Kendrick Preparing For Annual Festival

The 36th annual Locust Blossom Festival is just around the corner-Saturday, May 25. This has been a year of memory-making events and this year's chosen theme, "Small Towns-Big Memories", reflects this past year.

If you really don't feel capable of preparing a float, your business or home can still participate in the festvities by decorating and/or costuming.

The parade will be judged in the usual themes: Best Overall Entry; Best of Theme; Best Costume; Best Royalty; Most Humorous, and Marching groups. There will also be trophies for horse entries: best individual, Best Group, and Best Horse drawn. Trophies will be awarded to both individual automobile entries as well as a trophy for the best automobile club represented.

There is action and events of interest for everyone from the Fun Run in the morning to 3 on 3 basketball; from eating BBQ dinner Time Fiddlers play; from the Arts and Crafts show to playing bingo in the park; as well as children's races, raffles and duck races. A new event will also be the traditional pioneer registration. Beginning in the afternoon, a street dance will be sponsored by the Antelope Inn.

It's all good old fishioned fun for a town that change hasn't affected all that much. It's friendly faces and fun for those who live here as well as those who visit on that day.

This year the Grand Marshall's of the day will be Dick and Velma Benjamin, long-time community servants who were chosen by the Lions Club, and Fred and Jean Clemenhagen, lifelong residents of the area, who were chosen by the V. F. W.

To those who give endlessly of their time and talents to perform the many tasks needed to provide for a successful festival day, we all owe our thanks and respect. Maybe forget what a unique day with very special events and relationships the moments of that day provide for both young and old. Maybe this from a "have to do" to enjoying, or perhaps even savoring these moments that are too soon gone.

It is hard to understand why more Southwick News seniors don't assume responsibility for the center's future by becoming contributing members of Golden Sunset Senior Citizens for $12 a year, one dollar a month to have a say in the affairs of the incorporation that owns and maintains the community facility known as the Senior Center.

Turning to expenses of maintaining and operating the center, Jacobson reported that the percentage of expenses for building operations ed phone calls from sons Mike in were down slightly-the same for utilities-although the dollar costs we tend to take it for granted and are somewhat higher. Cost of 18 hours of paid custodial service per month accounted for 1 out of every 5 dollars spent,, while Washington Water Power, which charges the year your perspective will change center at the commercial rate, takes 1 out of very 4 dollars spent on operations.

Fun Week for 5th Grade

(Delayed from Last Week) Our class has been learning how to multiply and divide decimals in math. In English, we have been learning about compound words and adverbs. Also, in spelling this week we are learning about stressed syllables. It has all been fun.

We went on a field trip to the play "Beauty and the Beast" at W. S. U. and had lunch at a park on Wednesday. We had early release on Monday. It has been very fun this week.

SPECIAL THANKS FROM JOHN AND ELMER

We'd like to thank the relatives who made it possible and the friends and family who attended our 80th birthday party.

We really enjoyed all the wonderful food and the opportunity to visit with all of you.

Special thanks to Patsy Christensen, Judy Clark, Eileen Ball, and Kelly Plowman for arranging the party and organizing the photos and thanks to RoseAnn Holt for providing the pretty flower arrangements. John and Elmer Cuddy
