Tigers Batter Bulldogs 56-6; Deary Here Friday

The roaring Kendrick Tigers made Genesee their sixth victim of the season last Friday night on the Genesee field, battering the out-matched GHS team 56-6 before the game was halted in the final quarter via the 45-point mercy rule.

This week the Tigers have been preparing for a re-match with the Deary Mustangs who will be down on the Kendrick field Friday night. The Mustangs have only been beaten once this season, that by the Tigers on Sept. 13 in Deary by a 20-8 score.

In the Genesee game Jarrod Silflow's 44 yard run put the Tigers on the scoreboard in the first quarter. Cade Konen ran over the conversion and that was the scoring for the rest of the quarter.

Bulldog quarterback Chad Emerson brought the Genesee crowd to its feet early in the second quarter with a 56 yard touchdown run. The Bulldogs tried to run over the extra points but failed and the score was 8-6, the closest the Bulldogs were ever going to get that night.

Cade Konen took the kickoff ball on the 15 and returned it 85 yards for a Tiger score and Jason Witt ran over the conversion. The Tigers kept the pressure on and Silflow scored again on a 3 yard run. A pass try for the extra points failed and KHS took a 22-6 lead into halftime.

Kendrick exploded for 28 points in the third quarter. Konen scored on a 19 yard run and Blewett passed to Shawn Tanata for the two-point conversion. Blewett, who ended the game with 6 of 10 pass completions for 150 yards, passed to Konen in a play covering 66 yards for the next Tiger TD. Josh Hudson ran over the extra points. Silflow put the next Tiger tally on the board with his 54 yard run.

In the final quarter Jarrod ran for a 66 yard touchdown and then when John Wegner hauled in Craig Telf's 32 yard pass, the Tigers were ahead by more than 45 points, and that ended the game.

Wedding, Double Reception and Family Reunion

John and Rosalie Blankenship were honored with a reception for their 50th wedding anniversary at Grace Lutheran Church in Lewiston on Saturday, Oct. 5. Hosts for the celebration were their children Larry and Mary Blankenship and Betty and Larry Chapman.

John Blankenship and Rosalie Kruger were married Nov. 1, 1941 at Lewiston. He grew up at Leland, she grew up at Cameron.

They farmed in the Cameron-Southwick area until their retirement. In 1984 they moved to Lewiston Orchards. They sold their ranch buildings but still own their land and are still members of Cameron Emmanuel Lutheran Church. They enjoy traveling and fishing. They square danced for many years. John enjoys making wood in his pasture. Rosalie likes to write.

Sharing the reception with the Blankenships were their grandson, Electronics Technicians S. S. Robert Galloway, Jr., of Groton Submarine Base, Groton, Conn., and his bride Debra Butko, who repeated marriage vows earlier in the day at Grace Lutheran Church. Pastor John Blom officiated.

Debbie was escorted up the aisle by John Blankenship. Her gown of white satin featured long lace sleeves with short satin puffed over-sleeves, and a fitted lace bodice with tiny satin buttons down the back. The bodice and the hemline of her long, full train were adorned with an abundance of seed pearls and sequins.

Her veil fell from a headpiece of lace and pearls. She carried a bouquet of pink and white roses.

Their attendants were their parents, Shirley Butko, Betty and Larry Chapman, and Robert Galloway, Sr. Bonnie Lawrence beautifully sang "The Wedding Song" and "The Rose."

Ushers and candlelighters were cousins Tim Jones and Joe Siebert of Seattle.

Following the reception for the Blankenships and the Galloways on Saturday evening, a Kruger family reunion dinner was held at the Lions Civic Center in Lewiston, including the families of Rosalie (Kruger) Blankenship, Elsie (Kruger) Freeman, and Dorothy (Kruger) Sinclair; there were over fifty in attendance. The reunion concluded with a Sunday morning brunch, also at the Lions Civic Center.

Horst Says 'Thanks'

I would like to thank Dale Silflow for taking me to the doctor where I found out my ankle had been broken. I went to the hospital where the doctor put screws and a plate on the injured part.

Thanks for the visits, cards, phone calls, and offers to help from relatives, friends and neighbors, and thanks to those who came and seeded my wheat.

Horst Reil

Therefore mark your calendars for PARENT/TEACHER CONFERENCE FOR NOV. 7 and 8.

Visitors to Evaluate Golf Course Project Tuesday, Oct. 22

If you're east of Kendrick next Tuesday morning, Oct. 22 a ways up Cedar Creek Road, you may come across a group of folks studying the site of a proposed golf course. You'll recognize most of them as locals including representatives of River Crossing, Inc. and the Kendrick-Juliaetta Community Development Association. There will be some strangers there, too.

One of the visitors that day will be the vice president of a golf course development group and another the vice president of the residential division of the same firm, Real Tee Development Group out of Denver, Colorado. Two representatives of the Idaho Department of Commerce will also be on hand.

Now before you rush out the door with your clubs, you should know that the scene described above is part of a mock (make-believe) site-visit, the last phase of the Gem Community certification process. The visitors, however, are not make believe. They do, in fact, have considerable experience with development of golf courses, both being associated with golf clubs in the Boise area.

They're coming here to test how well prepared the community is to bring to life this one element in the association's overall development plan, details of which were provided in a four-page insert in this newspaper some time ago. The folks representing River Crossing, Inc. are well prepared to demonstrate that this community has the ability to plan a project and to pursue it in a responsible way, with all deliberate care.

The visitors will be arriving at the Senior Center in Kendrick at 9:00 9:00 a. m. Tuesday. They will meet with local leaders, who will provide a thorough briefing on the proposed project. They will then visit the site of the golf course, returning for a potluck luncheon at the Senior Center. During the luncheon, various invited representatives of the community will give testimonials in support of the project. The visiting team before its 12:45 departure will share its perceptions of the proposal and the process meant to bring it into existence. The Department of Commerce representatives will contact the development association at a later date to indicate whether or not Kendrick-Juliaetta is to be recognized as a Gem Community.

Anyone wishing to contribute a dish for the potluck may contact Donna Heinen, who is in charge of local arrangements.

Thanks from Sally

I would like to express my deepest gratitude for all the well wishes, cards and flowers given to me while in the hospital and since returning home.

It always amazes me that there are so many kind and thoughtful people in our communities, but it makes me realize why I love living here so much.

Especially "Thank You" for all the prayers from family, friends and Church. They have definitely been answered.

Thank you again, and God Bless.

Sally Browning

Juliaetta Centennial Committee Work, Projects Continue

The Juliaetta Centennial Committee met on October 7, at the city hall.

The committee did quite well at the Latah County Fair. They appreciate everyone who stopped by and helped with the booth at the fair.

Nell Helmgartner reported that the Stonypoint Friendship Club is busy working on the smaller Centennial Quilt. Because of the great response from the area crafts people, there were enough squares for a large quilt and smaller one. The smaller quilt will be second prize in the quilt raffle, with the Julia-Etta pillow being third prize.

The playhouse that the centennial committee is raffling, is on display next to the Post Office in Juliaetta.

There will be a painting party at the Library in Juliaetta on October 26 at 8:00 a. m. Contact Jeff Lohman about helping paint the Library. Volunteers are needed!

It was also decided to donate a tree to the elementary school in honor of the centennial. Planter boxes are also being constructed for placement around town.

The committee will meet again on Nov. 6, at 7:00 at the Juliaetta Fire-hall. Anyone interested in attending is most welcome. Come share your ideas for the Centennial Celebration with us!

Cindy Chase Wins Weekly Football Forecast

Apparently we have one of those "like mother, like daughter" situations in the Kendrick Weekly Football Forecast, as young Cindy Chase won last week's forecast just two weeks after mother, Mary Ann won. Cindy predicted correctly all but one contest in the NFL's schedule last week to beat out Jeff Smith and Ray Snyder. Jeff and Ray each missed just one game, but Cindy beat them both on the tie breaker game Monday night.

Ironically, last week's contest was sponsored by Ray, who owns and operates Snyder's Home Center here in Kendrick.

This week's forecast is being sponsored by Dave and Barbara Clayton of Red Cross Pharmacy.

Jeff Smith reported that there were 111 entries in the forecast last week. He added that lots of younger people are beginning to submit entries each week, and he thinks that's just fine.

"Out-on-the-Limb"

Jeff Smith's "out-on-the-limb" winning streak was snapped at two games last weekend after his brash prediction that the Dolphins were going to beat the Chiefs at Kansas City. Now Jeff is 2-5.

Still full of faith about his Miami Dolphins, Smith says they are going to beat the Houston Oilers at Miami this coming Sunday.

KHS Homecoming Week Was Filled with Spirit, Pride and Fun

The week of September 23-27 was Homecoming Week at Kendrick High School, and the spirit was out in record numbers.

Monday, the cheerleaders kicked off the week with a pep rally and skit in the morning. The theme for the day was "Pajama Day" and John Jeffries and Shelley Mathison won for the best costumes of the day.

Tuesday was "The Good Ol' Days" and students were encouraged to dress from any era in the past. The winners for the best costumes for Tuesday were Melinda Cook and Janel Silflow.

Wednesday was "Western Day" and the best dressed cowpokes were Stephanie Hill and Deanna Carter. Wednesday afternoon, several people competed in a lip synch put on by the cheerleaders. The third place winners were Clarke Bradley, Mike Murphy, and Kyle Stapleton representing the teachers with their rendition of "You don't Have to Go Home Tonight" by the Triplets. Second place went to Jarrod Silflow, Cade Konen, Shawn Tanata, Ryan Blewett, and Joe Dodge for their performance of "Bobby Sue" by the Oak Ridge Boys. First place, a large pizza at the Pizza Bank, went to Ryan Blewett, Justin Cope, Kelly Longfellow, Jennifer Abrams, Rache Sunderland, Melinda Cook, Leah Fry, Lynn Helmgartner, and Marnie Henson for their performance of "Seven Little Girls" by Paul Evans.

Thursday was Beach Day and the best beach gear were Corey Meyer and Rachel Sunderland. Thursday afternoon the classes and homecoming king and queen candidates competed in several games and yell contests on the football field. The princesses and princes from each class were announced and they were: Freshman Class: Jamie Silflow and Tim Tanata; Sophomore Class: Deanna Carter and Josh Hudson; Junior Class: Stephanie Hill and Mark Hutcheson; and Senior Class: Marnie Henson and Ryan Blewett.

Friday was Orange, and Black Day and Jenni Hazeltine and Jenna Fry won with their terrific costumes. Friday afternoon the students participated in the Kendrick Park for a spirited pep rally and games. All the costume day winners were announced and awarded T-Shirts and the winners for the overall best costumes and spirit for the week were announced. The winners were Cade Konen and Mr. Mike Murphy and they were awarded sweat shirts. The junior class won the hall decorating contest while the seniors beat out all of the other classes in overall spirit for the week.

All festivities came to a close at the homecoming dance on Friday night following the football game. Marnie Henson, daughter of Alice and Buddy Henson of Juliaetta, and Ryan Blewett, son of Rita and Bill Blewett of Kendrick were crowned Homecoming King and Queen at the halftime of the game.

The student body certainly appreciated the support shown by all the members of the community who bought tickets or turned out for the dance. Exact dollar amounts were not yet available, but community support and generosity helped to raise several hundred dollars for Kenny Anderson.

Luncheon Speaker Warns J-K Assoc.: "Be Careful"

Robert Reneau, an international relations executive and speaker at Kendrick-Juliaetta's second International Trade Luncheon, gave his hosts some succinct advice last Thursday regarding economic development: Be careful.

Reneau, Vice President International Relations for Bourns, Inc., a California-based electronic firms, has had considerable experience in helping in the economic development of a portion of Mexico lying along the border with the United States. A former President and Chairman of the Western Maquiladora Trade Association, Reneau credited the Mexican people themselves with having initiated economic improvement.

Some twenty years ago when the bracero program came to an end, the Mexican people had to ask themselves the question, "What do we have that others want or need?" They found the answer to lie not in things but in their people, people ready to learn new manufacturing skills and to make their labor available at a competitive price. Bourns, Inc., for example, ships manufactured components to Mexico for assembly at a savings. Thus, the Mexican people receive their "maquila", literally the miller's toll, their share for their part in the manufacture of electronic equipment. Hence the name for the association Reneau has headed up, the western "Maquiladora".

Asked whether such competition didn't undercut labor in this country, causing our own economy to suffer, the speaker agreed but quickly countered that while pain and dislocation may arise from such arrangements, American firms by and large must live with the fact that the prices of their goods are set by the market place. To make use of Mexican labor to effect economy of production may be essential to a company's ability to compete and continue to provide the jobs and investment possibilities available to people in this country. In other words, one must look at the larger picture.

Turning his attention to the association's plan here to attract retirees and footloose entrepreneurs, Reneau acknowledged that the quality of life here is one of our chief attractions. But he raised a cautionary question: How do you advertise quality of life without destroying it? Put another way, "Be careful."

Reneau emphasized that the people in this area have to answer the same question that was raised in Mexico. What do we have that others want or need? He encouraged his audience to take into account the tremendous changes brought about in telecommunications in the last twenty years. "Today, if you have a phone, you can do almost anything," he said. And he emphasized that that includes running a business, contributing to the economy of the area.

The speaker also had some advice for the public schools and for students. Quit perpetuating the popular media notion that an academically sharp young person is a nerd. Support, encourage, and hold up the able student. And as for the best way to prepare for the future, Reneau advises young people to seek a liberal arts degree, for there you'll learn, he argued, how to be rational thinkers and decision makers, qualities which technicians may lack.

In appreciation for his appearance, George Brocck, President of the Kendrick-Juliaetta Community Development Association, presented Reneau with a centennial medallion. Word is that Reneau was moved by the gift and, like last year's Australian visitor, impressed by the beauty of our community.

Thanks for a successful affair are due to the Golden Sunset Senior citizens, hostess for the day, Irene Christensen, and Jeff Smith and his staff of the Town and Country Diner.

Letters to the Editor . . .

Dear Bill:
I feel compelled to respond to a portion of last week's letter to the editor.

Just exactly who are the transients you referred to in your letter of October 10, Mr. Dammarrell? I assumed from the tone of your letter that the term included those of us whose grandparents didn't homestead this area. According to Webster's dictionary, a transient is "someone who passes through quickly," which leads me to believe that transients could not, "move in."

I am offended by the attitude of some of the "original transients." My family moved here 10 years ago, bought a home and began to establish roots. Several years ago, when the War Memorial was renovated, I submitted my husband's name. He served, and was wounded, in Vietnam and is a member of the Kendrick VFW. I will never forget the look on my children's faces when, at the unveiling of the memorial, they couldn't find their Dad's name. It turns out that a decision was made that the serviceman or his family had to live in the area for 25 years before he/she could be listed in the memorial. Kind of ironic since you could serve and die at age 18! Does this mean that after 25 years in the area you are considered a "native transient?"

Your attitude toward "transients" runs in direct opposition to the ideas and efforts of the J-K Community Development Association, who are actively seeking growth for the area.

Some "area natives" actually move away for 10 or 20 years to places like — California! Does this make them transients? As a matter of fact, everyone in this country, other than the American Indian, could be considered a transient by your definition. Light Bulb!

Am. Ridge News

By Vicky Bencotter

Most of the fall seeding has been completed on our ridge. Now we are hoping for some rain to bring up the wheat and settle the dust!

Vicky Bencotter had lunch with Don and Ann Turner at their home in Lewiston on Sunday, a week ago. Visitors during the week in the Dick Bencotter home were Don Chrystal, and Denny Driscoll and Gordon Strong of Troy.

Dick and Vicky Bencotter attended the dinner and auction at the Kendrick United Methodist Church on Saturday evening.

Vicky Bencotter had lunch in Troy with a group of former Troy Garden Club members on Monday.

The whole object of travel is not to set foot on foreign land; it is at last to set foot on one's own country as a foreign land.

Remodeling Finished At Juliaetta Library

The Juliaetta Library has undergone some changes since the end of September! If you haven't been in for awhile, you should stop by and see our new lower ceiling. The old ceiling was about two feet higher and much darker. We now have our electric heaters and our lights down at a level that should improve our heating as well as make things a little brighter. We would like to thank Richard Hitchcock at Gem State Lumber for donating some of the materials used for the project. A special "thank you" goes to Jim Tanata and Doug Silflow and crew for making it possible to keep the library open during most of the work. Jim Travis did a good job of reconnecting our lights and other electrical equipment in a hurry so we could continue to provide service to our patrons.

Jan Welles wishes to personally thank her family for spending their weekend voluntarily (?) painting the ceiling when she knows they would much rather have been almost anywhere else!

Most of all, thank you to all the patrons who were so patient and understanding through the whole project. We would like to be able to raise enough money to install about six more lights so if anyone has any good fund raising ideas, please contact the library.

Juliaetta Community Library is a branch of the Moscow-Latah County

As a culminating activity for Fire Prevention Week, Jeff Lohman, the Juliaetta Fire Chief, brought the town's fire truck to Juliaetta Elementary School on Friday, Oct. 11.

Students in grades Kindergarten through six were invited to get on the truck, ring the bell and hold the hoses. Third grade students took turns hosing down the alley using one of the hoses on the truck.

Joining Mr. Lohman were two people from Clearwater Power Company with an electrical safety presentation.

Students from all grades enjoyed both presentations in observance of Fire Prevention Week.

Visitor from India—

Subhash Chandra Birla came to Idaho from Delhi, India to talk to government officials here. One of Juliaetta Elementary School's mothers invited him to come and speak to the students at the school on Monday, October 15. Vacation Trip Interesting For Local People

Juanita Craig and Vi Erickson accompanied their brother Cecil Fleshman of Camas, Wash. on a ten-day trip. Leaving Oct. 1 and returning on the 10th, the family took in many interesting sights, touring to Montana, Wyoming, Utah, Colorado and Idaho. They visited Yellowstone National Park, the Tetons, Jackson Hole, Wyoming, The Arches National Park in Utah, the Wonders of Nature, Dinosaur Park. The Dinosaur Quarry face contains thousands of dinosaur bones and other fossils which are very interesting. Black Canyon of the Gunnison National Monument of Colorado was an awesome sight with its narrow, very high walls—the depth was frightening. The Royal Gorge in Colorado was very interesting. The Royal Gorge Bridge spans the Arkansas River at a height of 1,053 feet, is one-quarter mile long and is suspended from two 300-ton cables, each containing 2100 strands of wire that will support more than 2 million pounds. This was interesting to the travelers. They crossed the bridge and took an incline railway, the world's steepest, that plunges 1,550 feet from the rim of the gorge to the canyon floor.

The locals visited the chapel of the U. S. Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, a beautiful place to worship. These were just a few of the sights Juanita, Vi and Cecil saw and enjoyed.

They came home through Rocky Mountain National Park and went to the Craters of the Moon Park in South Idaho.

The weather was beautiful every day. They saw many animals—bison, elk, deer and antelope. The scenery was lovely, all the leaves were so colorful.

This country has so many, many interesting things to see that old Mother Nature has carved out through the years, Juanita said. They all thoroughly enjoyed every minute of the trip, but are thankful to be home safely now. They traveled almost 4,000 miles and took many pictures to remember the trip.
