Local News Of Kendrick

Mike Morgan called on LenaBelle Morgan Friday afternoon. Scott Morgan spent Saturday evening with LenaBelle and was her supper guest. LenaBelle joined Roger and Linda Morgan at their campsite in Hells-gate Park on Sunday and spent the day.

Wednesday Elma and Laurine Hazeltine enjoyed a drive to Helmer and stopped in the Country Girl Antiques. It was a beautiful drive. Jenni Hazeltine was a Sunday dinner guest with Elma and Laurine.

Rose and Darrel Brocke visited with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Flatt in Lewiston on Sunday.

Don and Marlene Millard and grandchildren Shandra and Ryan Hermann of Lewiston enjoyed camping out at Spring Valley from Thursday until Sunday. The youngsters had a great time fishing.

Bob and Helen Heidenreich attended the VFW picnic Saturday evening at Bill and Dorothy Stockman's home near Juliaetta. Esther Shreffler is spending the week with her daughter Jeanette Howe in Couer d'Alene. Lucille and Nolan Berg of Edmonds, Wash., are houseguests of Helen and Bob Heidenreich this week.

Friday Theresa Balestier and Mildred Johnson went to Lewiston to shop. Saturday David Johnson of Lewiston helped Mildred with chores and was her dinner guest.

Saturday visitors of Fred and Betty Arnett were Fred's cousin, Kenneth DePeel of Lamar, Colo., and Bill Weninger of Kamiah. Saturday, Fred and Betty enjoyed Darlean Wilson's "Pig Out" at Elk River. Monday, Marge Freytag brought Betty a beautiful birthday card and gift. Evelyn Grageda of Walla Walla called Monday to wish her Mom a Happy Birthday.

Ross Armitage enjoyed a delicious steak dinner at the home of his daughter, Joyce Clemenhagen. Ross reports a very quiet 4th, but a most pleasant one.

Jim and Hazel Candler and family enjoyed camping out on the East Fork of the Potlatch from Friday until Tuesday. The group consisted of Ron and Jimi Kay Mael of Bovill, Ron and Carol Craig of Lewiston, Arnold and Lois Mael of Helmer, Craig, Lori, Michael and Sarah Dufour of Lewiston. Colleen, Travis and Darcy Schuit of Lewiston came up on Saturday. Sunday, Boyd, Ryan and Stephanie Candler and Dick May and Josh joined the campers. Rick and Julie Candler and daughters Kendra and Kassie of Lolo, Mont., arrived Sunday and stayed until Tuesday. Charlie and Effie Candler of Lewiston called on Jim and Hazel on the 4th. Wednesday morning callers were Pat Deyo of Polson, Mont. and Frank Candler.

Monday Theresa Balestier and Bev Rollins went to Lewiston to shop and had dinner out. Bud and Yvonne Clemenhagen of Milwaukie, Oregon spent last week visiting with his mother, Hulda Clemenhagen. One day during the visit they drove to Avery and across the mountain to Wallace. It was a beautiful trip. The snow was close by as well as many wild flowers. It was a good visit.

Resi Brown accompanied her daughter Mary Lou Taylor last Monday on a trip to Vancouver. They spent their first night in Leavenworth, Wash., which they enjoyed. The next day they drove on to Vancouver where they met Shelly Taylor and Michelle Taylor. The girls were returning from a trip to Germany. They visited in the home of the German exchange student who had been a part of the Kendrick community two years ago and lived with the Eldon Taylor host family. Shelly and Michelle went to Berlin and took many side trips and tours. They had a wonderful trip and saw many interesting sites. They all returned to Kendrick on Thursday. Jenny Brown and Ron Beard of Lewiston called on Resi on the 4th.

The Tim Eichner family attended the 4th of July fireworks display in Moscow Monday evening. Tim and Melissa and family hosted a family barbecue at their home on the 4th. Guests were Bud and Marilyn Eichner, Steve and Melva Eichner, Gus and Jake Becky and Roger Witt, Alexa, Drew and Erin Rishling. They enjoyed a fireworks display, but on a smaller scale than the one in Moscow. It was a fun family time.

Clarence Thornton returned to Gritman Memorial Medical Center last Wednesday, having experienced a second heart attack. He is expected to leave the hospital the end of the week and return to the home of his daughter and son-in-law, Judy and Jack Haley. His grandson and family, Joseph and Mary Haley and Katlin of Fort Bragg, N. C. have arrived to visit Clarence and family in the community. Clarence appreciates all the visits, cards and calls received during his illness and looks forward to being home again.

Chris Dammarell of Grandview visited his parents, Paul and Midge Dammarell Monday and Tuesday.

June Rainfall was A wet 4.2 inches

After a dry month of May when the area received only 1.5 inches of moisture, the skies opened up and up down 4.2 inches of rainfall in June, reports Frank Dammarell, who maintains the official rain gauge for the SCS at his place on Little Bear Ridge. Dammarell reports recording rain on nine days of the month including one 24-hour period when .09 inch was recorded.

The month of July got off to a wet beginning with heavy rains on Sunday, the 2nd, and also rain on Monday. The moisture wasn't especially welcomed by the people who wanted to camp or fish over the 4th of July holiday, nor was it welcomed by farmers who are wanting to get the haying season started.

At least the wet conditions and the lush, green foliage did cut down on the danger of fires being started by 4th of July fireworks.

Nels, a Singer/Songwriter, At Juliaetta Library July 13

The Juliaetta Library will host Nels, a singer/songwriter on Thursday, July 13 at 10:30 a. m. Nels, originally from Canada and now living in San Diego, Calif., is a performer who specializes in children's entertainment. He will present a show geared to families at the library with a sing-along and audience participation. His special blend of comedy and repertoire of traditional and original compositions will keep the parents, as well as children, entertained.

This performance is brought to our community courtesy of Moscow's "Rendezvous in the Park". We are fortunate to have this talented entertainer visit our community and the library staff invites everyone to join us for this program.

For more information please call the library at 276-7071

Midnight Basketball Being Sponsored by J-K Advisory Council

The Juliaetta-Kendrick Advisory Council will be sponsoring midnight basketball beginning Friday, July 7. The sessions will be held each Friday and Saturday night through the month of July at Kendrick High School from 11:00 p. m. to 1 a. m. This program is part of the Advisory Council's anti-drug abuse program designed for local young people.

Pomona Grange to Picnic this Saturday

Latah County Pomona Grange will hold its annual picnic this coming Saturday, July 8 at Pomona Park on the highway between Deary and Harvard. It's potluck, so bring all those good summer dishes. And your own table service and beverages. See you at noon at the park.

As for Kendrick Grange, it is taking a vacation this month. Its next regular meeting will be held on August 1.

THANKS FROM BUD A—

Thanks to all of those who helped me or offered to help when my dog was missing. We got him back and certainly appreciated the concern of so many good people. He is happy and so are we! Thanks again, Bud Adamson panied Pat Morey and Darlene Phillips of Lewiston, and Mark and Vicky Campbell and son Robert to visit with Michael and Kaye Morey who were camped out on the East Fork. Kathryn reports it was a good picnic between rain storms.

Amelia Reeves called on her parents Pete and Clara Ware Monday afternoon. Clara and Pete spent the Fourth with Amelia and Jim at their home in Orofino. Frank Saltzger of Peck was also a guest.

Lottie and Ray Jordan of Mead, Wash. visited with her parents, John and Gladys Wilson Saturday. Sunday afternoon Floyd and Frances Dorendorf and son of Clarkia called on John and Gladys.

Lucille Magnuson returned home after spending a week at Harrison with her daughter Gisele Magnuson and her cousin, Lucille enjoyed fishing, reading, needlework, relaxing and visiting with her family. A special treat was observing the Harrison fireworks display from Rick and Gisele's boat.

A note from Mrs. Henrietta Nelson, a former area resident who now makes her home in Council, Idaho, informs us of a visit from her son and two granddaughters who live in Garmisch, Germany.

Monday afternoon Vicky and Dick Bencosoter visited with Larry and Patti Galloway in Lewiston. Tuesday afternoon Ann and Don Turner of Lewiston visited with the Bencosoters. Steve Eichner and Jerry Green of Lewiston called on Dick and Vicky.

Saturday, George and Helen Brocke attended the wedding of Karl Gropp and Kevin Niemela at the First Methodist Church in Moscow.

Good Weather, Good Friends, Good Food Make for Successful V. F. W. Picnic

Under the shade of the pine trees at the Bill and Dorothy Stockman home near Juliaetta, 25 members of Baker-Lind Post 3913, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Auxiliary Unit attended their annual potluck picnic hosted by the Stockmans. The potluck picnic also served to mark the close of the helm of the past year's officers and to bring the newly elected officers aboard.

Order of business was a report from Post and Auxiliary members who attended the VFW's annual State Department's meeting in Pocatello last month. Harold Ellis, Post 3913 Senior Vice Commander and also newly-elected Commander of District II gave a report on the Department meeting. His wife Doris, elected President of District II Auxiliary, gave a summary of the activities at the annual meeting, plus bringing back the awards the Auxiliary received for the past year's activities and achievements. Nice going, ladies, the Post is proud of you!

Under new business, Roberta Bingham addressed the group on a matter dear to her heart. Roberta is on a committee both for the Eagles Lodge and the VFW that is interested in the welfare of the veterans who live in the Veteran's home in Lewiston. She is asking if any member or non-member would be interested in sponsoring a veteran that is in the home if they would like to purchase an $11 ticket for the veteran to attend the Lewiston Round-up that is held in September. These tickets would be given to the veteran's home patient so they could go to one of the daily performances. If anyone is interested in helping on this project, call Roberta at 276-3151.

After all the business was taken care of, the dinner bell was sounded by host Dorothy Stockman and the crowd started to fill their plates like they were part of a threshing crew. Sorry you members couldn't make this annual gathering—there were lots of goodies!

The new leadership of the Post 3913 and the Auxiliary will be none other than Gerald and Lee Halseth.

Cyclist Matt Weyen Qualifies for Olympic Competition in Colorado

Kendrick cyclist Matt Weyen recently returned from San Mateo, California where he competed in the Jr. Olympic qualification time trials June 24 and 25. Matt placed third overall in the 15-16 year-old group which earned him a place on the U. S. Olympic (West) Regional team.

Matt flies to Boulder, Colorado July 20-24, all expenses paid, for the U. S. Olympic Festival 1995 where he will be competing with three other Regional teams.

Matt would like to thank everyone who has shown him support and a special thank you to the "Welcome Home" house-decorating committee!

Meal Site News—

Gardening with less work was explained by Ruth Stout in the movie shown to seniors on Wednesday by Juliaetta librarian Jan Welles.

Friday's Crazy Band banged out cowboy rhythm and the performers displayed colorful western hats and kerchiefs. LenaBelle Morgan played piano for the band and also set the scene for the ranch wedding portrayed by Vera Hutcheson and Lucille Magnuson. Special guest band member was Kari Galloway who dramatically led the marching finale.

The "Beautiful Rose Contest" was announced by Louise Pea. Prizes for best roses will be presented in July to the blooms brought to the mealsite to be enjoyed and measured.

All June birthdays were celebrated June 28th, with the Idaho Old Time Fiddlers entertaining. Norman Olson was the witty Master of Ceremonies for the day. He reminded everyone that "Laughter is the Best Medicine", as he read hilarious stories to the group.

Average attendance for June was 35, with 10 home deliveries. Non-seniors are welcome and usually number 4 or 5. All ages enjoy the nutritious meals prepared by manager-cook Louise Pea and many efficient volunteers.

THANK YOU FROM THE CASCIATO FAMILY

We wish to say "Thank You" for the many prayers, cards, and visits following Donna's surgery June 19. And thanks also for the visits and treats that were brought into our home.

Donna is still recuperating and after some minor complications, is doing well.

Thanks again,
Pastor Jay and Donna Casciato and family

Take what is given and make it over your way.

Local News Of Juliaetta

Thursday, Marie and Milton Grant went to Lewiston to shop. They visited with Marie's father, Wm. Briere who treated the Grants to lunch. Sunday evening Milton and Marie attended the film, "Scars That Heal" at the Kendrick Assembly of God Church.

Sunday Theda Metcalf and Pearl Groseclose visited with Maude Strom who is a patient at Sacred Heart Medical Center in Spokane. Maude has fallen and broken her hip.

Tuesday evening, Janice and Dick Groseclose and Marilou visited with Nellie and Lawrence Heimgartner. They brought along some fireworks to share. Adaline Jassman joined them for the show. Wednesday morning Helen Heidenreich brought her houseguest, Lucille Berg, of Seattle to visit with Nell and Lawrence. Lucille and Nell are cousins.

Ed and Shari Pea and children Kayla and Kyle, spent the Fourth of July weekend at the Harris cabin on Lake Couer d'Alene with their family. Also present were Gary and Pam Gertje and Alyssa, Deb and Dave Klatt, Rick and Jo Gertje and girls, Nikki Klatt and Brenda Alexander and the host and hostess, Kaye and Wayne Harris. Doss and Jerry Harris came over from Rockford Bay on Monday to visit. They were accompanied by Keith, his friend and children. They had a good holiday despite the rain.

One day last week Peggy and Howard Wunderlich and Larry of Lewiston and Kelly and Pat Wunderlich of Ivory Coast, Africa, visited with Lura and Ray Butler. Kelly and Pat are with the American Embassy.

The Buddy Henson family spent the Fourth of July picnicking at Freeman Creek with a number of their family. Those present were Lee and Nancy Swanson, Owen Swanson and Leah Heimgartner, Tony and Kelli Henson, all of Moscow; Chad and Tiffany Henson and sons, Frank and Elaine Groseclose, Lindsey, Syria and Trevor; Stan and Kathy Groseclose, Desmond and Kerri; Deona Hopper, Fred and Marcy Swanson and daughters of Post Falls; and Marvin and Ila Henson of Lewiston. In the evening they enjoyed the fireworks display in Clarkston.

Elvina Wilson spent a quiet 4th of July and enjoyed dinner with Dick and Becky Witt.

Saturday Dian Groseclose, Wendy Parks, and Rob and Eddie Groseclose spent the day with Viola Johns. They enjoyed riding 4-wheelers. On Sunday John and Diann and Ed and Rob and Viola took a drive, going through Cavendish, Cream Ridge, up to Weippe, Pierce and Headquarters. They came back and stopped in Orofino where they had dinner at the Ponderosa. It was a beautiful drive. They visited with Connie Petli in Weippe. Monday Viola and Dian went to Lewiston to shop. They visited with Charlie Bledsoe, who was a patient at the Clarkston Hospital. He was flown to Spokane for continued care on Tuesday.

Saturday Maxine Fry attended the 60th wedding anniversary reception honoring Iris and Ted Vaughn in Lewiston. Saturday evening, Maxine went to the family cabin on Cedar Creek where she spent the weekend and the 4th with her family. She was joined by Norma and Boyd Harrison, Evan and Tyson, and Roy and Sandy Fry and Leah. They had a good family time in spite of the rain and slick road.

THANKS FROM THE BREWER FAMILY

We want to express our appreciation and thanks to the EMTs who responded to our emergency with our daughter, Tara, on the 4th.

We are new to the community and are grateful for the professional care and concern given.

Thanks to all,
William Brewer Family

Insect Stings can be a Serious Health Risk

Summer is nearly upon us, and that means baseball, beaches, barbecues—and bee stings. To be sure, the warm season is time to beware of the "Hymenoptera" sting, that prickly zap inflicted by bees, as well as wasps, hornets, yellow jackets, and some other flying insects. But while the ache and swelling of a sting might spoil an outing for most of us, people who are allergic to insect venom live with a serious—even deadly—threat.

No one's sure how many people are allergic to insect venom, says Dr. C. Warren Bierman, clinical professor of pediatrics at the University of Washington and president of the Northwest Asthma and Allergy Center, some estimates, however, claim the figure is about one in 200. For the average person, a bee sting causes temporary skin inflammation, which can be treated with hydrocortisone cream and a cold compress; if the stinger remains in the skin, it should be scraped away (avoid Continued on Page 4

Military Rifles Missing From V. F. W. Hall

It has come to our attention that the VFW have four M1 rifles missing, stolen, or forgotten were they belong. These rifles are fitted with blank adaptors and are used for military funerals of our departed comrades. The rifles are the property of the United States government, assigned to the Veterans Services organizations. By the time you read this or hear the news from another source, it will have been reported to the county sheriff's office and the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), as required by the agreement as stolen government property. If anyone knows the whereabouts of these four rifles, please call Post Commander Gerald Halseth, 289-8267. We are now gathering the names of the persons that rented the VFW hall and the list of guests that were present at these gatherings. All this information will be turned over to the FBI.

We would very much like to have the four rifles returned to the VFW Post Hall.

We're a small community, let's be honest with our neighbors and ourselves.

Waste Reduction Hotline 1-800-373-2099

The North Central District Health Department has recently begun a Waste Reduction Hotline service. The Hotline, 1-800-373-2099 is a toll free telephone call from any location in Idaho. This waste reduction program services all residents and businesses of Clearwater, Idaho, Latah, Lewis, and Nez Perce counties. The program is designed to provide a resource for information on all aspects of waste reduction. The Hotline operators are available from 8:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. to answer questions on waste disposal, recycling, composting, salvaging, and household hazardous wastes. The Hotline has the information on price, location, and restrictions for all waste disposal options, recycling options, and has the latest information on waste reduction techniques, and environmentally friendly products. Technical information is available on recycled commodities, purchasing recycled products (from paper to clothing made from plastics), and backyard composting techniques.

"Waste disposal costs are skyrocketing. What can I do to cut these costs?"

"Am I getting the best service at the lowest price on my recyclables?"

"What can I salvage, not create waste, and actually get paid for?"

"How can I save money by not buying garbage in the first place?"

These are just a few of the questions answered by the Hotline. You can also find out where to take motor oil, car batteries, scrap appliances, yard waste, or leftover latex paint. In addition, the Hotline is the contact number to request a free business waste audit or a presentation for your specific organization. If you would like more information on these services, call the Hotline.

The Hotline program is funded through a Farmer's Home Administration Solid Waste Management Grant, and plans to provide statewide information by late this year. A wealth of information is available through the Hotline. Many of these tips may result in cost savings to businesses and individuals. Use the Hotline, it's free!

Campers Spent Weekend Near Elk River

The Kendrick Campers Klub had a most enjoyable campout near Elk River over the weekend. Those making the trip: Jim and Jeanette Theil, Juanita Craig, Jeanne Wadford, Wayne Wegner, Ruby and Merrill Horney, Gordon and Frances Peters, and Marge and Elmo Eldridge. Each evening they enjoyed beautiful campfire and visiting. One morning they observed moose near the campsite. The group went into Elk River Saturday evening to attend the fireworks display which was excellent. The ladies also took in a craft show while in town.

Activities were card playing, 4-wheeling, walking, needlework and just relaxing. Wayne Wegner entertained one evening by playing his harmonica. A special treat was driving to the grove of giant cedars located in the Elk River basin. One tree is 177 feet tall and has a diameter of 18 feet.

The campers had their traditional potluck meal Saturday evening. Also, the mosquitoes were alive, well and hungry.

Transportation Dept. Sets Kendrick Meeting July 11

By Frank Jacobson
General public knowledge about what exactly the Idaho Department of Transportation intends to do with Hwy 3 through Kendrick remain practically non-existent, thanks to a failure all around to communicate. Certainly this newspaper has not been provided information to share with its readers concerning this very important project, although your local reporter understands that the Moscow paper did provide coverage of a meeting held back in early April.

To help inform the public concerning the highway project, Assistant District Engineer Kevin Rigby will be at the Firehall in Kendrick at 7:30 p. m. on July 11, to talk in specific terms about the project, its design elements and their effect on traffic and life and business along Main Street. Rigby will also attempt to answer the questions some folks have been raising particularly those that relate to Kendrick's intention to replace sewer and water lines under Main Street.

While city council members intend to be present at the meeting, they will not discuss the utilities replacement project, which is still in the planning stage. Although they have hired the engineering firm to do the work, an ongoing study of sewage system flow through the lagoon this summer will delay finalizing plans and estimating costs. No, this will be a Department of Transportation meeting, with city council members there to learn just like the rest of us.

They (the council), of course have been much better informed than the general public. Back in April the Department of Transportation gave the council two plans to consider, one of which would provide for a bike path down Main Street but at the expense of numerous trees. The council rejected both plans. Subsequently the state provided a third plan providing for 12-foot wide traffic lanes and 8-ft. parking space. All of these plans have been at City Hall but because of their size have not allowed for convenient public display. One would like to believe that the technology exists for the Department of Transportation to make the latest plan available for public view and study in a reasonable and convenient format.

Questions about the highway project go beyond design concerns, of course. A major question, given the cost of the Transportation Department's engineering studies to date, concerns whether they wouldn't in fact proceed with the project even though the city of Kendrick might not be able to meet its deadline concerning sewer and water line replacement under Main Street. Can the Transportation Department, given the sad condition of the highway, do anything but proceed to bring it up to standard now?

Park News

by Joay Smith

Cool rain called a halt to farming activities in Park, catching only a few acres of hay on the ground. As soon as the weather settles down, haying will start in earnest, with a better than average yield expected.

Activities have been many and varied for Park folks. Visitors with Karl and Wanda Enger have been her brother and sister-in-law, Don and Jan Mullins of Orofino, and their son Bill; Wanda's sister and brother-in-law, Inez and Terry Willenborg of Juliaetta; and friends Barbara Bennett, her son Justin and his friend Jake Session, all of Lewiston.

Visiting Jerry and Jody Smith have been their daughter, Barbara Kinzer and granddaughters Joy and Erin of Pullman; Mark LaBolle and sons Daniel and Andy of Texas Ridge, and brother Don Smith of Moscow.

Kay and Doug Stout and son Nathan visited her parents, Clinton and Ethel Smith June 18, to help Ethel celebrate her birthday.

A light turn-out of pioneers and their families enjoyed the biennial Park Reunion Picnic Saturday, June 24. Little Boulder Creek Campground was the site of the event attended by picnickers from Idaho, Washington, and Oregon. Several families were unable to attend because of conflicting activities, such as an Enger family reunion in Minnesota and several who usually attend were in ill health. Those traveling furthest were Bud and Elaine (Ringsage) Breithaupt, Portland, Oregon. The oldest picnicker was Earl Fournier, 86, of Cataldo, Idaho, and the youngest was Dillon Lease, 3-years-old, who came with his grandmother, Andrea Kirk Olson and his great-grandfather, Bill Kirk.

Plates filled to overflowing were centered by generous portions of roast pork and followed by a large selection of homemade desserts and melon. Cameras were limbered up and conversations flowed for several hours. The day finished up with an auction of donated items, the proceeds of which will insure the continuation of the picnics, paying for news-letters and picnic supplies for the coming years. Jerry Smith proved that his attendance at many farm and estate auctions has given him more than an amateur status as an auctioneer as he "cried" the sale with great success.

Some gatherings the Smith families have attended recently have included two family picnics in Lewiston. The first, hosted by Uncle Lloyd and Aunt Ethel Slatter, was in honor of the visit of his daughter Bonnie Parvie and two granddaughters, Joy and Gail, who were visiting the Slatters from Minnesota. The second, hosted by Anna Hunter, was in honor of her son, Don Weber, his wife, Margaret and their six children, visiting from Hermiston, Oregon.

After the Park Picnic, Bud and Elaine Breithaupt visited Jerry and Jody Smith and enjoyed the entertainment of the farm animals.

Last Sunday, the Jerry Smiths made a business trip to Colfax and while there paid a visit to Mrs. Thelma Stratton, and a brief call on the Kinzers.

This past Sunday evening, the Smiths joined many other relatives and friends enjoying the country wedding of Larry LaBolle to Pamela Neal at the LaBolle family ranch on Texas Ridge. Formal protocol went by the wayside as the festivities were drenched by pouring rain, but makeshift tents caught the worst of the

Wolf Course Offered At UI Clark Fork Campus

North America's most fascinating predator, the wolf, is the topic of a one-day class offered Sunday, July 30, at the University of Idaho Clark Fork Field Campus in Clark Fork, Idaho.

The class covers the natural history of wolves, as well as the myths and folklore surrounding wolves. Instructors for the courses are wildlife biologist and educator Patricia Tucker from the Northern Rockies Wolf Ambassador Program and documentary film maker and writer trying to pluck out a stinger with tweezers, which can squeeze more venom into the wound. However, those allergic to bee or wasp poison develop a hypersensitivity after the first sting. The immune system reacts to subsequent stings with a massive production of antibodies. Although antibodies are needed to fight off foreign proteins that invade the body—such as bacteria or viruses—the allergic reaction to insect venom is excessive and dangerous. "Once you develop those antibodies, you'll react every time," says Bierman. "And with each following sting, the reactions tend to get worse."

In a typical case, the victim will break out in hives, often within minutes of the sting. If left untreated, the symptoms get scarier: the victim might experience anaphylactic shock, which causes a dramatic drop in blood pressure, swollen throat, and difficulty breathing. "Death is always a possibility," says Bierman, stressing that anyone who experiences these symptoms following an insect sting should report to an emergency room immediately.

Doctors treat the sting victim with adrenaline, intramuscularly and at the site of the sting, which slows the absorption of venom. Patients are sent home with emergency kits that include a syringe preloaded with Adrenaline. Because many people are uneasy about giving themselves shots, Bierman favors an EpiPen, a spring-driven device that works with a simple tap against the thigh.

For the most serious cases of venom allergy, immunotherapy is used to build up the patient's resistance to the poison. By giving the sufferer small doses of the venom over a period of time, the patient's immune system can become desensitized, reducing the risk of strong allergic reactions. Immunotherapy is an effective tive treatment, but it takes several years of gradually increased dosing to have its full effect.

Unfortunately, no amount of bug spray will scare away a determined bee or wasp. Bug sprays repel biting insects, such as mosquitos, but have little effect on stinging pests, says Bierman. But, whether you're allergic or not, he adds, there's still plenty you can do to keep from getting stung.

* Avoid wearing bright colors—stinging insects, especially bees, might mistake you for a flower. Perfume can attract their interest, too. If you insist on wearing flowers in your hair, consider yourself warned.

* Food left out in the open attracts stinging insects, too. Keep garbage areas tidy. Children who spill watermelon or other summer foods on their clothes should be changed into clean jogs before being allowed to play outside.

* Wear shoes when outdoors (in case you step on an insect, or even a nest).

* If you're with someone who gets stung, get away. After they strike, bees and yellow jackets give off a chemical that angers other stinging insects, for as much as a block away.
