-- CONSTRUCTION NEWS --

The removal of the oil barrel from in front of the old Parsley building has been completed. Soil samples taken by the E. P. A. showed no traces of leakage so we were able to cover the area and continue with construction. Floors will soon be poured in the fire station and workers will be starting to remove part of the wall on our existing building. Because of this the first aisle of our store will be narrowed for several weeks.

Again we apologize for the inconvenience this will be causing. Hopefully the finished product will help make this all worthwhile!

Thank you for your patience and concerns.
