100 Days Meet 100 Years; A. C. Wilson Visits Juliaetta Kindergarten

Thursday, Feb. 2, the Kindergarten students at Juliaetta Elementary celebrated their 100th day in school. We were honored to have Lonnie Wilson's great-grandfather, A. C. Wilson, who will be a centenarian Aug. 30, come to our class and tell about his primary grade school experiences.

The Kindergarten class adopted Mr. Wilson as their Grandpa.

This is a part of what Mr. Wilson told the class:

"Now you have been in school for 100 days. I don't think you think that is very long. Well, that is the same way with me. I have almost lived 100 years. All you need to do is to live today and tomorrow and after a while you get old. You may get 100 years like me.

We went to school when we were 6 years old. We didn't have kindergarten then. We had to walk. It was a mile for me to walk. We had no school bus or cars then. I sometimes rode my horse.

"There were no water faucets in the school house to get a drink of water. Every morning the teacher would pick out 2 boys and send them to a spring to carry a bucket of water. Everyone drank from the bucket using the same dipper for a cup.

When I got to school there were a lot of kids in the room. The kids were not the same size nor age because the teacher taught all grades from first to eighth.

The teacher could not help me all the time as she had to teach the bigger kids, too. So I had to learn to sit, be quiet and play at my desk. Sometimes the older kids would help me.

I learned the same things you learn. No matter how long ago we went to school we learned to read, to write and to count.

Missions Services at Assembly of God Church

Kendrick Assembly of God will conduct its annual Missions Convention on Sunday, February 12 featuring Missionary Jim Ramsey for both the morning and evening services. The Ramseys first went to South Africa as missionaries in 1980 and have since seen the country go through some of its most significant changes in its history.

While pictures of South Africa and its turmoil have been flashed across television sets around the world, there has been some other significant changes not reported by the media. Reverend Ramsey reports, "The new 5-year constitution and recent peace gives us new opportunities to minister in areas that were closed before."

As manager of Gospel Publishing House, located in a suburb of Johannesburg, he directly oversees the editing, production, and promotion of literature that is used throughout the nations of Southern Africa. Many times it is this literature that opens the door to reach those who were previously unreached with the good news of Jesus Christ.

Pastor Novak invites the public to join the congregation of Kendrick Assembly in this convention on Sunday, February 12th. Service times are at 10:30 a. m. and 8:00 p. m.

Former Resident Passes

Erna Nelson advised the Gazette she had received word that her cousin, Harold Wagner of Portland, had died on Sunday, Feb. 5.

Harold was born in 1908 and spent his early years in the Kendrick area, and had visited the Nelsons.

Easter Cantata Practice Begins Thursday, Feb. 9

To those who are committed to Jesus Christ and are moved by the Holy Spirit to minister in song of God's love, it is time to step forward and be counted. Rehearsals for the Easter Cantata will be held on Thursday evenings at 7:00 p. m., starting this Thursday, Feb. 9, at the Juliaetta Community Church.

The performance will be held on Good Friday, April 14, at 7:00 p. m. in the Kendrick High School gymnasium.

I realize that giving one hour per week may seem almost impossible in our busy lives, but when we think of what Christ accomplished on the cross, how much less can we give Him?

Looking forward to working with many.

Safety Factors are Primary Concern at Proposed Drive-by Facilities, says Manager

Safety factors are a primary concern in the proposed installation of drive-by facilities now being considered by First Security Bank at its Kendrick Branch, said manager Dirk Hammond, who wanted to assure local bank customers and the community that plans for the service have always been made to take the customer's and public's safety first and foremost.

According to plans, the drive-by window would be installed where the middle window (behind the present teller's cage). Entry would be made from the alley. Customers' vehicles would trigger a blinking light system at the street location to warn pedestrian that traffic was in the drive-by area. Mirrors would also be in place giving both drive-by users and pedestrians a view of the sidewalk and the drive-by area.

"Kendrick's drive-by facilities would not be unique," Hammond said. "There are a number of these customer convenience services through the state, and none pose any special problems."

As for the loss of parking space, Hammond said that when the drive-by windows are not in use, a barrier would be placed across the exit with a sign on it, indicating that parking is permitted.

Also under consideration, Hammond said, is a move to extend service hours at the drive-by to maybe four or five o'clock.

The manager added that both he and the bank staff are open to suggestions and ideas about the proposed project.

The Kendrick City Council is expected to vote on the bank's proposal at its Feb. 14 meeting.

Former HOBY Delegate Praises Program's Value

The HOBY (Hugh O'Brien Youth Foundation Seminar) for 1995 is just around the corner. I, Cindy Chase, would like to let the community know what this seminar is all about.

HOBY is a leadership program where only sophomores from all over the United States participate in. They learn about what it takes to become a successful leader and how to cooperate as a group.

Last year, I spent 3 days in Boise learning how to become a leader. I had the chance to make many new friends, and I still keep in touch with a few of them. I had a wonderful time at no cost of my own or the school.

Our school's sophomore representative for 1995 is Rachele Eberhardt. I would also like to return as a junior counselor.

Thanks,
Cindy Chase

Letters to the Editor . . .

Is Kendrick getting bigger or smaller, population-wise? At the Kendrick area impact meeting, a statement was read into the records on who contributes to the welfare and upkeep of the city!

I question some of the facts presented to the attending group. I can remember when Kendrick had more, Less welfare recipients, 3 springs that supplement water to the city system, the local school had more students, less teachers; the superintendent was a teacher, plus the administrator of the paid professionals. We had 3 active grocery stores, 3 service stations in operation, 2 hardware stores, a theater, 2 restaurants, a reamry, 2 hotels, a fulltime doctor, 1 insurance company, a town marshal, the telephone system has been up graded to the new technology and a new building. The memorial swimming pool has been updated with better looking surroundings. The Post Office has been upgraded, the bank moved into a new modern building. We still have 2 grain elevator companies, a local farm chemical and fertilizer company, up-dated seed, peas, lentils and bean family cooperation. We had a regular barber, we had and still have a wonderful clothing store, a pharmacy and a place to acquire a nice, cold beer now and then. The service organization are still hanging on. We do still have our local newspaper. Now lets see what has been added to the development of the business in the city. Again an attorney has been added, a new carpet business, an upholstery shop, 2 accounting firms, a super market, the liquor store is still furnishing what is needed in the line of beverages. 3 insurance agencies and a antique store, plus the farm implement store.

We use to have a well supported financially county dump site in the wrong location, but somehow this was removed because of the misuse of by WHOM?

We have the EMT updated unit, supported by donations, charity, volunteers and last but not least monies that come from the selling of vehicle county license plates. We have what is a white elephant, the new added recreation vehicle dump site, that seems to be installed in the wrong location and is causing a neighborhood problem with the operation of sanitation conditions. This site was made from monies granted by the U. S. Forest Service.

We have, I say we, rural county residents have a Parks and Recreation District formed. This tax supported program comes mostly from the out-of-town residents; we have the school system, which is supported mostly by the rural county residents, you know, large property owners tax structure. Also in the city of Kendrick is a place called the Senior Citizens Center; Well to update this center, donations fall short of the needed repairs, so required is also a grant of money. The City of Kendrick gets grants for the Fine Arts program, the CEDA program. A grant will be requested for the new main street water and sewer line project. Doesn't this money come from outside the city of Kendrick's taxing structure?

Now the question is, now with the city of Kendrick population down in census, they seem to have more problems to solve! Does the city of Kendrick really want growth development? Where would you place the new residents? Again the question is: are we good neighbors? Yes, I would greatly say we are. We, too, pay our full share of taxes that is distributed down to the cities in one form or another.

To the city of Kendrick mayor and city council members, all elected volunteers. Don't let petty jealousy or personalities jeopardize your judgement of decision making, your decisions will go down in the history of Kendrick and the area.

Now sum this all up and you'll find the rural residents are a very IMPORTANT element of the economic development of the area. A concerned rural resident, Frank C. Dammarell

Kanyon Klub Meets Feb. 14

The Kendrick Kanyon Klub will hold its monthly meeting on Valentine's Day, Tuesday, Feb. 14 at 1:30 at the home of Marie Grant in Juliaetta. Delores Polunsky will provide the program.

Oh, My Aching Back—

If an aching back has got you down, you're not alone. It's estimated that at some point in their lives, nearly everyone will experience low back problems. In fact, next to the common cold, low back problems are the most common reason for seeing a doctor.

But if you thought back problems automatically meant surgery, strong painkillers and a lengthy convalescence, think again. The latest guidelines for treating back pain recommend treating most back problems with nonprescription medications and mild exercise.

Dr. Stanley J. Bigos, professor of orthopaedic surgery at the University of Washington School of Medicine, was chairman of the panel that came up with those new recommendations for the Agency for Health Care Policy and Research. Bigos says the traditional approach of treating back problems with bed rest and traction may actually weaken muscles needed for recovery. "The emphasis now should be on strengthening the muscles," Bigos said, "using low-stress exercises, walking or biking—exercise that can be started during the first two weeks after the symptoms appear." After that, Bigos recommends adding conditioning exercises for your trunk muscles. He also says that simple over-the-counter medications such as aspirin, ibuprofen, or naproxen have been found to be just as effective as stronger painkillers in most cases, and don't have the side effects of prescription drugs.

The word patriotism comes from the Greek word patris, which means fatherland.

Park News

By Jody Smith

As the nursery rhyme says, "Misty, misty mornings" with some fog, then a few rays of sunshine in the afternoon—typical early spring weather. Also typical are load limits on area roads and a cessation of logging except for a bit of cleaning up on the landings on Tamarack Ridge. A culvert about a half mile South of the camp ground didn't carry the run-off fast enough, letting the water find a weak spot in a road fill. Friday afternoon the road began to sink slightly and by Sunday morning only light, one lane traffic was possible. Monday North Latah Highway Dist. employees warned residents the road would be closed for the day while they repaired the damage. The mail was not delivered during the work, making the area seem even more isolated.

Karl and Wanda Enger entertained their daughter Vickie Jenkins and friend Clark Law of Lewiston and Bob and Myrna Roskam, Deary, for dinner in their home Saturday eve, then the group enjoyed an evening of bowling in Moscow. On Sunday the Engers drove over Tamarack to Southwick where they visited her niece Pam and Jim Walk, Kelly and Kevin. While there Wanda's brother and sister-in-law, Bob and Linda Mullins arrived from Orofino and the group spent some time admiring the Mullins' new car. On their return, the Engers swung down the hill to pay a visit to her sister and brother-in-law Inez and Terry Willenborg at Juliaetta, then back home again over Tamarack. Sunken roads don't stop those with that pioneer spirit!

Last Sunday Jerry and Jody Smith joined other board members and families of the Deary Community Church for a potluck dinner and meeting in the home of Lee and Linda Horning at Avon. Tuesday Jody made a business trip to Lewiston and enjoyed lunch with her mother, Betty Stone. Many others seemed to be in town that day, and she enjoyed a parking lot visit with sister-in-law Anna Hunter and a drug store aisle visit with Aunt Paulina White (a good way to catch up on family news!) On Sunday the Smiths were in Moscow to attend an auction where they were joined by son and daughter-in-law Lewis and Jodi Smith of Palouse.

Good Leaders Make the 4-H Program Successful

One of our community's assets is its strong 4-H program for young people. Benefits of the program include: learning specific skill in various 4-H projects, making new and lasting friendships across the state and beyond, learning to take responsibilities; doing community service, learning social skills such as working in a group.

Tom and Gayle Marek,
Jake & Ben

But as important as a program may be, it can only be as effective as its leaders. Phil's Family Foods this week salutes adult leaders who have devoted their time and efforts to making 4-H an important part of the lives of many young people in the Kendrick-Juliaetta area. Two of these leaders are Tom and Gayle Marek. The Mareks have lived in the Southwick area since 1973 and have taken a leadership role in the 4-H program for the past 12 years. Tom has worked for Potlatch Corp. since 1968. He has helped secure grants from Potlatch to the 4-H for a trip to National Horse contests in Oklahoma, to purchase tables for the Southwick Community Center and worked to provide livestock equipment for 4-H'ers to use. He has led horse, livestock, leathercraft, discovery and survival projects.

Gayle, who has been married to Tom since 1970, received her B. S. degree in Elementary Education from LCSC in 1971 and is currently employed at Juliaetta Market. She has been a leader of: horse, discovery, wild-life, dried plants, weed fighter, leadership, and Food on the Go projects.

The Mareks have two sons: Jake, now serving with the Navy, and Ben, who is a student at Kendrick Jr. High. "Many aspects of the 4-H program benefit the youth in school," Gayle said. "They learn to give demonstrations in front of peers; they share their knowledge of a subject with others". She added that 4-H often puts the youth in contact with resource persons they might never otherwise have the opportunity to meet and learn from, such as the fly-tying guest instructor the Club recently the opportunity to meet and learn from.

Trips and scholarships are also available to those who qualify, especially in teen years or at camps for the younger members, Mrs. Marek pointed out. "Overall, 4-H can provide experiences and learning opportunities that last a lifetime," she said, adding, "4-H is the No. 1 club in America for enrollment figures — the choices, options and opportunities are almost limitless."

"The success of any club is dependent on the youth themselves to complete project assignments; the parents to encourage and participate along side of their kids, and leaders to teach, inform and assist every member as needed. By working together, clubs are as successful as each and every person involved," Gayle concluded.

Tom and Gayle have been very important people in the 4-H programs. They are always willing to go the "extra mile" for the young people of our community. They deserve a big "thank you" for being so dedicated. These are two people who are truly interested in the best interest of our youth.

There are three 4-H groups in this area: Trailblazers, Potlatch Ridge Workers and Cedar Ridge 4-H Club. If anyone is interested in joining 4-H, contact Gayle or leaders from the other clubs.
