Christmas Spirit Abounded at Kendrick Meal Site Over Holidays

By Dorothy V. Horn

People attending the meal site during December found the Christmas spirit very much in evidence. Christmas decorations on all the tables, a beautifully decorated Christmas tree and even a fat, happy toy Santa.

On Wednesday, Dec. 11, Esther Nye played and sang some Christmas songs with the audience joining in making the spirit of the Christmas season enjoyed by all.

Friday, December 13, Nurse Practitioner Diane Kottke of the Kendrick Family Medicine Clinic spoke to the seniors on nutrition. She listed the four important problems with aging: (1) Multi-system decisions, (2) Limited Economics, (3) Drug Management, and (4) Psychosocial. She also stressed good nutrition, low fat diets, exercise and keeping one's teeth in good shape. It is much better to practice preventive medicine rather than waiting until one develops a serious ailment.

December 18, we all joined together with many seniors present to honor the December birthday people and wish them happiness and good health in 1992. Meal site manager Louise Pea and her able volunteers served a delicious dinner with ice cream and a beautifully decorated birthday cake. We were then honored by sharing a movie which is presented monthly by our ever-faithful librarian.

On Friday, December 20, the senior center was bustling at the seams with a large crowd gathered to share the Christmas season together. Our good friends, the Old Time Fiddlers, visited us and played and sang many Christmas songs for all to enjoy. Santa Claus (Frank Jacobson) and Mrs. Santa (Mabel Glenn) dressed in red costumes and with merry Holly's treated all to delicious popcorn balls made up by members of the site council group.

With special cards and gifts, Louise our meal site manager gave recognition to each and every volunteer who had so generously given of their time and energy the past year which has made the meal site a warm and happy place to meet and greet dear friends.

To the JK Economic Development Association and all members who have given so much, we extend a healthy, Happy New Year to all.

Remember, the secret of happiness is not found in doing what you like, but in liking what you do.

Surprise Party Honors Birthday of Bonnie Locke

A surprise party honoring Bonnie Locke on her eighty-seventh birthday anniversary was held at the home of Mabel Glenn Saturday, December 28. Mrs. Locke is the mother of Chas. Easterbrook of Orofino and her home is in Marysville, Wash.

Ruth and Wayne Helmgartner had a pre-Christmas dinner and gift opening for their family on Christmas Eve. Allen, Jacie and daughter Cody of Potlatch and Harold, Carlene, and daughters Hayley and Kylee were present.

Ruth and Wayne spent Christmas Day in Clarkston with Lavern Harri, Janet and Dean Rynearson and daughters of Sandpoint and Peggy Frost of Anchorage, Alaska. They all visited intermittently with Bill Harri in St. Joseph Hospital. Thursday they were with Lavern Harri when her husband Bill passed away after a long battle with cancer.

On Saturday Ruth and Wayne and Roy Helmgartner were dinner guests of Ray and Pat Helmgartner and Millie Corkill in Clarkston. Shelly Helmgartner of Seattle and Greg and Kim Helmgartner were also present.

Scott and Woo Ownbey and baby Cella arrived from Barrow, Alaska to spend Christmas with Dorothy Partridge. Other guests of Dorothy's for Christmas dinner were Mary and Bill Hayhurst, Lynn and Dottie Newman and Barbara O'Neil.

On the evening of December 23 there was birthday party for Darrell Kerby at his home. His wife Janet, Pat and Georgie and family, Steve and Karen Kirkham and family, and Dave and Kristy Anderson and family were present.

Elaine Kerby arrived on Tuesday from Walla Walla to spend Christmas with the family. There was a family Christmas breakfast, Christmas morning. They all opened gifts and then had a progressive dinner, traveling to each of the four family homes.

Christmas morning Don and Terry Kerby came from Missoula. They will probably return home Monday.

Nellie Steigers had invitations to go to Moscow or Lewiston for Christmas, but she chose to stay home that day.

On Thursday Nellie's granddaughter Beckalyn Steigers of Kelso, Wa., and her friend Duane Small of Seattle came with Linda Steigers to visit.

Marjorie Stevens visited Nellie on Friday.

Saturday Darrell Kerby and daughter Elaine stopped for a visit with Nellie.

Tuesday evening Eldon and Gert Helmgartner attended the Christmas Eve services at the Cottonwood Creek Community Church. After the meeting they went to Rick and Wanetta Helmgartners for gift opening. Others present were Wayne and Wanda Hoskins and Wanetta's sister Gloria and husband Jay Richards and children from the Tri-Cities.

Gerald Helmgartner, his wife Vanessa, and all of his children came for Christmas Day to Eldon and Gert Helmgartner's home. Those present were Shawna and Steve Pierce of Boise, Tia from Seattle, and Scott from Moscow.

Granddaughter Teresa, her husband Kevin and daughter Amy of Pilot Rock, Oregon, came on Friday to spend the day with Eldon and Gert.

Linda and Tyke Van Dellen of Sandpoint spent Christmas Eve and Christmas Day with her parents, Marjorie and Glen Stevens.

Christmas guests of Jim and Jean Black were her mother, Helen Hungerford and their sons, Steve and wife Pam, their children John and Danielle, and Bob and wife Val and daughter Andrea.

Nell and Lawrence Helmgartner went to visit Bill Harri on Monday at St. Joseph Regional Medical Center in Lewiston.

Lawrence and Nell had Christmas Day with Dave and Jo Johnson and family in Lewiston. They attended a Christmas Eve party with Stan and Diane Hill, Nellie's niece.

Those having Christmas Eve with Don and Elaine Holsington were Teresa, Ron and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Weyen, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Weyen and family, and Angie and Chantell.

Don and Elaine, Angie and Chantell went to the Dean Weyen home for Christmas Day.

Leslie and Delores Helmgartner traveled to Clearwater Monday to prepare for Christmas with her family. David and Donna Straw and daughter Delene of Price, Utah, arrived that evening accompanied by their son Daniel, his wife Tracy and baby son Derick who were moving from Phoenix, Ariz. back to Idaho.

Christmas Eve afternoon Jennie Lyons and daughter Lynn came with a beautiful Christmas tree. Jennie, Lynn and Donna decorated it. Christmas Day was spent with Mrs. Fern Hardin and other relatives. Christmas night Delores's children and grandchildren had their gift exchange. Leslie and Delores returned to Stonypoint Thursday afternoon.

Friday Leslie's grandson Les Helmgartner of Fairbanks, Alaska arrived for a weekend visit. Saturday the two Leslies visited Wayne and Ruth Helmgartner, Roy, Lee and Chad Helmgartner on Stonypoint and Walter Zumhove and Betty Cowger in Kendrick. Les will return to Yakima on Monday and fly back to Fairbanks after New Years.

Lee and Barbara Heath arrived home Friday from a two-month vacation trip that took them to Australia, Bankok, Thailand, Singapore, and other places in the Far East. They stopped in Hawaii on the way home to celebrate Christmas.

Pat and Georgie Kerby and family had Christmas Eve with her family, Joan and Tim Jackson of Lapwai.

On Thursday Steve Kirkham drove Kristen Kirkham and Mike Kerby to the airport in Spokane. Kristen and Mike flew from there to San Diego to visit Leroy Kerby who is in the Navy and stationed there.

Christmas Day guests in the Roy Helmgartner home were Lee, Barb, Leah, Lynn and Chad, Ken and Debi LaBlanc and son Morgan, Sid and Brenda Armstrong and family of Kellogg, Pat and Clark Armstrong, Doris Bonin of California and Tom Bonin.

Park News

By Jody Smith

(Delayed from Last Week)

Jingle, Jingle, Jingle! Christmas celebrations continued this week as area folks tried to meet with each of their relatives at least once during the holidays.

Jerry and Jody Smith were in Lewiston on business Tuesday and stopped to visit her parents, Dillard and Betty Stone. On Wednesday they visited Charlie and Hazel Enger.

Karl and Wanda Enger were in Deary at the home of his parents, Charlie and Hazel Enger Saturday for a pre-Christmas family dinner and gift exchange.

Jerry and Jody Smith entertained their family for a pre-Christmas dinner and gift exchange Saturday. Guests, who also helped prepare the meal were Dillard and Betty Stone, Jodi Smith and James, all of Lewiston; Dean and Barbara Kinzer, Joy and Erin of Pullman; and from Hayden Lake, Jim and Brenda Smith, Sarah, Kristin and Scott. Their three children stayed to spend a 4-day visit with their grandparents.

On Sunday, Clinton and Ethel Smith and Leah and the Jerry Smiths and grandchildren attended the 35th annual Smith family Christmas potluck dinner and gift exchange at the home of Anna Hunter and Tom Weber.

Personal Note: For a change of perspective try looking at things through a child's eyes. Our "doing the chores and loading the hay in the tractor trailer and feeding the cows" has turned into "visiting the animals and petting them, then having a hay ride!"

(This Week's News)

Park residents were saddened to hear that our good friend and neighbor, Hazel Enger lost her long battle with cancer on the morning of Dec. 24, at the age of 75. Hazel and her husband Charlie had lived in Park from 1937 until 1968. They celebrated their 56th wedding anniversary on Dec. 7, with all their children, their spouses and many grandchildren present. The family was all together again Dec. 21 for an early Christmas party.

Hazel Enger was born Jan. 30, 1916 in Montana to Martin and Jennie Isaacson Mael. She was raised and graduated from high school in Spokane. Hazel and Charlie moved to Park where Charlie was born and raised.

The Engers had four children, Karl of Park, Charles of Ritzville, Wash., Kathy Doyle of Palouse, Wash., and Linn, of Genesee and nine living grandchildren.

A loving, hard working lady, Hazel shared her many abilities as farm wife, homemaker and mother generously with all those around her, and she will be greatly missed. Her interests included raising strawberries commercially with her family, vegetable and flower gardening, elk and deer hunting, crocheting, embroidery, oil painting, and cake decorating. She also baby sat many area youngsters who referred to her as "Grandma Enger."

The funeral was held Saturday at Short's Chapel in Moscow. Cremation has taken place and the ashes are to be buried at a private family service at a later date.

Hazel will be mourned and missed by many, and our thoughts and prayers are with Charlie and the family.

Visiting Karl and Wanda Enger at their home this week have been their daughter Vickie Jenkins, Lewiston; Bob and Linda Mullins and Don and Jan Mullins, all of Orofino; Inez and Terry Willenborg, Juliaetta; Amos and Nonie Bechtel and Jody Smith of Park, and Arnold and Lois Mael of Helmer.

Jerry and Jody Smith went to Hayden Lake Christmas Day to take their three grandchildren Sara, Kristin and Scott Smith home. They visited with the children's parents, Jim and Brenda Smith, then called on Mark and Debbie LaBolle at Rathdrum before joining the group at Brenda's sister and brother-in-law, Diane and Nolan and daughters in Coeur d'Alene for Christmas dinner. Brenda and Diane's parents, Bruno and Rita Goetz were also Christmas Eve overnight visitors with Clinton and Ethel Smith and Leah were daughter Kay and Doug Stout and Nathan of Lewiston. They left before noon Christmas Day to spend some holiday time with Doug's parents in Lewiston. Joining the Smiths for Christmas Day was Leah's college friend and tennis doubles partner Merlene Ford, a U. of I. student from Jamaca.

Amos and Nonie Bechtel went to Lewiston Friday where she enplaned for Oakland, Calif. for a 10-day visit with her mother and other family members.
