On Monday, Feb. 14 at noon, Kendrick-Juliaetta's Golden Sunset Seniors, Inc., which rents its center two days a week to the senior nutrition program, will be considreing the possibilities of expanding its program of activities to fit the new image of multi-purpose senior centers.

LaFawn Hamm, Director of the Area II Agency on Aging, will be the featured speaker at the monthly noon potluck meeting of the senors group.

According to Hamm, most senior centers in the beginning existed almost exclusively as meal sites. This may explain why many people, including some participants themselves, still think of the meal site and Golden Sunset Seniors as a single organization. They're not. Each has its own governing body and its own program. While its true that the twog roups are made up of
