Advent Season is Upon Us Once More

By Pastor Bob Lambert
Juliaetta Church of the Nazarene

Christmas is soon upon us. A very busy time of the year, presents to buy, families, friends and various groups getting together to party and celebrate, meals to plan and prepare for, guest lists and invitations to send, we all are very busy, busy. But what is Christmas all about anyway?

IT'S ABOUT THE BIRTH OF JESUS CHRIST THE SAVIOR TO THE WORLD. So let us celebrate the birth of Jesus. One of the ways is to celebrate with the Advent wreath. There are four candles, each to represent the four Sundays before Christmas and the fifth candle is to be on Christmas eve or on Christmas day.

The word Advent means—"the coming event", or "arrival". Thus the (birth) of Jesus Christ, the son of God.

No. 1. The First Sunday of Advent. November 30, 1997.

EXPECTATION—HOPE THE OPENING WORDS:

God inspired the prophets of old that they should foretell of this great promise of a Messiah. Many generations of people lived in expectation, hoping that this promise would be fulfilled in their day. We also live in a day of anticipation, knowing that Christ will return to us, perhaps in our lifetime.

THE READING OF THE LECTONARY TEXT:

"At that time the kingdom of heaven will be like ten virgins who took their lamps and went out to meet the bridegroom. Five of them were foolish and five were wise. The foolish ones took their lamps but did not take any oil with them. The wise, however, took oil in jars along with their lamps. The bridegroom was a long time in coming, and they all became drowsy and fell asleep.

At midnight the cry rang out: "Here's the bridegroom! Come out to meet him!" Then all the virgins woke up and trimmed their lamps. The foolish ones said to the wise, "Give us some of your oil; our lamps are going out."

"No," they replied, "there may not be enough for both us and you. Instead, go to those who sell oil and buy some for yourselves."

But while they were on their way to buy the oil, the bridegroom arrived. The virgins who were ready went in with him to the wedding banquet. And the door was shut. Later the others also came. "Sir! Sir!" they said, "Open the door for us! But he replied, 'I tell you the truth, I don't know you.' "Therefore keep watch, because you do not know the day or the hour.

Matthew 25:1-13

THE LIGHTING OF THE FIRST ADVENT CANDLE Sunday, as we begin the Advent season, the Candle of Expectation is lighted. May it serve to remind us of God's great promise to humankind, and that he always keeps his promises.

THE HYMN: "COME THOU LONG EXPECTED JESUS"

Come, thou long expected Jesus, Born to set Thy people free. From our fears and sins release us; Let us find our rest in Thee. Israel's Strength and Consolation, Hope of all the earth Thou art Dear Desired Of ev'ry nation, Joy of ev'ry longing heart, Born Thy people to deliver, Born a Child and yet a King, Born to reign in us forever, Now Thy gracious kingdom bring. By thine own eternal Spirit, Rule in all our hearts alone. By Thine all sufficient merit, Raise us to Thy glorious throne. Charles Wesley, 1744

THE PRAYER: Heavenly Father, may we have a new appreciation of your promises to us and your fulfillment of them. Help us to prepare our lives for his advent within us during this holy season. In his name we pray. Amen.

Thank You from Mrs. Gertje

I would like to thank the community for its support of the Elementary Talent Show and $258.00 in donations. The money will be put into the Elementary Music Fund to help purchase more instruments for the school. I also want to thank the students who performed and were helpers for the show. You did a fantastic job!

Thanks again, Joanne Gertje

THANK FROM JUDY F.— Thank you to my family and friends for the many kindnesses shown me during my recent surgery and since coming home. Your calls, cards, visits and prayers are greatly appreciated.

Food Drive Friday Will Aid Family of Bob Clemenhagen

The Antelope Inn in Kendrick will serve as a collection point in a drive to collect food supplies for Bobby Clemenhagen and his family. The liver transplant Bob received several years ago in Spokane is causing problems and he hasn't felt up to getting his deer or elk this season. Bob, an avid hunter like his brothers depends on getting his deer and elk for part of the winter meat supply.

Deb Greggerson, owner of the Antelope said several donations of meat have already been made to the family, but more could be used. Deb also said food and canned foods would also certainly be welcome.

The Antelope is hosting a karaoke Friday night after the usual dinner special, but for those who won't be attending either of these there will be a box to leave donations in that will be available all day. The Antelope is open at 9 a. m.

Kendrick Council Approves 1-Way St.

After receiving a petition signed by 65 residents and a request by the J-K Community Development Association, the Kendrick city council has approved a one-way street starting at 7th Street next to the TDS TelCom office through the alley and out to Sixth Street by the Kendrick City Park and Farm Bureau Insurance office. The city has obtained the signs and they will be placed this week.

This change has been made because the alley has been the site of several accidents in the last year. Increased usage during the summer months and the relocation of the Fire Station has added more traffic to the area. This street change will make the street safer for both pedestrians and vehicles. There will be the same amount of parking although parking spaces on the east side of Sixth Street will change their direction to follow the new traffic flow.

Please be careful as we all get used to this new change.

JIM THIEL ELECTED CAMPER PRESIDENT

Tigers Open Hoop Season at Deary December 4

Coach Clarke Bradley is "cautiously optimistic" as he and his 1997-98 version of the Kendrick High School Tigers basketball team prepares for the season's opening game next Thursday night at Deary in a Whitepine League contest. The Tigers will debut before the home fans the following Saturday, Dec. 6.

Nineteen players turned out for the team this season and seven of them are returning lettermen. Brad said Monday morning that he has his varsity roster trimmed down to nine. Even with the seven lettermen back from last season, Bradley will still have a young squad—only two seniors and three juniors—the remainder are sophomores and a freshman.

Kendrick will have the capability of putting a fairly tall team on the court this year: 6 of the team are at the six-ft. or taller level. Daniel Bunch is a 6-5 junior, Matt Tefft is a 6-4 junior, Andrew Heimgartner, a 6-3 sophomore, and Tony Howerton, Freshman Nate Eichner and Brian Carter are all at 6-foot.

Bradley termed the team's speed as average, adding, "we be able to push the ball a little on offense."

As the season opens, the varsity is:

- Tony Howerton, Sr. 6-00
- Josh Fletcher, Sr. 5-10
- Matt Tefft, Jr. 6-04
- Daniel Bunch, Jr. 6-05
- Tim Silflow, Sopho. 5-09
- Andrew Heimgartner, Soph. 6-03
- Justin Clemenhagen, Soph. 5-10
- Nate Eichner, Fresh. 6-00
- Richie Hitchcock, Jr. 5-09
- Brian Carter, Jr. 6-00

Hitchcock will not be available for action until January as he still recovers from a broken ankle sustained in football.

Rod Foreman will assist Bradley and also coach the junior varsity, which Bradley described as "young." Jr. Varsity games begin at 6:00 p. m. with varsity games following.

Kendrick Firemen Plan Turkey Raffle Ticket Sales December 3

The Kendrick Volunteer Fire Department's annual turkey raffle and sausage feed will be held the evening of Wednesday, December 3. The volunteer firemen will meet at the firehall at 6:00 p. m. to go out to sell tickets. They will sell tickets for two hours and then enjoy a delicious supper of sausage, eggs, waffles and orange juice prepared by retired firemen. Anyone willing to help with this fun event is welcome to come and enjoy the activities. Door prizes are awarded to two volunteers who help sell tickets.

Twelve turkeys will be awarded to lucky ticket holders on Saturday, December 20 during Santa's visit to Kendrick.

When a fireman comes knocking on your door this year, please be generous. The money that is realized from these sales goes to pay for new equipment to help the local department in the purchase and repair of fire fighting equipment.

Any who might get missed on December 3 and would like to purchase raffle tickets, please call Lisa Walker at 289-4884. We'll make sure you get some tickets.

Rural Partners Agree To Proceed with Grant Application

By Frank Jacobson

Meeting at Lewis-Clark State College on Monday, November 17, representatives of the Rural Partners development coalition reported on how their communities had reacted to the possibility of applying for a Kellogg Foundation MIRA grant. The acronym MIRA stands for Managing Information in Rural Areas.

The funding and activities in this grant program are fashioned to build individual and community capacity, using telecommunications as a focal point. Over four years, five clusters, comprised of six to ten community teams per cluster, will be selected annually from different geographic regions to develop community applications of telecommunications for the purpose of improving a community's ability to launch and carry out development programs.

Rural Partners hopes to be one of the clusters selected. Communities represented at last Monday's meeting included Bovill, Kendrick-Juliaetta, the Nez Perce Tribe, Pierce, Troy, and Welpe. Representatives of four of the communities came with support of the political entities they represent—development associations, city councils, and the Tribe. Enthusiasm for the project was evident as the participants engaged in a lively discussion of how their groups are going to seek out new partnerships—up, down, and across the community. Kamiah and Grangeville have also indicated an interest in being part of the cluster.

Representing the Kendrick-Juliaetta Community Development Association, Lillian Howerton reported that their local Parent Teacher Organization is interested in joining forces with the Gem Team in applying for the grant Kendrick-Juliaetta's representatives, like those from the other communities, will now be engaged in answering a number of preliminary questions concerning the grant.

Among those questions are the following: Why is your community interested in MIRA? What boundaries are you crossing with this application? How are you "stretching" beyond your usual boundaries? What new partnerships are you creating? If partnerships already exist, how are you expanding the existing partnerships and boundaries? Discussion among the potential cluster representatives on Monday was optimistic in tone, positive in outlook.

Summaries of the answers to questions such as these are due December 8 in the office of Mary Emery, Division of Extended Programs and Community Development. She also needs to know who will serve as each community's spokesperson on the cluster steering committee. Emery's e-mail address is memery@lsc.edu. She will in turn pull together the answers submitted by individual communities and draft proposed language for the cluster's application. Once this is achieved and the communities agree with the consolidated answers, then Rural Partners can begin the challenging task of organizing itself. Particularly daunting is the requirement that

Southwick Homemakers Club Appreciated Work On Community Center

Sonja Lohman reported the Southwick Community Center was looking great and a lot of hard work has gone into it. I can personally say, yes, we have worked hard to get it where it is.

The Southwick Homemakers Club would like to take this opportunity to say Thanks to all who have donated their time and supplies! Bred Jones, who painted the outside; Jim Patnode for putting in the new back door, Larry Galloway for putting in the plug-ins and stoves; Joe Greer for putting water back in the building, Ronnie Lohman for wiring the pump house, Fred and Judy Foster for the pellet stove, Boyd Hillman for laying the carpet and completely remodeling the kitchen, a project which is still under way, and to Roger Warner for the sheet rock so we could finish the store room.

Thanks also to the 4-H kids and homemakers who helped paint the front room. A very special thanks to Poll; Koopp and Judy Foster for all the work of painting, texturing, repairing and clean-up. They have worked their hearts out.

There is still work to do but with the help we've had we'll get it done.

Thanks again, everyone, Julie Cooper, President Southwick Homemakers

A Glowing Apparition Brightened Big Bear Ridge

Was it a UFO? No it was a UAO, unidentified art object, that is. Last Saturday at 5:30 p. m. Chicago artist Christine Tarkowski used the Jerry Galloway hay field on Big Bear Ridge as the venue for a construction of campers and a hand-painted vinyl wallpapered grain silo. The glowing apparition was actually the two camp trailers co-joined and then systematically ignited. Tarkowski was inspired by the local landscape and the abundance of metal structures to create the installation that shows the motion she sees through the active patterns of the Palouse.

Tarkowski, a cutting-edge design artist, has been in the area for the last month lecturing at both WSU and U of I as well as at Spokane. She also made time to give a special lecture to the art students at KHS on Monday.

Financial Aid Workshop at KHS Monday, Dec. 1

There will be a financial aid workshop for Kendrick High School juniors and seniors Monday, Dec. 1 at 7:30 p. m. in the school library. Parents of juniors and seniors are also invited to attend.

Information on Pell grants, loans, work study, some scholarships, dates for completing financial aid requests, etc. will be available.

each community have no fewer than ten representatives at each of the six training workshops that the cluster itself will design, consistent with the goal of increasing community capacity through the medium of telecommunications. Mayor John Blom of Troy summed up the purpose of the meeting last Monday when he said, "We're talking about the future of our communities." No one disagreed with him.

First V. F. W. Card Party Was Well-Attended

The first in a series of public card parties planned at the Hall this winter was well-attended Saturday evening with nine tables in play.

Ladies high was won by Sylvia Anderson of Deary with a score of 7380 and mens high was won by Lance Geise of Kendrick with a score of 7020. Ila Courtright was awarded low with a score of 1020 while Clem Lyons received low for men with a total of 1740. Jean Wegner took home the "goose" and Helen Heidenreich won the door prize. Hard luck fell on Ila and Clem, both are good players and good sports, too but if you don't get the cards you can't play the game, right? From the sound of the laughter every one had a good time and that's what we go for!

The next party will be Wednesday, December 31, New Year's Eve, so plan to come out and join us in welcoming the New Year in at the VFW.

The next meeting of the V. F. W. Post and Auxiliary will be December 11 at 7:00 p. m. and the Christmas party and award night will be the following Saturday, Dec. 13 beginning at 6 p. m.

Singspiration/Advent Event at Cameron Church Sunday, November 30

You are invited to come to Cameron Emmanuel Lutheran Church on Sunday, Nov. 30, for a holiday evening for all ages. Beginning at 5 p. m., the 1st annual Advent Event will feature a fun Advent activity using rocks, nails, paper and ice (you'll have to come to see how that works!). This will be followed by a light soup and sandwich supper at 6 p. m.

Singspiration will give voice to favorite holiday songs; at 7, followed by a time of coffee and fellowship. Come for the whole evening or just your favorite part. A wonderful way to kick off the holiday season—everyone is welcome.

Holiday Tips For Pet Owners

No Thanksgiving celebration is complete without the family pet begging for food, but owners are urged to resist those adoring glances and ignore the thought that one morsel won't hurt.
 Many of the foods traditionally served at Thanksgiving feasts can be dangerous for you dog or cat. Greasy foods, like stuffing and gravy, can cause stomach problems for pets. Pets never eat this kind of food and don't have digestive systems as sophisticated as ours. Instead of feeding pets table scraps, give them treats made especially for them. Be extra careful when clean-

Park News

by Joey Smith

A light snow covering that extended about halfway down Tamarack Ridge Monday morning was melted off by Wednesday morning when Park received about an inch of the white stuff. Mud 2, 1997 started in earnest that afternoon when the snow melted off. Although the snow meant better tracking for hunters, nobody seems to be filling their tags this year.

Jerry and Jody Smith made a business trip to Lewiston Tuesday, stopping for a brief visit with her mother, Betty Stone. On the return trip, a stop to visit with Alan and Rosetta Lockman at their Helmer home netted a visit with their guests, daughter and son-in-law Karen and Homer Stanley, visiting from Portland; another daughter, Larraín Wheeler of Deary; and Jake Staats, visiting from Arizona.

Clinton and Ethel Smith were supper guests of Jerry and Jody on Wednesday and Jeff Schroeder was a Thursday evening supper guest.

All the Smiths went to Lenore on Saturday evening to the home of their sister Anna Hunter, for a family and friends pinocle party. They also enjoyed a visit with Anna's son-in-law and daughter, Greg and Helen Meyer who were visiting from Klamath Falls, Oregon, and Helen's granddaughter, MyLissa Morris, of Coulee City, Wash. Ladies high prize was won by Ethel Smith, with low going to Aunt Paulina White. Men's high was won by Anna (who was a gentleman for the evening) and low went to Jim White. Anna also won pinocle.

Sunday Jerry Galloway and Christine Tarkowski went to the Bill Wilson place on Cedar Ridge to watch the pig butchering. Sunday evening Kari Galloway, Tutti Sandmeyer, Ellen Magnuson and Greg Crouch were dinner guests of Jerry and Christine.

The A. C. Wilson families had cousins James and Evelyn Hagans of Peseo, Wash, as overnight guests.

One day this week Glenda Wilson visited and celebrated the birthday of Sandy Grotzinger of Grangeville with her son Eric Williams of Lewiston.

Saturday Larry, Arlyne and Brian Clemm went to Orofino to visit Arlyne's mother, Margaret Johnson, aunt Myrtle Bell and her cousin Lavonne Thomas of San Francisco.

LenaBelle Larson a Winner at Gun and Craft Show

LenaBelle Larson advised the Gazette office Tuesday morning of her good fortune over the weekend. On Saturday, she and Harold attended the Gun and Craft Show at the Nez Perce County Fairgrounds. LenaBelle purchased one raffle ticket from a vendor and made the statement that she only needed one ticket to win. Well, she did indeed win. Sunday afternoon LenaBelle received a phone call advising her of her winning ticket.

She did not win just one prize but a large wicker sleigh filled with 40 gift items. The gifts ranged from place mats and napkins, handmade bear, Santa and angel, handmade tree ornaments, a nativity set, and other articles. All were color coordinated in burgandy, hunter green and white.

LenaBelle will have much pleasure and enjoyment from her sleigh and its many surprises.

UI Actors to Stage Grad's Play in December

"Females Seeking" is a new play that will be performed at the Collette Theatre on the University of Idaho campus in Moscow.

The drama features a cast of three women—daughter, mother and the grandmother who come together to help each other overcome loss.

The three women are portrayed by Theresa Kappus, Courtney Lloyd, and Carolyn Hitt. Hitt won the 1997 Kennedy Center/American College Theatre Festival regional award for acting.

"Females Seeking" was written by Sarah Wilson Hanson. She graduated from UI in May with a master's degree in theater arts. Hanson is also a certified teacher.

Performances are scheduled for 7:30 p. m. on Dec. 3-7 with 2 p. m. matinees on the 6th and 7th.

Ticket cost is $5 or $3 for students or staff with UI identification. Tickets will be available at the door only and will not be sold in advance.

Making a Vegetarian Diet "Complete"

No matter how or why vegetarians choose to alter their daily diets, they must be sure of one thing—that they are still receiving the vitamins and nutrients their body needs.

"Just because a person adopts a vegetarian diet doesn't mean it's a healthy one," explains Susan Adams, a registered dietitian and lecturer at the University of Washington Nutritional Sciences Graduate Program. "It takes time and effort by each individual to make sure the diet they adopted is complete for the lifestyle."

To eat meat or not to eat meat is not the only question people may ponder when considering a vegetarian diet. In fact, there are a wide variety of vegetarians.

"Someone saying they're vegetarian can mean a number of things," Adams explains. "There's no simple label that applies to everyone."

The "traditional" vegetarian is someone who avoids meat products, including red meat, poultry and fish. Vegetarian diets that also include eggs are called ovo-vegetarian, and those that include both dairy products and eggs are called lacto-ovo vegetarian.

A vegan diet is one devoid of any food items derived from animals, including dairy, eggs and, for some, honey. A pesci-vegetarian will eat fish, while a semi-vegetarian avoids only red meat products. There are also people who adopt a fruitarian diet—one that only includes sweet and vegetable fruits.

Within these categories, a number of varieties exist as well. Some people may not always eat vegetarian or choose to eat a little of some foods excluded from that diet.

"The more restrictive a person's diet is, the more careful they need to be to make sure it's nutritionally adequate," Adams cautions.

Adams notes that the reasons people choose to be vegetarian are as varied as the diets themselves. It may be for economic and ecological reasons (that the world cannot support a meat-based diet for the entire population) or for ethical reasons (that animals should not be killed for human consumption).

People may also choose to avoid certain foods due to health problems such as allergies, hypertension and lactose intolerance. And those wishing to maintain a healthy lifestyle through a low-fat diet may also opt for vegetarianism. Other driving factors for choosing a vegetarian diet may include religious beliefs.

"A lot of people think they feel better when they eat vegetarian," Adams notes. "A healthy diet may be associated with a healthy life style, including exercise and avoidance of health risks such as smo-ing." Making sure a vegetarian diet is complete in vitamins and nutrients is especially important for children and pregnant women, Adams notes. In such cases, vitamin supplements are recommended, especially for those avoiding dairy products. These should include vitamin B-12, vitamin D, calcium, iron and zinc.

If a diet excludes dairy products, it's important to take calcium supplements. Vegetarians may also have difficulties getting an adequate amount of iron from plant sources alone. And when it comes to protein, Adams notes that vegetarians can combine vegetable protein sources—such as seeds and dairy products, or grains and legumes—to get a protein source nutritionally equivalent to that of animal-based products.

"Variety should be a key component of a vegetarian diet," Adams says. "There are many exciting combinations of foods for people to try, and many restaurants now offer vegetarian alternatives."

THANKSGIVING WISHES

Almost four hundred years have passed since that first brave band of Pilgrims gathered to give thanks to God for surviving in the wilds of their new home in a new land. They were grateful for just the basics of life: They were grateful for being alive, for having a good harvest, for peace with the native Americans, for plenty, and above all, that they could worship as they wished. Over the 324 years that have passed since that first autumn in New England, the world has changed immensely. Where once brave men explored wilderness of forests and mountains, we explore and walk in space; where pilgrims worried about the ravages of tuberculosis, diphtheria and cholera, our world fights against cancer, heart disease and AIDS; where our ancestors struggled to find food to sustain them, we read diet books, worry about our cholesterol levels, weight and getting enough exercise. Our world has changed and so have our concerns. Pilgrims worried about Indians and pirates, we worry about Iraq.

But give us credit for this: that at least once each year, we set aside one special holiday for remembering and counting our blessings and giving praise and gratitude to God for what He has bestowed on us. We may grumble, complain and wish for more than we have, but for a very short holiday we do have the humbleness and gratefulness to reflect on the gifts we may take for granted. We take a kinder, gentler look at our family and loved ones and what joy they bring us, we reflect on our friends and know how much happiness and richness they bring to our lives, and we look at our community and know how important it is to our security and quality of life.

We at Phil's Family Foods gratefully acknowledge the confidence and importance of each customer's friendship and patronage in making our small place in this world possible. We never forget it.

May you and yours have a most wonderful Thanksgiving season.
