A Tribute To the Life of A. O. Kanikkeberg

(Editor's Note: At the final services for A. O. Kanikkeberg held last week at Cameron Emmanuel Lutheran Church, Dr. Eldon Taylor, Superintendent of Schools, delivered a most fitting and impressive eulogy to the life of this most respected man. Many were so impressed that they asked if the Gazette could reprint Dr. Taylor's remarks. We are glad to do so.)

Each of us here today have our own special memories to help us celebrate the life of a special person to this community that we so fondly referred to as "Kanik." Whether you be his spouse, one of his children, a grandchild or a great-grandchild, an associate and/or a friend, we all have memories of this very kind, caring and gentle man who devoted his life to this community and his family.

When we use the term "pillar of a community" you are describing Kanik—honest to the letter, conscientious to the last stroke of his pen, and hard-working to the point that the "word" retirement was not even in his vocabulary. When most of us think about retirement age of 65, Kanik was just getting his second wind. He served the school district until he was almost 87 and the city of Kendrick until he was 90. A record that few public servants across this country can duplicate.

My personal closest association with Kanik on a daily basis was from 1980 to 1983 when I became superintendent and he was finishing his outstanding services as treasurer of the school district. But my earliest memories of Kanik were as a child coming up with my parents from Lewiston putting money in my savings account and later a checking account. He always came over to visit a minute and had a special way of making you feel that your $5 or $10 that you were depositing from mowing lawns or haying was just as important as the person in front of you depositing $100 or even $1,000. His banking skills served him well as treasurer of the school district and taught us all principles that the state and federal governments could take some lessons from. While current practices of accounting from those sources believe that the "accrual" method of accounting whereby you add the monies you have received during a current year with those that you will receive gives you a better picture of your finances, Kanik believed in the "cash flow" method of accounting because you can't pay someone's wages or pay a bill on money that you have not received. The depression should have taught the government this.

All of us loved to hear Kanik talk. His Norwegian background gave him a distinct way of pronouncing "Gs" like "Ys". Therefore at the monthly board meetings when he gave his financial statements he would say, "Now let us look at your Yeneral Fund." When Marilyn Benjamin succeeded Kanik as treasurer, Luther Parks asked her if she could pronounce "Yeneral" like Kanik. Marilyn assured Luther that she too came from Norwegian stock.

Kanik's respect and belief in education for kids was deep-rooted, so deep-rooted that both of his sons have had distinguished careers in the field. We would know months ahead when Jordan was coming up for a visit from California by the excitement in Kanik's voice and twinkle in his eye. Likewise, we always kidded Kanik about which team he would root for when the Genesee basketball team and Ozzie came to town. He would say, "I just try to sit there and keep calm and my mouth shut." That he did, with that twinkle in his eye.

During his last years as treasurer of the school district, he had his duties down to a methodical science. You could set your watch by when he would drive into the parking lot after the students were in class, park in the same place, go back to the board room, and start typing on his ledger sheets or checks on the old Underwood typewriter—finger-powered and non-electric. He had a huge old Marchant adding machine—one of the first electric. He had a Monroe calculator that multiplied and divided. It sort of sounded like a cross between a meat-grinder and a perculator when it was doing its thing. His chair was a swivel oak chair with arms and wheels which did not seem to give him a bit of trouble. However, if anyone else sat in it they would wind up "spread eagle" on their back. Several times during the years he would tell me that, "When I retire, you probably want to get some new equipment, but for now this is just fine for me." His last day before he retired was one of the most memorable. For years we had been using a system of writing checks whereby you had to stick a piece of carbon paper between each original and the copies. A school system our size will have between 75 to 125 checks per month for bills, besides the payroll checks.

Santa to Visit Saturday

All the good little boys and girls in Juliaetta will be happy to know that Santa Claus will be coming to town this Saturday afternoon, Dec. 18, at 1:30 p. m. and he will have a treat for all the kids who come to see him. Because it is only about a week until Christmas Eve, Santa doesn't want his reindeer to get tired, so he has asked the Juliaetta Volunteer Fire Department to bring him to town on their shiny red fire truck. Mrs. Santa Claus will also be with Santa, and she will be arriving in the city police vehicle.

Santa and Mrs. Claus will be at the old service station next to the pizza bank at 1:30.

Santa will be giving the candy treats with the help of the firemen and the Juliaetta merchants, who purchased and sacked them up.

Fellowship to Carol Dec. 22

The Christian Family Fellowship Youth group will be caroling for the Good Samaritan Food Bank on Dec. 22 at 7:00 p. m. Those participating are asked to meet at the home of George Bacon. Hot cocoa and cider will be served when the caroling is finished.

Anyone who would like to, may join the group. If you have questions call 276-4901.

Wins Trivia Quiz

Congratulations to Judy Ranta who recently won a radio trivia quiz. Judy received several coupons for a restaurant meal. The question was, "What was Wilma Flintstones' maiden name?" Ask Judy if you don't know the answer.

Helen Bartlett of Lewiston was a Tuesday caller of Ray and Lura Butler. Saturday afternoon Lura and Elvenc Wilson visited Lawrence and Marcella Wilson.

Ada Westendahl made a hospital visit last Tuesday to her sister-in-law Phyllis Candler who had submitted to major surgery at St. Joseph's Regional Medical Center at Lewiston. Grandson Jim Bain and friend of Central Ferry were Sunday visitors of Ada. Jim Candler was also a caller.

Gertie Pederson and Marilyn and Verlin Benjamin called on John and Olean Cuddy at Cedar Creek on Sunday.

Sunday guests of Muriel and Lowell Hubbard were Heidi Taylor of Pullman, Marsha Schoeffler and friend Rebecca of Moscow and the Wilson family of Genesee. All helped celebrate the birthday anniversaries of Muriel and Richard.

Sonja Lohman was a Saturday visitor of Adaline Jassman. Dixie Porter and daughter Amber of Lewiston were Sunday dinner guests then Adaline accompanied them home to Lewiston to spend overnight. Monday the ladies went shopping and that evening Bob, Dixie and Amber Porter brought Adaline back home.

Friday Elizabeth Mickelson attended the Christmas party held for the Hospice and Home Health staff members at Moscow then was an overnight guest of her son and daughter-in-law Dale and Laurel Mickelson at Moscow.

The KHS freshman class met at the home of Marnie Henson Saturday to make Christmas candy that the class will be selling as a money-making project.

Luther, Doug, Buddy, and Marilyn were anxiously awaiting the day that we would convert to NCR paper checks because with 2 people signing each check, the routine would take from 20 to 40 minutes. On his last day, Kanik proudly presented Marilyn with 4 boxes of a 5-year supply of "carbon-fed" checks. I've always thought that he thought those tears in Marilyn's eyes were from nostalgia of an era coming to an end when they might have been tears of exasperation of 5 more years of "carbon-fed" checks. Again, Kanik wanted to leave us well-organized and well-supplied!!!

Upon Kanik's retirement my wife and I had the privilege to host an "open-house" for him. Many of the farmers reminisced about how Kanik helped them get started after World War II was over. He would say, "You boys did a good job defending us in the war effort; now if you want to start farming, we'll see if we can't help you get started." Likewise, several loggers reminisced of the days when initiation of a loan might be by a handshake on the street, since Kanik was a good judge of human character. He was quoted as saying, "How many thousands (sic) do you need?" He would then say, "You come in Monday morning, and we'll sign the papers."

To Mamie, Ozzie, Jordan, Donna, and Ann, as a community we want to thank you for sharing the 92 full years of devotion and dedication your husband and father gave to us. To Kanik, we want to say Thank You for living a life that our children and grandchildren can emulate.

Cameron Church Christmas Concerts December 16, 18

The Cameron Emmanuel Lutheran Church choir will present "Christmas for All Time", by Lynn Hodges and John Coates. The twenty-eight voice choir is directed by Donna Lohman and accompanied by an orchestrated tape. The group will perform at Grace Lutheran Church in Lewiston on Friday, Dec. 16 at 7:30 p. m.

The performance at Cameron Emmanuel Lutheran Church will be on Sunday, Dec. 18 at 7:00 p. m.

Both performances are free to the public. A coffee hour will follow the program at Cameron, and all are invited to celebrate with the congregation.

Christmas is a time for memories, and this musical helps us to remember all the changes in our lives. Through magnificent music and dramatic narration, this work speaks to the heart and soul. It's the message for people in a changing world, about a changeless God and an eternal home. You won't want to miss this great performance.

Grange Drapes Charter, Considers Local Issues

Saddened at the passing of their long-time sister, Minnie Cox, Kendrick Grange last week draped its charter in her memory and recalled the many contributions she and her husband Andy Cox have made over the years to the Grange and the farm community. Also remembered for his many years of community service was A. O. "Kanik" Kanikkeberg.

Holding out the prospect of possibly limiting Sperry Grade Bridge to foot traffic and bicycles in the future, Dick Benjamin, a member of the Concerned Citizens Committee, last week held the attention of Kendrick Grange members as he reported on the various options available to county and city officials faced with the necessity of insuring the safety of those using the bridge. He also stressed the importance of everyone's strictly observing the load limit on the bridge.

A letter is being drafted to be sent to all those in the area who regularly use this bridge, urging their cooperation in observing the weight limit. "Otherwise," reported Benjamin, "someone's going to buy himself a bridge."

Dick also reported on the fact that Kendrick-Julietta Ambulance service must consider raising its rates. No wonder when $55.00 of a typical $70.00 charge goes for insurance alone! Details of the expected changes and the reasons for them will be published soon in the Kendrick Gazette.

Also of interest at last week's meeting was a discussion of farm subsidies and their possible curtailment or elimination in the future. Master Frank Jacobson asked that the Agriculture committee of the Grange focus on news concerning farm subsidies and be prepared to report at the next regular business meeting of the Grange.

The evening had begun last week with a brief and varied concert of songs performed by Peggy Harvey-Marose of Juliaetta, whose own composition, "Grandma", proved to be both moving and thought-provoking. Peggy's little son Douglas had to do the inevitable during mother's performance, but Peg just kept strummin' and singin' while husband Kevin proved he's an old hand in the diapering business. Some Grangers present looked just a bit wistful, remembering the time when babies and children were a regular part of the Grange scene. "Oh, that some young families would join us!" they seemed to say.

The next meeting of Kendrick Grange will be a Christmas potluck supper beginning at 6:30 on Tuesday evening, December 20. The December hosts will furnish the meat and rolls; others are to bring hot dishes and salads. And, of course, Christmas cookies! Because this is an open meeting, Grangers are urged to bring family and friends. Those bringing children are asked to bring a little gift for them to enjoy. And all are asked to bring gifts of food for the Good Samaritan Food Bank. The traditional Christmas program of song and story will follow. (With lots of good Christmas cookies—right?)

Julietta Community Church Program December 18

All members of the Juliaetta Community Church are reminded that the children's Christmas Program will be held Sunday, December 18, at 8:30 a. m. Coffee and refreshments will be served following the program.

Also the church will be going caroling Monday, Dec. 19, at 6:30 p. m. A Christmas open house will be held afterwards at the home of Rich and Tami Hitchcock at 7:30 for all church members and carolers.

Meal Site Tidbits

The meal site is filled with the Christmas spirit these days with the tantalizing aroma of delicious food, warm friendship and happiness. . . . A special holiday thanks and a very Merry Christmas to all those seniors who decorated our beautiful Christmas tree!

We also extend greetings to Phil's Food City for the loan of a delightful Santa Claus which livens up our decorations for this holiday season. Our seniors have been very generous in sharing their Christmas with the local food bank, by donating items of food which we hope will make it a much happier holiday season for those in need.

It is wonderful to have those seniors join with us once again who have been absent due to health problems or sickness in their families.

Remember, Wednesday, the 23rd, is our Christmas dinner at the meal site, please join with us for a Christmas to remember!

Dorothy V. Horn, reporter.

Miss Cozort

"Turkey of the Year" Winner

Miss Colette Cozort a teacher at KHS, was the winner of the "Turkey of the Year" contest sponsored by the local FHA chapter. Miss Cozort received a turkey Wednesday, Nov. 23 at a pep assembly. The FHA girls would like to thank all the faculty and the student body for their support in making the Turkey Trot Week a success.

Anna Klatt "Member of Month"

Anna Klatt has been chosen as "Member of the Month" for the FHA Chapter. Anna was chosen for her participation in chapter activities and we thank her for her efforts.

2nd—Jimmy Chilberg and Aaron Clemenhagen each of whom made 8 of their 25 shots.

The first place winner in each category also competed last Saturday in the semi-finals held at the Lewis-Clark State College gymnasium in Lewiston and Phillip Brown won that competition making 18 of 25 shots and earned a spot in the finals to be held later at Grangeville.

Cindy Chase made 10 of her 25 shots and received a second place trophy.

Nicholas Silflow made 8 of 25 and Kati Rush 3 of 25.

Congratulations to each of these local winners!

Food Drive Begins

Students at the Elementary School began their annual canned food drive last Tuesday. This event will continue until Wednesday, Dec. 21. The food collected will be distributed to needy families in the area.

Christmas Program a Success

The annual Christmas Program at Juliaetta Elementary was presented last Friday afternoon before an appreciative audience of 300 relatives and friends. It was a lovely program and the youngsters did very well.

Potlatch Cemetery District Override Levy Approved

Ted Meyer, secretary of the Potlatch Cemetery Maintenance District, reported this week that the recent override levy vote was approved without dissent. Eighteen votes were cast at the Cameron Church and all were in favor of the override issue.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to thank everyone for the prayers, cards, flowers, and memorials given in memory of Kanik. Also to thank the folks bringing in food and to the women of the ELCA for preparing the lunch after the service. We are grateful for the loving concern of friends.

Ruby Craig Wins Football Forecast

After two times as a second place finisher, Ruby Craig finally emerged as a winner in Kendrick's Weekly Football Forecast this week as she picked all but three of last week's NFL games correctly.

When asked how she made her selections, Ruby just said "Women's intuition!" Well, that's as good as any other method and better than some.

Coming in second was Kenny Brown, who also missed just three, but Ruby was ten points better than Ken on the tie-breaker.

Ruby will collect the $5 gift certificate from Red Cross Pharmacy.

This week's forecast is being sponsored by Phil's Food City and the winner will receive a 12-piece order of Flavor Crisp Chicken.

Out on the Limb

It was another week of victory for Jeff Smith who saw his out on the limb pick record raise to 7-3 as the Miami Dolphins defeated the Cleveland Browns.

This week Jeff is going for a 50-50 record as he predicts Green Bay will beat Phoenix at Phoenix.

Only the Seahawks convincing Sunday win spoiled Jeff's week and he was sporting his Seahawk Tee Shirt again.

Last Forecast

The weekly football forecasts are coming to a close. Only one more Sunday is left in the NFL before the playoffs begin.

Remember that there is a $100 U. S. Savings Bond for the person with the best record in the forecast competition, and you must have a minimum of 10 weeks to be eligible.

Jeff will be calculating the players percentages and these will be available by the week of Jan. 12. In the event of a tie, the Superbowl game Jan. 22 will be the tie-breaker.

Cribbage Tournament

Elaine Galloway emerged in the Sunday cribbage tournament undefeated and now awaits the playoffs between Frank Hoisington, Scott Heinen, Ray Dygert, Jeff Smith and Cec Anderson to see who her next opponent will be.

Is There Any Interest In a Computer Class?

Kendrick High School Principal Gale Vallem said this week he has had several people in the community ask if it would be possible for the school to offer some type of a computer class for interested people in the community.

So if you are interested in this type of a class for adults, please call the high school (289-4202) and answer a few questions as to what type of class you would be interested in taking.

In order to hold a class, 12 to 15 people would have to sign up. The cost of the class would depend on what kind it was, number of people, etc., and once the type of class is decided, the course would be handled through Lewis-Clark State College.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank my many friends and my family for the cards, visits, phone calls, flowers and prayers during my stay in the hospital. A special thanks to Mariann and Rick Chase for doing the chores. Thanks again to all of you. You are all so special.

Bill Lublow was taken to Gritman Memorial Hospital in Moscow on Tuesday where he underwent treatment and was released on Friday.

Blood Pressure Clinics

In Area Dec. 20

The monthly blood pressure clinics will be held Tuesday, Dec. 20, at the Kendrick Fire Hall from 10 a. m. to 12 noon and at the Johnson Manor in Juliaetta from 1:30 to 2. These clinics are for people of all ages and there is no cost.

The first record of the use of splices dates from the age of the pyramids of Egypt—approximately 4,600 years ago—when onions and garlic were fed to 100,000 laborers. Astronauts circling the earth may get to see sixteen sunrises and sunset in twenty-four hours.

Open House at Kendrick City Hall Thursday, Dec. 22

To better acquaint residents with their recently re-modeled city hall, the Kendrick council has set an open house for Thursday afternoon, Dec. 22 between the hours 1 and 4, to show the new facilities and improvements that have been added. There will be coffee and cookies served with the City Clerk, mayor and council acting as hosts.

All members of the community are most welcome to be present, or to drop by during the afternoon.

The council set the open house date at its regular monthly meeting held Tuesday evening, Dec. 13. The meeting was presided over by Mayor Darrel Brocke with councilmen Dana Magnuson, Dave Klatt and Dick Benjamin. Council Jerry Brown was absent. Also absent was city maintenance man Don Bateman, who had submitted to eye surgery earlier that day.

The council discussed the placing of the clock which had been donated to the city by First Security Bank. The council decided that before they made a decision on the location, they would ask for citizen suggestions as to where might be the best place. Give your ideas on the location of the clock to the city clerk or any of the council.

There was also a discussion of the Sperry Grade bridge. The council decided that they would wait for word from the Nez Perce County Commissioners before they take any action.

Gussie Eggers Says Thanks to All

Mrs. Gussie Eggers, who has been at a Coeur d'Alene therapy center since suffering a stroke several weeks ago, has improved enough so that she can be transferred to a private care home at Athol, Idaho, her son Gary reported Monday morning.

Gary said Mrs. Eggers wants to especially thank all her friends and neighbors for their cards, inquiries, and prayers these past few weeks. They have been a tremendous help and she truly does appreciate all the concern that has been shown.

On Thursday of this week she will be moving to the new place and her address will be:

Santa Will Visit In Kendrick Saturday

That Jolly Old Gentleman, Santa Claus will be in Kendrick Saturday afternoon, December 18, to visit with all the good little boys and girls who are at the park on Main Street at 1:30 p. m. Because there isn't enough snow yet, Santa will be arriving on the Kendrick Fire Truck.

Santa's annual visit is being arranged by the Kendrick Lions Club and the Volunteer Fire Department. These two groups have been sacking the candy which Santa will give to all the little children who come to see him.

A THANK YOU NOTE

Once again, all you loving and caring friends have helped us in our need. Thank you from the bottom of our hearts for the cards, plants, and the wonderful meals you're brought us. What a lovely place to live, surrounded by friends from Kendrick and Juliaetta.

With much love,
Frank and Virginia Jacobson

A multi-talented man — singer, songwriter, professional speaker and rodeo cowboy will be sharing his life experiences and his music on Sunday, Dec. 18, at 5 p. m. at the Senior Citizens' Center in Kendrick.

Wayne is a member of the Sagebrush Revival Band and recently completed an album in Nashville, Tenn. The music of Marty Robbins and entertainers Charley Pride and Merl Haggard have influenced Wayne to develop his own style of country gospel music.

The concert is sponsored by the Christian Family Fellowship Church who hope many in the community can join them for an evening that is sure to not only encourage you, but also to entertain you.

A free will offering will be taken.

Assembly of God Program Enjoyed Sunday

Last Sunday evening at the Kendrick Assembly of God Church, almost thirty children ranging in age from 3 to high school performed the musical, "We Like Sheep." Each child had lines to memorize and several had solos. They had been practicing since late October, and all their hard work paid off.

The performance ended with the song, "Celebrate", which included a party complete with streamers, blowers and confetti. The musical was followed by a wealth of refreshments for all.

About 100 were in attendance, and the church is hoping that these children will do an encore musical again next year.

Bull Evaluation Clinic To Be Held in Lewiston Livestock Yard Jan. 5

Showing a profit in the cattle industry isn't always easy. However, some cattle producers seem to survive year after year regardless of the price. Now local producers can discover some insights into the cattle industry that will help them survive the peaks and valleys of price fluctuations.

Cattle producers from Idaho, Oregon and Washington will have a unique opportunity on January 5, to participate in a practical bull evaluation clinic designed by producers for producers.

The field day will be held at the Lewiston Livestock Sale Yard from 8:30 a. m. to 4:00 p. m. Cost is $10 per person which includes lunch and a copy of the speaker's presentation.

The bull is the foundation of genetic advancement in the cattle industry. Eight speakers will address topics that focus on bull management decisions which producers are faced with daily (i.e. calving ease, fertility, milking ability, disposition, libido, growth and carcass composition). Producers will also have an opportunity to evaluate and place a group of bulls.

Speakers and their topics include: J. J. Ney, University of Idaho Extension Agent, "Identifying the Ideal Bull"; Ed Duren, University of Idaho Extension Livestock Specialist, "Identifying the Functional Bull"; Tom Stromberg, Livestock Specialist, Montana State University, "Evaluating Bulls in the Sale Ring"; Lorna Pelton from Texas A&M University will demonstrate and discuss how ultra sound is being used in genetic selection of breeding cattle and the potential use in yield and quality grading of feedlot cattle; Roy Wallace, Beef Program Chairman from Select Sires, Plant City, Ohio will discuss the reliability of records and how breed associations predict performance capability; Craig Ludwig, American Hereford Association Representative from Kansas City, Missouri, will involve producers in practical examples of reading and interpreting sire summaries and selecting bulls for specific ranch goals; Willard Wolf, American Hereford Association Field Representative for Spokane, Washington, will discuss reasons why commercial producers change bulls.

Reservations should be made with the University of Idaho Extension Office, 1239 Idaho Street, Lewiston, Idaho by January 2 Phone (208) 799-3096. This regional field day is sponsored by the Nez Perce County Cattlemen's Association, the University of Idaho Cooperative Extension Service and the American Hereford Association.

Greg Heimgartner was a Thursday visitor and dinner guest of Leslie and Dolores Heimgartner. On Friday Leslie and Dolores attended the LDS Christmas dinner at the Senior Center in Kendrick.

Eldon and Gertrude Heimgartner enjoyed lunch with Everett and Marie Custer on Monday. Gert is still taking therapy treatments as a result of her recent fall.

Friday Eldon and Gert visited with Cecil and Crystal Gruell in Juliaetta.

On Saturday Gene and Betty Heimgartner from Coeur d'Alene arrived bringing an early Christmas gift—a fluorescent light for the kitchen of Eldon and Gert.

Sunday evening Eldon and Gert visited Rick and Wanetta and children then attended the singspiration at the Cottonwood Creek Community Church.

The Lee Heimgartners have been very busy attending the high school ball games.

On Friday afternoon Barb Heimgartner attended the District School Christmas party at Moscow for the school lunch cooks.

Jack and Tonny McHargue from Troy were Sunday evening supper guests of Roy and Ardythe Heimgartner.

Ernest and Nellie Steigers report many friends and neighbors are coming for a visit and a Christmas tree. There are still trees needing homes!

On Thursday Bill and Maggie Hash of Princeton were overnight guests of daughter Barbara and Lee Heath. On Friday, Barbara visited her daughter and grandson in Lewiston.

Thursday evening, grandparents Wayne and Ruth Heimgartner and Betty Lilly of Lapwai attended the birthday party for Hayley Heimgartner of Clarkston. Sunday evening Wayne and Ruth visited with son Allen and his wife Jacie at Potlatch.

Break Through—

From Cardiac Alert Magazine Would you like to eat french fries, tater chips, fried chicken, ice cream, etc. without fear of gaining weight or increasing cholesterol? A "fat" substitute discovered by the Proctor and Gamble company researchers while looking for a way to make "fat" more digestible for premature babies: while manipulating fat molecules they came across a configuration of fat and sugar molecules not digestible at all! The substance was given the name Olestra. Olestra looks, tastes and cooks like fat. Since it is made from naturally occurring oils it does not alter the taste of food.

Common fat and oils have a molecule of glycyrin in the center of the structure, this glycyrin molecule is replaced by a molecule of common table sugar (sucrose) the resulting molecule is bulkier than the usual fat molecule which means the body is unable break it down, absorb it into the blood stream, or convert it into calories.

Proctor and Gamble has been developing Olestra over the past 20 years. Over 100 scientific studies, 27 human clinical studies, indicate Olestra is not absorbed by the body, is not toxic or carcinogenic and is safe for use in the human diet. Olestra is presently under study by the Food and Drug Administration. Release time is unknown. Contributed by Chas. Bower.

Letters to the Editor . . .

To the editor:

I have just returned from a two-week sojourn with an "Eyewitness Israel" delegation in the occupied territories of Gaza and the West Bank. The trip was co-sponsored by the Fellowship of Reconciliation and the American-Arab Anti-Discrimination Committee.

During our stay we lived with Palestinian families, visited with representatives of several organizations within Palestinian society as well as Israeli peace groups, and saw first hand the condition in refugee camps and the effects of Israeli occupation on Palestinian life in general.

I now have a deeper appreciation for the Palestinian people and their struggle for freedom. For 21 years Palestinians have experienced Israeli occupation as haphazard arrests, confessions obtained through torture, imprisonments without trial, deportation, denial of political expression, demolition of houses, confiscation of land, closure of schools, denial of justice in the courts, and the use of brutal force, especially against children.

More than an act of defiance and desperation, the struggle is a sign of courage and an expression of hope. One of the most striking aspects of what is happening as I observed it, is the young people, both Muslim and Christian, who are willing to face beatings, bullets, and prison, to bring an end to the occupation.

The Palestinian people genuinely long for peace and co-existence with the state of Israel. Among the Palestinians with whom we met, from every walk of life, both within Israel and in the occupied territories, we encountered an extraordinary humanity and a willingness to live in peace with their neighbors.

I urge every American citizen to (a) communicate deep concern to our legislators regarding Israel's oppressive policies in occupied Palestine, (b) call upon our government to recognize the just aspirations of the Palestinian people for freedom in a sovereign state of their own, and (c) most importantly, pray for peace in that troubled land.

Big Bear Ridge News

By The Happy Home Club

Attention Big Bear Ridge Residents: The annual Big Bear Ridge Community dinner for present and past residents will be Sunday, Dec. 18 at 1 p. m. at the hall.

On Monday evening, Jenni and Wyatt Hazeltine, Trish, John, Angie, Tom and Carol Jeffries joined the Cedar Creek 4-H group for caroling in Kendrick.

Thanks to Ron and Kathy Jones who stayed at Halseth's Saturday and Sunday, Lee and Gerald were able to go to Spokane and visit her brother Darrell and Norita Klein.

The Dareld Hazeltine family attended the Christmas program Sunday at the church in Kendrick.

Charles Bower called on Hulda and Grant Clemenhagen Monday afternoon.

Jim Nelson, a school mate of Herman Hinrichs, who is stationed as a teacher in Munich, Germany, was a supper guest of Herman and Helen Hinrichs Monday evening. He has been sent to a conference in Washington, D. C. He is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Nelson, formerly of Orofino, now living in Council, Idaho, and other friends and relatives in the area.

On Monday, Arlyne Clemm attended the 90th birthday party for Jo Benscoter at the Kendrick Senior Citizens' Center.

Frank and Penny Hoisington and Elaine Galloway participated Sunday evening in the cribbage tournament at the Town and Country Diner in Kendrick.

Helen Hinrichs visited in Deary Saturday afternoon with Ada Fairfield and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Candler.

Over the weekend Dan Budvarson was in Seattle where he conducted a class in scuba diving.

Grace Ingle attended the Advent dinner at the Kendrick Methodist Church Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Slind were Sunday callers of Elsie and Cecil Chamberlain.

Ooops!

The blue and black Ford pickup owned by Park Ranch and Cattle Co. looks a bit more like black and blue now, but Sue Willis escaped serious injury in her accident Nov. 28. That morning Sue hit black ice near the crest of a hill about three-quarters of a mile west of Helmer, sliding across the road and stopping upside down in the snow on the south side of the road. The snow helped cushion the impact and Sue suffered only a goose egg and some bruises from her experience. The quick response unit from Deary was quick to respond and Sue was more than glad to see some friendly faces, even tho she wasn't badly hurt.

Flu!

Mild cases of the flu with its attendant aches and cold symptoms are making the rounds at Park.

Sue Willis and Jody Smith were in Lewiston on business Friday.

Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Smith went to Culesac to watch their daughter Leah and her Deary girls' basketball teammates play.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Smith and his mother, Mrs. Eva Daniels, were in Lewiston Saturday evening at the home of her brother and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Slatter and their guests for an evening of pinochle and visiting.

Dan Hearoll and daughter Jessica visited her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Willis Sunday, as did her son Shannon McMillan and his friend Twan Nuyen of Moscow.

Am. Ridge News

By Vicky Benscoter

Warney and Betty May left on November 17 for visits with relatives in Roseburg, Oregon and Dixon, California. They visited with brother, Mr. and Mrs. Jack May in Roseburg, then traveled to Dixon to the home of Warney's sister, Bernadine and Art Stuart, where they helped the Stuarts celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary. They arrived back on December 4.

Dick and Vicky Benscoter arrived home on December 8 from a trip with Dee and Jerry Saling of Spokane to Honolulu, Hawaii. They stayed at the home of brother Hib and Noni Bender of that city, and celebrated Thanksgiving with the Benders and their three sons and families. The three couples also spent 4 interesting days on the island of Kauai, sightseeing and playing golf. It was rather a shock to realize it is winter back home!

Vicky and Dick Benscoter were among the many family members who gathered at the home of Jo Benscoter on Sunday afternoon to wish her a "Happy 90th Birthday."

Jerry Warner of Moscow and grandson Brett Hoisington visited with Walt Benscoter and Ruth Erickson on Tuesday.

Mary Beth McCall of Lewiston stayed with Walt Benscoter over the weekend. Bob Callison and Dick Benscoter were Saturday visitors. On Sunday Mary Beth and Walt attended the birthday celebration for Jo Benscoter.

Vicky Benscoter enjoyed lunch on Monday with other members of the Troy Garden Club at Galloway's in Moscow. This was their annual Christmas party and gift exchange.

If the Shoe Fits

Please don't curse that boy down there he is my son you see, he's only just a boy you know He means the world to me.

I did not raise my son, dear fan, For you to call him names, He may not be a superstar It's just a high school game.

So please don't curse those boys down there, They do the best they can They never tried to lose a game, They are boys, and you're a man.

This game belongs to them, you see, You're really just a guest, They do not need a fan like you, They need the very best.

If you have nothing nice to say, Please leave the boys alone And if you have no manners Why don't you stay at home!

So please don't curse those boys down there, Each one's his parents' son, And win or lose or tie, you see To us, they're number one! —Author Unknown

Christian Family Fellowship

Christian Family Fellowship—
There will be regular worship services at the Christian Family Fellowship Church in Kendrick Christmas Day, Dec. 25. Worship will be at 9:30 and a children's program will precede regular services.

All are most welcome to attend.

Orphie L. Hupp, 93,
Son of Pioneers,
Dies in Seattle Nov. 30

A memorial service was held for Orphie L. Hupp at Parker's Memorial Chapel in Seattle on Dec. 3rd, with the Rev. John Richardson, pastor of the Highline Christian Church officiating.

Mr. Hupp, a former resident of the Little Bear Ridge/Kendrick area, died in a Seattle nursing home Nov. 30th of complications from a broken hip. He was born in Kendrick, Sept. 9, 1895 to Orlando and Florence Hupp, pioneer residents of Little Bear Ridge. He served in the United States Army during World War I as a pilot and instructor. After his discharge from the army, he and Edith McKinney of Weippe, were married on August 25, 1920. She passed away February 3, 1986.

They moved to the Spokane area in 1920 where he was employed as a brickmaker for Gladding McBean and later as an athletic instructor at Fort George Wright. They moved to Seattle in 1940 where he worked as a welder and instructor until his retirement in 1982.

He and his wife were active in WWI veterans' organizations in Seattle, doing volunteer work at the VA Hospital, area veterans' homes, lobbying for veterans' bills before local and federal lawmakers, and attending veterans' conventions throughout the United States and Canada.

He is survived by his daughter, Elaine Norris; grandchildren Ree Green and Dorothy LaRoque; great-grandchildren Jennifer Green and Brian Hartvigson, Seattle, and numerous nieces and nephews. In addition to his wife, he was preceded in death by five sisters and two brothers.

Two newspapers that began their careers as penny papers were the New York Times and the Baltimore Sun.

THANK YOU

Hill & Vailey Garden Club would like to thank everyone for their support of our annual Christmas sale.

We would also like to wish you a

VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS and a
