their fall meetings on Monday, Sept. 12 with a salad bar, silent auction and a day of fun and games. Cards and Bingo were enjoyed with the following winners: Martha Long high for women and Lenna Chamberlain low; Ed Nelson high for men and Ray Polumsky low. Ray and Lenna were lucky holders of five nines! The goose was won by Mabel Callison. Bingo winners were Mildred Johnson high and a threeway tie for low. Delores Polumsky won the Gander. All enjoyed a fun-filled day!

Almost a Half Inch of Rain Monday

The area received a welcome rain Monday, the second significant amount of moisture that has fallen the past week. Dick Bencoter, who maintains an official rain gauge for the SCS, reported that .47 inches was recorded on American Ridge Monday.

The storm that passed through with the rain also dropped the mercury down into the forties and fifties. The rain was welcomed by everyone—the farmers who are wanting to get started with fall work, the fire fighters who need some help in lowering fire hazards, and the hunters, who are getting ready for the opening of the elk season in a couple of weeks.

Juliaetta School Conducting Annual Candy Bar Sales

Students from Juliaetta Elementary School will be conducting the annual candy sale from Sept. 19 to Oct. 3. The purpose of this sale is to provide needed equipment and materials for the school that are not covered in the school budget. Some of the items purchased with the money from past fund raising projects include a 25" color television set; a 4-head VCR, a new printer for the school computers, and adjustable side-baskets for the new gym. The students will be selling milk chocolate and almond candy bars. Each candy bar has a wrapper with a "2 for 1" offer from Arby's restaurants in Lewiston and Moscow. (Buy a regular roast beef sandwich and get the second regular roast beef sandwich free.)

Prizes will be awarded to each student who sells 12 candy bars or more.

In addition, there will be cash prizes for the top 4 salespersons.

Students are encouraged to sell only to customers who are known or under adult supervision. All students who take candy bars to sell must remember that they will be responsible to turn in the money or the unsold candy bars.

On the sport side, intramural soccer play begins next Monday, Sept. 26.

Kendrick Lifts Watering Restrictions After Monday Rain

Kendrick Mayor Darrel Brocke reported Tuesday evening that the city has lifted its restriction on outside watering since the rains of the past week and the decrease in water usage allowed the city wells to recover part of their normal output.

For the past several weeks Kendrick residents had been allowed to water for only two hours each day and the city had been divided on an odd/even system for watering purposes.

However Brocke cautioned that if the anticipated fall rains are delayed and the city's wells drop in output the restrictions may be reimposed.

Loggers Chop Tigers 34-0

The visiting Potlatch Loggers had the punch when they needed it and the Kendrick Tigers didn't last Thursday night. Potlatch went home with a 34-0 victory that handed the Tigers their third defeat in as many starts in the young football season. This was a non-league game and now the Tigers are preparing to open league play against the Genesee Bulldogs Friday night at Genesee.

The game was really better than the 34-0 white-washing might indicate—the younger, smaller Tigers gave a good account of themselves; most of the game and never quit trying. It was obvious that the Loggers were a bigger more experienced team and they were able to force the action by sheer power when they had to and the Tigers just didn't have that option.

Kendrick battled the Loggers on even terms in the first quarter that ended in a 0-0 tie, but the Loggers were down on the KHS 2 yard line as the second quarter started and Potlatch pushed the ball over for the first score of the game in the second play of the period. Potlatch kicked the extra point for a 7-0 lead.

Potlatch scored again with 3:29 left in the half and then scored another touchdown before the half on a pass to Bob Candler. Kendrick coach Terry Webb vigorously protested the touchdown because of the block thrown against a Tiger defender while the pass was in the air, but the touchdown was allowed, the kick was good—and Potlatch led 21-0 at the half.

Again the Tigers did well in the opening minutes of third period, but Hewett was sacked and lost 13 yards and Potlatch took over on the Tiger 15 and passed for a touchdown after moving the ball down to the Kendrick 20 with 6:57 left in the quarter. Kendrick rallied after that. Logger score and moved down to the Potlatch 23 before the Loggers intercepted a pass and their own 15 and brought the ball back out to the 33. Potlatch was penalized for clipping on the play, and they ended up back on their own 18, but they still had the ball.

Potlatch scored once more in the final quarter from one-foot out to give them the 34-0 victory.

Television Will be Topic of Juliaetta Meeting Sept. 27

A public meeting to answer questions about and explain the new television cable service that is presently being installed in Juliaetta will be held next Tuesday evening, Sept. 27 at the library building at 7:30 p. m. Announcement of the meeting was made Tuesday evening at the regular session of the city council by Jim Uebelher, area manager of Cablevision, the Moscow-based company that is installing the new service.

At the meeting Tuesday evening Don Rishling and Steve Rishling were present to ask questions about whether Cablevision will extend its cable lines out to service the Rishling homes which are located West of Juliaetta, but still within the city limits. These questions and any other concerns will be discussed at the meeting next Tuesday, Sept. 27. All interested persons are urged to be present.

All members of the council were present at the session Tuesday night and the meeting was presided over by Mayor Harold Freeman. Present were councilmen, Jim Cuddy, Frank Groseclose, Richard Groseclose, and Bruce May. Also present were city Clerk Nancy Fey and employees Ed Campos and Steve Howerton.

Also present were guests Jim Uebelher of Cablevision Systems, Don and Steve Rishling, Michael Neubeiser of the Clearwater Resource Conservation and Development Association out of Moscow, Dirk Hammond, representing First Security Bank, Will Harrington, Juliaetta's City Attorney, Doug Tweedy, an employer consultant, and Diane Groseclose. The session was moved to the library because of the large attendance.

Hammond and Harrington were at the meeting because the city is considering the purchase of a used back hoe or a grader. This would require the city obtaining a loan from First Security, if the cost is less than $10,000. Hammond and Harrington were there to talk to the council about such a loan and the options the city has. The city can obtain a loan without a bond issue if the amount is less than $10,000. The council wanted to make certain of its line of credit before actively seeking a new item of equipment.

Mr. Tweedy, a private consultant, was at the meeting because the city is in the process of drawing up job descriptions for the city clerk, city maintenance supervisor, and the assistant supervisor.

The council went on record as extending thanks to Harry Burmeister for donating a silver Centennial Medallion which was taken down to McCall by clerk Nancy Fey and used as a door prize at the recent state conference of city clerks and employees. Mrs. Fey said the medallion was won by the city treasurer of Boise, who was very pleased over winning such an excellent prize.

The next meeting of the Juliaetta City Council will be Tuesday, Oct. 4.

Yellowstone Not Lost, Just Changed, U of I Fire Experts Say

"The most important thing is that we have not lost Yellowstone."

Jim Lotan, a University of Idaho adjunct professor of forest resources and retired head of the U. S. Forest Service Northern Forest Fire Laboratory, said the world's first national park is changed, but the things that people flock to see are still there. Yellowstone's geologic features are virtually unchanged and the animals should be more plentiful and visible than before.

Penny Morgan, UI assistant professor of forest and fire ecology, said, "There is no question that the fires have changed Yellowstone dramatically. That is something that can be hard to accept, because it is a national treasure. Yet change is part of the natural world. This is a unique opportunity to see how that process takes place.

Dr. Tom Reichenbender, associate dean for resources in the UI College of Forestry, Wildlife and Range Sciences and an expert on forest fires, said "Public concern about the fire is of course, fully justified."

The reasons for the forest and wildlife to those fires has already begun, the forest experts said.

Some of the areas burned in June have already greened up and elk are grazing the areas. By next fall, the burned area will be green. Young trees will be abundant to start a new forest, Reichenbender noted.

People who see recently burned areas are surprised by their beauty. They expect bareness and are amazed at the number of animals and number of diversity of wildflowers.

"Most people will perceive it as a process of renewal. It is not completely devastated," Morgan said. "Nature is very resilient." Lotan added.

He deplored the use of negative words to describe the fires. It isn't a negative thing.

"The park was set aside so we would have a large piece of real estate where we could watch nature take its course. That is what is happening.

The forests burned before we were here. The problems occur when fires affect people in the area, they agreed. "That is a social problem, that's not a natural resource problem," Lotan said.

It is important to separate social concern and economic loss, Reichenbender noted.

Social concern based on the fact that the park is being destroyed is probably not justified. Concern for the economic loss from people not coming to the park and the costs of fighting the fires is justified he said.

The Kendrick Gazette, Thursday, September 22, 1988

Morgan said, "I do expect this will generate extensive discussion of fire management policies for the future within Yellowstone and also perhaps nationally. My hope is that we carefully consider our options."

Important changes in fire policy were made in the 1970's, Lotan said. "Some common sense returned to our decisions in fighting fires."

He thinks all out effort in fighting each fire, as earlier policy dictated, is not a good idea. It is expensive and, as Morgan noted, sometimes the effects of fighting a fire can be more devastating than the fire itself.

Fire policy should respond to the logical decision. It is important that thought be given to the social and social and economic environment, Morgan said. "It is not just a bio-economic implications to surrounding communities and to the nation as a whole.

Present fire management policies were developed considering the ecological effects of fire, what kinds of fire behavior are typical, how frequently the areas burn, the dependence of animals and vegetation on recurrent fires, expected impacts and the resources that would be at risk.

Lotan said present policy is not necessarily a "let burn" policy. Fires are always monitored closely and careful analysis goes into deciding what course to follow from letting it burn itself out to complete control with all levels between.

The three fire experts all said the situation this year in Yellowstone is the result of several unusual conditions coming together, including a dry year, large amounts of very dry fuel and an unusually hot, dry and windy summer.

In 1983, a Florida schoolboy found a bag of diamonds on a railroad track while looking for his missing bicycle. The jewels remained unclaimed for over a year and were then auctioned off for $350,000 which went to the boy.

Value

It is said that at one time Picasso wanted a wardrobe in mahogany, of a special shape and size for a large room in his chateau near Aix-en-Provence. He went to a local cabinet maker, and to make his wishes clear, he grabbed a sheet of paper and sketched on it exactly what he had in mind. When he had finished, he asked what the charge would be for the work. The reply was, "Nothing, nothing at all, only sign the sketch." For he knew with Picasso's signature, the drawing would be very valuable.

Everyone is looking for value in their life, something that gives them a sense of self-worth. I know of some people who look for this self-worth in body building. Working consistently and tirelessly they sculpture their body into a Renaissance piece of art. Once they arrive there, they find that their self-worth hasn't changed. Others look for self-worth in the things that they can acquire. Working sometimes more than one job they find themselves gaining a Cadillac, but gaining nothing in the self-worth department.

Proverbs 14:34 tells us that sin is a reproach, or a shame. Webster states that shame is a result of guilt. A man who comes home at night from the local bar half drunk, yells at his wife and hits one of the kids feels this shame and guilt. He comes to himself the next morning and feels very low for what happened, he has very little sense of self-worth. Sin at any level, the hidden or obvious, leaves the individual feeling valueless. And indeed, sin, any sin makes the individual's life valueless in God's sight. (Isaiah 64:6).

The good news is the signature that God can put on the sketch of our lives. 2Corinthians 5:21 says this, "For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him." Our sin can be made into God's righteousness, taking away the shame, and giving real value in life. Will you take a moment and ask God to take your sin and give you His signature, Jesus Christ?

Meal Site Tidbits—

By Dorothy Horn

Our attendance has dropped off slightly because of several factions—so many outside activities this time of year, and also there are a number who are in poor health and not able to get out. Those at Wednesday's meal site had a very delicious meal and friendship was shared by all. Helen Harris from Southwick gave an interesting talk on "Graceful Aging". Although I couldn't stay for her talk, I had the privilege of meeting and talking with her during the lunch hour. I found her to be a very warm, friendly person who shares a keen interest in what is taking place within one's family and our community. We extend a warm welcome to you Helen, please come back and visit with us any time.

Friday at the meal site was the usual good food and companionship, but sad to relate, some of our kind, generous seniors are seriously ill and cannot be with us and they are sorely missed. Those of us who are able to meet for short periods of time twice weekly are so very thankful we can do so and our prayers go out to all who aren't able to be with us.

Many activities are planned for the future for our seniors and members of our community, so watch for our news items.
