

On June 27, in Winston, Oregon— C. Y. and Ethel Groseclose to be Honored on Anniversary

The sons of C. Y. and Ethel S. Groseclose invite family and friends to join in observing the 60th wedding anniversary of their parents at a reception on June 27, 1998, at 51 S. Darrell in Winston, Oregon, between hours of 1 and 3 o'clock.

The couple have lived in Winston since September, 1936. They were married at Juliaetta, Idaho, July 7, 1938. Most of their married lives they have lived at Teakean and Juliaetta, Idaho where C. Y. was self-employed as a farmer and cedar logger, as well as millworker, and Ethel S. as a homemaker. They have always been active in local churches and missionary giving.

The raised three sons and one daughter. Their daughter has been deceased since 1978. They have ten grandchildren, seven great-grandchildren and two step-great-grandchildren.

Those wishing to greet them may do so at the reception, or by card or letter at P. O. Box 100, Winston, Oregon 97496, or by telephone at (541) 679-7092.

The couple has requested no gifts, please.

Even with computers—

Workshop Participants Learn that Filing, Retrieving Information Is No Simple Matter

By Frank Jacobson

Terry Abraham, Head of Special Collections for the University of Idaho Library, stunned his audience at last Saturday's History Workshop in Orofino as he described the 600 cubic feet of historic Potlatch Corporation documents rescued from a dumpster where they had been tossed as junk, of no value. And in no kind of order, thank you. Random, sheet upon sheet, pile upon pile, a challenge for the professional archivists who specialize in the acquisition, preservation, cataloging, and use of information that documents the history of Idaho and the West. The contents of the dumpster will become in time part of the highly organized, accessible files of the University Library.

Where and how, said, Abraham, do you start to bring order into such a jumble? With the first sheet that comes to hand, that's where. And then with the next and the next. Every letter, every requisition, every memo, every receipt, every last scrap, each in its time assigned its place in a system devised by the staff. If they're very, very lucky, they may even come upon that single sheet that defines the filing system that Potlatch was using. But that's probably far to much to expect. Although it has happened.

And doing history requires these same skills of devising a filing system, both its physical arrangement and its intellectual organization. Skills that Abraham had acquired as part of his education as a librarian. Skills that retired forester Tom Farbo had painfully to devise for himself as he undertook to write the history of the Potlatch logging

Thanks for the Honor, Says Rose Ann Holt

When I was asked to serve as one of the grandmarshals for this year's Locust Blossom Day, I was somewhat surprised, but said Okay—no big deal. Wrong! It is a big deal to be so honored in our community. I am humbly grateful to have a small part in this beautiful area.

My thanks to the Lions Club for choosing me. Thanks to Sharon Harris for the publicity (she lies a lot. I ain't that nice), and thanks to Candy Holington and TDS TeleCom for hosting the coffee hour and interviews.

Thanks to my family for much help and support. All but three of my grandchildren were here—one was in Germany (Army), one in Korea (Army), and one was in south Idaho (a teacher).

And finally, many thanks to all you wonderful people who work and share in this community!

Rose Ann Holt

Juliaetta Elementary School Cookbooks Now Available

The new Juliaetta Elementary School cookbooks have arrived and are ready to be picked up by those who ordered them. There are enough books for those who did not pre-order but now wish to purchase one of these interesting cookbooks.

The book will make excellent Christmas gifts and all proceeds benefit the students at the Elementary school.

The books are available at the Kendrick Copy Center for $7 each camp in North Central Idaho from 1903 to 1986. His book, White Pine, Wobbles and Wainigans, is testimony to his perseverance and love of history as he labored from 1987 to 1995 doing the research and field verification required. On display last Saturday were a few of the many three-ring binders in which he methodically filed all the documents, maps, photos, and narration that make up the book.

Another historian who turns to regional documents and artifacts to record history is Jack Stratton, an archeology assistant in the Clearwater National Forest. Stratton even pursues history out in the forest itself, cataloging for example every living tree and dead snag that shows evidence of having been narrowly stripped down to the cambian layer as an emergency source of food for man and his animals long, long ago. Locations of those trees are plotted on maps, and in many cases those trees are found to be in areas known to have been traveled by the Nez Perce or used as campsites by the Lewis and Clark expedition. An equally challenging task was undertaken by Stratton as he saved soggy Clearwater Forest documents damaged in the flood of 1996, records of blister rust crews, CCC camps, and wartime internment camps.

As for why the Farbos, Strattons and other regional historians do what they do, that topic was addressed by Lorraine Roach, President of the Clearwater-Snake Bicentennial Committee and an economic development consultant from Grangeville. "Why preserve the past?" she asked the crowd of participants at the workshop. Well, there's always the old saying, "Those who don't know history are doomed to repeat it." In her view, "the best best gifts we can pass on to our kids... are roots and wings." We need to know who we are, Why we are who we are. How we link. And where we are going. An advocate of heritage tourism, Roach believes that tourism and history can be good bedfellows. Her one test for the relevance of any historic sign, historic building, guided tour or celebration is, "So what? How does it impact my life?"

Everet Martin, Chairman of the Weippe Lewis & Clark Bicentennial Committee, entertained the workshop crowd by reading some contemporary doggerel critical of the social programs begun by Franklin Roosevelt. And as he read, "When FDR Stood at the Gates of Hell," he paused periodically to remind his audience of the programs that left their mark on our region, among them the blister rust crews, the CCC boys, and the REA. Not only on our region but on our individual lives. "Those in the audience who had come through the so-called Great Depression were nodding their heads in remembrance. Yes, history does matter. It helps define us, helps us know how we got where we are. And it may even point us the way to our future.

Credit for planning this highly successful historic workshop is due Nancy Webster of Weippe. Deanna Riebe, a public relations officer with the Clearwater National Forest, deserves thanks and praise as facilitator for keeping the show on the road. And County Caterers of Orofino served a delicious lunch! The next workshop in the series will be held in Weippe July 11. Details later.

Rose E. Hadley, 92, Passes June 10

Rose E. Hadley, 92, a longtime Juliaetta homemaker, died Wednesday, June 10, 1998, at Lewiston Rehabilitation and Care Center of causes related to age.

She was born April 6, 1906, to Theo and Katie Thode Brasch at Nezperce and she attended area schools. She graduated from Nezperce High School in 1924.

She then attended business college in Lewiston.

She married Fred W. Hadley May 29, 1925, at Lewiston. He died Oct. 11, 1953.

They lived at Lewiston for 11 years and in 1937 moved to Juliaetta, where she remained until ill health required her to move to Lewiston in 1992.

He family was her greatest joy and she loved all of her grandchildren. She liked her yard, flowers and garden. She also did embroidery.

She is survived by three daughters, Shirley W. Newman of Southwick, Peggy M. Buswell and Jayne C. Smith, both of Juliaetta; two sons, Fredric L. Hadley and Bill T. Hadley, both of Juliaetta; one sister, Lillian Preston of Sacramento, Calif., 14 grandchildren and 23 great-grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by a brother, Henry Brasch, and two infants.

The funeral was held Friday at Malcom's Brower-Wann Memorial Chapel and burial followed at Normal Hill Cemetery in Lewiston. The Rev. Steve Taulbee of Lewiston officiated.

The family suggests memorials be made to the American Diabetes Association, 1528 Vista Ave., Spokane, Wash. 83706.

Church of the Nazarene Honors Benjamins

The Juliaetta Church of the Nazarene honored two of its long-time members Sunday, June 7, at the worship hour. Verlin and Marilyn Benjamin were presented the Distinguished Service Award for 32 years of devoted service to the church. This is the highest honor given to lay members or pastors by the Nazarene Church. The Benjamins are still very active members and have served in all areas of the church.

The Benjamins were totally surprised by the award. Their children and families were present to share in their day. They were Sue and Dan Wenstrom and sons; Lori and Duane Bogar and sons, and Don and Tracy Benjamin and family, all of Lewiston.

A potluck and fellowship hour followed the worship service.

Father-Son Banquet June 20—

The Juliaetta Nazarene Church is holding a Father-Son barbecue at the parsonage Saturday, June 20th at 5:30. For more details contact Pastor Bob or Joyce at 27-3640.

Benefit Dinner, Auction, Dance at Teakean June 26

The plans for the benefit dinner, auction and dance scheduled for Friday, June 26, are coming along well. The proceeds will be given to the Albert Lawrence family to help with medical expenses resulting from Albert's recent tractor accident.

A butcher pig has been donated for a raffle. Tickets will be available at Fleming Truck & Equip. Co. and at Lewiston Grain Growers.

The evening begins with a spaghetti dinner serving at 5 p. m. at the Teakean Grange Hall. Cost is $3 a plate and $12.50 a family.

For those wanting to donate items for the auction call Bo Flatt (289-4457), Mariann Chase (289-3715), or Mary Wills (289-4459).

Gifts of money are to be directed to Lutheran Brotherhood No. 8451 in care of the Albert Lawrence family.

Virgil Dygert Passes June 15

C. Virgil Dygert, a longtime resident of this area, died Monday, June 15 from complications of age.

He was born September 26, 1911 at Lenore, Idaho, the son of Will and Etta Dygert. He attended school through the eighth grade at Lenore and then worked on the family farm on Cream Ridge and Bedrock Canyon.

In the early thirties, he and a friend hopped freight trains from Lewiston to Huntington, Indiana, where they attended Huntington Bible College. Upon completion, he returned to Cream Ridge where he became minister of the Community Church. It was there he met and married his first wife, Lula Earl.

The family farm was sold in the late forties and he, along with his wife and two children, moved to Tulare, Calif. Mr. Dygert was an accomplished fabricator and welder and he went to work for a farm implement dealer in Tulare. While there, he was instrumental in design changes in cotton picking machines as well as developing a side delivery hay rake.

In 1960, he returned to Kendrick where he owned and operated Kendrick Welding and Machine Shop. During this time, he purchased one of the largest lathes in the area and produced sheet metal forming machines used to form siding for trailer homes and campers. He was always willing to travel at any time to help farmers in the area with machine breakdowns. Due to poor health caused by years of breathing welding fumes, he sold his shop and retired from business in 1965.

His first marriage ended in divorce. In 1975, he married Elsie Phar and moved to Lewiston.

He was an avid hunter and fisherman and was very devoted to serving the Lord. He was a member of the Kendrick Assembly of God Church and Mountain View Assembly in Lewiston.

He is survived by his loving wife Elsie of Lewiston; and children Carol Sanders of Pomeroy; Ray Dygert of Juliaetta; and Bud (Virgil) Dygert of Spokane; a sister Eula Davis of Clarkston; 10 grandchildren and numerous great grandchildren. He is also survived by Elsie's family.

A sister, Lois Thornton, passed away in February of this year.

Services will be held at Brower-Wann Chapel Friday, June 19, at 10 a. m. with burial to follow at Lewis-Clark Memorial Garden in Lewiston.

The family suggests memorials be made to the J-K Ambulance Fund, Box 182, Kendrick, ID 83537.

Optional Form of County Government To be on November Ballot in Latah County

Doug Whitney, the Latah County prosecuting attorney, was guest speaker at the K-J Community Development Association's monthly meeting Thursday noon, June 11 at the First Bank of Pizza, to give association members an up-date on the summary of recommendations made by a Study Commission, filed with the Latah County Board of Commissioners in June of 1997. This study commission, a cross-section representing diversified interests of the county, spent many hours examining the problems, past and present, of the county and what type of county government could best meet these problems and those of the future.

A little background information may help. In 1994 the state approved a constitutional amendment that allows the state to grant optional forms of county government to best serve the county involved. It had long been recognized that no one form of government for the counties was the best for all in the state. The increasing roles of federal rules, regulations and encroachment were just too great for individual counties to deal with. While older systems of government could still serve some smaller counties well, increasing growth and populations had antiquated the old ways for some.

The existing form of government of Latah County consists of a three member Board of County Commissioners, elected on staggered terms of two or four years; a Sheriff, Treasurer, Assessor, Clerk of the Court/ex officio Auditor, Recorder and Clerk of the Board of Commissioners, Prosecuting Attorney, and Coroner, each of whom is elected for a term of four years.

The commission was established to review Latah County's form of government and if it was felt the county government was in need of change, make a recommendation(s) concerning changes. After many hearings and meetings, listening to testimony and advice, a final report was filed with the County Board of Commissioners.

Basically the Study Commission has recommended that Latah County adopt a Commissioner-Manager form of government. The County would have an elected Board of three County Commissioners (no change here), and a manager appointed by that Board (change here). In addition, all other officers except for the Prosecuting Attorney would be appointed rather than elected (big change here). The office of the County Clerk, Auditor, Recorder would be divided into two offices.

The Treasurer and Assessor would be combined into a single office and the civil duties of the elected Prosecuting Attorney would be re-assigned to a new appointed official, the County Civil Attorney.

If this proposal is adopted by the voters of Latah County in November, this is basically what will occur:

The legislative authority of Latah County will be vested in a Board of County Commissioners of three members—just as it is now.

A County Manager will be the administrative head of the county and will be appointed by the Board of County Commissioners on the basis of training, experience and administrative qualifications. This new Manager would serve at the pleasure of the Board of County Commissioners and may be removed by the board at any time. The County Manager would have all the powers and duties of a county manager as described in the Idaho Code and as provided by other laws.

The duties of the County Clerk and Ex Officio Auditor and Recorder would be divided between two positions, each of which would be appointed by the County Manager (with the advice and consent of the Board of County Commissioners), would be supervised by the County Manager, and perform duties as prescribed by Idaho Code.

As described by current Idaho Code, the office of the County Treasurer, Ex Officio Tax Collector and Public Administrator and the office of the County Assessor would be abolished and their duties would be combined into a single office, to be known as the County Treasurer and Assessor, who would be appointed by the County Manager, again with the advice and consent of the Board of County Commissioners and who will be supervised by the Manager.

The County Sheriff would be appointed by the County Manager, again with the advice and consent of the Board of County Commissioners and supervised by the Manager, and would perform all the duties and responsibilities of a county sheriff.

The duties of the office of the county prosecuting attorney would be divided into two positions.

The County Prosecuting Attorney would perform all of the duties and responsibilities of a county prosecuting attorney except those which will be assigned to the County Civil Attorney. The County Prosecuting Attorney would be elected for a term of four years.

The County Civil Attorney (a new position), would give advice to the Board of County Commissioners, appointed boards and commissions and other public officers of the county, when requested to do so in all non-criminal public matters. The County Civil Attorney would be appointed by the County Manager with the advice and consent of the Board of County Commissioners.

And finally, under the terms of the Idaho Code, an existing elected officer would be retained as a county employee until the end of the term for which he or she was elected, provided that the person's salary will not be reduced except as part of a general salary reduction.

What follows is editorial opinion. This is the first of what will undoubtedly be a much publicized and discussed issue. No matter how confusing and complex the issue becomes, remember that it is very important issue. All voters in Latah County should make themselves as aware and informed as possible. This proposal represents the opinions and experiences of some of the best minds of Latah County. It probably isn't perfect, but it does deserve the attention of all residents.

Cedar Ridge News
 By Darlean Wilson

Our community was saddened at the news of Jo Brammer's sister Beth's passing. The family has the sympathy of the community.

Many attended the Cedar Creek picnic Sunday. John and Gladys Wilson of Kendrick were the oldest couple present.

Guests of Jack and Donna Parsley were son Ric Parsley of Boise and a friend, Chris Chambers of Middleton, Idaho. Ric and Chris visited until Sunday. Joining the family on Saturday for dinner were Gina and Dan Helbling and daughter Katy, Jennifer and Dave Curry and children Pepper and Dylan, Josh Fletcher, and Effie and Charlie Candler of Lewiston.

Miss Lydia Ensley of Lewiston is visiting with her grandparents, Cliff and Jenny Ensley. Lydia arrived Friday and will visit until Tuesday. Wednesday of last week Jenny and Rose Ann Holt joined the Garden Club's tour in Moscow.

Shane and Andrea Syverson of Plains, Montana arrived at the home of his parents, Roger and Sue Syverson Friday to attend Shane's 10-year class reunion. They left for home on Monday.

Arriving Friday at the home of his uncle, were Kirk and Yvette Abraham and family from Clearbrook, Minn. The Minnesota folks also visited with Roger and Sue Syverson before leaving Saturday.

Bill and Alice Searcy returned home Friday night from a 4-week trip to visit some of Bill's family in Missouri, and then driving on to Minnesota to visit with Alice's relatives. Alice said they were always ahead of the tornadoes in Kansas and Nebraska. She was happy to return home away from the storms.

Bill and Darlean Wilson drove to Elk River to go fishing. Saturday they joined Diane and Brian Clemm and Larry Clem. Brian caught a 13 1/2 inch fish and five other smaller ones. He was happy about his excellent catch. Friday, Bria and Grandpa Bill drove to Orofino to attend "Kids' Day" at the Dworshak Fish Hatchery. Brian caught a nice 12 1/2" and 13" fish.

Story Teller Will Perform at Juliaetta Library June 18

The Summer Reading program at the Juliaetta Library continues with a special performance by storyteller Papa Joe on Thursday, June 18 at 10:30. All area children are invited to this free program sponsored by the Moscow Mardi Gras and local donations.

Papa Joe is a wonderful storyteller who can make his stories come alive for the audience. Children and adults alike should come prepared to "jump into a story" and participate as well as be entertained.

On Thursday, June 25, at 10:30, the special program will feature the puppet play, "The Three Little Pigs" presented by the Moscow Library puppeteers.

The Summer Reading program, "Ride a Wild Tale," is free and open to all area youth who wish to participate.

Accident Claims Life of James Steigers

James Edward Steigers, who was known by many in the Stony Point and Juliaetta area, was killed by a fall from a railroad trestle near Pierce, Idaho approximately in mid-May of 1998.

He was born March 12, 1957 to William D. and Mary Taylor Steigers at Lewiston, Idaho.

He attended schools in Lewiston and graduated from Lewiston High School. He worked as a handyman, a caregiver and a landscaper.

He lived with his Steigers grandparents, Ernest and Nellie, for many years. He stayed on and took care of his grandmother Nellie after the death of his grandfather Ernest had passed away in 1991, until her death in 1996. He then moved to Lewiston where he continued to make friends. He loved the outdoors and would frequently go camping or traveling by himself.

He was a member of the Assembly of God and the World Wide Church of God. He was a child of God, a free spirit. He was a very kind person and was always ready to help out whenever and wherever he could. He was loved by all who knew him. He will be greatly missed.

Survivors include his father and mother, William D. and Mary L. Steigers, Lewiston; two sisters, Charlotte J. Sauer, Salt Lake City, Utah and Marianne Hanson, Federal Way, Wash.; three brothers, William D. Steigers, Jr., Littleton, Colo., John A. Steigers, Spokane, and Michael E. Steigers of Clearfield, Utah.

Cremation has taken place. A memorial service will be held at the LDS Church, 16th and Ripon, at 3 p. m. Saturday, June 20, in Lewiston.

Woodcraft Salute In Kendrick Pak June 26

Area woodcraft and wood products businesses will be featured at the second annual Woodcraft Salute on Friday, June 26 from 10 am to 6 pm. The event will be at the Kendrick City Park during the weekly Community Market. In addition to the wood products sales, wood products displays and information, the market will include the usual variety of plant, retail sales, craft and antique vendors.

Market sponsors include Panhandler Pies, Rowdy's Texas Steakhouse of Lewiston and the White Pine Cafe in Troy.

To celebrate the market season beginning, Dixieland music will be played by the Snake River Six from 4:30 to 6 pm. The Moscow/Pullman group has performed throughout the region during the past 12 years. The group plays swing, jazz and blues music.

The Community Market is sponsored by the Kendrick-Juliaetta Community Development Assoc. For more information call Phyllis Berg at 289-5302 or 289-5502.

Grange Initiates New Members

Kendrick Grange No. 413 welcomes its two newest members, Phyllis Berg and Jon Kimberling. Both took the Fourth Degree obligation Tuesday, June 2. Following a delicious potluck dinner, the Fourth Degree obligation ceremony was administered by the officers of the Grange. The obligation ceremony allows the applicant to become a full member in the Grange and to participate in all the privileges and obligations of being a Grange member. Hopefully later on this year the area Granges will be able to conduct a full Fourth Degree ceremony. As an added benefit to the evening Pomona Master Carl Hultquist was in attendance and administered the Fifth Degree obligation to Mrs. Berg and Mr. Kimberling.

The Grange would also like to thank the community for supporting the pie booth at the Locust Blossom Festival. The good weather and great crowds that attended the festival enabled the Grange to sell about 50 pies. The monies generated from this and other sales allow the Grange to maintain the hall and contribute to various worthy causes. Special thanks go to the Lions Club and VFW for allowing us to use the booth, the Grange members who made pies and staffed the booth, Rita Hutcheson for her help in the booth, and a very special thanks to Juanita Craig, Kay Morey and Arlyne Clemm for the delicious pies they made and contributed to the cause.

In other news the Grange is working on a harvest basket filled with Idaho and area agricultural products that will be raffled at the Idaho State Grange meeting in October. This basket, when finished, will have a value of approximately $150. Tickets to win the basket can be purchased by any member of the community whether you're a Grange member or not. The proceeds will go to fund Grange youth activities.

On Saturday, June 27, the Grange will hold its clean-up day at the Grange Park between Avon / Harvard. The Pomona picnic will be on July 11 at the park with members of the Whitman County Pomona invited.

Hill & Valley Garden Club Members Toured in Moscow Area June 10

Several members of the Hill and Valley Garden Club toured three gardens in the Moscow area Wednesday, June 10.

First on the list they enjoyed the hostas at the Robert Bowler residence in Moscow. His placement of greens is spectacular. There were other foliage plants as well as perennials and annuals. Mr. Bowler's garden is truly a work of art.

Next the group visited the U. of I. Arboretum with Nick Naskali, Arboretum Director, giving the guided tour. His knowledge of history and origin of the trees, shrubs and perennials planted there is phenomenal. The plans to develop the arboretum are going well.

Hill and Valley contributed funds for a rose garden and has a plaque placed by it.

Dick invited the group to his home to view his Siberian Iris as well as other interesting plants.

After lunch at Robinson Park the ladies went to Cory Hill Iris Farm to enjoy the iris which were at their

Winners of Trailblazer Afghan, Quilt Raffle At Locust Blossom Festival

The Trailblazers 4-H Club has announced the lucky winner of an afghan and a quilt on Locust Blossom Day. The winner of the afghan was Jerry Brown. Jane Ford won the quilt.

The club thanks Marie Grant and Betty Cowger for donating the quilt.

The next meeting of the club will be Saturday, June 20 at 10 a. m. at the Southwick Community Center.

peak. All were named and lovelier than the other.

In all it was a very rewarding day to learn what can be grown in a small area as well as the spaciousness of the arboretum.
