JULIAETTA NEWS

Fred and Marcy Swanson and girls of Filer, Idaho called on Adaline Jassman last Tuesday on their way back home after spending the holidays in the area.

New Year's Eve dinner guests of Jack and Carolyn Brown and Anna were Marv and Karen Eveland and Emily, Bob and Judy Callison, Mary Jo and Gale Vallem and Harold and Donna Long.

Saturday Jack Brown's cousin, Bill Cody of San Jose, Calif., and Jack's aunt, Ida May Cody of Pendleton, Oregon arrived to spend the weekend with Jack, Carolyn and Anna. Sunday all drove to Kamiah to visit relatives. Monday, Jack, Bill and Ida May left for Boise to visit other relatives.

Monday, Dec. 31, Lura Butler and Elvine Wilson accompanied John and Dian Groseclose to Lewiston to attend graveside services for Emory Wilson. Lawrence Wilson also attended. Following the service, Lura, Elvine, Dian and John visited in the homes of Peggy and Howard Wunderlich and Helen and Ben Groseclose.

Chris and Henry Tschantz have been visitors of Anna and Bid Fairfield.

Ted and Blanche Dorendorf of Deary took Adaline Jassman out for dinner at the Diner on Thursday then came back to her home to play cards.

Thursday Juanita Craig and Mildred Johnson made a trip to Tri-State Hospital in Clarkston to visit Zella Walker then called on Gladys Flesham.

Lura and Ray Butler drove to Bovill Friday to visit Karen and Gary Eggers. Gary had just returned home from the hospital where he had undergone a repair surgery on his neck.

Monday Ron Lohman and Ginger Marshall took Adaline Jassman to Kendrick to do some shopping.

Juanita Craig accompanied Gordon and Frances Peters to Lewiston Saturday, picked up Vi Erickson and all went out to dinner then spent the afternoon playing cards at Vi's home.

Daisy Cochrane of Pendleton, Or., visited over the holidays with her mother Grace Groseclose.

Thanks Dick—

Many of the folks on the hill who aren't able to shovel the heavy snow would like to extend their appreciation to Dick Groseclose who so kindly, with his tractor, opened up several drive ways this winter.

Three Bear Pines

(Note—Sandi Flowers composed this poem after noting that two trees fell victim to the recent storm that swept across the region.)

The twin pines that stood in the edge of the Pavel field, at the beginning of Three Bear Road, between Southwick and Cavendish were a landmark to many.

Dec. 19, high winds toppled one. January 2, man toppled the other. I find it sad to see the emptiness, and wish that the last pine could have been left as a lone sentinel.

They stood together

Those two big pine
Stately and proud
Throughout all time.
All my life, a symbol were they,
A guide to Grandpa's
They showed the way.

They stood together

Those two big pine,
A part of my childhood,
They were God's and mine.
However far I would roam,
When I saw those trees
I'd know I was home.

They stood together

Those two big pine,
The wind took one
After all this time.
One stood alone,
Stately and tall,
Then came a man
Greedy and small.

A landmark is gone

To never be replaced.
A symbol of my childhood
Has been erased.

It's bare and empty

Where they stood,
I'd put them back
If I only could.
—Sandi Flowers

VFW and Auxiliary

Will Meet Thursday Eve.

Members of Baker-Lind Post 3913, Veterans of Foreign Wars and its Auxiliary Unit will meet Thursday evening, Jan. 10, at 8 o'clock in the hall.

All members are urged to be present, if possible.

Willard (Perk) Cox, Am. Ridge Native, Passes January 1

Willard (Perk) Cox, 83, a retired retail store salesman and former Lewiston resident, died of cancer Tuesday night, January 1, 1990, at St. Maries Hospital at Reno, Nev.

He was born March 20, 1907, on American Ridge, near Kendrick, the son of William and Lelia Bonnell Cox. He lived on American Ridge as a child, attended Juliaetta schools and graduated from Juliaetta High School. He attended the University of Idaho at Moscow.

He and Hazel D. Stanton were married March 1, 1930, at Lewiston. They moved to Lewiston in 1930, and he worked at various retail stores including Montgomery Ward, Sears and Bon Marche until retirement.

His wife died January 20, 1990. He moved to Reno after his wife's death to live with his daughter.

He was a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity at the U of I, and a member of the Congregational Federated Presbyterian Church at Lewiston.

Survivors include a daughter, Joan Johnson of Reno; a brother, Andrew Cox of American Ridge; a sister, Agnes Telford of Tulare, Calif.; four grandchildren and five-great-grandchildren.

A memorial service was held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Federated Presbyterian Church, with the Rev. John Williams of the church officiating. Burial followed at the Lewis-Clark Memorial Gardens at Lewiston.

The family suggests any memorial contributions be given to either the Federated Presbyterian Church or to the American Cancer Society, in care of Georgina LaRocque, 1027 Ninth Ave., Lewiston, Idaho 83501.

The Battle

More and more they speak of war. Fine young men all wearing uniforms and shouldered guns, marching and preparing with measured step they form the lines. Fighting shadow battles in their troubled minds, Recalling paper strategy and honors charge to keep men free. They face the front, they face the foe, And they advance when ordered so. Pressing forward step-by-step To face the manhood test. Not all will come home again of our finest and our best.

Pray for them, my brother each treasured soldier boy The future of their father's and mother's special joy. Pray that God's mercy will attend each threatened soul Released unto the keeping of men with war their goal. Pray that they can come home again, Though sad and sobered, these brave young soldier men.

—Priscilla Armitage

Some Things Never Change

Someone who prefers to remain anonymous brought this clipping in Tuesday. It had been sent to them by a friend who clipped it out of the Puyallup, Washington paper.

100 YEARS AGO: DEC. 11, 1890

Harry A. Daw, a verdant youth with more money than judgment, arrived in the city from Kendrick, Idaho, where he had been working for the Northern Pacific Railroad. He had $200 in his inside pocket, and he at once proceeded to "blow some of it" in seeing the town.

He took in a variety theater and spent a good round sum treating the women to wine and supper. They at last gave him the cold shoulder, and the young man, finding himself alone and deserted, started on a rampage. He soon was in custody of the police. Judge Parker fined him $5 for his little disturbance, and he went away smiling, but vowing that he would be more careful in the future.

Adam Crawford Now with Operation Desert Shield

Another local service man is now serving with Operation Desert Shield in the Mid East. Adam Crawford, the son of Larry and Jan Crawford was recently transferred to that theater of operations, reports Jan. His address is: E-3 Adam L. Crawford, 441-84-2147 E CO, 23rd Engr-BN Operation Desert Shield APO New York 09760-0260

New Year's Eve Celebrated At "Little White House"

The "Little White House" again hosted the fourth annual New Year's Eve party December 31. A delicious potluck supper at 6 o'clock, followed by pinocle and visiting was the feature of the evening.

Weather, however, was a defeating purpose for some, as Martha Long, Irene Christensen and Mammie Kanikkeberg were literally "snowed in" at home!

Scores for the evening, both high and low, (with a few new rules for pinocle) were into the stride of the participants. The results were many good laughs and very few frowns!

The "New Year's Babe" of the group was presented with a gift. The recipient this year was Inetta Schneider, whose birthday fell, very appropriately, on Jan. 1.

Everyone was a "winner" as super prizes were awarded to everyone by The Town and Country Diner.

Those attending were: Alberta Turner, Mabel Glenn, Esther Shrefler, Inetta Schneider, Theresa Balasteir, Mildred Johnson, Opal Draper, Kathryn Morey, and Ruth A. White, hostess.

The group has a special "Happy New Year" wish, with much appreciation to Jeff Smith and the Town and Country Diner!

Kendrick Students Eligible

For New C. of I. Scholarship

Caldwell — Two students from Kendrick High School will be eligible each year to compete for a scholarship to the College of Idaho under a new type of scholarship program sponsored by TJ International President and CEO Walt Minnick and Channel 2 (Boise) evening news anchor A. K. Lienhart-Minnick.

The program, which will be called the Walt & A. K. Lienhart-Minnick Scholarship, was announced this week in Caldwell. The Boise couple has established a $50,000 endowment to support the scholarship program.

Under the program every Idaho high school, including Kendrick High School, will be invited to submit up to two scholarship nominees each fall. The scholarship will be awarded to academically gifted high school seniors and will be based on merit and leadership qualities. Unlike most scholarships, financial need will not be considered. Winners will be announced each February. The program will begin with the 1991-92 academic year.

"Our desire in creating this scholarship is to invest in Idaho's best and brightest young minds by attracting them to the College of Idaho, the most academically demanding institution of higher education in the state," said the Boise couple in a joint statement. "The College of Idaho compares favorably with the best private schools anywhere in the nation. We hope this scholarship will help guarantee that the college continues to attract the most able of Idaho's next generation of scholars and leaders."

"This gift confirms Walt's and A. K.'s belief in the liberal arts college as the soundest form of obtaining an education," said C. of I. President Robert Hendren. "It is a gift that goes on in perpetuity. We are deeply grateful for their continued support of our institution."

In addition to his corporate responsibilities, Walt Minnick also serves as chairman of the C. of I.'s Board of Trustees.

The College of Idaho is a private liberal arts college in Caldwell, Idaho. Founded in 1891, the 580-student institution has been nationally recognized for its academic programs and has produced five Rhodes Scholars since 1954.

Accounting Firm To Open New Office in Kendrick

Hayden, Ross and Co. is celebrating not only the new year, but a new office in Kendrick. Renovations have been underway for several months preparing for the Jan. 10th grand opening. Greg Mann, a Certified Public Accountant with Hayden, Ross and Co. in Moscow for eight years, will be managing the Kendrick office.

The office is located on Main St. between Snyder's Home Center and Farm Bureau Insurance and will be open every Tuesday and Thursday from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., and Saturday from 9 a. m. to 12 noon.

An open house is scheduled for Thursday, January 10, from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. All in the community are most welcome to attend.

Blood Pressure Clinic

Time Change

The monthly blood pressure clinic will be held Tuesday, January 15, at the Kendrick fire hall from 10:30 a. m. until 11:30 and then at the Juliaetta Johnson Manor from 1:00 until 1:30. This is a free service for all ages.

Kendrick Meal Site Appreciates Support

Mrs. Ruth A. White, coordinator of the Kendrick Meal Site, said Monday that both she and the Meal Site personnel and patrons were very grateful for the response the community has given to its present financial situation. Because of the cut in federal funding and a drop in attendance at the meal site dinners on Wednesdays and Friday, the program at the local level was experiencing some difficulties.

"Public response was 'simply great'" Ruth said. The J/K Community Development Assoc voted to meet the fourth Friday of each month, with the Meal Site, attendance has improved, and some donations of cash from local people and even as far away as California and Washington, has helped relieve the deficit.

"All this fine support has helped a great deal, Mrs. White said, but the problem is not over. The factors that contributed to the crisis still exist. The funding for the program will continue to plague the operation, and the support of the community is still needed. Mrs. White encouraged seniors to come and take advantage of the Meal Site's dinners, and social functions, and reminded the general community that they are most welcome to drop in and become acquainted with the program and what it offers.

The Kendrick Senior Center, the Golden Sunset Senior Citizens group, and the Kendrick Nutritional Meal Site are important to the community and add to the quality of life which all may feel justifiably proud.

New Paperback Books

At Juliaetta Library

The Juliaetta Community Library has a variety of new paperback books that are just right to help pass a few frigid wintry hours in a pleasant fashion. "The Calling of Emily Evans" by Janette Oke has young Emily setting off as a lone missionary on the Canadian Prairies. Susan Howatch's "Ultimate Prizes" is the third in her Church of England series. "California Gold" by John Jakes is a fast moving novel about a young man who goes to California to make his fortune. V. C. Andrews' new book "Dawn" begins a new series. "A Season of Swans" by Celeste de Blasis, the conclusion of the Swan trilogy, is set in post Civil War America.

"Snow Falcon" by Craig Thomas is an espionage novel dealing with a worldwide conspiracy. "Fiends" by John Farris is a well-written horror story. "Some Can Whistle" by Larry McMurry is a comic contemporary novel about an extraordinary young woman, a middle-aged millionaire, and a murderous young man.

Perry Mason in "The Case of Too Many Murders" keeps your attention as he solves this case.

The Juliaetta Community Library is open on Monday from 3 to 6, on Wednesday from 3 to 8, Thursday from 10 to 4 and on Fridays and Saturdays from 10 to noon.

Clinic's Nurse Practitioner

Begins Duties Friday, Jan. 11

A reminder that Diane Kottkey, the new Nurse Practitioner at the Kendrick Clinic, will be on duty as a staff member for the first full day on Friday, January 11.

Mrs. Kottkey will be at the Clinic on Tuesday and Friday. Call the clinic for an appointment, if desired.

Idaho Unemployment Rate

Showed December Increase

The Idaho Department of Employment this week announced the seasonally adjusted unemployment forecast rate for December, 1990, at 6.2 percent, up five-tenths of a percent from the November, 1990 rate of 5.7 percent.

The number of employed workers in Idaho increased from November, 1990 by 2,800 to 468,000 in December, and the number of unemployed workers in Idaho increased 2,800 to 30,800 in December.

Idaho's economy continued to slow in December as the weather and economic belt tightening impacted several industrial sectors. A significant number of additional unemployment insurance claims were filed in December in the following industries: agriculture and related activities; metal mining; construction; stone and concrete products; and electric, gas and sanitary services. Most of these industries are affected by the cold weather and normally will experience an increase in unemployment. However, the majority of the increases came in one month rather than spread out over several. The additional claims in the mining industry were a result of the closure of the Star Mine in the Kellogg area.

On a brighter note, the trade and service industries experienced growth in December. The normal hiring in retail for Christmas is largely responsible for the six-tenths of a

Grange to Vote on Deary Consolidation

Kendrick Grange will hold its annual dues-paying Pancake Feed at 6:30 p. m. on Tuesday, January 15. A regular business meeting will follow.

Among the business to be considered is the question whether Kendrick Grange is to consolidate with Deary Grange. Both Granges must approve of the proposed consolidation before it can become official. Deary has already approved. There's little doubt that Kendrick Grange will welcome an opportunity to expand its ranks with experienced Grangers from Deary, who are invited to join Kendrick at the pancake feed and meeting.

Latah County Pomona Grange will meet this coming Saturday for a potluck at 12:00 noon at Princeton Grange. Grangers are to bring salads or desserts.

A regular business meeting will follow.

Cameron, Southwick News

Opal Lohman and Sonja Lohman

Crystal Longfellow, Edie Longfellow, and Kerry Campos of Juliaetta all attended the New Year's Eve Rodeo held at Walla Walla. Afterwards Crystal and Kerry returned home while Edie traveled on to Yakima to the Columbia River Circuit finals rodeo. On Friday Clyde joined his wife Edie at Yakima. Clyde entered a skiing tournament at White Pass. He won the best wreck and the fastest down hill.

Dallas Vallem was a Friday night dinner guest at the Rick Chase home. On Saturday Rick and Maryann and family visited in Orofino with Rick's parents Levon and Nellie Chase.

Al and Alma Lawrence spent New Year's Day with Agnes Pavel and Earl and Sandy Lawrence. They enjoyed a nice warm day inside.

A large group of 4-H children and friends took part in a sledding party at the Fred Foster home on Sunday. Judy said that the children were so enjoyable and everyone had a fun time.

Judy White and Opal Lohman traveled to Sun Valley to attend Judy's AFLAC convention. They spent two days touring the lodge area and on the way home they visited with some of their family members. It was a nice trip.

Spending a week over the New Year's holiday with Gordon and Charlene Bunch, Jessica and Daniel were Gordon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bunch of Plattsmouth, Neb., and Gordon's sister, Elizabeth Anderson and daughter Ashley of San Bernardino, Calif. A very enjoyable time was had together.

Gina Crosby, Greg and Bryce left by plane for their home in Tigard, Oregon on Sunday. Those leaving earlier were Randy Crosby and Janice and Brad Stewart of Yakima after spending the holidays with Jim and Gladys Whiting.

Old Time Picture Missing,

Have You Seen It?

During the time the committee was putting together the Centennial History of Kendrick and Juliaetta, a picture of the old school house on the hill in Kendrick was loaned by Frank Dammarell.

Some where along the way, the photo was misplaced. If anyone has the picture (it's an 8x10 glossy) would you please call Frank or drop the picture off at the Gazette.

River Crossing Golf

Board Meets Jan. 14

The River Crossing Golf Course board of directors will hold a meeting of Monday, January 14, at 7:00 p. m. at the Farm Bureau Insurance office of Wally Butler.

The interested public is invited to attend and hear of the latest developments in the plans for the golf course and to give input if desired.

Kendrick School Board

Will Meet Thursday, Jan. 10

The Board of Trustees of Kendrick Jt. School District No. 283 will meet in regular session Thursday evening, Jan. 10 at 7:30 in the board room at Kendrick High School. School board meetings are open to the public and all interested persons are both invited and encouraged to attend.

Winter Storms Ended Old Year, Brought in the New

The winter storms that usually don't arrive in this area until about the middle of January, came several weeks early, blasting down from the north a week before Christmas bringing snow, winds, and sub-zero temperatures. Since Dec. 19 the region has endured severe cold, closed school, hazardous travel conditions, frozen water pipes and all the other unpleasantness of a bad winter.

There were some snows early in December, but warmer weather took it off quickly, then on the evening of December 19, a heavy snow storm swept across the area accompanied by high winds on the 20th because of the cold and drifting snows. The buses ran again on the 21st so the children could have their annual school class parties, but the mercury was on its way down. Severe cold just engulfed the region that week-end with readings of down to 20-below and even some reports of 26-below coming in from the ridges. With the wind chill factor figured in the cold was unbelievable.

The sub-zero temperatures wracked havoc on the water and sewer lines at many houses and frozen water pumps and other equipment that was susceptible to cold. Frank Abrams, owner of Abrams Hardware was kept busy almost without a break unthawing water pipes, sewer and drainpipes, frozen water pumps and broken lines. "No one was prepared for this," Frank said. Christmas Day wasn't actually too bad, snow fell, but the temperatures had moderated slightly.

After a few days of warmer, if one can think of zero as warmer, the temperature dropped again as a new storm front moved into the area. Temperatures dropped again around the end of the month and it was a cold, snowy New Year's Eve.

Frank Dammarell, who lives on Bear Ridge and likes to keep track of rain and snow fall, reported that he measured 45 inches snow falling during the month of December. Of course there's not that much on the ground now because of settling, and melting, but there is still plenty. This does not include the four or five inches of new snow the region received Sunday night and early Monday morning.

This would also be a good time to extend some thanks to city, state, and Highway District road workers for the excellent job they have done these past weeks battling the cold weather and poor conditions to keep the streets and roads open and as safe as possible.

Evergreen Friendship Club

Will Miss January Meeting

The Evergreen Friendship Club will not meet in the month of January. Please read the Gazette for time and place of February's meeting.

Leslie and Delores Heimgartner visited Ruth and Wayne Heimgartner briefly on their way home from Moscow.

College students home for the weekend included Chantell Hoisington, Kristen Kirkham, and Brant Steigers.

Members of the Friendship Club braved the weather and roads to meet at the home of Gertrude Heimgartner Thursday to quilt on a table cover for her. They plan to meet again with her January 17th to finish the job.

Janice, Dick and Marilou Grose-close spent the New Year's Day with Lawrence and Nell Heimgartner.

Janet and Darrell Kerby spent New Year's Eve in Lewiston at the home of Loren and Gale Kambitsch.

Saturday, a group including Darrell Kerby, Pat, Georgie, Mike and Andrea Kerby, and Kristen Kirkham skied and snowmobiled at Mason Meadows.

Ken and Linda Steigers spent several days over the weekend in Bothel, Washington visiting Loren and Kathleen Ratliff.

Bill, Mary, and Brant Steigers had Sunday dinner with Ernest and Nellie Steigers.

New Year's overnight guests of Lee and Barbara Heath were her parents, Maggie and Bill Hash, and aunt and uncle, Emma and Bill Ringer.

Belated Christmas news of the Gordon Heath family is that the whole family, nearly 40, were home. Wren and her family, who live in Colorado, were the only ones unable to be present.

Jim and Jeanne Black were afternoon visitors of Gordon and Frances Peters Sunday.

Ruth and Wayne Heimgartner were luncheon guests Wednesday of Ruth's sister and mother, Helen Slomp and Yvonne Hunter. Wednesday evening Roy Heimgartner visited Wayne and Ruth.

Sunday Ruth and Wayne had dinner at the Bill Harri home in Clarkston. Their sister Lily McCall was also there. In the afternoon Ruth and Wayne visited with Mrs. Hunter.

To the Editor:
Am sending check for a year's subscription. I enjoy reading your paper.

I lived in Juliaetta from 1927 until 1935. I must say that there have been a lot of changes. It is a very pretty little town. Much different when I lived there. There were very few people. I think everyone had a watermelon patch and a garden. I left a lot of memories there. Sure brought back a lot of memories last summer. I had a chance to look around the town. Very few old places left that I remember. I do remember the hot summers and cold winters. Did a lot of sledding. At that time there was probably 4 or 5 cars around town. Everyone used horses. I did get a chance to see Adolph Denner and his wife, also Art and Maxine Foster, enjoyed my visit with them very much. Plan to do it again this year.

I would like to find the whereabouts of Robert Burns—he used to live on Water Street, also Virginia Nye. If anyone can give me an address, please write to Clyde Baker, P. O. Box 221, Fortine, Montana 59918. Also would like to know who is in charge of the museum in Juliaetta, as I have some pictures they would be interested in. Does anyone have a book about Juliaetta? If anyone remembers me, please write to above address.

Thanks,
Clyde Baker

Bill—
I must confess to looking forward each week to the Gazette coming. The years have passed so quickly since I left Kendrick. I wish so it would have been possible to be there for the 100th celebration. Reading about it all in the hometown newspaper takes me back to those wonderful years when I was privileged to be a part of the McCreary team that published without fail the newsy and not-so-newsy items that help such a wonderful community to be so much like a big family!

I was so sorry to read of the passing of Louie Wright. My first big-time paying job was doing clean-up in his and Emma's bakery. How fond those memories are! The article now goes to daughter in Corvallis and then on to daughter in Sandpoint.

We all knew him so well. Thanks so very much for sending the Gazette. Dad and Grandfather Park would be so pleased to know the paper is alive and well. It was a treat to catch you last summer and have a chance to have son Scott and daughter Erin see where their dad had spent a part of his growing years in bondage!

The very best of the New Year to you and all in the wonderful town of Kendrick.

of increased employment were personal services as people prepared for holiday entertaining. Engineering, accounting and management services also picked up in preparation for the end of the year and the tax season.

The current Idaho unemployment rate of 6.2 percent is 1.7 percentage points above the December 1989 rate of 4.5. Idaho's unemployment rate is one-tenth of a percentage point above the December national unemployment rate of 6.1 percent. The outlook for 1991 is cautious as employment will continue to grow but at a slower pace than experienced in the last two years.

Transportation Dept. Reminds of New Commercial Drivers License Program

The crowds aren't as large as expected, but the Idaho Transportation Department says a steady stream of drivers are applying for their new commercial driver's license (CDL). The federally-mandated commercial driver's license program went into effect in Idaho on Sept. 5.

Since that date, the transportation department has issued 1,577 CRLs. It's estimated that 50,000 commercial drivers will need to obtain a CDL in Idaho and they have until April 1992 to do it. Nationwide, over half million CDLs have been issued.

Richard Holloran, CDL Program Coordinator, says several factors may be attributed to the slow start. "Procrastination can be expected, no one likes to take tests," Holloran said. "However, our figures show 90.7 percent of applicants pass their CDL exams. Drivers who spend some time with their manuals and study the material do just fine on the exams."

A few myths have surfaced regarding the licensing procedure. These misconceptions may be influencing drivers to put off taking the tests.

"Many drivers are concerned their license will be taken away if they fail the CDL exams," Holloran said. "This is not the case. Drivers keep their present license until they pass the CDL exams."

Another misconception concerns losing the time left on a current license if a driver applies for a CDL before their current license expires. Many drivers are not coming in because they believe the remaining time on their current license will be lost.

"Any time remaining on an Idaho operator or chauffeur's license is added on to the CDL when the driver passes the exam," Holloran explained.

For example, a driver has a year and a half left on their current license. They visit their local sheriff's office to take the CDL exams, and pass. A CDL is valid for four years. When the license is issued, an additional year and a half is added on to their new license, making their CDL valid for five and one half years.

In addition to a general knowledge tests, drivers may also have to take a driving skills tests, or tests covering air brakes, combination vehicles, double/triple trailers, passenger, tankers, and hazardous materials.

Applicants seem to be well-prepared when they come in for testing. Many are attending local workshops sponsored by the Idaho Technology Transfer Center, an information clearinghouse and training center coordinated by the Idaho Transportation Department.

For more information about workshop locations and schedules, call 1-800-762-4208. Drivers can obtain a copy of the Idaho CDL study manual at any local sheriff's office.

The transportation department is developing oral and Spanish exams to better meet the needs of CDL applicants. These tests are expected to be available in the spring of 1991. A CDL Hotline is available to answer drivers' questions. The toll-free number is 1-800-344-3941.
