Bruce and Fay Sherman will be Grand Marshals for Festival Parade

With the theme and entertainment of the 38th annual Kendrick Locust Blossom Festival being centered on cowboys, it's more than appropriate that a cowboy and his wife be chosen to lead the parade Saturday, May 30. Bruce is a real cowboy who has led a cowboy's life. He has probably forgotten more about horses than the "Horse Whisperer" will ever know.

Bruce and Fay Sherman have been an icon of Juliaetta for nearly all their lives. Fay was born in Juliaetta in the house most recently occupied by Adaline Jassman and is the oldest native daughter born in the town of Juliaetta. Her parents were Walter and Myrtle Cochran. Walter was a truck farmer and Myrtle ran the Juliaetta Market prior to becoming postmaster of the Juliaetta Post Office. The Cochrans had four children in all—three daughters and a son, who died in infancy.

Bruce said he could make this interview a quick ordeal. "I was born in Lapwai in 1917, moved to Juliaetta in 1929, and ain't dead yet."

His father Burt Sherman was a mechanic, and his mother Exa ran a store in Stites prior to moving to Juliaetta. Bruce had two sisters, one of whom still lives in Juliaetta, Lois Fliger. Bruce and Fay were married in Lewiston September 1, 1937.

Community Service To be Held at KHS Sunday, May 31

Due to uncertain weather forecasts and other factors, the community service on Sunday, May 31st will be held in the gymnasium at Kendrick High School rather than in the park. The service begins at 10:00 a. m. and will be an informal "come-as-you-are" service to go with the Locust Blossom theme of "Cowboy Mardi Gras." Country gospel songs and a focus on the work of the church from neighborhoods to nations will highlight the service. An offering will be taken for the local food bank and attendees are invited to bring canned goods and non-perishable food items as an offering. For members of Cameron Emmanuel Lutheran, Juliaetta Church of the Nazarene, Kendrick Assembly of God, Kendrick United Methodist, and Zion Lutheran Church of Juliaetta—remember that your regular service has been canceled so you may participate in this service. Members of Juliaetta Community Church will have their regular Sunday service and are then invited to join their brothers and sisters at the Community Service as well.

On a special note, the desire to send cards of sympathy and support to the students of Thurston High School in Springfield, Oregon has been expressed by some of our students. Therefore, materials necessary to make cards or messages will be available at the school starting at 9:45 a. m. for all those students (or parents) wishing to send a word of encouragement or prayer to those affected by this tragedy. Cards and notes will be collected after the service and forwarded on in Monday's mail.

Once again, the community worship service on May 31st has been moved from the park to the gym at Kendrick High School. Everyone is welcome.

A single grain of soil may contain more than 100 million bacteria.

A few years later when Fay was six months pregnant with son Jack Bruce was shipped into the New Guinea/Philippines area as a member of the U. S. Infantry. Jack was two years old before he first saw his father. Bruce lost an eye in the war. With his glass eye, he was played many a practical joke on some unsuspecting bystander. While in the war he captured a horse that had belonged to the Japanese Artillery. He hated leaving that horse behind after the war, but hated even more that he didn't get them with his duffel bag. He had dumped out his clothing and filled the bag with wonderful hand-braided ropes and halters from the South Seas.

Bruce and Fay lived on Water Street before taking up residence in their current home 47 years ago. The couple has two children. A son, Jack, lives in Juliaetta with his wife Zana. A daughter, Jill Deal, lives near LaGrande, Oregon. Jack has five children and Jill has two. Jack also has five grandchildren and Jill has one.

Bruce was a packer and worked for the Forest Service for many years. He packed in the Priest Lake Canniksel Forest as well as areas of the Lochsa River. He has pretty much seen the northwestern U. S. from horseback, having even packed in Glacier National Park.

He was a rural mail carrier for many years in the Juliaetta area. He started carrying mail on horseback, and later progressed to a pickup truck. His slow drawl and mischievous humor has brought laughter to many local residents through the years.

In addition to horses, cattle and leather, which have occupied a good share of his life, Bruce also found time to give his community in a variety of ways. He was a charter member of the Juliaetta Volunteer Fire Department, as well as serving several terms on the city council. In the early years when the J-K Ambulance was being formed, Bruce went to the aid of many accident and illness victims. These were the days of "scoop and swoop," since the ambulance consisted of very little technical equipment. It took a great deal of courage and compassion to make those runs.

Bruce was in partnership with Neale Hoisington in cattle ranching for a number of years. Neale tells about the roundup and trucking cattle back from Bovill area pasture. Bruce would always run the mail route and then jump in the old truck and head up to Bovill. On this particular day, unknown to him, Neale and his brothers had already transported the cattle home in the morning while Bruce was on the route. In the afternoon, Bruce hurried to Bovill to haul his share of the cattle home. All that was left was a mangy, orphaned calf that belonged to the neighbors standing all alone in the spacious pasture. He had been had, and he knew it.

At the time Bruce and Fay were growing up, Juliaetta had three grocery stores, a service station and four passenger trains a day, as well as two freight trains. A big red, round-roofed barn served as the livery stable and was located where the David Steigers residence now stands. The wagon yard was located at the site of the Neil Grinolds home.

Fay has enjoyed tending her flowers and garden. She has belonged to the Evergreen Friendship Club for many years. She currently has a cat "Miss Puss," for whom Bruce claims to be a cat butler. "She's worse than a high school girl," says Bruce. "She stays out all night and sleeps all day."

The Locust Blossom Festival is proud to honor Bruce and Fay Sherman, two of Juliaetta's best!

Rose Ann Holt Will be a Grand Marshal

Kendrick's 38th Locust Blossom Festival parade will honor Rose Ann Holt as a Grand Marshal. Sometimes known as "Granny Holt of Holt's Cedar Ridge Po' Farm," she has become legendary for her humor and chipper personality.

When she was nominated for the honor, it was mentioned that there were very few people in the room who had not been touched by her kindness and generous spirit. She is always ready to lend a helping hand and has been in the midst of many community projects throughout the years. Having raised six children of her own, it goes without saying that she was very involved with the 4-H programs in this community. She still judges at the fairs in five neighboring counties each year. She has always been willing to help with home care whenever needed. As president of the Hill and Valley Garden Club, she will once again be responsible for the flower show at the festival May 30. She was a charter member of the VFW Auxiliary and had helped with many activities in that organization. She is also affiliated with the Southwick Community Church.

After marrying James W. Holt at Lewiston January 10, 1944, they returned to this area to make their home and begin their family. Their children are Carolyn (Mrs. Roger) Nelson, Moses Lake, Wash; Eileen (Mrs. David) Ball of Pottlatch; Stephen of Deary; Andrew J. of Post Falls; Michael of Kendrick, and Amy Lynn Holt, also of Post Falls, Idaho. She has 12 grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren.

Rose Ann always tended toward the petite side of things, but when it came to disciplining her children, she stood six feet tall. Once a particularly humorous incident occurred when two of the boys were teenage drivers. They had some difficulty a curve on Cedar Ridge Road and ended up over an embankment. When Rose Ann arrived at the neighbors to collect the children and realign their lives, they started to jump in the cab of the pickup with her. Not so! She quickly reminded them to get in the back since, "if they were going to act like a jackass, they could ride where the jacass rides."

Last year she had the opportunity to travel in Europe with her daughter and son-in-law. Having seen the sights and marvelous antiquities in Ireland and Germany, she still says there's no place like home.

Rose Ann is the granddaughter of Hiram and Belle Cuddy who homesteaded in the Southwick area. She was born to Ray and Annie Cuddy on the Finke place in Southwick and was raised in the Gold Hill area, having attended schools there. She has four brothers, John and Elmer of Kendrick, Jim of Hayden, Idaho, and Bill of Thompson Falls, Mont. She has one sister, Wilma of Tetonia, Idaho. Another sister, Ruth Armitage died in 1988. That was the year that claimed her husband as well.

Wherever Rose Ann goes, laughter is soon to follow. She has a delightful way of making the world seem better, especially for those "home care" recipients. That's the occupation that brings her the most joy and satisfaction. In remembering the first person to receive home care from her, she mentioned Granddad (Walt) Hunt, a Missourian, who she got along with "like 700."

It would be a lengthy list to compile names of people who have benefited from her generosity and good nature. What better legacy can anyone leave?

During the summer a grizzly bear, which can weigh between 350 and 500 pounds, may eat between 80 or

Heart Surgery Again For Thomas Scott Heinen

Thomas Scott Heinen, the six-month-old son of Scott and Helen Heinen, is scheduled to undergo his second major heart surgery next Thursday, June 4th at Children's Hospital in Seattle. Thomas was born Dec. 3, 1997, with a heart defect which, the doctors say, will require a series of three surgeries to correct.

He will undergo angioplasty on Wednesday before the surgeons begin the procedures the following day. He will be accompanied to Seattle by his parents, his paternal grandparents, Phil and Donna Heinen, and his maternal grandmother, Fat Cooper who arrived by plane last Friday from the family home in Australia.

The family would most sincerely appreciate the thoughts and prayers of the community as little Thomas Scott faces another crisis in his young life.

Local V. F. W. Post Has Been Steady Helper in Community

For many years Baker-Lind Post 3913, Veterans of Foreign Wars and its Auxiliary have been the largest service or fraternal organization in this community. Sometimes we may not be that visible to the general public eye except when leading a parade or some opening ceremony for a special function, but behind the scene, lots of time, energy and money is transacted to the community welfare and the needy. Take for example, the building that was once the school gymnasium: this was transformed into one of the best VFW homes in the state. Not only is this building our Post home, but it can accommodate the public for a place for gatherings for meetings and other functions as needed.

As everyone knows, with property you have the responsibility of insurance, lights, fuel, various permits, sewer and garbage fees and you can never forget, no matter how large or small, maintenance of the premises outside and indoors, and the surrounding-owned property, to keep the appearance of this area presentable to the public's eye.

This organization isn't a group that is formed by people just off the street—its membership is made up of men and women who have served their country honorably in overseas engagements for which a campaign badge or medal has been authorized by the U. S. government. No others may join—there are no honorary memberships. Our group has an auxiliary which is made up of ladies who are wives, sisters, or offspring of a member or past member of the excepted veterans eligible. We have members from all walks of life, each in their own way add something to the organization. Some people may wonder, what do those people with the funny little hats do? Well, we have meetings to transact business that may come before the membership of both the Post and Auxiliary for the good of the order and the community. In the organization each group has activities that involve the community: public health, the environment, cooperation with schools, churches, and other organizations, and we aid hospitals, veterans' homes, the needy, handicapped, and senior citizens. And then we come to other community activities such as flag dedications, cancer fund drive support, Voice of Democracy contests for high school age children, Poppy sales, firearms handling safety, color guard details for departed comrades (veterans), military funerals, Loyalty Day programs, flag presentations to school programs, Veterans' Day programs, memorial services, and aiding search and rescue units. This is what we do here in our area to keep our members involved.

Our involvement in the the annual Locust Blossom Festival will be the Veterans Memorial ceremony, carrying the V. F. W. Post colors and the American flag in the parade. The ladies will again hold their bingo games in the gazebo at the city park. Something new this year, (with the help of the U. S. Marine Corps Reserves out of Spokane) will be a large, static display set up behind the Kendrick Garage (Deobald's) in the vacant lot. This display will include a Model 198/155 howitzer. The unit will also have a HumVee vehicle with .50 Cal. Mount and will be in the parade. You will also be able to see a display of military small arms of the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve Artillery. This display will be the first of its kind in Kendrick.

Please let us know if we have forgotten a name that should be included on the Veteran's Memorial in the park.

Meeting Notice—

VFW Post 3913 and the Auxiliary will hold the semi-monthly meeting

Community Keeps Eye on Rainy Sky As Festival Is Saturday 30

The community is keeping a wary eye on the sky this week as the 38th annual Kendrick Locust Blossom Festival is to be celebrated on Saturday, May 30. After a warm and sunny two or three weeks, a storm moved into the Northwest last week bringing much cooler weather and rainfall that, at last reading, was nearing the three-inch mark.

While the rain was appreciated by farmers and gardeners, the moisture and cooler weather is not exactly what the many workers who have been getting the 1998 Locust Blossom Festival ready had in mind for celebration conditions. The locust blossoms have already come and gone, except for a few late-blooming trees, but this is often the case for the festival.

KHS Graduation Sunday, May 31

Twenty seniors will receive diplomas Sunday evening, May 31, as Kendrick High School graduates the Class of 1998 at commencement exercise at the high school gymnasium at 7 o'clock.

Valedictorian is Ruth Ann Miller. Michael Eldrich, an English teacher at the high school will be the commencement speaker.

Jim Miller, pastor of Southwick Community Church, will provide words of inspiration.

Dr. Eldon Taylor, superintendent of school, will present the Class of 1998, and diplomas will be awarded by Doug Harris, chairman of the board of education.

Joyce Clemenhagen will provide music for the professional and recessional.

KHS Spring Sports Banquet is May 28

The KHS Booster Club will host the annual Spring Sports banquet at 6:30 p. m., Thursday, May 28 at the high school. The Boosters will be providing the hamburgers, buns and drinks, track kids should bring a 12 pack of pop, softball team is to bring desserts, and the Baseball members bring salads.

GROSECLOSE FAMILY REUNION MAY 30

The family of Ed and Dixie Groseclose are having a family reunion Saturday, May 30 at the Kendrick Senior Center from 1 to 5 p. m. Friends and relatives of the family are most welcome to stop by and visit.

SURGERY FOR JOYCE B—

Joyce Brocke is scheduled for a surgery on her right foot on May 28 at Gritman Memorial Medical Center in Moscow. Meanwhile she is still recovering from the more complicated surgery on her left foot to correct bone deformities. The new surgery is also for correction of a deformity.

Help Boys Hoop Team Go to Camp

Some on the KHS boys basketball team have an itch to go to camp. Please look for us at Locust Blossom Festival and give us a scratch. You could win quilts, binoculars or reloading manuals.

HOSPITAL NOTES—

Abrams—

Richard Abrams underwent surgery Monday for the replacement of a heart valve. He is hospitalized in Deaconess Medical Center in Spokane and is reported as doing well.

May 28 at 8 p. m. at the Post home on schoolhouse hill. Everyone is encouraged to attend and meet your newly-elected officers and hear a discussion of the programs for the coming year.

Commander Harold Ellis and President Lee Halseth

But, good weather or not, this year's festival will go forward under what is hoped to be good weather conditions.

General chairman Dennis Lukehart and his various committees have worked hard to put together what promises to be one of the most interesting festivals. There will be a number of the traditional events plus some outstanding new events.

The day opens with the running of the two races: the 5.3 mile race and the 2-mile fun run which both begin at 8.

The parades begin at 10:00 on Main Street. The kiddie parade precedes the main parade. The parade will be led by the VFW color guard and then by the Grand Marshals, Bruce and Fay Sherman of Juliaetta and Rose Ann Holt of Cedar Ridge. Entries in this year's parade are expected to be excellent. Following the parade many of the games, and exhibitions will open and there will be races for children in the park.

The serving of the barbecue beef dinner is the highlight of the day and a delicious menu of barbecued beef, cole slaw, baked beans, pickles, punch and coffee is sure to please everyone. And the price is still only $5. The dinner is served from 11:30 to 1:00 in the front of the Fire Hall. Seating will be available in the fire hall and also for pioneers at the Senior Center.

Old Time Fiddlers will entertain during the meal. Entertainment by the "Rhinstone Roper" and "Fencelines" should be a new and popular attraction in the park this year. There will also be a "rodeo" behind the Antelope Inn in the afternoon, complete with a mechanical bull.

Of special significance there will be a "Tree City, USA" presentation in the park at 1:45. This is in recognition of the efforts of the Kendrick Urban Forestry Committee and the volunteers who had devoted many hours planting trees and making plans to help keep the community so attractive.

Official Locust Blossom Festival T-Shirts are available at Phil's Family Foods and at 1st Security Bank in Kendrick. New this year are Locust Blossom Festival hats and visors. Several choice of colors are available. You also may purchase your Festival buttons at local businesses until Saturday, the 30th, the morning of the festival.

For those with questions—call the general chairman Dennis Lukehart at 289-5642, or call the Gazette to find the name of committeemen for the various events.

Pies from Grange Pie Booth Will Add to Locust Festival Menu

Once again Kendrick Grange No. 413 is pleased to announce that its pie booth will be in operation at this year's Locust Blossom Festival on Saturday, May 30. The pie booth, a fund-raiser for the Grange, will feature a wide variety of home-made pies made by the Grange members and some of the area's other fine pie makers. The booth will be open during the parade and lunch and will feature coffee, tea, and hot chocolate to go along with the pie. As a special feature a huckleberry pie, made by master baker Betty Cowger, will be auctioned to the highest bidder at 1:00 p. m. There will be only one of these Huckleberry Pies, so all bidders are encouraged to attend the auction at the pie booth at 1 p. m.

In other news, the Grange will initiate two new members at their June 2nd meeting. This meeting will start with a potluck dinner at 6 p. m. with the ceremony to begin at approximately 7:15. This meeting is open to Grange members only and will initiate new members Phyllis Berg of Kendrick, and Jon Kimberling of Moscow. All area Grange members are invited to attend.

Thank You from the Umphenours

We would like to express our deepest thanks and gratitude for all the wonderful support the community has shown us in our time of need.

Thank you to the J-K Ambulance crew and volunteers for seeing us safely to the hospital.

Special thanks to all of you who sent cards, flowers, and for all the donations collected. We greatly appreciate you all!

Sincerely,
Bryon and Kellie Umphenour

LENORE PICNIC JUNE 13

The annual Lenore picnic will be held Saturday, June 13, at the Lenore Rest Park. All present and former residents are invited.

The picnic will be sponsored by the Willing Workers Club. Meat and drinks will be provided.

Rural Partners Wary of Technology;
 Unreflective Regarding Rural Press

By Frank Jacobson

For a region marginally involved in the Kellogg Foundation's MIRA project, North Central Idaho has reservations about telecommunications as a means of promoting community development efforts. And as for rural newspapers, little thought appears to have been given to their historic part in such efforts and their potential to do even more.

Meeting May 11, Rural Partners went through an hour-long exercise in sharing their impressions of electronic communication. Agreeing that the media is growing apace and that kids love it, participants expressed concern over the possibility that the World Wide Web, for example, can overwhelm us and divert us from using its tools to serve specific tasks. Some described it as "bloodless, impersonal, lacking a human face."

Asked what technology is like, participants answered, "It's like learning to walk again." And then, "It's like ever growing bacteria . . . we can never know it all!" Others compared it to an ever-recharging encyclopedia. For some, it's an addiction and one that instills a grating fear of always being behind, out-of-date.

The challenge facing us all, according to Rural Partners, is to relegate telecommunications to being one piece of infrastructure, one tool among many used to help us shape social policy and thus adjust to a changing world. According to one participant, the media lack whimsy, a tolerance for the human and at times highly creative act of suddenly changing direction.

As for the rural press, weeklies like the one you're reading, it appears that no one has given any serious thought to the part that they do and can play in community development. However, it was Keith Kopschke of the Idaho Department of Commerce who recalled the Gazette's printing the four-page insert that spelled out the original goals of the fledgling Kendrick-Juliaetta Community Development Association. It is your reporter's opinion that without that assistance and the ongoing support offered by Bill Roth, there wouldn't be a Gem Community in Kendrick-Juliaetta.

What we're talking about here is communication, as up-to-date as Windows 98 or as historic as the Linotype. We're talking about words and other forms of symbolic communication, which at times overwhelm us or bore us stiff. Agriculture has its no-till farming as an alternative. Maybe it's time for us to consider the possibility of having no-till community development.

Big Bear Ridge News

By Arlyne Cismm and Betty McMahan

Relatives of Oscar Slind were visitors with Ruth this week. They were Linda Hoag and Lillian Dalberg of Everett, Wash. Margie Stevens, Carol DeWitt, and Elisabeth from Missoula, Mont.; Judy Dalberg Anderson of Poflatch, and Margie Dalberg Holliday of Orofino.

The Big Bear Ridge community was saddened to hear of the passing of Tim Carr's father in California. The Ridge sends it condolences to Tim and Debbie and family.

Monday Alecie and Norman Nethen of Lewiston visited Grace Ingle. The took flowers to the cemetery.

Leonard Jones with his daughter Aletha and his sister Betty Bramwell went to Richfield, Idaho to attend the funeral of their uncle this week.

Bethany Memorial Church held its annual Memorial Day service on Monday. The service was well attended despite the rainy, cold day. A potluck supper followed with delicious food and much visiting. Those from the ridge who attended included Ron and Kathy Jones, Gerald and Lee Halseth, Dan, Nancy, Sarah and Andy Vakoch, and Jeff, Betty, and Brandon McMahan.

Herman Hinrichs treated Gerald and Lee Halseth to a birthday dinner at the Helmer Cafe last week. Glenn LaZelle and Mary Veilleux joined them.

Alice Erman and Maycelle Emmett decorated family graves in Lewiston and Clarkston Sunday.

The McMahan's decorated family graves in Lewiston Saturday.

Wednesday was the last day of pre-school for Sarah Vakoch. She and her class celebrated with a picnic in the park.

Ron and Kathy Jones, Alana, and Nels Sveve and Jeff, Betty and Brandon McMahan had dinner out together Friday in Helmer.

Guests of Roy and Donna Syverson over the weekend were Troy and Melissa Syverson and children C. J. and MacKenzie. They were joined for Sunday dinner by Sue and Roger Syverson.

Cecil and Jo Brammer, Gary Brammer, Amy and Lloyd Farrington drove to Walla Walla on Sunday to visit with Beth and Harold Pressnall.

Tuesday Russ and Suzanne Brammer hosted a birthday party for son Drew's 13th anniversary. Those present were Jo Brammer, Mildred Brammer, Hap Brunslck, Norma Borford of Tacoma, Great-grandmother Helen Johnson of Lake Stevens, and grandfather Kyle Westland of Bellingham, Wash. On Monday the family enjoyed the cavalry at the high school. Kyle Westland and Mrs. Johnson will leave for their homes on Friday.

George and Dolores Lyons left on Sunday for Vancouver to visit with Chris and Ron, returning on Wednesday. Chris and Ron arrived on Sunday. They had Monday dinner with Lisa and Cameron Walker and Leslie Hutcheson, and Josh and Jerry Fey. Chris and Ron will leave to return home Thursday.

Clem and Flo Lyons drove to Moscow on Wednesday and then went on to Bovill where they had dinner with Howard and Diane Holt. Howard and Diane were down here on Monday and enjoyed dinner with Clem and Flo.

Sunday Rose Ann Holt accompanied Ruth Slind to the Bethany Memorial service at the church on Big Bear Ridge.

Juliaetta Elementary
 Students Introduced
 To Many Occupations

"I liked the NASA Engineer—it looks very cool up in space." This is just one student's reaction to Mr. Ormsby's presentation at the Career Fair held May 6 at the Juliaetta Elementary School gym. Volunteers representing various occupations explained with hands-on activities, their jobs to 1st through 6th grade students. "I liked sitting in the police car," expressed another student when asked what he liked best about the Fair. Students were able to rotate through the gym by grade level, seeking out occupations of interest to them. Included in the Fair was a police patrol car and a WWP lineman's truck parked near the school.

The following individuals donated their time as presenters at the Fair and greatly contributed to its success: Mike Fiedler, Air Force pilot Peggy Dahl, First Security bank teller; Larry Struck, Lewiston police officer; Susan Sawyer and Kim Smathers, US Fish and Wildlife Services employees; Mr. Fran Wagner, US Forest Products Dept. professor; Jill Newsome, Horizon Air flight attendant; Diana Kottke, Nurse Practitioner and Jennifer Curry, registered nurse; Mimi Pengilly, dietitian and nutritional columnist for the Daily News; Dick Ormsby, retired NASA engineer; Corey Dahmen, WWP lineman, and Rich Skiles, a Latah County Deputy Sheriff.

A thank you is also extended to those people who furnished the tables for the Career Fair from the VFW Hall and worked so hard to get them to the school and set up, the high school students who delivered them and picked them up, Loren Gilson, J. E. S. principal who set up the tables the morning of the Fair and the elementary school students who helped take them down and stack them. Thank you, thank you, thank you!

I wish to express my sincere gratitude to the following volunteers who helped me plan and orchestrate the Career Fair; Suzanne Brammer, Janice Gobbi, Rose Norris, Jana Scott, Danielle Snyder, Phyllis Berg, Cindy Fliger, Amy Lohman, Lori Nagle, and the PTO members who supplied cookies for the lunch. The commitment to this activity, by these community members and school staff was instrumental in making it a success.

Park News

by Judy Smith

Wet, cold weather has made chores inside much more comfortable than the outdoor variety. Many people braved the storms to pay their respects and decorate the Park cemetery over the long weekend.

On a business trip to Lewiston on Tuesday, Jerry and Jody Smith paid brief visits to her mother, Betty Stone, and his aunt Pauline White. Saturday Jerry went to Deary to join the men changing the windows in the Community Church parsonage. That afternoon, the Smiths went to Konkleville outside of Orofino to attend the 90th birthday party for Alva Craig. The party took on an anxious note when about half way through, Alva had a spell and was transported by ambulance for observations and tests. No word has been received of his condition at this writing.

Sunday visitors with the Smiths were Randy and Janice Heustes of Deary, and Michael and Michelle (Gudmunson) Osborn and 6 of their 9 children, Renee, Christina, Salene, Tony, Victoria and Tazja from Palouse.

The first baseball glove, introduced in 1895, was unpadding.

An elephant's foot contracts when he lifts his leg. Elephants may sink deep in the mud but can pull their legs out easily because their feet become smaller when lifted.

Tiger Babe Ruth Team Drops Game to Moscow

The Kendrick Tiger Babe Ruth baseball team lost a close game to the Royals of Moscow to even their record at 1-1. Tiger pitchers recorded 15 strike outs but several errors at critical times hurt their cause.

Kyle Hoisington recorded six strikeouts in the first two innings but left the game in the third inning with the Tigers trailing 3-0. Chris Papeneau, pitching for the Royals, held the Tigers scoreless until inning 4. However Jesse Schafer and David Agee got on base with singles and Jayme Shafer drove them both home with another one-base hit.

The Tigers trailed 5-2 at the top of the last inning, but after the Tigers scored two runs on 4 walks, a single by Jayme Shafer and Tyler Williams' single, driving in two runs, with the Tigers trailing 3-0.

However the Royals put on a rally of their own and scored two runs to take the win. Kirk Hume of the Royals drove in the winning run and also relieved Papeneau in the final inning to earn the win.

Hits: Royals—Matt Scott, Kyle Mallett, Paul Rush, Jesse Legoll and Kirk Hume.

Tigers: Jesse Shafer 2 with 1 RBI, David Agee, Jayme Shafer, 2 with 2 RBIs, Christopher Gibbs-Dudunake, Tyler Williams 3 (2b), 2 RBI.

Several scheduled games have been rained out. The next action for the Tigers is Friday, May 29, at 5:30 at Bear Field and Saturday, the 30th at 4:30, at Juliaetta.

4-H Group Checks on "Adopted" Big Horn Sheep

Last weekend Joe and Gail Stockard and children Melanie, Casey and Cody, Fritz and Cindy Fliger and children J. C. and Kayla, and Tom and Gayle Marek and Ben all met at Pittsburg Landing on the Snake River. "Captain" Rick Cooper and Frances Cassiser, a Fish & Game Dept. bighorn sheep biologist, met the Trailblazer 4-H group for a boat tour of the recently transplanted big horn sheep. There was only one sighting, Lucky Gypsy and her new lamb, which is a pair adopted by a school in south Idaho.

In addition to the boat ride, the group was learning how the radio collars and radio signals work. The group also toured a group of petroglyphs on a rocky outcropping near the upper landing. Gail photographed a bull snake too. The group saw many mule deer during the weekend outing. The Mareks camped over until Sunday.

Stony Point News—

(Delayed from Last Week)
Grandson Joshua Johnston of Swaziland, Africa, has been visiting with his grandparents Wayne and Wanda Hoskins and family in the area. A week ago last Monday, Wayne and Wanda took Joshua to Vantage, Wash. where his Aunt Mary Lou met them and they had lunch. Gloria and Jay Richards also joined them. Joshua will graduate from school in December as their seasons are opposite ours.

Wayne and Wanda spent Mother's Day at the home of Rick and Wanda Heimgartner. It was a good day of visiting and sharing a delicious meal. All of Wanda's children, Sharon, Gloria and Howard called during the day.

Thursday Howard Hoskins of Springfield, Mo., visited his parents. He was in Montana on business and routed himself through Idaho on his return home.

Last week Wanda and Wayne attended the funeral of their old friend Lester Requa in Lewiston. Joye Swan joined them for dinner at Granny's Buffet.

Wayne has been busy working on fences and doing spring chores. The recent rains are much appreciated.

Festival Flower Show Will be of Interest

Hill and Valley Garden Club's standard flower show Saturday, May 30 at the annual Locust Blossom Festival will be open to entries from all our local gardeners. Design entries may include fresh material from other sources but all horticulture entries must be grown by the exhibitor and displayed in clear containers.

For the young gardeners, the Junior Division will have classes for Ages 12 and Under and "Ages 13 through 18." Horticulture and Design (that's an arrangement or floral centerpiece) Divisions are both open to Juniors.

In the Design Division, the flower show committee have divided entries into 3 sections:

- A—Advanced (exhibitor having earned 11 or more blue ribbons)
- B—Blue Ribbon (having earned 6 to 10 blue ribbons)
- C—Amateur (having earned 0 to 5 blue ribbons)
- D—Professional.

So share your talents and flowers and enter an arrangement. Garden club members including president Rose Ann Holt (289-5331) and trea-

Rain, Cold Greeted Campers at Elk River

Wednesday a small group from the Klub traveled to Elk River where they set up their camp. Those making the trip were Alice and Fred Snyder, Jesse and Emma Biger and Elmo and Marge Eldridge.

The weather was very wet and limited the outdoor activity and shortened the camping time. They enjoyed fishing, walks, sight-seeing and games.

Friday Merrill, Ruby and Mary Horney were afternoon visitors.

Because of the heavy rainfall, the campers returned home Saturday afternoon.

Attention Quilters—

Locust Blossom Day, the church will be open from 10 a. m. until 3. Sugar cookies and lemonade will be served.

Ride a Wild Tale at Juliaetta Library

The Juliaetta Community Library will help children in the Juliaetta-Kendrick area find fun and adventure through reading this summer. The library is sponsoring the 1998 summer reading program, "Ride a Wild Tale." Children of all ages are invited to join the fun and register at the library beginning on Saturday, May 30th and any time during the months of June and July.

Each child who participates will receive incentive prizes during the summer and their choice of a prize book along with a certificate when they complete the program. Children of all reading abilities are welcome. Non-readers may be read to by someone.

"Ride a Wild Tale" is part of a statewide program sponsored by the Idaho State Library and local public libraries. Last year, approximately 10,000 children and over eighty libraries participated. This year the children can look forward to programs revolving around tall tales, myths, legends and stories of the old West. The Juliaetta Library will begin with a visit from "Smokey the Bear" at 10:30 on June 4th. Other activities will include puppet plays and a visit from storyteller Papa Joe.

"Kids who read succeed," librarian Jan Welles said. "Reading is important because students who read well and enjoy reading are more likely to do better in school. Children's skills also improve dramatically when they discover that reading is fun."

For more information about this free program, visit the Juliaetta Library during open hours or call 276-7071. Library hours: Monday 3 to 6, Wednesday 3 to 8, Thursday 10 to 6, and Saturday from 10 to 12.
