Genesee Drops Tigers 46-0 in In Football Opener

Coach Kevin Driskill took his young, inexperienced KHS Tigers to Genesee Friday night to open the 1995 Whitepine League 8-man football season and the squad came home with the short end of a 46-0 score. This Friday night the Tigers are at Deary against the Deary Mustangs, one of the state's top-rated eight-man teams.

The game with the Bulldogs was cut short with 4 minutes, 34 seconds remaining in the fourth quarter on the 45-point rule, but it was still a long, frustrating contest for the Tigers.

Genesee jumped out to a 16-point first quarter lead and were ahead 40-0 at half time. The Bulldogs used its bench strength in the second half and neither team scored. A 71-yard run by Bulldog fullback Colby Aherin put the Genesee squad ahead by over 45 points and automatically brought the game to an end.

Despite its less than encouraging debut Friday night, Coach Driskill was still looking forward to the new season. "We've got nowhere to go but up," he said about his team. "We played a tough team Friday night," he said, but was confident his squad will show improvement as the players get some experience. Kendrick had 26 players turnout for the team this year, slightly up from the 1994 season. Only three of the players returning lettered last season—Luke Ford, Steve Hill and Cody Holden. "Our depth and experience are real thin," Driskill said.

Starters for the Tigers this season are:

Quarterback: Nick Silflow
Tailback: Jim Tate
Tailbacks: Steve Hill and Dan Brown will alternate from the other tailback slot.
Tight Ends: Seth Greer and Luke Ford
Guards: Tony Kappa and Cody Holden
Center: Matt Tefft
Game time Friday night is 7 p. m. on the DHS gridiron.

Nez Perce to Showcase Their Cultural Sept. 2

The National Park Service will host the 11th Annual Nez Perce Cultural Day at Spalding, Idaho from noon until dusk, on Saturday, September, 2. The event will take place in the shade of the arboretum at Spalding, 14 miles east of Lewiston, Idaho on U. S. Highway 95.

The purpose of the event is to provide the Nez Perce people with the opportunity to share their culture, traditions and history with park visitors and neighbors. "We sponsor this event each year to help facilitate a better understanding and appreciation for Native American culture," commented Nez Perce Historical Park Superintendent Frank Walker.

Highlights of this free event include a horse parade at noon, followed by cultural demonstrations of arts and crafts, presentations by guest speakers, drumming and dance demonstrations, and children's activities. Food concessions will offer fry bread and snack items.

For more information contact Nez Perce National Historical Park at (208) 843-2261.

Julietta Library's Storytime Programs Begin September 7

The beginning of the school year brings the end of the Julietta Library's Summer programs and begins its school year programs. The library has a pre-school storytime every Thursday at 10:30. Storytime will begin on Thursday, Sept. 7 this year. The program is designed for 3 to 5 year olds who are not yet in school, but the library staff welcomes any younger siblings who wish to tag along! Staff members will read several books to the children and then usually do an easy craft for them to take home.

Every third Thursday of each month the library is joined by Mrs. Denner's Kindergarten class from Julietta Elementary School. The children will watch two short movies provided by the Idaho State Library. The Kindergarten class is allowed to check out a book during these visits. First and Second grades from the school also make monthly visits to the library. Any book that the students check out from the Julietta Community Library may be returned to the grade school. The library has a special return box in the office at the school for this purpose. Students must have a library card to check out books from the library. Applications will be sent home from school or you may sign up at the library for your child's card. Please remember that the use of the library is a privilege and all parents should encourage their children to treat books with respect and kindness! They are responsible for taking care of the books they check out from the library and everyone appreciates it when the books are returned promptly so someone else may enjoy them.

The library also has a wide collection of adult reading material as well as audio books, magazines, and videos. Our video collection changes monthly and they may be checked out for 48 hours. Those who haven't visited the library lately don't know what they are missing! The Julietta Community Library is a branch of the Latah County Library District and if material is not at the library it can usually be obtained.

Stop by and visit during open hours: Mondays 3 to 6; Wednesdays 3 to 8; Thursdays 10 to 6 and Saturdays from 10 to 12. Or, phone for more information 276-7071.

Meal Site News—

By Marjorie Cobb
Lowell and Muriel Hubbard of Julietta entertained the seniors and guests with omnichord music Aug. 9. Group singing added to the program with harmony and rhythm.

Phyllis Berg described the theme for the Community Theatrical production to be presented Sept. 10 at Kendrick Park. Historical vignettes of various periods in the Kendrick area will be offered by local participants. The famous "Lard Bucket Brigade" of senior citizens and helpers will be adding their act with Gay Nineties songs.

Louise Pea, mealsite manager, announced a new method for returning meal trays to the kitchen. She requests that trays be moved to the center end of tables so that volunteers can gather them for cleaning.

LenaBelle Morgan provided a surprise program on Aug. 11 with vocal selections and her on accompaniment.

LenaBelle continues to welcome diners each session with her piano solos.

After dinner August 16, Wayne Wegner played some lively tunes on his harmonica. His program included lullabies and waltzes for variety.

Average attendance has increased to 38, with 12 non-seniors enjoying the nutritious noon meals. Home deliveries are being made to 12 shut-ins.

Lucky numbers were drawn by LenaBelle Morgan, Elizabeth Mickelson and Connie Lohman.

NEW ARRIVALS—

Ethel Renfrow stopped by the Gazette office Monday afternoon with more information on the family tree for her new granddaughter, Courtney Elizabeth Sell, born to Steve and Vicki Sell of Boise.

Courtney's great-grandparents are Lee and Lucille Bowers, and great-great-grandmothers are Mary Bowers and Belva Bradshy of Lincoln, Nebraska.

Grandfather Doug Sell's parents are Irving and Laurel Sell of Rapid City, South Dakota.

THANK YOU FROM THEDA M.
I want to thank all my family and friends for the special care and concern given to me while I was hospitalized and since returning home. Your calls, visits, cards, and prayers are dear to me.
God Bless you all,
Theda Metcalf

Tuesday Rain Halts Harvest Again

Harvest of the 1995 small grain and legume crops was back in full swing early this week after a week's delay caused by heavy rain and deliveries were being taken in from all areas—until Tuesday morning when a short, moderate rain storm moved in and soaked the fields.

The Tuesday storm was just another chapter in what a been a long, frustrating season for farmers. The growing season was good, with above average moisture, but as the season progressed the moisture continued to come down, the temperatures remained on the cool side and the crops were slow to ripen. When harvest did get started it was producing good yields in both quality and quantity. The farmers not yet got to the peak of harvest when another series of heavy rain soaked the fields forcing about a week's delay in harvest operations.

The storms moved out, the skies cleared and the weather warmed up during the days and last week the harvest started again and was getting well along until this Tuesday morning when rain started just after 8 a. m.

Talking with the local warehouses Monday morning (before the rain) every one was pleased and optimistic. Dean Brocke of Brocke and Sons reported that the firm had taken in about half of the expected pea harvest and lentils were getting a good, if late, start. Brocke said the first rains hadn't appeared to do as much damage to the crops as was first thought and the yields were "excellent" Garbanzos were still to come.

Randy Olstad, manager of Lewiston Grain Growers Kendrick operations said Monday that the quality of the grain had held up well before this last rain and about 1 1/2 per cent was the highest sprouting that had been noted. Olstad said he estimated that harvest was about two-thirds complete with crops at least average or above. Lentils and spring barley has yet to come in in any quantity.

Kendrick Rochdale reported that they were "pretty much at the end" of expected wheat deliveries—that was Monday morning—with spring wheat and lentils still to come.

Software Assistants Classes to Resume

The Computer Classroom will open again in September. Classes for GTE in Moscow kept instructors Rich and Nora Abbott busy for the summer. The contract has been fulfilled and classes again are scheduled. A new workshop, "How to Purchase a PC" has been created in response to requests, and several new classes have been developed. EXCEL and QUICKEN classes are new, ALPHA FIVE and ACCESS are planned, and when as people upgrade their systems a class in WINDOWS 95 will be offered.

Simple Remedies Help Fight Impetigo, a Common Summer Skin Malady

Soap and water and petroleum jelly may be best first line of defense against impetigo, the blistering skin infection that erupts most often in hot, humid climates during the summer, says a Stanford University pediatric dermatologist.

Dr. Alfred T. Lane, chair and associate professor of dermatology and pediatrics, says impetigo is characterized by a honey-colored crust or blisters, often red and pus-filled, that just seems to grow—on the face, especially around the nose, or sometimes on the hands or feet. Usually, Lane says, a scratch or insect bite exposes the victim to one of two common bacteria which infect the wound.

"The impetigo-causing bacteria can exist harmlessly on the skin but cannot penetrate the skin and cause symptoms until an opening occurs," Lane notes.

Although impetigo may occur in any age group, it is most common among children, because they tend to injure their skin more often than adults, Lane says. About 2 to 3 percent of visits to pediatricians nationwide are for impetigo, the most common bacterial skin infection in children, he says.

The dermatologist says that washing the wound will help get rid of the bacteria that cause impetigo, and then petroleum jelly will help keep the clean wound lubricated to aid in fighting the infection.

"There is no clear evidence that over-the-counter antibiotics are any more effective against impetigo than petroleum jelly," Lane explains.

However, he says if the infection seems to be getting worse three or four days after onset, it may be time to seek medical attention. A physician can write a prescription for an effective antibiotic cream or oral medication that should fight the infection quickly.

Nora Abbott Contracted To Work with K-J Development Assoc.

Nora Abbott, of Software Assistants, has been awarded a contract to provide clerical and organizational services to the Kendrick-Julietta Community Development Association. Association president Dana Magnuson expressed his confidence that Ms. Abbott's considerable expertise in computer hardware and software skills, as well as her ability to "get things done" will enable the Association membership to focus its attention and energy on projects that benefit the two communities—such as Kendrick's Main Street project, the annual Christmas lighting display contest, the Prevention Advisory Council's goal of a youth center, publication of a business directory, the annual community play (coming up Sept. 10), many other projects.

Ms. Abbott is heartily welcomed to our community and to her new role as Development Association staff.

Community Play Set for Sept. 10

The Kendrick-Julietta Community Players have been rehearsing in the park for the past few weeks in preparation of presenting their second annual offering to the public. A play, "The Dubious History of the Potlatch Valley," will include a variety of your friends and family members from pre-school through great-grandparents taking liberties, mostly decent, with our local history.

From the legend of Coyote, through the roaring twenties, feast, flood and fire to the reincarnation of Elvis, you will see it all in Kendrick's City Park on Sunday, Sept. 10 beginning at 4:00.

This is truly a community event so please bring the family and be prepared to relax and enjoy the show!

Rehearsals are Tuesday and on Thursday at 7:00 in the park. Anyone interested is welcome to attend.

Auto Repair Shop To Open in Julietta

Bill Roberts, formerly of Harvard, said this week that he will open a new automotive repair service, AABC Transmission, next Tuesday, Sept. 5, located where Groseclose's Garage used to be, across the street from First Bank of Pizza.

Roberts, who has 15 years experience in the trade will do oil changes, general automotive repair, and differential case and transmission work and well has tire sales. He said he will also offer a 24-hour emergency service.

The hours of the new business will be Mondays to Friday from 9 to 5.

Main St. Project Will be Topic of Aug. 31 Meeting

An information meeting to discuss Kendrick's proposed Main Street project will be held Thursday evening, August 31, at 7:00 o'clock at the fire hall. Under consideration are plans to rebuild that portion of State Highway 3 that serves as main street for Kendrick and also replacing the city's aging and deteriorated water and sewer lines that lay under the highway. The State Transportation Dept. has scheduled the rebuilding of the highway for the summer of 1996, but the Department has told the city that it will be reluctant to commit major rebuilding funds on the project unless the water and sewer lines are guaranteed to be in good condition to avoid the risk of having to tear up a new highway to repair leaking water and sewer pipes. The city is faced with the task of: 1. Finding what the exact condition of water and sewer lines are under the street; 2. How much the cost would be to bring these lines up to acceptable condition; 3. Will the residents of Kendrick be willing to approve a major bond issue to finance such a project; 4. Where will be money, if the project is approved come from; 5. And, can federal or state help in the form of grant money be obtained in time to meet the Transportation Department's work schedule. These are a few of the problems that have kept Mayor Jerry Brown and the council occupied these past months.

The Thursday meeting is being called to bring the latest information on these topics (and probably more) to the public. Mayor Brown said Tuesday that representatives from the Clearwater Economic Development Association (CEDA), the Dept. of Transportation, and the city council and city engineers working on the project are all expected to be present to answer questions and take public comment.

Until the engineers that have been hired by the city to make a determination of the condition of the water and sewer lines make a final report the city is handicapped by its inability to be able to tell residents what the scope and cost of the repairs will be or even to say what the exact amount of a bond issue is needed to pay the city's share.

Being as accurate and honest as he could be with the information that is currently available, Brown said the total cost of the project would be $850,000. Some of this estimated cost would be saved if the city coordinates the replacing of water and sewer lines with the state's highway rebuilding. This would save on excavating costs to the city. CEDA will be working closely with the city in its attempt to secure an Idaho Community Development Block Grant, to help pay for the project. But grants also involve matching funds. To secure the matching funds the city, most certainly, will have to approve a bond issue. A bond issue would be paid for through revenue from water and sewer fees. How much a raise this would be for the user would depend on the amount, and redemption time. With solid figures not yet available to be and the council, Brown estimated that the project could add "about $10 or $12 a month" to the current fee.

This appears to be known for certain: the city will soon have firm figures on the project, a bond issue to pay for the project will be put before the voters in November for approval or rejection; if the issue is approved bids will be let in February of next year.

Public attendance at the Thursday meeting is urged.

Campers Enjoyed Weekend at Laird Park

The Kendrick Camper Klub returned to Laird Park for another relaxing weekend campout. Campers joining together were Merrill and Ruby Horney, Bob and Mary Ellen Bottjer, Juanita Craig, Vi Erickson, Wayne Wegner, Gordon and Frances Peters, Jim and Jeanette Thiel, Jeanette's mother, Reba Toomey of Shoshone, and Elmo and Marge Eldridge.

Friday evening Wayne and Gordon entertained the group with harmonica music as the group sat around the campfire. Saturday noon Dick and Mary Beth McCall joined the campers for the traditional potluck dinner. Saturday evening Wayne again provided entertainment with his harmonica featuring news flashes and commercials.

Activities enjoyed were 4-wheeling, cards, bikes, games and visiting. The group broke camp Sunday evening, having had another great time.

A great part of courage is the courage of having done the thing before.

costs and average of $350 per student for the basic wardrobe and supplies for the first week of school. There are definite advantages to having grey hair and your kids all grown.

Leah Smith visited her parents, Clinton and Ethel Smith Tuesday as she moves back to Moscow from Moscow to Spokane. Her summer was spent in and internship at Sacred Heart Medical Center where she worked in cardiac rehabilitation. She is returning to the U. of I. where she will work on her master's degree in sports medicine.

Saturday Ethel and Jody Smith went to Lewiston to attend the baby blue shower for their niece Heather Browning at Pioneer Park. Following the shower and a bit of shopping, they attended the 50th wedding Anniversary reception for Archie and Lila DeGraf at the VFW Hall. Returning through Troy, Ethel joined Clinton for a trip to Moscow to attend the first of the season's volleyball games, a match between the alumna, including Leah, and the current team.

On Sunday Jerry and Jody Smith enjoyed a joint birthday celebration hosted by Lee and Linda Horning for her step-father, Jim Bower, and Jerry. Following a bountiful, planned potluck dinner with a decorated cake and all the trimmings, members of the Deary Community Church board of directors met for their regular business meeting.

Karl and Wanda Enger's visitors this past week have included her brother Bob Mullins from Orofino on Tuesday. Her sister and brother-in-law Inez and Terry Willenborg of Juliaetta, and Inez's grandchildren, Kellie and Kevin Walk, Southwick, visited on Sunday.

Don't Stress: Get the Facts on Ulcers

Hectic work schedules, caffeine and spicy foods may have unwanted side effects—ulcers are not one of them.

Surprised? Well, you may also want to know that the majority of ulcers can be easily treated and often cured.

"It's bugs or drugs, not stress or diet, that cause most ulcers," says Dr. Michael Kimmey, University of Washington associate professor of medicine and director of the Gastrointestinal Endoscopy Service at UW Medical Center. "Many people who suffer from these ulcers don't know they can be cured."

More than 25 million Americans are affected by ulcers, an ailment many view as a come-and-so nuisance that must simply be endured. Peptic ulcers are irritations or sores in the lining of the stomach or the first part of the small intestine, called the duodenum. They can be caused by anti-inflammatory medications, such as aspirin and ibuprofen, or, rarely by tumors that lead to excessive stomach acid.

Yet the majority of ulcers are caused by "bugs": the bacteria Helicobacter pylori (H. pylori). This bacteria is found in the stomach and is present in more than 90 percent of peptic ulcer patients. These types of ulcers can be treated, and usually cured, with common antibiotics.

"In the past, many patients with ulcers stayed on acid-reducing medications for the rest of their lives," Kimmey says. "Now, people diagnosed early can be treated once and be finished with it."

To seek treatment, a person must first know the warning signs of ulcers. Common ulcer symptoms include an aching or burning pain in the upper part of the abdomen. This pain may often go away after eating or taking antacids and may cause a person to wake up at night. If the ulcer begins to bleed, a person may also throw up blood. Kimmey advises anyone suffering persistent, frequent stomach pains that do not get better to see their doctor.

Local News Of Juliaetta

(Delayed From Last Week)

Saturday Wendy Parks and Vanessa Clemenhagen visited with Viola Johns. They took Viola for a ride in their new vehicle. Viola returned home with them and spent the afternoon. Tuesday Earl Arndt called on Viola bringing her freshly picked blackberries.

Sunday Wayne and Frances Parsons of Cloverland, Wash. visited with Juanita Craig. It was a good visit.

August 9 Fonda and Richard Wilson of Genesee treated Lowell and Muriel Hubbard to dinner out in Lewiston. They were celebrating Lowell's birthday. Visitors on Saturday were Marsha Shroeffler and Eva of Moscow and Fonda and Richard. Sunday Ray and Dorothy Knutson of Lewiston joined the Hubbards for an evening of pinochle.

Last Tuesday Marie Grant attended the memorial service for Myota Simons in Clarkston and the gravesite services in Moscow. Also attending were Connie Williams, Vera Hutcheson and Lorraine Gustafson. Sunday Marie and Darlene Baker attended the special service at the Assembly of God church featuring a missionary speaker. They enjoyed the fellowship hour following. Milton and Marie went to Lewiston on Tuesday and visited Marie's father, William Briere. Mr. Briere treated them to dinner out.

(This Week's News)
Ray Butler received word that his sister, Nelda Butler Guchert, who was well-known in this area, passed away recently at Port Angeles, Washington. Other survivors, in addition to Ray, are two sisters, Jessie Erlwine and Jimmy Delaney. Sympathy is extended to the family and friends.

Saturday afternoon, Ray and Lura Butler enjoyed attending the wedding of her great-granddaughter, Valerie Frederick to Jason Johnson at the Moscow Nazarene Church. Both young people are from Deary. Jerry and Bobbi Pederson of Electric City, Wash., and grandson Mitchell spent Friday and Saturday with his mother Gertrude Pederson. Herb and Erin Pederson of Ephrata arrived Saturday and left for home Sunday. They were all here to attend the wedding of Jerry's son, Justin Pederson and Angel Jones Saturday afternoon at Clarkston. Others attending were Gertrude, Ken Pederson and Verlin and Marilyn Benjamin.

Gertrude Pederson and Marilyn Benjamin visited with Pearl Groseclose Monday morning.

Cynthia Nye visited with Lawrence and Nell Heimgartner Thursday, and Friday visitors were Katie Hoisington and Viola Johns. Janice and Dick Groseclose visited with Nell and Lawrence during the week.

Owen Swanson and Leah Heimgartner of Moscow visited with Grandma Grace Groseclose Sunday.

Jerry Polumsky of Orofino called on his parents, Ray and Delores Polumsky, Sunday and helped out with some chores.

Adaline Jassman accompanied Sonja Lohman to her home at Southwick one day last week and enjoyed visiting and having dinner with Sonja and Ron.

Dixie and Bob Porter of Lewiston stopped by Monday afternoon and visited with Adaline. Sonja Lohman took Adaline to Kendrick shopping Monday and in the evening Ted and Blanche Dorendorf of Deary visited with Adaline.

Earl Arndt visited with Viola Johns last Tuesday, and Mark Fox of Clarkston visited with Viola on Wednesday evening. Viola accompanied Diann Groseclose to Lewiston Thursday.

Viola enjoyed a birthday party and barbecue Friday afternoon and evening honoring three of her great-grandchildren at the home of Doug and Jeanie Johns. Viola enjoyed another birthday party Saturday for the same great-grandchildren at the home of Michelle and Terry Johns. She also enjoyed visiting with Jennie's sister and two children who were here from Spokane.

Alice and Greg Broemeling enjoyed a family reunion in Montana. Alice remained for a longer visit with her mother Myrtle Westfall in Stevensville and also visited her daughter Kim Roth and family in Missoula.

Sunday Ed and Shari Pea, Kayla and Kyle, and Dan and Karla Lamber, Josh and Erika went on a fire wood hunt near Clarkia. They also found nice huckleberries and had a fun day.

Changes Made in Idaho Child Care Program

The Idaho Department of Health and Welfare will tighten requirements for the Idaho Child Care Program beginning Sept. 1 (based on recommendations received at 36 meetings with parents and child care providers across the state. Changes will ensure federal funds for the program are specifically used to help poor parents keep or obtain jobs. The program helps 2,300 low-income working families cover a portion of their child care costs. Federal funds for the program total $6 million a year.

"Through these changes, we are looking to extend available funds," said Kathy James of the Department's Division of Family and Community Services. "Reimbursement for students has been cut back, parents who have providers come to their homes will be greater restrictions, and the program will no longer reimburse parents for care provided by someone living in the home."

Changes include:

Education: A parent must be full-time, undergraduate student not pursuing a graduate degree. If a part-time student, they must be working, with class and work time equaling 160 hours, and child care reimbursement made only for class time;

Educational grants: Grant and scholarship money for education and child care will not be counted as income, but only if the applicant proves the money was spent on education and child care;

In-home child care: For families with fewer than four children receiving care, costs of a provider coming to the home will only be covered if work or training occurs; when no other child care facility is operating; if the area has no other child care facility; or if a child's disability or illness cannot be handled by another facility;

In-home providers: Child care provided by a person living at the same address will not be reimbursed;

Provider claims: If a parent does not submit a child care claim and the provider can prove non-payment the provider can file a claim directly to the Idaho Child Care Program

Families seeking more information may contact their local Idaho Child Care Program Office
